Kefauver, Stevenson Both Confident of Tuesday Outcome

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee appeared locked today in a close battle for California's critical 68 Democratic presidential nominating votes.

In a campaign sharpened with bitterness, the two rivals left almost no part of sprawling California unvisited in their quest for votes in the last and most important of the nation's presidential primaries here next Tuesday.

But there were signs that the candidates themselves were much more concerned about the outcome than the average California voter. Streetcorner and supermarket crowds were generally small. The apathy spelled out the prospect of a relatively light turnout among the state's 3,059,873 registered Democrats.

Both candidates expressed confidence about the outcome. Stevenson, campaigning in the San Joaquin Valley, said he thinks he knows "what the outcome will be" when the voters answer what he called "personal attacks" against him by Kefauver.

Billy Rose Weds Berle's Former Wife

NEW YORK (AP)—Millionaire Broadway producer Billy Rose and former showgirl Joyce Mathews, who was named the "other woman" when swimmer Eleanor Holm divorced him two years ago, were married Saturday in a brief civil ceremony. Rose, whose first wife was the late comedienne Fanny Brice, and Miss Mathews, who has been television comedian Milton Berle's wife twice, were married by New York State Supreme Court Justice Samuel Gold in the Central Park West apartment of Abe Burrows, a producer and comedian.

Among the 21 guests was William Zeckendorf Sr., president of Webb & Knapp, one of the nation's largest real estate firms, of which Rose is a vice president. The company owns the Chrysler building, the world's second tallest skyscraper, and has huge projects across the country.

Along with Zeckendorf's wife were his son, William Jr., and daughter-in-law, the former Guri Lie, whose father, Trygve Lie, formerly was United Nations secretary general.

The best man for the 56-year-old, pint-sized Rose was writer Ben Hecht. Miss Mathews' matron of honor was Mrs. Charles Beagle.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Doris Day underwent minor surgery Saturday at nearby Glendale Memorial Hospital, her agent announced. The actress will remain in the hospital for about four days.

L.A.C. Says:

Recommendations

The sample ballot received by voters is different for the various Assembly districts. The size of the ballot is confusing to many voters. It would be equally confusing if newspapers attempted to print all the various ballots with recommendations. For that reason we are offering our suggestions by columns as shown on the sample ballot. First—voters will find at the top of the ballot a box in which they will place their X for the presidential candidate they prefer. Democratic ballots will give a choice of Stevenson or Kefauver. Republican ballots will have a box for President Eisenhower only. For other offices and propositions we offer our suggestions as follows:

Column 1—Congressional—will show various candidates for United States Senate. We recommend a vote for Thomas Kuchel, our present U. S. Senator. He has

RIGHT WRONG

"Ladies and gentlemen," says Mrs. Virginia Evans of Hollywood Toastmistress Club, "I would like to illustrate the importance of correct gesturing in public speaking. Direct your attention, if you will, to the gesture of enumeration (top row) and note that one should not bend the finger to point of distortion. Relax. Now, with your permission, I'd like to show (bottom row) that the gesture of indication is done correctly with an open hand. Don't point. It's been a pleasure to speak to this ninth annual regional conference of International Toastmistress Clubs in the Wilton Hotel and, in closing, I ask that you all turn to story on Page A-3. ## ONE OF WEST'S LARGEST

Giant Pipe Organ to Boom Out Here

One of the largest pipe organs in the West is scheduled to arrive here Monday for installation in First Congregational Church, 3rd St. and Cedar Ave.

The 30-ton organ is being purchased and installed at a total cost of $98,000. It will be ready for dedication next fall.

"This great instrument will make Long Beach a center for organ concerts in Southern California," says Dr. Robert W. Magin, the church's minister of music. Dr. Magin, internationally known composer and concert organist, designed the organ, which was built by M. P. Moller, Inc. of Hagerstown, Md.

Dr. Emerson G. Hagen, pastor, said the organ will help bring the finest church music to Long Beach and add to the spirit of worship.

THE INSTRUMENT will have 4,074 individual pipes—nearly three times the number in the church's original organ installed 40 years ago. The pipes range from the size of a pencil to an 875-pound giant more than three stories high. The smallest pipe, Dr. Magin explains, sounds a high C above the piano keyboard while the largest will sound a low C below the piano keyboard.

The mighty organ will be installed by technicians from the factory. Another $60,000 was spent to prepare the case housing the instrument and to renovate the sanctuary. This case, so important to tonal reproductions, was modeled after the one in famed St. Mary's Church in Ludwigshafen, Holland.

The organ has four keyboards and one pedal board. It has 120 stops—96 as draw knobs and 24 as tilting tablets. Of the total, 1,403 will be exposed, functional pipes.

"THE INSTRUMENT has been designed as a classic organ using the arrangement of stops to produce a type of tone which has been used and loved for centuries in the great churches of Europe," Dr. Magin said.

"These classic tones have been heard for many years in Europe but rarely in this country."

Atom Dust Detected

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese government survey ship reported Saturday it has discovered radioactive dust approximately 1,400 miles from the U.S. Bikini hydrogen bomb testing area.

The vessel Shunkotsu Maru radioed that it had detected the dust in the area of the Mariana Islands, northwest of the mid-Pacific test grounds.

Rivers Rise in Columbia Basin, 3 Die

PORTLAND, Ore.—The first deaths in the widespread Columbia Basin floods came Saturday as the peak of the annual snow-melt period neared.

Two deaths were reported in Idaho, another in British Columbia.

THE NEXT THREE DAYS will be the critical ones. Elmer Fisher, river forecaster, said he expects the Columbia to climb to 27 feet in this metropolitan area by Tuesday, then begin a slow fall.

Two youths were caught when a dam burst in southeastern Idaho early Saturday. The body of one, George Dennis Whitworth, 13, was recovered. His cousin, Gerald Whitworth, also 13, still was missing.

AT CRESTON, B.C., the flooding Kootenay River indirectly was responsible for the death of a 6-year-old boy. The boy, Barry James Holmes, drowned in an auto court septic tank after his family was forced to evacuate its home.

Railman Rescues Baby Put in Front of Train by Dad

NEW YORK (AP)—A father placed his 3-month-old son on the tracks in front of an approaching train Saturday, police reported, but a watchman rescued the infant.

The father, John Birk, 33, an Estonian refugee, then pummeled the watchman, Henry Davis, 35, officers said. Onlookers at the New York Central yards summoned police who subdued Birk and arrested him on charges of endangering the life and limb of a minor.

Police said the episode followed a fight between Birk, who had been drinking, and his wife.

Chotiner Out as Campaign Aid, Says Hall

Los Angeles Lawyer and Ace GOP Staff Man Won't Be Used

WASHINGTON (UP)—GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall announced Saturday the Republican National Committee will not use political strategist Murray M. Chotiner in this year's presidential election campaign.

Chotiner, Vice President Richard M. Nixon's campaign manager in 1952 and ace GOP lecturer on how to defeat the opposition, is under fire from the Senate investigating subcommittee. The subcommittee wants to know whether he tried to use government contacts in carrying on his law practice.

Chotiner also has been a political worker for Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) and former Gov. Earl Warren of California, now Chief Justice of the United States.

HALL SAID that Chotiner, "because of his experience, has been called upon to perform numerous campaign services" but that "the national committee is now staffed by experienced personnel sufficient to meet the campaign staff problems of both the presidential and vice presidential nominees."

Hall made his disclosure in a letter to Edward W. O'Brien, chief of the Washington bureau of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. O'Brien had asked him: "Can you tell us if Mr. Murray M. Chotiner is still active?"

Two Actresses Lose Lives in Kansas Smashup

MEADE, Kan. (AP)—Two Hollywood actresses were killed in a highway accident Saturday while on their way to new acting jobs in the East.

They were Miss Lola D'Annunzio and Mrs. Phyllis Palumbo, both 26. A 4-year-old son of Mrs. Palumbo, John Paul Palumbo, escaped with minor injuries.

Highway patrolmen said the driver apparently went to sleep and the car overturned twice on U.S. 54.

Papers in the car indicated Miss D'Annunzio was going to a job in Summer Playhouse at New Hope, Pa., and Mrs. Palumbo was to take a television job in New York.

Hitler Aide Elected

KIEL, Germany (AP)—The German Naval Veterans' Federation Saturday elected former Grand Adm. Erich Raeder an honorary member. He was Hitler's top naval commander for several years.

Jazz-Loving Senator Says Be-Bop Convinces Europe U.S. Is Barbarian

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Allen J. Ellender said Saturday that sending be-bop bandsman Dizzy Gillespie abroad was the best way to convince opera-loving Europeans that Americans are barbarians.

Ellender, a Dixieland addict from Dixie, said it might be all right for the State Department to send "great" jazz musicians like Benny Goodman or Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong overseas to demonstrate U. S. culture.

But he drew the line at be-bop which he heard Gillespie play at the White House correspondents' dinner last week. "Noise, pure noise," said the Louisiana Democrat.

"Imagine that being sent to Paris—and it was."

"Anybody listening to it will be convinced that we are barbarians. A lot of tom-toms, and horns blaring!"

Ellender drew a bead on be-

IKE & GIFT HORSE

President Given Horse Named Doodle De Do

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP)—President Eisenhower, who used to ride "55 horses on $15 saddles when I was a kid," Saturday welcomed to his farm a western quarter horse complete with hand-tooled leather saddle.

The 7-year-old sorrel mare, named Doodle De Do, was presented to the President by Lester Goodson, president of the American Quarterhorse Association, as a gift from the association.

Goodson also brought along a 2-year-old light bay named Sporty Miss, a gift of his own to the President's 8-year-old grandson, David.

A QUARTER HORSE is a sprinter and is featured in short races in many sections of the west.

Asked if he had ever ridden a quarter horse, Eisenhower grinned and said he had not. "I rode 55 horses on $15 saddles when I was a kid," he added.

Although he hasn't ridden in several years because of his right knee injury from West Point football, Mr. Eisenhower indicated he intends to saddle up Doodle De Do soon.

"It would be fun to train her," he said. "I used to do a little (horse training) in Panama years ago."

Goodson told Eisenhower that Doodle De Do "has a nice easy gait—you'll enjoy riding her."

Eisenhower asked Charles "Bubba" Casco, a cowboy who accompanied Goodson on the trip, to ride Doodle De Do. He did, and the President was one of the most admiring watchers.

DAY-LONG rain washed out Eisenhower's hopes for a round of golf.

TAIN'T SO

NEW YORK (UP)—Band leader Dizzy Gillespie said Saturday that Sen. Allen J. Ellender apparently doesn't know a "C" from an "E."

The trumpet player urged Ellender to give another listen to his be-bop style before branding it "pure noise."

Gillespie said that Ellender has failed to keep up with the times in music.

In fact, he added, jazz would probably be the clincher for citizens of Italy where opera is glorified.

Ellender said he likes "great" jazz himself—like the music of Benny Goodman.

"That's high-class jazz. That's all right," he said. "I'd even include Louis Armstrong and New Orleans jazz—though some New Orleans musicians have got a little exaggerated. Some are exaggerated to the point where you'd like cotton in your ears."

Courts' Work Handed Over to Republics

Sweeping Dispersal of Kremlin Power Announced by Reds

LONDON (Sunday) (UP)—The Soviet Union has abolished its Central Ministry of Justice and reorganized its economic agencies in a sweeping decentralization of government functions, Moscow radio reported early today.

The broadcast said the move was made in accordance with policy decreed by the recent 20th Communist party congress. It takes administrative functions out of the hands of the central government and places them with the governments of the various autonomous Soviet republics.

The Ministry of Justice was abolished to end "unnecessary centralization in governing the operation of the legal institutions and authorities of justice in the Union Republics," the announcement said.

THE FUNCTIONS of the USSR Ministry of Justice will now be carried out by the separate states, according to radio Moscow, "thus increasing the role of the Union Republics in this matter."

Previously, all courts were centered in Moscow.

The central justice agencies and the smaller courts in the republics recently have been criticized by Communist party leaders for certain "illegalities" during the reign of the late Premier Josef Stalin.

SOVIET LEADERS also have announced their intention of clarifying certain laws to tighten the operations of the justice agencies and "protect the rights of Soviet citizens."

The announcement said a legal commission has been set up under the USSR Council of Ministers to codify and systematize Soviet laws.

The broadcast also revealed decentralization of the government's economic functions.

Central agencies for many light industries and trades, for procurement and for retail trade have been disbanded and their duties transferred to their counterparts.

Man Alters Story, Tells Suicide Try

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 25-year-old sailor who first told deputies that he had been shot by a man from whom he hitchhiked a ride admitted Saturday the wound was self-inflicted.

Jacob Joseph Orre, stationed with the Navy at Orange, Tex., told detectives that he shot himself because of despondency over orders that he was being sent overseas.

Orre, who came to Los Angeles to visit his mother, was found lying near a canyon road with a gunshot wound near the heart.

It was then he told deputies he was picked up by a motorist who shot him and robbed him of $350.

He was taken to General Hospital here where his condition was described as fair. At the hospital he told officers that he kissed his mother good-bye, took a bus to the Newhall area, hitchhiked into the hills and shot himself.

shown himself to be non-partisan in his voting record. His seniority is of great value to the state. He deserves the vote of both party voters.

Below the U. S. Senate list of candidates will be found Representative in Congress, Congressman Craig Hosmer of the 18th District deserves the same vote of confidence as we suggest for Sen. Kuchel. Hosmer has four years of seniority and an enviable record of non-partisan voting in Congress.

Under Legislative in the first column are candidates for the State Assembly. Voters in the 44th District will find the name of our present Assemblyman Herbert Klocksiem, Republican. In the 68th District they will find Vincent Thomas, Democrat; in the 69th District Carley Porter, Democrat, and in the 70th District Assemblyman W. S. Grant, Republican. Each of these men have outstanding records which deserve a vote of confidence by members of both parties.

Column 2 is different in each district and is for members to serve on the Democratic or Republican Central Committees. Since this is strictly a partisan matter we make no recommendation.

Columns 3, 4 and 5 are for election of 28 Superior Court judges. Since there is no contest in 25 of these offices we refer only to those where there are contests. In office No. 2, incumbent Judge Henry M. Willis is opposed by Attorney Edward H. Blixt. We recommend reelection of Justice Willis. In office No. 27, Superior Court Judge Odemar is opposed by Municipal Judge Ralph C. Dills. We recommend reelection of incumbent Justice Odemar. In office No. 28 there is no incumbent judge standing for reelection. Seven candidates are seeking this office. The Bar Association has given almost equal support to former Superior Court Judge Fletcher Bowron who later served as Mayor of Los Angeles for 15 years, and Otto G. Lord, a Superior Court Commissioner. Although he is 68 years of age, we feel Bowron is deserving of election because of his many years of honorable public service.

Column 6 is of great importance. It is for election of our County District Attorney and member of the Board of Supervisors for the 4th District. District Attorney Roll has no opposition so he will be elected in the primaries. However, of greater importance to Long Beach is the reelection of Burton Chace, supervisor for the greater portion of Long Beach. Chace has one of the finest public records in the state. He is a long time resident of Long Beach. He deserves an overwhelming vote by the people of this district.

The last column is also of great importance. Proposition C is the Long Beach School District proposition to allow an increase in the maximum tax rate. It is essential if our schools are to continue taking care of the ever increasing school population. It should have the approval of all who realize the importance of keeping up with our growing population in the schools.

Proposition W is another vital issue deserving a heavy YES vote. It provides for the Metropolitan Water District issuing bonds to increase the water supply from the Colorado River. The bond costs will be paid by new districts using the water and therefore will not be an added burden to Long Beach and other areas already in the district.

To our readers who may be interested in these recommendations we suggest they take their sample ballot and mark it accordingly. They can then take the marked ballot with them to the polls. But above all we urge each of our readers to vote in Tuesday's election. It is not so important how you vote as it is that you vote whatever your choice may be.—L.A.C.

KEFAUVER SAID, "I think I'm doing all right," in what obviously is his do-or-die effort to demonstrate to the forthcoming Democratic National Convention that he is the choice of the average voter.

F. Joseph Donohue, Kefauver's national campaign manager, called the contest "a horse race," but said he thinks the Tennessee Senator will nose out his opponent.

James Finnegan, Stevenson's manager, was "cautiously optimistic." But Paul Ziffren, Democratic National committeeman, predicted a 100,000-vote margin for Stevenson, whom he is supporting.

As the candidates boiled down the home stretch, both were bidding desperately for support of Negro and old-age-pension voters who make up two of the largest blocs among the Democrats.

Kefauver accused Stevenson of "civil rights equivocation," contending that in Florida his rival was presented as a "moderate" on the school-integration issue while in California he was being pictured as a "crusader" for civil rights.

Stevenson, continuing to campaign as though he were certain of winning the nomination, assailed the Eisenhower administration for permitting what he

WITH A VICTORY here, Stevenson could all but force Kefauver out of serious contention for the nomination. A California win for him would puncture the Kefauver claim—already tarnished by recent losses to his rival in Oregon and Florida—that he is the choice of rank-and-file voters.

With big city leaders against him, Kefauver seemingly can win the nomination only by making himself such a champion of the rank and file that top place cannot be denied to him.

$300,000 Jury's Award to Boy, 8

CLEVELAND, O. (AP)—A common pleas court jury Saturday awarded an eight-year-old $300,000 in damages as a result of crippling injuries.

Nine women and three men deliberated less than three hours before finding against De-Witt Motors, Inc., of Akron. A former De-Witt salesman, Gene Dengg, drove the car which struck Carl (Butchie) Berry in the driveway of his home in the Cleveland suburb of Valley View last June 24.

The policeman bundled his catch into his patrol car and returned it to the Joseph R. Knowland State Park and Arboretum where it belonged.

Plane Hits Car at Compton, 2 Hurt

Two fliers were seriously injured Saturday when a single-engine plane sheared off a power pole, hit an automobile and crashed at Compton airport.

The injured men were identified as the pilot, Donald Kerns, 30, and his passenger, Wayne L. Lee, 33, both of Los Angeles. The accident occurred when Kern apparently tried to glide-land the plane when its engine failed shortly after takeoff, officers said.

Occupants of the automobile struck by the plane were not injured.

Note for D-Day

(Editor's Note: Twelve years ago next Wednesday the Allies invaded Normandy on D-Day. I, P-T reader H. F. Duarte, 154 1/2 Pomona Ave., has sent in a timely reminder of the anniversary—his copy of a letter sent by Dwight Eisenhower, then commander of the invaders, to all members of the force that made the successful landing of June 6. The letter follows.)

"Supreme headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force. "Soldiers, sailors and airmen of the Allied Expeditionary Force:

"You are about to embark upon the Great Crusade, toward which we have striven these many months. The eyes of the world are upon you. The hopes and prayers of liberty-loving people everywhere march with you. In company with our brave allies and brothers-in-arms on other fronts, you will bring about the destruction of the German war machine, the elimination of Nazi tyranny over the oppressed peoples of Europe, and security for ourselves in a free world.

"Your task will not be an easy one. Your enemy is well trained, well equipped and battle hardened. He will fight savagely.

"But this is the year 1944! Much has happened since the Nazi triumphs of 1940-41. The United Nations have inflicted upon the Germans great defeats, in open battle, man-to-man. Our air offensive has seriously reduced their strength in the air and their capacity to wage war on the ground. Our home fronts have given us an overwhelming superiority in weapons and munitions of war, and placed at our disposal great reserves of trained fighting men. The tide has turned. The free men of the world are marching together to Victory!

"I have full confidence in your courage, devotion to duty and skill in battle. We will accept nothing less than full Victory.

"Good Luck! And let us all beseech the blessing of Almighty God upon this great and noble undertaking.

"Dwight D. Eisenhower."

2 French Divisions Snap Trap

ALGIERS (AP)—Two French divisions snapped shut a deadly trap Saturday on five Algerian rebel groups under turbaned General Si Amrouche, killing nearly 300.

French authorities called it "the biggest battle of the year." They said French troops also captured more than 150 in three days of fighting in the Wild Petite Kabylie Mountains, 35 miles south of Bougie.

Several hundred rebels were reported reeling today under constant hammering by field artillery and war planes.

THE REBELS under self-styled General Si Amrouche were said to be regrouping, apparently for a desperate attempt to break out of the triangle trap near Lafayette.

For four months, the rebels ruled the area between Akbou in the north, Bordj Bou Arreridj in the south and Lafayette in the east.

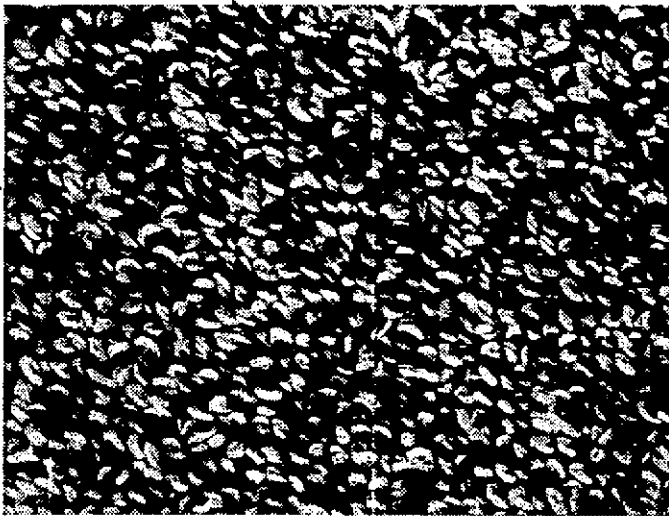

French troops drove toward the center of the craggy, cave-studded area today. They used knives, bayonets and gun butts in scattered close fighting.

Passé Gestures Hit by Toastmistresses

By BEN ZINSER

Accustomed as they are to public speaking, a delegation of the International Toastmistress Clubs offered a few pointers on speechmaking here Saturday.

A spokesman for the women, 550 of whom are attending a two-day regional conference in Wilton Hotel, put old-fashioned elocution and television's Ed Sullivan in the same class.

"Sullivan does everything you shouldn't do when he emcees his 'shee-ow,'" remarked Mrs. Donald McBride, South Gate, southwest regional supervisor for the toastmistress group.

"His gestures, I mean," she said. "They're all wrong."

"One is the old 'modesty' gesture from elocution days. We call it the 'fig-leaf'—you know, where he folds his hand in front. The 'fig-leaf' is taboo in present-day speaking."

MRS. VIRGINIA EVANS, of the Hollywood Toastmistress Club, elaborated on the gestures topic. She headed a panel on

"Develop These Gestures" Saturday afternoon.

"Any gesture that makes you look relaxed is all right," she said. "We have no objection to Edward R. Murrow lighting up a cigarette, for example. He goes about it naturally."

Some types of gestures she said, include indication (pointing), enumeration (counting on fingers for emphasis) and detection (in the sense of feeling).

"But when you point, you do it with the entire hand—not just one finger," Mrs. Evans said. "You illustrate detection by rubbing the thumb across the first three fingers."

IT'S IMPORTANT how you use the hands when gesturing, she said.

"The back of the hand, for instance, exemplifies the spiritual or the mystic," she explained. "When a minister raises his hands, he does so with his palms down."

Adoration, she continued, is expressed by raising the hands with the palms up.

Joy and exaltation are shown by raising the hands with the thumbs free—never with the thumb against the palm or index finger.

Then there is the "molding" gesture to depict outline or shape. When correctly done, the fingers are free—not closed or pressed tightly together.

Rejection is indicated, she added, with the palms down.

"The gesture begins from the torso, with the arms sweeping out and back. You could call it a 'dogpaddle' motion," she said.

Resting the hands on a table—but do it lightly—can be a gesture of emphasis, she said. Never lean on the table, though.

"And when you're not gesturing," Mrs. Evans said, "let your arms hang relaxed at your sides."

The Toastmistress slogan, incidentally, is "to love our language and to use it with grace and facility."

MANY NEWCOMERS to the organization soon learn it's no easy job to make a speech.

One new member, starting to deliver her first speech, known as the "icebreaker," fainted on the podium.

"It happened in our South Gate club," Mrs. McBride, the regional supervisor, recalled. "This woman got out the first sentence and then passed out from fright."

"A lot of the new members suffer loss of memory," commented Mrs. Sue Johnson, of the Newport Harbor Club. "I remember one in our group who couldn't utter a word. She finally sat down. Now she's one of the club's outstanding speakers."

The toastmistresses discourage distracting apparel such as large earrings and floppy hats. They don't like to see someone using notes. But you'll never guess the group's pet peeve.

"A lot of women don't speak up so you can hear them," Mrs. McBride disclosed.

Baby, Small Boy and 11 Others Hurt in Saturday Accidents

Thirteen persons, including two small boys, were injured in three traffic accidents here Saturday.

Joseph Middel III, 4-year-old son of Mrs. Valerie Lee Middel, 30, of 6062 Wardlow Rd., suffered a head injury when he fell from his mother's car on Rutgers St. just north of Kildee Ave. He was admitted to Community Hospital.

A 20-month-old baby boy suffered a severe head laceration requiring 25 stitches in a collision at Ocean Blvd. and Granada Ave.

Ronald Robert Lemieux, of 1051 Holly Pl., Covina, was treated at Community Hospital after a car driven by Ina Catherine Griffin, 21, of Arcadia, collided with one driven by Janet Shelton, 16, of 10337 Virginia Ave., South Gate.

Four others suffered minor injuries. They were: the Shelton girl, knee abrasions; Jacqueline Lemieux, 21, of the Covina address, head cuts; David A. Hill, 14, of South Gate, head cuts, and Mary Gale Dell, 12, of South Gate, right ankle laceration.

In a third accident at Spring St. near Snowdon Ave., two women passengers were hurt when cars driven by Richard A. Murphy, 41, of 2780 Clark St. and Nell C. Cook, 65, of 16852 Bolsa Chica, Huntington Beach, collided.

Treated at Community Hospital were Katherine Murphy, 36, of the Clark St. address, for possible rib, pelvis and abdomen injuries, and Nera M. Thivridge, 71, of 3621 Cerritos Ave., for a head laceration.

Services for 5-year-old Larry R. Roberts, who died Saturday from injuries suffered in a Memorial Day traffic accident, will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Gal-laughier & de Young Bellflower Mortuary. Interment will be in Sunnyside Memorial Park.

YOUNG LARRY Roberts became the city's 12th traffic fatality for 1956, compared to 11 at this time last year.

Larry is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Roberts, 2732 Eckleson Ave.; two brothers, Donald and Gary; a sister, Gayle, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hopper.

In other accidents early Saturday:

Dr. Robert W. McClain Jr., 30, of 50 El Parque, suffered cuts on his head, face and hands requiring 68 stitches when his car plunged over an embankment on Pacific Coast Hwy. at Colorado St.

Edgar E. Matthews, 28, of 639 Olive Ave., Mrs. Gayle Y. Silveiro, 21, of 1125 E. 17th St., and Manuel R. Chavez, 30, of 11732 Fercherson Rd., Garden Grove, were injured in an accident at 21st St. and California Ave.

E. 231st St., suffered minor injuries when his motorcycle collided with a car driven by Josephine Schaaf, 23, of 2655 Van Buren St., Dominguez, at Willow St. and Santa Fe Ave. She escaped injury, although her car overturned.

L.B. State Religious Rites Set

Baccalaureate services for 874 graduates of Long Beach State College will be conducted at 4 p.m. today in the First Christian Church, 5th St. and Locust Ave.

Reuben L. Anderson, minister of the host church, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. His address will be on the topic "Are You the Right Size?"

THE INVOCATION will be presented by Dr. Joseph Bachman, pastor of Calvary Presbyterian Church.

In addition to the graduates, 180 faculty members will join in the procession. Of the 874 graduates, 646 are candidates for bachelor's degrees and 228 are candidates for master's degrees.

DR. P. VICTOR PETERSON, college president, will extend greetings. Sacred music will be presented by the college choir, directed by Dr. Lawrence Peterson. The choir also will sing "Arise O Jerusalem," original composition by Dr. Leon Dallin, college music staff member, who also will conduct the selection.

Baccalaureate services for Long Beach City College and high schools will be conducted a week from today.

Gunman Robs Market of $400

A gunman robbed a 55-year-old market owner and escaped with $400 Saturday night.

Ray O. Johnston told officers the man, about 35 years old, entered the Superette Market, 1298 E. 4th St., shortly before midnight and ordered a pack of cigarettes.

When Johnston started to give him the cigarettes, the man drew a .38 caliber pistol from his pocket and demanded the money from the register.

Johnston handed him $400, and the man fled on foot.

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—The city of Mobile, 32 square miles in size Friday, expanded to 96 square miles Saturday.

CC Faculty Awards Scholarships to Eight

Eight scholarship awards totaling $650 for outstanding graduates of Poly, Wilson, Jordan, Downey, Bellflower and Excelsior High Schools were announced Saturday by the Long Beach City College Faculty Club.

Highest award, the $150 Faculty Honors Award, will go to Betty Jean Norris of Jordan High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Norris of 5600 Lemon Ave. Miss Norris had an "A" average in all academic subjects.

Other winners are Allan Gregg Anderson of Wilson, Vance Stephens of Poly and Dennis Woodson of Bellflower, all of whom will receive $100 scholarships, and Roger C. Hagmann and Valerie Ann Bandy of Excelsior, who will receive $50 scholarships.

Ronald Arthur Whitley of Jordan and Michael Brown of Wilson will receive the $50 David L. Allen and the $50 geography scholarships, respectively. Dr. Myron S. Allen, physics instructor, and geography classes studying under Dr. Adolf Stone are offering the two awards.

A faculty committee of 24 instructors headed by Donald H. Scott, chairman, selected the winners. Edwin C. Morgenroth is Faculty Club president.

Council Member to Direct 'Mrs. Navy' Contest

City Councilman John F. Baker was named Saturday as executive director of the worldwide "Mrs. U. S. Navy" contest being staged by the Fleet Reserve Assn.

The announcement was made by William F. Hickey, national president of the association with headquarters at the Wilton Hotel. Final date for receiving applications in the contest is July 15, with the judging to be Sept. 15 in Long Beach.

Other appointments by Hickey include Terry Hines, Wilton Hotel staff member, as a member of the public relations staff and Max Harris and Walter Powell as members of the staff's headquarters contest.

Wins U.N. Contest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Margaret Diekied, 17, Berkeley High School senior, was announced Saturday as the top winner in a national United Nations high school contest conducted by the American Association for the United Nations.

Crash Kills Housewife, 2 Badly Hurt

FULLERTON—A middle-aged Whittier housewife was killed instantly in a head-on car collision Saturday afternoon on Chapman Ave. just west of Cypress St.

Dead is Ethel Frec, of 534 Howard St.

Police said she was a passenger in an auto driven by her husband, Edwin, 58.

Driver of the second car was Daniel R. Hernandez, 17, of 228½ Walnut St., Placentia.

Free and Martin J. Herrera, 17, of 525 E. Russell St., who was riding with Hernandez, were badly hurt and their condition was said to be serious by attendants at St. Joseph hospital in Orange. Hernandez' condition was said to be critical.

Police said no other cars were in the vicinity of the mishap and that the point of impact occurred five feet inside the eastbound lane in which the elder couple were traveling.

Last Anti-Rabies Shots at Reduced Rates This Week

The last in the series of clinics for anti-rabies inoculation of dogs, sponsored by the City Health Dept., is scheduled for this week.

Immunization at the reduced rate of $1.50 will be offered Monday night at Silverado and Houghton Parks, Wednesday at Pan-American Park and at the City Animal Shelter and Friday at Bixby and Recreation Parks. The hours in each instance are from 7 to 9 p.m.

Dogs which have not been immunized within the past year with the new avian vaccine, effective for two years, should be inoculated again, according to Dr. I. D. Litwack, city health officers.

During the first week's clinics 1,221 dogs were immunized.

Signal Hill Legion Post Elects Woman Commander

Mrs. Eunice Monroe has been elected as the first woman commander of Signal Hill Post 490, American Legion, and will be installed at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Signal Hill City Hall. The post is composed of both men and women.

Mrs. Monroe, of 1960 Cherry Ave., is a secretary for a construction company.

Mrs. Millie Prytz will be installed president of Post 490 Auxiliary at the meeting.

DICTIONARY FOR 'NEW NATIVES'

Hoosier Eyes Southland

By BOB HOUSER

Visitors to a foreign land find pocket dictionaries invaluable in small trafficking with the natives.

You wouldn't think much of a language barrier existed between various sections of our own nation. And yet, the visitor to California or the newly established resident here is likely to encounter strange and unfamiliar terms—at least unfamiliar in their local connotations.

In consideration of this fact, herewith are just an assortment of words and terms you new "California natives" may run across in your perusal of the newspapers or in conversation with the grocer.

The most frequently heard term by the newcomer is likely to be:

UNUSUAL WEATHER—

Roughly 90 per cent of the year's 365 days. Or any day short of perfection either by slight overcast, chill morning fog, smog, sprinkle of rain, temperature above 90 or, yes, even by being too sunny.

TYPICAL WEATHER—Any day of the year a stranger says. "This is certainly a beautiful day."

TIDELANDS—A loosely used expression which might more correctly be called "tide and submerged lands." The controversy over title actually involves every conceivable definition of water area or former water area along the coasts and navigable waters of the United States. Tidelands includes the area of marginal seas out at least three miles from the coastline and in many instances to and beyond continental islands such as Catalina.

ROQUE—A word arbitrarily formed by taking the first and last letters from the word "croquet," a game which it resembles. Roque is a popular sport in Lincoln Park. Players use 3 1/4 inch balls, playing them through arches 3 1/2 inches wide, except for the cage or center arch, which is 3 3/4 inches wide.

BAJA CALIFORNIA—This is not a city in California named Baja. It is the Mexican peninsula extending south from the state of California.

ASSEMBLY—The State Legislature's lower branch.

EXTENDED SERVICE—A type of telephone service—ex-plain fully in the General Telephone Co. directory—enabling the user to dial certain areas outside Long Beach at no extra charge.

FAULT—A fault is a fracture in the earth's crust. Slippage between sides of the fracture—maybe 10 miles below the earth's surface—starts the shock wave known as an earthquake. The Pacific coastal area is a noted seismic region and the faults have been charted and given fancy names, i.e., San Andreas fault, Santa Ynez fault, White Wolf fault.

EARTHQUAKE—A story of only passing mention in seismic regions, unless it's really a big one. But just the mention of the word sets up a personal tremor in the heart of the stranger.

STORM—A few piddling drops of rain—anything over one-tenth of an inch—is considered a storm out here. It would be a simple statistic "back home" but here news photographers illustrate their "storm" by taking pictures of small boys sailing boats in some diminutive trickle along a curb. There's a good reason, however. Water drainage is poor here, comparatively; a little water thus looks like a lot to natives.

SUBSIDENCE—The sinking of coast land caused by the underearth vacancy created by years of pumping out oil. Science is working on remedies, already being tried with some success, such as pumping water and gas into the earth to fill the voids.

THE FLOOD CONTROL—Natives will give you directions... "It's just west of the Flood Control, etc." They refer to the Los Angeles River Flood Control Channel, a concrete channel, usually dry, running north and south, about nine blocks west of the main street of the City of Long Beach.

OUTFALL—This is a sewage dumping point out in the ocean.

MARINA—This is a harbor for small craft.

THE CIRCLE—A vehicular carousel located about 42 blocks east of the city at the juncture of Pacific Coast Highway and Lakewood Blvd. This is a real test of gamesmanship for the driver, a dizzying, self-contained, capsule freeway to separate the kids from the goats.

THE DIAGONAL—This refers to Los Coyotes Diagonal, a thoroughfare branching off northeast from the Traffic Circle.

ESCROW—A legal instrument or paper of agreement between two parties, and held by a third party (usually a bank) until fulfillment of certain conditions by the parties. This term is popularly used in house buying transactions: the seller puts the property in escrow and the buyer meets certain qualifications before title is passed on.

(Another Editor's Note: It was Will Rogers who invented the term, "Escrow Indians.")

Inflation Believed Blunted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government analysts Saturday expressed belief the "sharp edge" of inflation has been blunted. This doesn't mean, one economist stressed, that any general decline in business and the economy is under way. Nor does it mean, he added, that the threat of inflation has entirely disappeared.

It does mean, he added, that inevitable adjustments are taking place that were to be expected after the booming business of 1955, which carried over into the early months of this year.

And, this economist said, there is no reason for pessimism over certain downward trends that may well prove to be temporary. Generally, he said, the outlook is for a continued high level economy but at rates in the immediate future below those of recent booming months. This may extend into the third quarter of the year but with a recovery anticipated in the last months of 1956.

ON THE BRIGHT side these factors were noted:

The continued high level of construction activity at a 42 billion dollar annual rate, especially in commercial and industrial lines;

Expected expenditures of 35 billion dollars or more this year by business in expanding its plants and equipment;

High personal income, at an annual rate of near 315 billion dollars;

High government spending, including the usual cleanup in payments as the fiscal year draws to a close June 30;

A rise in farm product prices to levels even with last year; a firming up in used car markets.

ON THE DOWNWARD side, analysts noticed especially the rise in manufacturers' inventories which had a book value of $48,200,000,000 at the end of April or about five billion higher than a year ago. One said this was disturbing because it could lead to a slowdown in production in some lines if the increase continued.

One analyst expressed belief that there may be a decline in steel orders. Many firms placed orders earlier in the year to assure themselves of materials and in advance of a possible steel price rise following the present wage talks.

Hawthorne Resident Killed in Wyoming

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Arthur Buergey, 52, of 844 Birch St., Hawthorne, Calif., died instantly Saturday when his car collided with a truck on U. S. 30 six miles east of Wamsutter, Wyo.

1954 Median Family Income Was $4,173

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau reported Saturday that median family income in 1954 was $4,173. This was $60 below the record reached in 1953, but $300 above 1952.

The bureau also found that in 1954, 13 million of the nation's 42 million families had annual incomes of at least $5,000. About eight million families had such incomes in 1948, it said.

(The Census Bureau uses the median or midpoint. This means that half the nation's families made more than $4,173 and half received less.)

The bureau said the "average purchasing power of non-farm families" in 1954 appears to have "regained the World War II level" for the first time.

This occurred, it said, because income, wages and salaries in particular, rose while the price level remained stable.

Nonfarm families in 1954 enjoyed a median income of $4,591. This was $71 below the year before.

The bureau said the average cash income of farm families dropped from $2,131 in 1953 to $1,973 in 1954.

DR. GLASS IN LONG BEACH PRIDHAM DAVIS OFFICE

Those in Need of Eyesight Service in Long Beach Will Find Dr. Glass Both Friendly and Able, Says Pridham Davis

Proper Emphasis on Eyesight Pays Off in Work and Play

You can trust Dr. Ben E. Glass, Opt.D., to consider your eyesight needs first, and the money secondary, according to Dr. Pridham Davis, Opt.D.

"In all the years my Long Beach office has been established, I have never had an optometrist as well qualified as Dr. Glass," Dr. Davis said. "He has had over twenty years experience. Most important, he has been with me for four years, enabling him to become thoroughly trained in my methods."

BACKGROUND OF DR. GLASS INTERESTING

Dr. Ben E. Glass, Opt.D., graduated from Los Angeles Polytechnic High School. After which, he graduated from the Los Angeles School of Optometry, obtaining the degree of Doctor of Optometry. Dr. Glass operated as an individual optometrist for many years previous to joining Pridham Davis.

An interesting sidelight in the career of Dr. Glass is his study in subjects other than optometry. He studied drama, music and make-up. His study of make-up ties in well with the science of fitting glasses to match facial characteristics.

WHY DR. GLASS DECIDED TO JOIN PRIDHAM DAVIS

"A man feels proud to operate his own professional practice," Dr. Glass said. "But I am better adapted to serve well with Pridham Davis. I am happy in my work, because I am usually busy, and a good income is assured. I am happy too that Pridham Davis has good principles professionally and insists on such a liberal attitude toward everyone we serve."

Optometrists Are Responsible for Better Vision

To start with, an optometrist examines your eyes. Without an accurate eye examination no one knows what you really need. An optometrist is more extensively educated in the science of vision measurement than any other professional.

After Eye Examination
Suppose your eye examination is completely accurate. Suppose the prescription written for lenses is exactly what you need for the most efficient sight. Then it's up to whoever fills the prescription to accurately follow through.

One of the main reasons why it's good to put your eyesight in the hands of an optometrist is that he is responsible for the grinding of your lenses, as well as the prescription itself. There's no chance of one service blaming the other in case you are not satisfied. One person, the optometrist, is responsible for everything from your eye examination to your completed glasses.

Styling and Fitting Frames
Style of frames may be more important than you think. You need a style both suited to your facial features and adaptable to your seeing needs. You need these fitted so that you are comfortable and not distracted by a fit that may be improper for the type of lens you have.

An optometrist is a specialist in both styling and fitting of glasses. He is solely responsible for a good result in these respects, as well as accurate eye examination and grinding of lens. Every phase is handled by the optometrist and you can hold him solely responsible. You don't have to wonder whose fault it is in case you are not satisfied. Your optometrist backs up every process in the creation of corrected eyesight.

VISUAL TRAINING

"Eye exercises often correct muscular deficiencies not correctable by glasses," Dr. Davis said. "The optometrist not only offers all the services pertinent to getting glasses, but he offers visual training so that, if you need it, you may have added help."

Dr. Pridham Davis, Opt.D., Head of Service Bearing His Name

Dr. Ben E. Glass, Opt.D., in Charge of Long Beach Office

LONG BEACH OFFICE—38 Pine Ave., Corner 1st & Pine

Dr. Glass Stresses Importance of Good Guarantee

Dr. Glass' professional training qualifies him as an optometrist but an interesting side light is his attitude on dealing with people.

"I believe that, as a whole, people are honest," Dr. Glass said. "Very seldom has anyone tried to take advantage of me when I have done my best to solve their eyesight problem. Therefore, I welcome the opportunity of giving a money back guarantee. You trust me to give you eyesight entirely satisfactory to you, and I'll trust you to decide whether I keep your money or give it back to you.

GUARANTEE DARING IN VIEW OF CREDIT OFFER

"An unqualified guarantee is more daring when credit is involved," Dr. Glass said. "On our credit plan, payments are so small it may be quite a time after you wear your glasses, before your last payment is made. If you are not satisfied and have paid only a part of the cost of your glasses, I will cancel the balance you owe and return the money you have already paid."

"If you are a secretary who is slowed down by not being able to read typewritten material at arms' length, you are handicapped," Dr. Davis said. "It won't be long until this shows up in the amount of work turned out. Why take a chance on inferior eyesight? Your problem, as a rule, can be solved with the proper kind of glasses. Maybe you need eye exercises plus glasses. Only your optometrist gives you both, as a regular custom."

"Suppose you are a golfer and can see well only at certain distances. You may need sight correction for several distances. You have the opportunity of improving your game with proper eyesight correction," Dr. Davis said.

"Those in precision machinery work, drafting, secretarial work, sewing, and many eye-demanding occupations can protect their income and future with proper eyesight care," Dr. Davis said.

Service That Always Pleases Aim of Each Pridham Davis Office

First, you want glasses entirely efficient and pleasing. But Pridham Davis wants you to have more than this. He wants to help keep them that way.

Please don't neglect to have your frames adjusted when first needed," Dr. Davis said. "There's no added cost for this service. It's part of the price you pay for your glasses."

"We want to take care of your eyesight needs, and this doesn't stop after you have finished paying for your glasses," Dr. Davis said.

Visual Needs Come First The Money is Secondary

Your eyes are so important to your work, and in every way, that money should not stand in your way, according to Dr. Davis.

"Let's take care of your eyesight first and put the money secondary," Dr. Davis said. "You can wait six weeks before making your first small credit payment, and the down payment is so small you'll hardly miss it."

"I have found that most people are honest," Dr. Davis said. "Very seldom has anyone tried to take advantage of me when I have done my best to solve their eyesight problem. Trust me to make you happy with your glasses, and I'll trust you to pay."

BLENDED LENSES GREATEST ADVANCEMENT SINCE BENJAMIN FRANKLIN INVENTED BIFOCAL

THE SHADOW PROVES IT

HOW BLENDED LENSES WORK

You use Blended Lenses like bifocals or trifocals. The big difference is that you DON'T HAVE AN ABRUPT JUMP when you move your eyes. You have gradual changes from reading to arm's length and distance areas. Gradual changes are more acceptable to bodily functions than quick, abrupt shifts.

With bifocals, when you move your head and objects jump, beware of STUMBLING.

There is possible confusion of SEEING DOUBLE. When moving about or driving with Blended Lenses you are safe, because objects will not jump, and you will not see double through any part of lens.

EYE EXAMINATION

Examination of your eyes will indicate the type of lenses best for you. Whether these be Blended Lenses, or any other type, Pridham Davis is prepared to fit you for your needs.

More Jet Noise!

By ALLAN MERRITT

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The ear-splitting noise of the military jet airplane—the world's greatest maker of sustained noise—has given rise to a big question: How much the human ear can safely stand?

Scientists are trying to come up with an answer—one that must come soon. For the deafening sound waves already have reached the point where they cause physical pain to people at close range.

And the noise is becoming greater year by year with constant setups in jet engine power. A nuisance to residential areas adjacent to military airfields, it conceivably could be a threat to the hearing of men handling the planes on the line during ground warmups.

There's nothing in nature similar to the jet noise. That's why it's hard to accept. But it apparently will have to be accepted.

"It is just something we are going to have to live with," Gen. Nathan F. Twining, the Air Force chief of staff, told a jet age conference.

"The trouble we have had is nothing," he said, "compared to the trouble we could have, because aviation is tending toward more noise, not less."

THE NOISE of commercial jet airliners probably can be reduced to that of present propeller driven aircraft, through the use of silencers or mufflers, by the time they come into use in 1958 or 1959.

But military jets simply cannot afford to give up in flight the performance that would be lost through noise suppression.

Some measures have been taken to combat the noise.

The Air Force puts barriers around tailpipes of its noisier jets to corral and enclose sounds during engine warmups, and uses the most isolated parts of its airfields for this purpose.

McDonnell Aircraft Corp. of St. Louis, whose F101 Air Force Voodoo is one of the top noise-makers now coming off the production lines, is putting up three "hush houses" for testing engines.

The buildings will be designed to accommodate twin-engine jets with a power capacity twice that of the present Voodoo engines. Personnel can remain inside the testing operation but not with comfort.

Among those trying to determine whether jet noises constitute a danger to men such as line crewmen are scientists from St. Louis' Central Institute for the Deaf.

They are studying the effects on flight deck personnel aboard an aircraft carrier at sea. The research is under a contract with the Office of Naval Research.

"We felt this was the kind of problem which ought to be studied in the field," said S. L. and 16 are idle because there are no openings at high schools or trade schools. Laws prevent their employment in factories.

trained in a specially designed 40-foot soundproof trailer.

STUDIES SHOW the noise from a jet engine is not made inside but from 2 to 20 feet in back of the plane. Measured in power required to generate noise, a truck uses about 10 watts, a Diesel locomotive 100 watts, a propeller-driven aircraft perhaps 1,000, and future jets possibly 100,000.

Members of the noise abatement panel in Washington said that when noise exceeds 140 decibels, pain is experienced and people become frightened and try to get away.

The noise of new jets coming into use exceeds 140 decibels.

Authorities on sound tolerance have said in recent years the boundary line between noises which cause hearing losses and those which do not lies between 80 and 90 decibels or, for brief exposures, perhaps 100 or more.

Gen. Earle E. Partridge, commander in chief of the Air Force's Continental Air Defense Command, gave this yardstick on jet noise:

"Between 40 and 86 decibels, only a Rip Van Winkle can sleep; from 86 to 98, no man can yell loud enough over it to be heard; from 98 to 140, there is physical discomfort; and from there on it's painful to the ears."

The F86D North American Sabre Jet's noise is just two points short of the ear-painful decibel count.

The delta-winged F102 Convair, which soon will be added to the Air Force arsenal, goes one point, over the ear-painful minimum for persons without ear plugs. It has to get up two miles to get out side the range where it interferes with speech.

AS YET, McDonnell Aircraft says, no official reading has been made on the noise of its F101 Voodoo.

"So far the public has objected to noise primarily because it is a nuisance, not a hazard," Gen. Twining said. "I believe we will be able to keep it from being hazardous."

But he warns that noise is something "we are going to have to live with."

The jet engines of today have 4,000 to 8,000 pounds of thrust. The jet noises of tomorrow will be generated by engines of 12,000 to 25,000 pounds of thrust.

"We ain't heard nothing yet!" the general says.

Youth Unemployed, Hungary Worried

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Hungary is worried about "youth unemployment." Newspapers report 30,000 Hungarians between 14 and 16 are idle because there are no openings at high schools or trade schools. Laws prevent their employment in factories.

DID SOMEBODY KNOCK?

Roar of a jet plane streaking overhead interrupts sunshine siesta of Jo Ann Hoffman of Lakewood. Military jets are getting noisier, experts say, meaning less and less siesta time for everybody if the trend continues.—(Staff photo.)

Ex-Treason Suspect Victim of Slugging

BALTIMORE (AP)—John David Provoo, ex-GI who beat a World War II treason charge, reported to police Saturday that a strange man he invited to his apartment slugged and robbed him of $20.

Provoo, who was treated for head cuts, told police the man attacked him with a beer bottle and then struck him with a chair before taking his wallet.

Provoo said the stranger had asked to see his apartment after they met at a bus station. He said the attack occurred about 4 a.m. and described his assailant as about 20 years old, six feet tall, and weighing about 170 pounds.

Provoo, a onetime San Francisco bank clerk, was charged with treason because of his activities while a prisoner of war of the Japanese. A federal judge in New York sentenced him to life imprisonment in 1953.

The U. S. Court of Appeals in New York reversed the conviction on Aug. 27, 1954, on grounds irrelevant testimony had been introduced at the trial regarding homosexuality and that the trial should have been held in Maryland where Provoo was arrested.

The Appeals Court said questions about sex deviations injected into the trial by the prosecution were intended to degrade and humiliate Provoo and increase the probability of his conviction.

Provoo, who had knocked about the Far East, was an Army sergeant in the Philippines

Sec. Thomas Says Global Missile Near

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP)—The United States soon will have a guided missile "capable of hitting any target in the world," Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas said Friday night.

Thomas, speaking at a dinner given in his honor by the Monterey Peninsula Navy League, denied that this country was backward in its missile program.

Thomas predicted there would not be a nuclear war.

"I think we are going into a cold war and it will be a long and long drawn out one," he commented.

"With all this talk about nuclear weapons we are starting a renaissance of neutralism. The less said about nuclear war the better."

Thomas defended the Forrestal-type of airplane carrier as being the Navy's main offensive weapon.

"Some people tell you that it is vulnerable," he said. "It is not. It has a speed of more than 40 miles an hour. Its bombers can neutralize an area 1,000 miles away. If attacked by submarines it has 1,200 watertight compartments to prevent sinking."

UAW Starts Anniversary Fete Today

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union today kicks off an eight-day nationwide celebration of its 20th anniversary.

Walter P. Reuther, president of the UAW (CIO-AFL) will throw out the first ball at the Yankee-Tiger doubleheader at Yankee Stadium in New York.

At the University of Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., a banquet will be held to commemorate the founding convention of the union April 27, 1936, at South Bend.

In the June issue of the "United Automobile Worker" the UAW reviews its entire 20-year history.

Throughout the history runs the theme of the conflict between the union and the auto-makers.

Woolson Out of 'Tent'

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Albert Woolson, 109, last surviving union veteran of the Civil War, was removed from an oxygen tent at St. Luke's Hospital here Saturday, but still was receiving oxygen. He is being treated for recurrent lung congestion.

New Book Says Hitler Tried to Move Pope to Germany

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A book just published says Pope Pius XII resisted efforts of Adolf Hitler to move him from the Vatican to Germany during the war.

"This is my place. I will not move from this place," the Pope is reported to have replied to German pressure.

The revelation was made in the book, "Vita Contro Morte"—Life Against Death—published Saturday. It is the work of Catholic writer Igino Giordani, formerly editor of Il Quotidiano, official organ of Italian Catholic Action.

A first copy of the book was presented Friday by the author to the pontiff in honor of the anniversary of his namesake, St. Eugene. The book was praised by L'Osservatore Romano as a work that fills a long-felt need. Germans put considerable pressure on the Pope through the German embassy in Rome in 1944.

Pay Raise for State Employees

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Personnel Board Saturday granted wage increases totaling $19,930,000 a year to 61,000 state employees.

Money for the raises was appropriated by the 1956 Legislature at the urging of Gov. Knight. The Legislature included enough money to give increases to University of California employees too, but their wages are not set by the Personnel Board.

ALMOST ALL state employees will get at least a 5-per-cent hike in pay July 1. About 27,600 will get an increase of 10 per cent. About two thirds of the latter are in the minimum pay classifications—$300 a month or less.

Some 1,200 craft employees in a special category got a 5- or 10-per-cent adjustment retroactive to Jan. 1 and an additional 5 per cent effective July 1.

The higher pay scales raise the minimum state hiring rate from $210 to $231 a month.

Presbyterians Vote to Allow Women Elders

MONTREAT, N.C. (AP)—The 96th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the U.S. voted Saturday to allow women to hold office as elders and deacons.

The question now will go to the 85 presbyteries in the 16 states comprising the Presbyterian Church South.

The question of marriage and divorce is slated to come up in sessions Monday.

Also on the agenda for next week is the segregation issue.

Boy, Mauled by Zoo Lions, Put in Iron Lung

LONDON (AP)—Doctors used an iron lung Saturday in a desperate effort to save the life of nine-year-old Tony Murphy who lost both arms when he was mauled by a lion.

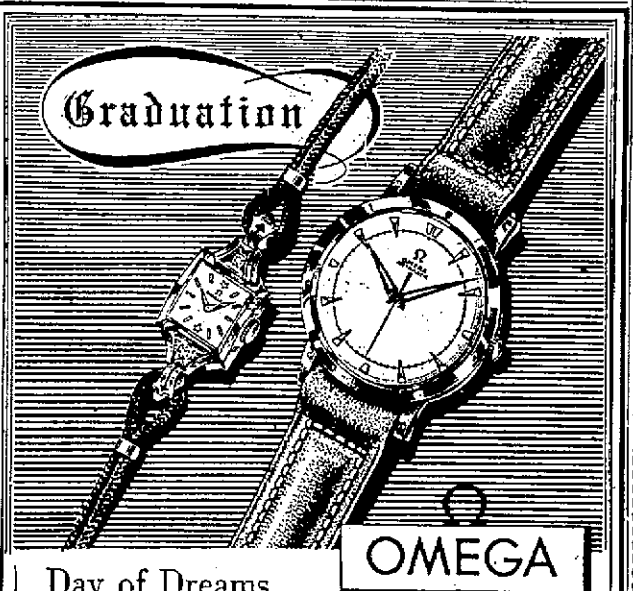

The boy's condition improved Friday but he went into a coma during the night and was placed in the iron lung.

A lion seized Tony when the boy climbed a guard fence and started teasing the caged beast at the London zoo Thursday. His scoutmaster, Father Ronald Aylward, beat the lion with an iron bar and snatched the boy free.

Sun Powers Model Plane

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A "device" to come from his small airplane model of the future, deriving its power from sunlight through a new silicon solar cell, was demonstrated Saturday to the Aviation Writers Assn.

It was shown by H. Leslie Hoffman, president of Hoffman Electronics Corp., Los Angeles. He described it as "one of the most exciting and demonstrable of jamming."

Downpours Delay Cruise for Middies

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—The midshipman cruise finally got underway down Chesapeake Bay Saturday afternoon, after bad weather delayed the departure most of the day.

The battleship Iowa, flagship of Rear Adm. Kenmore M. McManes who will command the fleet; the battleship New Jersey; and the cruisers Macon and Des Moines steamed out after several destroyers left earlier.

Heavy rains delayed embarkation of the new first (senior) and third classes from the Academy early Saturday and the big ships had to wait for another tide before departing.

SOME 1,825 midshipmen from the two classes were loaded aboard for a cruise that will take them to European waters during the three summer months.

THE NEW SECOND (junior) class of some 880 middies boarded amphibious vessels later in the day for a trip to Little Creek, Va., and an amphibious

Molotov Welcomes Tito

MOSCOW (AP)—Yugoslav Marshal Tito arrived in Moscow Saturday to receive a hero's welcome and a handshake from V. M. Molotov. Tito declared the fates of Yugoslavia and Russia are "inseparable" now that the "tragic" Stalin era split has been mended.

He was met by Molotov, who prefaced the Yugoslav leaders' 18-day friendship visit by resigning as foreign minister Friday night. It was Molotov who signed Stalin's 1948 declaration expelling Tito from the now defunct Cominform.

Molotov's successor, Pravda Editor Dmitri Shepilov, also was in the top-level welcoming party that greeted Tito as a "dear comrade" on his first visit to the Soviet capital in 10 years.

A THROG of Russians cheered. A brass band blared, and a Red Army honor guard stood at stiff attention as the Yugoslav president resplendent in his marshal's uniform, descended from his special train at the Kiev station.

Tito warmly shook hands with the Soviet leaders. He then set out to put the final seal on the healing of the seven-year-split with Russia which began when Tito refused to accept Stalin's dictation on Yugoslav internal affairs.

In a plain-spoken statement, the Yugoslav leader said:

"The common struggle of our people from the beginning to the end of the war against the common foe testifies to the great truth that our fates are inseparable and that there is much for which we can value and esteem each other."

IN A REFERENCE to the Soviet-Yugoslav split under Stalin, Tito added:

"However, dear friends, something unheard of and tragic in nevertheless took place, and neither the peoples of Yugoslavia nor the peoples of the Soviet Union were responsible for this. 'We were greatly pained but we believed that the time would come when everything separating us would be overcome and when our friendship would receive a new and still more firm foundation.'"

College Fires Prof Who Defies Quiz

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—Dr. Laurent R. Lavalie, Dickinson College economics instructor suspended March 19 after invoking the Fifth Amendment before a congressional subcommittee, was fired last night by the college's board of trustees.

The board said it did not consider Lavalie "competent to be a member of the faculty of Dickinson College." It said he had failed to disclose important information about his past associations in interviews with President William W. Edel and other college authorities and had maintained an "evasive attitude" during the April 20 hearing before the board's executive committee.

Shipwrecked Sailor Saved by Seagulls

FLEETWOOD, England (AP)—A shipwrecked yachtsman was saved from drowning Saturday by a flock of seagulls.

The gulls circled, screaming, over the capsized yacht of Norman C. Brown off this Irish seaport, and directed the Fleetwood lifeboat to the spot.

60 Girls Expected to Vie for Miss Lakewood Title

More than 60 attractive girls are expected to compete in the Miss Lakewood Contest, according to Peter Nitri, general chairman of the Greater Lakewood Chamber of Commerce committee sponsoring the event.

Preliminary judging will be at 7 p.m. June 14 and 15 in the auditorium of the Lakewood May Co. Final selection will be during a program at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, May 16, in the auditorium, with entertainer Rush Adams serving as master of ceremonies.

Mary Ann McHenry, who was the 1956 Miss Lakewood, will present the winner with a jewel-studded tiara. The winning girl will represent Miss Lakewood at the forthcoming Miss California contest.

Miss Lakewood also will receive an airline trip for two to Las Vegas with overnight reservations at a top hotel; $100 cash; a large trophy and an official Miss Universe bathing suit. The nine runners-up will receive smaller trophies.

Judges for the contest will include Lakewood Mayor Angelo Jacoboni, Richard Heartwell, Miss A. Jones, Jim Wilkes, Fred Sanchez, Leon Silverman and Vivian Dudge. Wallace Bruce, chamber president, will preside at the final judging program.

Girls have until June 9 to enter the contest. Entry blanks may be obtained from the Independent, Press-Telegram's Lakewood office, 5056 Faculty Ave., or at the Lakewood chamber office.

The prosecution had asked the court to send Miss Labbe to the guillotine and sentence Agarron to life.

CAPITAL CAPERS

By WALTER T. RIDDER, ROBERT E. LEE AND BILL BROOM Independent Press-Telegram Capital Bureau

WASHINGTON—The Kefauver-Stevenson battle for the Democratic nomination is getting to be not only politically but also personally bitter. There was a time when politicians here thought the most likely eventual Democratic ticket would be Stevenson for president, Kefauver for vice-president. Not any more. Adlai is said to be deeply resentful of Kefauver's charges against Stevenson on the social security issue—charges which are completely distorted, says Stevenson—and 'tis rumored Stevenson has mixed Kefauver as a possible running-mate. Of course, before he can choose a running-mate, Stevenson still must win his party's nomination—a tough task at best.

Speaking of Stevenson, the former Illinois governor has a habit of making jokes about himself. Typical is the story he told during his recent Florida campaign. He said he'd met an elderly lady who told him she was going to vote for him because she owned a doll named Adlai. "Surely there must be other reasons why you're going to vote for me?" Stevenson said. To which she replied flatly: "No, there aren't." The joke gets a good laugh from the audience. But many of Adlai's top political advisers question the wisdom of self-deprecation. It's alright to make jokes, they argue, but not about yourself. They reason the public will instinctively say: "Well, if he can't take himself seriously, why should we?" Thus far, Adlai has not heeded their advice.

It wasn't generally recalled in

Wife Booked in Jealousy Stab Death

NORWALK—A Bell Gardens woman was booked on suspicion of murder here early Saturday after she admittedly stabbed her husband to death for comparing her unfavorably with his former wife.

The victim, Loyal F. Hawks, 48, of 5818 E. Gotham St., died at Carobil Hospital at 4:18 a.m. Deputies said Mrs. Sally Jane Hawks, 38, said she stabbed her husband during a quarrel which started when he compared her unfavorably to his former wife, now dead.

The incident occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, 13323 Markdale Ave., friends of the couple.

The Millers told officers that the Hawks family, including two children, Richard, 1, and Cindy, 3, called for a visit Friday evening.

Saratoga Sails by Own Power for First Time

NEW YORK (AP)—The aircraft carrier Saratoga, the Navy's newest and biggest ship, went for its first sail Saturday under its own power.

The 60,000-ton vessel steamed from the Brooklyn Navy Yard through the harbor to a point near the harbor entrance. It anchored there until Monday, when it will take to the open sea for testing.

the biographies written about him this past week, but Fred Seaton, new Secretary of the Interior, got his national political start as campaign manager in Nebraska for Harold E. Stassen's 1948 presidential try. Seaton, then a Cornhusker newspaper publisher, carried the state for Stassen in the primary and came to the convention in Philadelphia that year as Stassen's press secretary. They didn't win the nomination, but apparently Seaton learned a lot. Four years later, he turned up as a kind of general adviser on the Eisenhower campaign train. In the uproar which enveloped the Eisenhower entourage over the Nixon case, Seaton was credited with having kept his head when all about were losing theirs and he urged Eisenhower not to take any hasty action. As this advice ran parallel to Eisenhower's instinctive thinking, Seaton was placed on the new President's list and came to Washington as presidential assistant shortly after inauguration day.

Hottest political prospect in Washington right now is Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, who is regarded as a likely Democratic compromise presidential choice. He is or shortly will be profiled in four national magazines and is now being assiduously cultivated by every lobbyist in town. Masterminding the Symington campaign is Harry Truman's former general counsel, Clark Clifford, a Missourian himself. Said to be getting on the Symington bandwagon is former Defense Secretary Louis Johnson. The strange part about the latter is that Symington resigned as Secretary of the Air Force when Johnson was defense chief. Symington thought Johnson was cutting the Air Force too much. But apparently the two men have reconciled their differences.

Nike Nests Ring Southland

Rocket Circle to Guard Vital Areas of Defense

By SPENCER CRUMP

A ring of Southland anti-atomic defense posts which would do credit to a science fiction thriller is nearing completion, with the Long Beach area as a key point in the super-secret project.

The science magic is Nike, hush-hush electronic missile which seeks out its target, and, like a bullet chasing a character in a movie cartoon, refuses to be deterred by elusive maneuvers.

A Nike installation at the Long Beach Municipal Airport will be completed this month, while work is being pushed on a

Water Plan 'Yes' Asked by Leaders

Long Beach government and civic leaders today joined in a final appeal for approval by the voters of Proposition W, the water proposal, on Tuesday's ballot.

Proposition W would authorize the Metropolitan Water District to borrow $50 million on short term loans to expand the aqueduct facilities from the Colorado River to their planned capacity within six years.

District spokesmen say no tax increase is necessary to repay the loans because the district has due and payable to it $170 million over the next 30 years from areas which recently joined the district.

Local leaders commented as follows:

MAYOR GEORGE M. VERMILION—"Water is our city's life blood. We need it to live and grow. Passage of Proposition W is a must."

VIRGIL B. GILLESPIE, president, Chamber of Commerce—"Nothing is more vital to our continued industrial growth and prosperity than an adequate water supply."

FRANK S. SANDEMAN, chief, fire department—"Good fire protection requires a dependable and sufficient water supply. Proposition W will assure an adequate supply for years to come and will help maintain the present low fire insurance rate."

MORRIS HOMQUIST, president, Board of Realtors—"Without ample water for an expanding population, property values in Long Beach would be in danger. Proposition W will help preserve the sound property values Long Beach has achieved."

BRENNAN S. THOMAS, general manager, water department—"Long Beach now gets 45 per cent of its water from the Colorado River through the Metropolitan Water District aqueduct facilities. We will need more water in the future. Proposition W insures that the water will be available."

JOHN MANSELL, city auditor—"Proposition W will provide more water. The Metropolitan Water District will be able to build additional facilities now by borrowing against a guaranteed future income of $170 million from new members of the district."

BILL BARBEE, Long Beach chairman, Southland Water Committee—"The Metropolitan Water District already has substantial demands for more water than the present aqueduct system can provide. Southern California needs more water now and can get it by approving Proposition W."

launching site at the Torrance Municipal Airport.

Elaborate Nike bases have been completed in locales ranging from high in the mountains to the coastal plains.

The deadly Nike circle is Uncle Sam's prime defense against an enemy atomic attack which could strike havoc into the heartland of Southern California's military, industrial and residential development.

A TYPICAL Nike site consists of 40 to 50 acres and contains areas for the launching and radar control of the missiles.

The Long Beach site includes eight buildings.

In addition to ground buildings, permanent Nike installations also include underground magazine and control rooms.

Costs vary for construction of a Nike base. The Long Beach installation will cost approximately $750,000 and will be manned day and night by 100 highly-trained specialists of B Battery, 554th Missile Battalion with headquarters at Fort MacArthur.

The operating battalions are part of the 47th Brigade, with headquarters at Fort MacArthur under the acting command of Col. Everett Peddicord in the absence of Brig. Gen. Olaf Kyster Jr.

Actual operation of the Nike includes three uncanny radar units which continuously watch the sky. One radar picks up the target. Another is a target-tracking radar linked to the third radar, which tracks the missile itself.

THE NIKES are launched almost silently, operating on a mixture of jet fuel and a form of nitric acid at a secret speed described only as "supersonic."

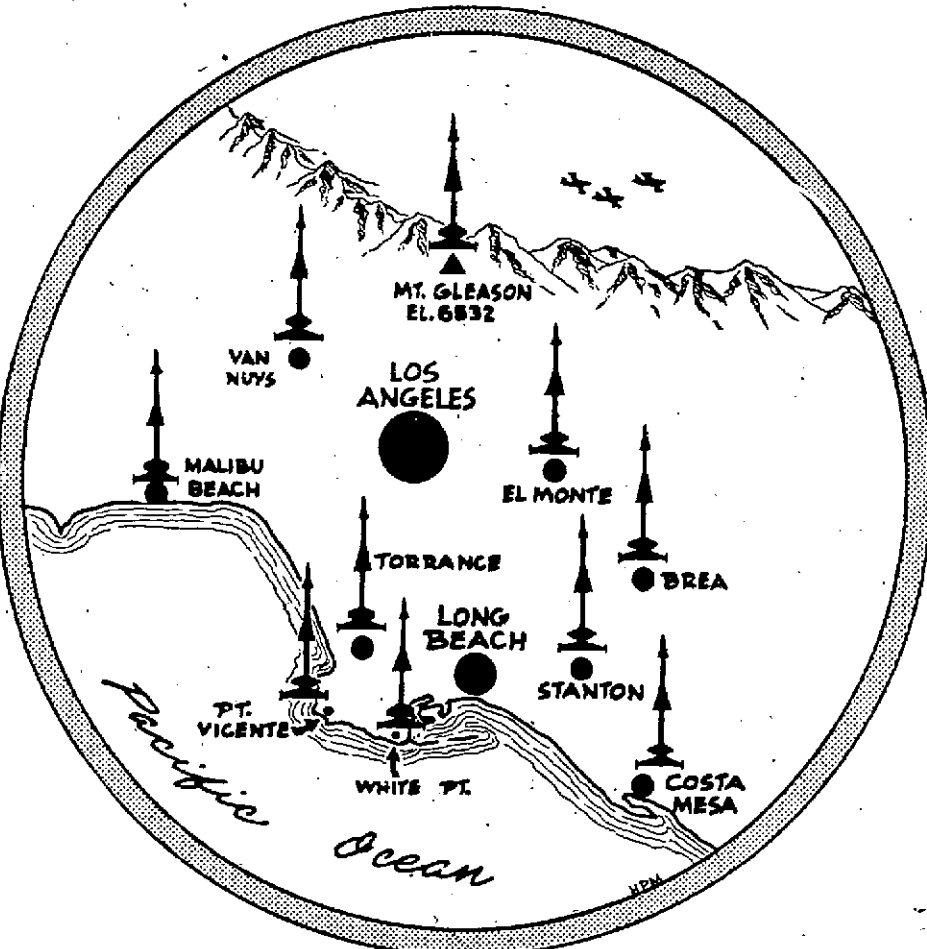

The target tracker and missile tracker trade electronic secrets, closing in on the target with deadly accuracy despite the plane's evasive maneuvers. Operational details are classified information, but the Nike reportedly can reach altitudes above those attainable by any planes and can reach 30 to 40 miles at sea.

The Long Beach installation borders Clark Ave. just south of Spring St. on land leased from the city for $1 a year.

The Nike base is designed to co-ordinate with other installations ranging from snowy peaks to the coastline in Southern California. They are located as follows:

Stanton—On Western Ave. near Chapman Ave., this site is nicknamed "Horse Ranch" and is manned by A Battery, 554th Missile Battalion.

Costa Mesa—Located on the abandoned Santa Ana Air Base, this Nike installation is manned by three batteries from the 933rd

BRISTLING MISSILE BASES CIRCLE STRATEGIC AREA

AAA missile battalion.

Mt. Gleason—High up in the Angeles National Forest, the men who stand at this installation have weather ranging from winter's snows to dry summer heat.

Palos Verdes—One permanent Nike installation is at White's Point, while another is located at Point Vicente.

Brea—A base at this Orange County town is scheduled to be completed in October.

Torrance—Workmen are rushing to complete an installation on a 50-acre site at the east end of the municipal airport by October.

Van Nuys—Operated by men of Battery D, 551st Anti-Aircraft Brigade.

El Monte—Northeastern installation, manned by Battery B, 551st missile battalion.

Malibu—Northern coastal Nike station.

These Nike stations are manned by skillful—and quickly available—personnel. Each Army man living off the miniature post must be housed within 10 minutes' travel time of the station.

Single officers may live on the stations, which are complete with living quarters and post exchanges.

Military men believe that because of the atomic age, the installations will be permanent. Consequently, the units in this "ring" of electronic guardians are being landscaped as part of a beautification program.

Plan Bases in West Australia and Kenya

LONDON (AP)—Construction of two new naval bases on Africa's eastern seaboard and on Australia's west coast is reported under consideration today to bolster British Commonwealth Far Eastern defense lines.

Authorized informants reported a high level reappraisal of Commonwealth defense strategy in the Middle and Far East is now far advanced. It has been supervised personally by Adm. Lord Mountbatten, Britain's First Sea Lord, who toured the country's main naval installations in the Pacific and Indian Ocean areas two months ago.

Mountbatten's mission was to check the needs and the strategy of Britain's navy against the changing political background of the Middle and Far East.

The urgency of Mountbatten's task has been underscored by events in Ceylon, where a new Nationalist premier, Solomon Bandaranaike has said his Commonwealth government will demand Britain's withdrawal from her naval and air installations at Trincomalee.

Favored setting now for a new East African Royal Naval base is Kenya's deepwater port of Mombasa. Its Kilindini Harbor was big enough to shelter the whole of the British East Indies Fleet in World War II.

Site of the projected West Australian base would be at Cockburn Sound, 12 miles south of Fremantle.

Linda Darnell Is Recovering

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Linda Darnell Saturday was recovering from a virus infection that forced her to withdraw from a new film role.

Producer Hall Bartlett said Miss Darnell, who recently returned to her film career after divorcing wealthy New York brewer Philip Liebmann, would be replaced in "Drango" because the picture could not be delayed.

State College Professor Will Address Forum

James H-F Noguera, assistant professor of foreign languages at Long Beach State College, will be guest speaker at the Chamber of Commerce Breakfast Forum Wednesday morning, it was announced Saturday by George Baumgardner, chairman.

Noguera was born in Barcelona, Spain, of French parents. He attended the University of Barcelona and the University of Besancon in France and received his master's degree from USC.

He was an instructor in the languages and literature of France and Spain at Pepperdine College for six years before coming to State College.

Compromise Seen on Plans to Divide $25 Billion Road Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional sources predicted Saturday that House-Senate conferees will approve a "logical" compromise for dividing $25 billion in proposed super highway funds among the states.

The conference committee starts ironing out differences in the Senate and House highway bill next week. The formula for passing out federal funds to construct a 40,000-mile interstate road system is the major issue in dispute.

Sources representing both House and Senate (thinking said the conferees would probably agree on a compromise along these lines:

The Senate plan for distributing the money on a legal formula would be used initially while a new study is made of total needs of each state to build the interstate system based on actual construction cost.

The House bill now would allocate the money on a basis of "need" estimated by the states themselves. The Senate last Tuesday turned down this plan by a substantial vote and approved a formula to divide the money on a basis of state population, area and rural road mileage.

Each contends the other's plan is unrealistic.

The interstate system, which will take 15 years to construct, is the central part of both the House and Senate versions of the bill. But both measures would step up sharply present federal aid to the states for primary, secondary and urban roads.

Total cost of the Senate bill is placed at about $37 billion against $51.5 billion for the House bill. The House figure results from projection of spending over a longer period.

Both bills also call for a hike in highway use tax which will amount to almost $15 billion over a 16-year period. The increases will be in federal gasoline, tire, truck, bus and trailer taxes.

Dentures FIRST, money LATER, at Dr. Campbell's for over 20 years

Difficult cases invited with NO MONEY DOWN

Putting service first and money later has been at Dr. Campbell's for over 20 years, but never more than right now. Even difficult cases are welcomed on Dr. Campbell's no money down credit plan. You get your new dentures, but may wait 45 days before paying anything. Dr. Campbell carries his own credit, with no outside financing, so he is not regulated by ordinary credit standards.

"I prefer that you get your dentures on credit," Dr. Campbell said. "We want to serve you first, and the money is secondary. Take as long as you need to pay on my easy-credit plan."

Why Dr. Campbell says pay NO MONEY DOWN

"I don't have to worry about paying my expenses as a dentist if I am interested first in giving service," Dr. Campbell said. "I have found through trial and error that every one of my offices must give a lot of credit to be prosperous. In the past, when one of my offices curtailed credit, this office became less prosperous. People are glad to pay for good service when you are thinking of them before the money. My records prove that insisting on immediate cash, even in small amounts, hurts my dental practice. No money down helps my dental practice."

LOW PRICES BRING BIG DENTURE SAVINGS

Dr. Campbell's twelve offices make a lot of dentures. The story of volume production is well known to everyone. We have many things we could not have if it were not for volume production. If it costs Dr. Campbell less to make dentures in volume, it stands to reason it costs you less.

My low prices and no money down credit plan enable me to hold prices down despite rises in salaries and materials," Dr. Campbell said. "By not taking advantage of the trend to increase prices, I make more dentures and still make a profit at no increase in price. Living costs have gone up a lot, but my prices are the same as they were years ago."

SEE YOUR SAVINGS—no doubt about these prices

When you go in to buy something at a department store you see the article tagged with a price. That way you know it's not a bargaining proposition. You don't have to be a good bargainer to get a good price.

"I am doing this in dentistry," Dr. Campbell said. "I want you to know that the price of the denture you select is the best I can make, and that no one can bargain for less, making others pay the difference in higher prices. Each sample denture, which you choose from, has a price permanently molded into the denture. You see the denture, you see the price, you take your choice."

Translucent Dentures

Translucent DENTURE MATERIAL and translucent TEETH are recognized by dentists as the FINEST available for making dentures.

Even if these materials were expensive, they would be economical in the long run. But my price for my finest denture is so low that there is no need to accept less.

Immediate Restoration

New dentures may be put in the SAME DAY the last of your teeth are extracted. If your case permits it, and you desire it, impression is taken BEFORE teeth are extracted. Dentures are started immediately and finished the same day.

Europe Likes Harry's 'Cracker Barrel' Wit

By GENE PATTERSON

LONDON (UPI)—Former President Harry S. Truman is being viewed by Europeans as one of the snappiest cracker barrel wits to hit this continent since the era of the country boy.

The former President arrived in Le Havre on May 16, went on to Paris, Rome and all the way points in Italy. He is now in Salzburg, Austria, for several days of relaxation.

The first day in Paris, Mr. Truman pointed to a rose in his buttonhole and announced: "The madame bought it for me to remind me we're having a good time."

Mr. Truman is moseying around the old world with the comfortably determined look of a Missourian who won't be awed.

WHEN THE Italians showed him the statue of Romulus and Remus in Rome he commented that he had "read about that."

They asked him why he was going to Venice and he said, "I was informed by my daughter that the streets of Venice are flooded and I want to see this for myself."

He's forever popping up in such places as a Paris cafe or on the Naples seafloor craning for the view of the ordinary tourist.

He doesn't take the reporters and photographers too seriously. When cameramen tried to arrange him in front of some Roman ruins he announced, "I'm not here to please the photographers. I'm here to see this damned place."

HE WHIZZED through Paris traffic behind a motorcycle escort and observed, "We only got cussed at once."

The fancy menus didn't subdue him either. "Did you have spaghetti for dinner?" they asked him in Rome. "We had something like spaghetti," he said, "only it doesn't have holes in it."

He cut the Italian weather down to size in Naples. "I think Italy is a little like Texas," he said. "Down in Texas they say any man who tries to predict the weather is either a fool or a new comer."

Rome struck him as "the most beautiful city to visit, but independence is a better place for an old man like me to live."

HE SAW the Italian election posters and commented they made him feel "just like home. Everybody is trying to get elected."

The affair of the "squirrel-headed generals" cooled his relations with reporters only briefly. The day after the big rumpus, he and they took off on a train ride from Naples to Rome. He surveyed the reporters in his railroad car, cocked a leg on the table in front of his Pullman seat, and observed philosophically: "It's a hell of a world."

Blind Youths Cross Grand Canyon

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Six students at the state school for the blind here have accomplished a feat most outdoorsmen would give their eye teeth for—hiking across the treacherous Grand Canyon.

Led by their hiking coach and guide, Charles A. Thornton of Tucson, the boys felt their way into the canyon at dawn last Sunday.

At places on the trail, a single misstep might have resulted in a plunge of 2,000 feet or more.

Two members of the group are totally blind: Richard Ferguson, 17, and Raymond Munger, 19, both of Tucson. The others, John Tsosie, 18, a Navajo Indian from St. Michaels;

Evans Honkoinewa, 18, a Hopi from Second Mesa; Ennis Sumpter, 16, of Phoenix, and Jerry Fields, 16, of Tucson, are almost completely blind.

They are believed to be the first blind persons to hike across the canyon.

Going down the trail, they kept a hand on the shoulder of the man ahead. Thornton headed the line.

On the way up, Thornton fastened a rope around his waist and looped it back on both sides. The boys lined up between the ropes, like horses in a trace. They grabbed the ropes with both hands and responded to Thornton's movements.

Boy Must Give Up One of His Two Best Friends

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—A little boy faces a big decision this weekend: He must decide which of his two dogs he will keep.

It was a year ago that 9-year-old Andy Bailey's dog, Wimpy, disappeared. Andy was broken hearted. So his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bailey, gave him a collie pup for Christmas.

Andy named his new pal, Laddie, and they became great buddies. Then it happened—Wimpy came home Friday, limping on sore feet but otherwise all right.

But the Baileys think two dogs are too many. They gave Andy the week end to make a choice—Wimpy or Laddie.

DR. CHAN SAYS: NO LONGER MUST YOU SUFFER FROM Asthma - Diabetes - High Blood Pressure

For the past two generations the offices of Dr. Chan, D.C., located at 928 American Ave., have had outstanding results in treating chronic ailments such as ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS, RHEUMATISM, HIGH OR LOW BLOOD PRESSURE, HEART TROUBLE, STOMACH OR LIVER DISORDERS, KIDNEY OR BLADDER AFFLICTIONS, OR A GENERAL RUN-DOWN CONDITION. Men and women from all walks of life come to take these treatments because of their methods of healing have failed to help them. Many have spent a fortune in seeking cure before they try this simple, effective, natural method of Dr. Chan. Our patients tell us that they wish they had known of our wonderful treatments sooner so that their suffering could have been avoided.

READ THESE AMAZING TESTIMONIALS

928 American Ave.

Dear Dr. Chan: "The day I came to your office with my mother and brother, I was about to give up hope of getting rid of my asthma attacks. I spent hundreds of dollars for shots and pills, but yet found no results. After reading your advertisement, I tried you for my last resort and was thrilled to find that I responded wonderfully. After the first treatment, I was able to breathe fully, normally and could sleep better for the first time in months. Now I am feeling fine and hoping others will benefit from my experience with Dr. Chan's Natural Method."

To Whom It May Concern: "For over 36 years I have been going from one doctor's office to another hoping to find someone to help me with my asthma and stomach condition. No one knows how much I had suffered until I came to Dr. Chan. Night after night I had to sit up because I wasn't able to lie down to sleep. I was coughing and wheezing and was very tired. After taking Dr. Chan's Natural Method, my asthma and stomach troubles are just about gone. Now, after five months of continuous treatment, my asthma and stomach troubles are just about gone. I wish to recommend this treatment to anyone who is anxious to get well. I am sure that Dr. Chan will do all he can to help you as he has helped me."

Mansfield Urges More India Aid

WASHINGTON (U) — Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) Saturday night suggested more economic help to India lest Red China dominate Asia and present a "dangerous" new threat to this country.

Mansfield, as chairman of a Senate foreign relations subcommittee, made public a study of the economic development race between India and China. He said:

"A dispassionate review of the relative progress of India and Communist China today raises a serious question as to whether India's rate of development is fast enough to serve free world interests."

"It seems to me that Congress, the administration, and the American people might well reconsider our assistance to India from the point of view of whether it is, in fact, of sufficient magnitude to accomplish its objectives."

Foreign-Aid Restoration Solon's Aim

WASHINGTON (U) — Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga) served notice Saturday that he will fight to restore part of the billion-dollar slash in President Eisenhower's foreign military aid program voted by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

George is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which may begin work on the aid bill next week.

The democratic foreign policy leader said "some cut may be justified" in Eisenhower's $3.1 billion military aid budget but it ought not be too deep. He voiced hope that the House, which is scheduled to act on the aid bill Wednesday or Thursday, will "partially" restore the committee's cut.

IF NOT, GEORGE made clear, he will lead a drive in the Senate for a military aid authorization somewhere between the sum approved by the House committee and the sum sought by the President.

Urge Loaning of Warships

WASHINGTON (U) — The Defense Department, ever mindful of Red Chinese war threats in the Far East, has asked Congress to authorize loan of more U.S. warships to friendly Asian nations, it was learned Saturday.

Congressional sources said the Navy sent up a proposed bill a month ago. It would increase from 25 to 50 the number of vessels that could be loaned.

Politics Endangers Foreign Aid Money

By WALTER RIDDER
Of the I.P.T. Capital Bureau.

WASHINGTON—The administration is going to face very real difficulties in getting Congress to restore the large cuts it recently made in requested foreign aid funds.

The House of Representatives recently slashed overseas aid programs by $1 billion for military items and $109 million on nonmilitary spending. These cuts amounted to 33½ and 10 per cent respectively of the sums asked for by the administration.

Similar cuts have been made in the past and have been largely restored—for the most part through effective bi-partisan support. The Eisenhower team will have considerable trouble getting the help of those Democrats who in the past have thrown their influence behind the foreign aid proposals.

A LEADER of what might be called the "internationalist Democratic wing" put the case this way—"Every year when the program comes up to Capitol Hill, it is labelled bi-partisan and we are requested to work our hearts out trying to get it through. Then when it's finally passed—usually only due to Democratic support—it is named an Eisenhower program and bi-partisanship is suddenly forgotten. If the administration wants its own program passed, why doesn't it get Republicans to vote for it, Republicans like Sen. Knowland or Sen. Bridges, (NH), or Sen. Bricker (Ohio)?"

In essence, the Democrats feel that the administration has depended upon Democratic support but has not given them credit for it. Then too they feel that the administration is not making the all-out effort that it should to persuade Republicans of the necessity for foreign aid. "They think they can get the bill through because we Democrats will come to their rescue," another legislator declared. "Well, this year we won't." He estimated that some 75 members of the House who have been supporting foreign aid will vote to uphold the cuts this year.

SIMILAR COMPLAINTS have come in past years, but with 1956 an election year, the Democrats are not likely to rush enthusiastically to the support of the Eisenhower team.

State Department sources confirmed the extent of Democratic insurgency and are palpably worried lest the money slashed be retained. It is normal for Congress to cut executive department requests, but the deepness of the current reductions and the current mood of the Democrats are posing major problems for Eisenhower program strategists.

Bogus Teacher Proves to Angry Board He Knows a Trick of Law

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—A teacher who has some unusual ideas about what constitutes a college education, has the board of education in a dither today.

The board fired Henry Fordham of Hamilton, Ohio, after it was learned that the college credits he presented from Westminster College, Cochransville, Pa., came from a non-existent college.

Fordham had taught algebra, general mathematics and general science at Robert A. Taft Senior High School here from September, 1955, until March, 1956.

The puzzler came when the board started investigating as to whether it could sue Fordham for the salary he had drawn during that time.

The state attorney general's office advised that since Fordham had actually been on the job, it might be difficult to make a case.

Then, there was Fordham's claim that according to Webster's dictionary definition of a college he is, too, a college man. The definition is that college is "a collection, body or society of persons engaged in common pursuits."

Fordham says that he, his wife and 12-year-old son make up such a collection.

He also points to another Webster's definition which says a college is a "body of clergy living in common." Then he notes that he and his wife are clergymen. They are Seventh-Day Adventists, he said.

School officials said Fordham obtained a state teaching certificate, showing eight years of previous experience by taking a post office box in Cochransville and listing it in his own name and Westminster College.

Menninger School Gets $150,000

NEW YORK (AP)—The Alfred P. Sloan Foundation Saturday announced a $150,000 grant to the Menninger Foundation of Topeka, Kans., to support the Menninger School of Psychiatry. Dr. William C. Menninger, secretary of the Menninger Foundation, said the money would go toward relieving one of the major bars to the conquest of mental illness — the critical shortage of properly trained personnel. The Sloan Foundation said this grant marks its first major contribution to the field of mental health. The foundation was organized in 1934 by Alfred P. Sloan Jr., who recently retired as chairman of the board of General Motors.

Dear Boss, We Couldn't Tell Wine's Origin After 9 Drinks

(Editor's Note: Robert E. Lee of The Independent Press-Telegram Washington Bureau normally covers events in the nation's capital. Saturday he received an assignment above and beyond the usual call of duty.)

By ROBERT E. LEE

NEW YORK—Dear Boss: Came all the way up here for a wine-tasting — damdest thing you ever saw.

Big promotion stunt for premium wine growers of California, who claim can't tell difference their wine and French stuff. Can't, after a while. Can't taste anything.

Six thirsty Washington newsmen in drinking bout (orderly) with six New York writing types at Overseas Press Club. To help California growers' press agents prove "average palate can't distinguish between the two kinds." Press agents say idea to create confusion. They do. Washington team out-distinguished New Yorkers by country mile, but still pretty confused.

TEAM USHERED to small room with three tables, one set up as bar. New York already on hand, taking batting practice. New York team looks over-fed. Woman on New York team. Why?

Press agent announces four types coming up: White Burgundy, Rose, Claret, Champagne.

Three glasses each to distinguish from. Glasses lettered A, B, C. Question: which French, which California? Press agent passes out scorecards.

Instructions: Mark preference, guess origin.

Wine served by French waitress named Fifi. Press agent says no significance. Three-ounce slugs in each glass.

Fifi serves Burgundy. Nice taste. Second glass Burgundy good, too. Third too sweet. Unlike high class wine-tasting, don't spit wine on floor after tasting. Swallow. Guess A and B from California (this California party).

Fifi serves cheese and French bread. Press agent says no significance. Tasters getting thirsty again. New York team talking French with Brooklyn accents. Impressive. Seem to know wines, at least how to pronounce names.

ROSE COMING UP. Better than Burgundy. Men gulp. Woman on New York team sips. Rose goes fast. Request another round Rose. No go.

Fifi serves Claret. Heady, after Rose. Need plenty cheese between tastes. Dip bread in Claret. Better that way. Can't finish Claret. Neil MacNeill of United Press, Washington captain and wine connoisseur, polishes off.

Getting headache. Unloosen necktie, open collar. Press agent opens window.

Fifi serves champagne. Glasses

Mme. Chiang Heads Housing Fund Drive

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Madame Chiang Kai-shek heads a drive for funds to build 4,000 houses on Formosa for the neediest families of Nationalist servicemen. Each unit will have two rooms, bathroom and kitchen. Reports from Quemoy and other Nationalist offshore islands say the project has greatly boosted the troops' morale.

Press agent makes speech. California "premium" wines only four per cent of all produced in state. Price compares favorably with French, often cheaper.

Assistant press agent announces results guessing game: New York, 34 right guesses; Washington, 46 right.

Press agent and assistant assist winetasters from room. Find street, fresh air. Hall taxi for airport.

New Concrete Piles Tested Here Hailed as Boon to World's Ports

By LEE CRAIG
Marine Editor

A series of pioneering tests which will aid port construction all over the world has just been completed by Long Beach Harbor Department engineers.

Since the turn of the century, port builders have turned in increasing numbers to use of concrete piling in construction of piers.

Wooden pilings, though cheaper initially, last only about 20 years before they deteriorate under the attack of voracious termite-like marine life and the normal effect of long exposure to the sea.

Steel-reinforced concrete pilings, however, can be counted on usually for about 50 years service during which they are impervious to the water's action. But when the piles are first driven, occasionally the force of the pile driver has caused hair-line cracks, almost imperceptible, in the concrete. These cracks widen through the years, allowing the water to enter and act on the reinforcing steel and shorten the life of the piling.

IN CO-OPERATION with the Navy's Civil Engineering Research and Evaluation Laboratory, harbor engineers have been conducting tests here which may remove that danger.

Three 80-foot piles, especially cast with 17 strain gauges imbedded in each, were driven into the channel floor on the east side of Pier B.

Electrical leads from the gauges were plugged into a Navy oscillograph, providing a continuous photographic record of the piling's reaction to each blow of the pile driver.

The driver's hammer, delivering 24,000 foot-pounds of energy per blow, was deliberately used to batter the piles to a point where six-inch chunks of concrete were shaken loose.

To reach that stage, the piles were driven 40 feet into the ocean bottom until more than 100 blows from the heavy hammer were required to gain an inch against the unyielding ground.

As a supplemental part of the tests, a private concern, the Ben C. Gerwick Corp., furnished three new-type prestressed concrete piles to be driven in the same manner.

The prestressed piles, made by casting concrete around steel stretched as taut as piano wire, astounded engineers by their strength.

The pile driver gave up after pounding the new piles to a fantastic resistance of nearly 400 blows to an inch without effect.

As a result, use of prestressed piling is being considered in future construction here.

test, one of the gauge-equipped piles was gradually subjected to a 100-ton test load to reveal internal dynamic strains in the undamaged sections.

Now, engineers must await Navy technicians' evaluation of their machine's readings before the full results of the test can be known.

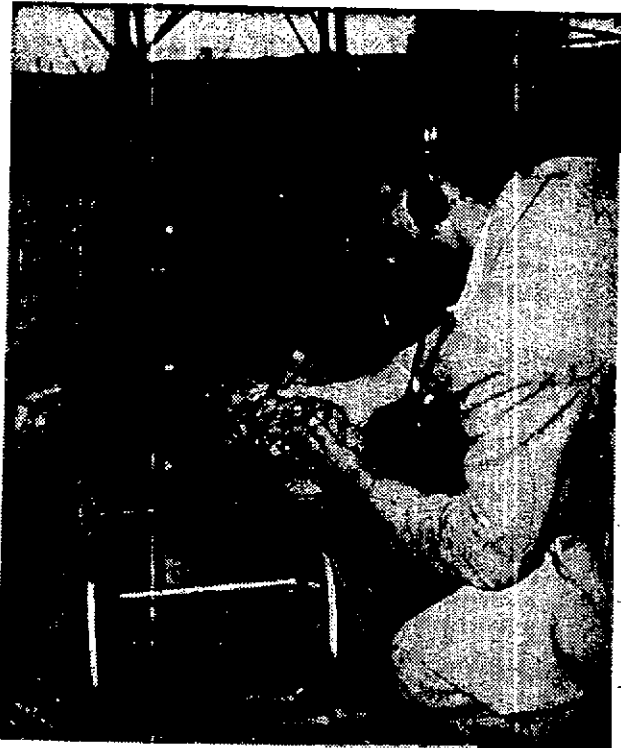

Mainly, they want to know what strains are induced in the concrete during handling of the piling after it is cast and what happens inside the piling during driving.

Of the two, engineers suspect the former causes greater strain on the piling.

Even without information supplied by the machines, however, the test proved worthwhile in verifying rules of thumb developed here through years of experience, according to Ray Berbowser, harbor department structural design engineer, in charge of the testing.

One such rule, for example, is that a pile must be driven without halting, Berbowser said.

"You build up a lot of inertia with a 13½-ton piling," he said. Also, a delay gives the soil a chance to settle and become compact, stiffening its resistance to penetration.

PILING SHATTERS UNDER POUNDING

Diver Charles Smale hands over chunk of concrete, broken off piling, to C. L. Vickers Jr., of Harbor Department, during piling tests on Pier B.

John Brown Students to Hold Picnic

Nearly 3,000 members of the four John Brown Schools of California and John Brown University of Siloam Springs, Ark., will gather next Saturday for an all-day picnic at Bixby Park.

Students, faculty and alumni from Southern California Military Academy here, Brown Military Academy of San Diego, Brown Day School of Beverly Hills and Brown School for Girls of Glendora will join the university representatives here.

A MEETING of the California alumni of Brown University will be held at 2 p. m.

The program, which runs from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., will feature music by the bands of Brown Military Academy and Southern California Military Academy, the Brown University Ladies Triple Trio and Male Quartet, and Dr. Peter Slack, staff organist for station KGER here.

Dr. John E. Brown, chairman of the board, will speak briefly.

Filipino Dollar Reserves Better

MANILA (UP)—The Philippine Central Bank reports an improvement in the Philippines' shaky dollar reserves. Bank Gov. Miguel Cuaderno said reserves had increased from 209 million dollars at the beginning of 1955 to 233 million dollars. He attributed the improvement to restrictions on nonessential imports.

Japan to Pay Off

TOKYO (UP)—Japan is starting this month to pay 10 million dollars to The Netherlands for suffering of Dutch nationals interned by the Japanese in the East Indies (Indonesia) in World War II. Payments will be spread over five years.

Cancer Kills Movie Favorite Hersholt

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Jean Hersholt, the kindly Dr. Christian of movies and radio, died of cancer Saturday after a year-long siege of operations and illnesses.

Had he lived until July 12, he would have been 70.

The onetime Danish immigrant, 50 years an actor, had received in his lifetime such honors as knighthood from his native land; two special movie Oscars, honorary degrees from four American colleges and, only last month, one of the biggest civic testimonials in Hollywood history.

He died in the nearby Beverly Hills home where he had lived for more than 30 years. With him at death was his wife, Via, to whom he had been married 42 years.

JEAN HERSHOLT

DR. MAYNARD BRANSMAN said death was caused by progressive cancer of the pancreas.

Hersholt's philanthropies earned him the love and respect of the film industry.

Hersholt served four years as president of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. From the academy he received two special Oscars, in 1939 and 1941, for his activities on behalf of his fellow actors.

Hersholt was a founder of the motion picture country day home and, for 18 years, headed the relief fund which took care of needy actors in their old age.

VETERAN ACTOR Charles Coburn said:

"Jean had a glorious knack of making actors who were broke feel they were not accepting charity — just the comfortable retirement that their work through the years had earned them."

The world, in recent years, had known Hersholt only as the beloved Dr. Christian. But his success as the villain with Miss Pickford in "Tess of the Storm Country" made him one of the most sought-after heavies of the silent movies.

After he had done Dr. Christian for several years, he tried to play a heavy again but his fans wouldn't go for it.

"The complaints poured in," he recalled. "Even when I appeared in a beer ad, I got a flood of protests. People are very sensitive about Dr. Christian."

HERSHOLT was born to the theater. His father and mother were leading players in a Copenhagen stock company when he was born in 1886.

In 1906, he pioneered in Danish movies in a short comedy about an old man who sat on a painted bench. His pay was 10 kroner or about $1.40 a day in today's exchange.

His first American film role in 1913 was for $15 a week. Appearing in 453 movies, he became one of the screen's most distinguished character actors.

His better known films included "Able's Irish Rose," "Greed," "Stella Dallas," "Grand Hotel," and "The Country Doctor."

In the latter, he played the part of Dr. Alan Daffoe, who delivered the famed Dionne quintuplets.

FROM THAT characterization evolved the Dr. Christian series which Hersholt performed for 18 years on radio, 52 weeks a year, for the same sponsor — a radio record.

Hersholt's cultural interests included literature and music. He was one of the world's foremost authorities on the works of Hans Christian Andersen. He completed a monumental 10-year task of translating all of the famed Danish storyteller's 168 tales into English.

For this, he was awarded honorary degrees in literature or the humanities from the University of California, Illinois Wesleyan, Bowdoin College and Rollins College.

Hosmer Offers Water Plan 'Compromise'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hosmer (R-Calif.) Saturday advanced what he termed a "compromise solution" to the controversy over the San Luis water project in California.

Bills to authorize this project as a Reclamation Bureau works are being opposed by Southern California interests on the ground that such a course might jeopardize their future water supply.

At hearings several weeks ago, Mayor Norris Poulsen of Los Angeles proposed that the San Luis be built as a part of the state of California's projected one and one-half billion dollar Feather River project, rather than as a unit of the Reclamation Bureau's Central Valley project.

Hosmer's compromise, on which he said he has requested statewide comments and suggestions, would authorize the Secretary of Interior to negotiate a contract with the state of California, under which the state would immediately acquire the site for a reservoir. The state would then be required to construct the project "expeditiously," with the help of federal loans and grants amounting to what the government would have spent on the federal project.

If the state failed to proceed "expeditiously," the interior secretary would be directed to build the project for state operation when completed. Title to the project works would pass to the state after repayment of government costs.

Under either alternative, the project would be designed as a unit of the state's overall Feather River development which is intended to bring Northern California waters into Central and Southern California.

Principal features would include the San Luis Reservoir and canals for initial water service to portions of Kings, Merced and Fresno counties, and later extension for water diversions to the south.

Hosmer said that Southern Californians fear that if the project is constructed as a unit of the Central Valley project, then the big Feather River development will never be carried forward and "the Southland can only look forward to growth-paralyzing water shortages."

British Host of Eisenhower Dies

MAYBOLE, Scotland (AP) — The Marquis of Ailsa, who kept a suite of rooms always ready for President Eisenhower, died Friday night after long illness.

In 1945 the marquis gave Mr. Eisenhower, then commander of U. S. Forces in Europe, a suite in his ancestral home at Culzeal Castle. He said they would always be ready for a visit by Mr. Eisenhower in recognition of his services during the war.

Australia Coast Rich in Minerals

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — National Development Minister William H. Spooner reported that the lonely east coast of Australia contains some of the world's richest deposits of minerals.

Spooner said survey showed that the beaches hold rich deposits of rutile and zircon. Australia now is the world's leading producer of rutile and zircon concentrates.

32 Pillows Stolen

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Police here are seeking a mighty sleepy burglar. Authorities said he broke into the Perfection Rest Easy Bedding Co. and stole 32 pillows.

Find Trio Chopped to Death

ROCKWOOD, Tenn. (AP) — The mutilated bodies of two women and a man were found partly buried in underbrush near a tenant farm Saturday, and police issued a murder warrant for the half-brother of the victims.

Officers said the three had been hacked to death about four days ago, apparently with a blood-stained ax found nearby. Human hair was found on the ax.

THE VICTIMS were identified as Willie Mae Davis, her daughter, Florence Walker, and Lawrence Walker, husband of Florence. The Walkers were parents of three small children, ages 2, 6 and 8.

All three lived in the tenant house on the William Brown farm in the small rural community of Eureka, about four miles from this east Tennessee city of about 5,000 population.

Highway patrol headquarters at Knoxville, about 40 miles east of here, said a murder warrant was issued for David Franklin Simpson, about 50, who lived with the three victims. He is Mrs. Davis' half-brother.

Grads Draw Blanks for Diplomas

RENO, Nev. (AP) — The 200 graduating seniors at the University of Nevada's 66th annual commencement next Monday will be given blank pieces of paper wrapped with ribbon instead of the traditional sheepskin diplomas.

This doesn't mean, however, that the university feels the graduates are a bunch of nit-wits.

It's the result of a mistake in printing the official diplomas which was not discovered until late Friday night as they were being signed by university officials.

The chagrined deans discovered the diplomas they were signing for the graduating seniors were actually intended for graduate students.

To solve the dilemma, university officials decided to give the graduating seniors rolled up pieces of blank white paper tied with a ribbon. Inside will be a form asking each graduate to list the address to which his or her official sheepskin should be sent when they become available.

Neighbors All Out, Help Bank Bandit

FERGUS FALLS, Minn. (AP) — Neighbors from miles around rolled their tractors to the farm of confessed bank robber Vernon Richter Saturday to help plow his soybean and corn fields.

"Overwhelmed with gratitude, Richter, the father of six children, said he "couldn't understand why they are willing to help me after the mistake I made."

Fourteen tractors, operated by friends who refused to turn their backs on the 31-year-old farmer, worked the 135-acre tract.

At the Richter home, the farmers' wives served a potluck lunch for the volunteer crew. After the plowing and disking, Richter's neighbors helped him seed his crops.

SHERIFF RUSSELL Broberg said Richter admitted robbing the Northwestern State Bank at Ulen, Minn., of $1,158 two weeks ago because his bills were piling up and he was desperate for money.

Richter is free on $10,000 bail posted by his parents and his wife's parents. Neighbors offered to furnish the bond if the family couldn't.

"We're trying our best to give him a helping hand," said Harold Haastad, Richter's nearest neighbor. "He's a nice fellow and a good worker."

LET'S KEEP GOOD SCHOOLS FOR OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

Say Tens of Thousands of Members of 305 Organizations

Tuesday is the day of decision for this and future generations of youth in Long Beach, Lakewood, Signal Hill and Avalon. We must increase the size of our classrooms and accept less capable teachers for our boys and girls or provide additional funds for the operation of our schools. The present limit on the school operating levy was established during the depression years of the 1930's. Depression funds just aren't enough to continue to provide good schools today.

These Candidates, Measures Deserve Support of Voters

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER has no opponent in California's June 5 Republican presidential primary. But we hope that will not make GOP voters apathetic about the election. They should turn out to give Ike the resounding vote of confidence he deserves, and to cast ballots in the other important contests.

Aside from the presidential primaries, two contests of national as well as local interest await a decision by voters of this community. These are the contests for U. S. Senate and 18th District Congressman.

Congressman Craig Hosmer and Sen. Thomas Kuchel have done superior service for this district and this state and deserve to be re-elected. Their ability to serve effectively will be further increased through the additional seniority obtained by re-election. Kuchel should get a vote of thanks here for standing with Hosmer and Long Beach in the recent tidelands controversy.

"Eisenhower Democrats" do have a course of action open to them. While they won't find Ike's name on their primary ballot, they will find the crossfiled names of Hosmer and Kuchel, who are staunch supporters of the President. Voters who want to back Ike should back these two men.

WE RECOMMEND also re-election of 44th District Assemblyman Herbert R. Klocksiem and 70th District Assemblyman William S. Grant. These men were at the fore of the fight to protect Long Beach tidelands oil revenue from a state grab. The settlement of that affair is due in great part to their tireless efforts. Their performance in general has been of a high calibre. They are due the reward of continued public confidence.

Just as we urge bipartisan support for Republican Assemblymen Grant and Klocksiem, we urge it for two Democratic Assemblymen running in neighboring areas. They are Carley Porter of the 69th District and Vincent Thomas of the 68th. In the tidelands controversy, which was region-wide in its impact, they showed themselves men of principle. They have on the whole outstanding records. Like Klocksiem and Grant, these two men have crossfiled, as state law permits, offering themselves for the decision of Republican and Democratic voters alike.

ON THE COUNTY LEVEL, Burton W. Chace seeks re-election as 4th District Supervisor. The former Long Beach Mayor has done a distinguished job as Supervisor. He is a friend of this community and should again receive this community's vote.

District Attorney S. Ernest Roll is running without opposition. But voters should not overlook the opportunity to offer another good public servant a vote of confidence.

TWENTY-FIVE of the 28 Superior Court Judgeships are uncontested. Votes of confidence are recommended for the incumbents. With regard to the contested positions, we go along with the Los Angeles Bar Assn. plebiscite, through which qualified attorneys have signified their opinions of judicial candidates. The nod goes to Henry M. Willis, candidate for Position 2; Walter H. Odemar, Position 27, and Otho G. Lord, Position 28.

TWO VITAL MEASURES appear on the local ballot.

Proposition C is a measure to raise the school tax limit. This would provide funds with which to operate local schools at decent standards. A "Yes" vote is urged for the boys and girls of this school district.

Proposition W provides for expanding the distribution system of the Metropolitan Water District. MWD, to which this community belongs, operates a lifeline that brings water to the arid Southland from the Colorado River. A "Yes" vote on W will help protect and improve the area's water supply.

THE ABOVE CANDIDATES and measures are recommended after searching thought and with regard for what we consider the best interests of this community.

As will be noted, the candidates we have suggested include both Democrats and Republicans. Obviously, partisanship isn't the criterion. They are offered because they are good public servants and outstanding leaders. Regardless of party, they are worthy of your vote.

When Your Child Is Ill

SOME OF OUR Democratic readers have written us to ask whether we favor Sen. Kefauver over Adlai Stevenson as the Democratic candidate. These newspapers believe in the re-election of President Eisenhower, and the amount of space we have devoted to both Democratic candidates is due to our feeling that we should be fair to everyone. Actually, we think that Sen. Kefauver's position is the weaker.

When your child is ill, your immediate reaction is to call the best professional assistance that you can get from your own physician or the nearest hospital. It seems to us that almost everyone relies on the best professionally trained people available, not only in emergencies but at all times. This is why Sen. Kefauver's plaintive cry that a lot of "professional politicians" are supporting Adlai Stevenson seems a very desperate sort of argument.

AFTER ALL "professional politicians" are merely citizens who have been in the public service over a period of years or have been actively associated with a political party. By this measure, Long Beach Mayor George Vermillion, a Democrat, is a "professional" Democratic politician, and California's Republican Gov. Goodwin Knight is a "professional" Republican politician. For that matter, Sen. Kefauver is a "professional" himself.

There is some merit in criticizing political machines such as Tammany Hall in New York City. But is there a voter so inexperienced as to believe that if Sen. Kefauver is nominated, he will immediately engage in a political duel with the big city Democratic organizations whose help he vitally needs if he is to have any chance of election? We don't see much chance of Sen. Kefauver as a successful candidate when he accuses his own party of bossism.

If there is bossism in the existing Democratic party, the best way to eliminate it is to vote Republican since improperly managed political machines do not readily survive defeat.

Sham of Red 'Peaceful Coexistence' Shown by Korea Armistice Violation

WASHINGTON—The sham of "peaceful co-existence" has been revealed.

The Korean armistice agreement has been torn to shreds by the Communists.

Yet Moscow, which supplies ammunition and aircraft to the Communist armies in North Korea, still hopes to deceive the free world with the idea that the Kremlin has only peaceful intentions toward the other members of the United Nations.

A FORMAL announcement, made by the United Nations command at Panmunjom, has just been given out here at the Department of State. It says that, although the armistice agreement has been in effect for three years, there has been a "notable and persistent failure" of the armistice arrangements.

Specifically, the announcement, made on behalf of the 16 nations which fought the aggressors in Korea, states that inspections have been frustrated and airfields have been built in North Korea in violation of the armistice. The statement says:

"The failure of your side to report introductions of combat aircraft is particularly conspicuous, since your side now maintains in North Korea between 400 and 500 such aircraft, more than half of which are jet fighters or bombers, whereas you had none in that area at the time the armistice was signed."

THIS IS BUT one of many infractions of the armistice. The whole spirit and letter of the agreement has been disregarded by the Communists because they do not allow the neutral inspection teams to operate in the north while the U.N. has permitted the Communist teams to go anywhere in South Korea.

This is a striking example of bad faith. It is a demonstration of how little credence can be put into even the written word of the Kremlin and its allies, to say nothing of the many oral pronouncements of piety and peacefulness.

SO LONG TO SCHOOL

Vacation time is here again. Farewell to books and chalk. . . . And all the problems and the rules. . . . Of which the teachers talk. . . . The boys and girls are happy as. . . . They hurry out the door. . . . With many weeks ahead in which. . . . The bell will ring no more. . . . It is the time for swimming and. . . . For picnics under trees. . . . For travel to the mountains or. . . . A breath of ocean breeze. . . . Forgotten is the homework that. . . . Was sometimes hard to do. . . . And vanished is the longing now. . . . To study something new. . . . Except the way to sail a boat. . . . Or how to ride a horse. . . . Or pass examination. . . . Some other pleasure course.

ness that come through the radio and the press almost daily.

The U.N. announcement deals unequivocally with a disturbing situation. The President has yielded to the pleas of some of the "peaceful co-existence" advocates by letting Gen. Twining, Chief of Staff of the U. S. Air Force, go to Moscow for the air show there. The whole purpose on the part of the Soviets is to build respectability.

Brownell Gets Civil Rights Grilling

WASHINGTON — It got lost in the rush of Capitol Hill, but Ike's top legal adviser, Herb Brownell, was recently subjected to one of the most acid cross-examinations ever given an Attorney General of the United States by the Senate Judiciary Committee. The question at issue was civil rights.

The grilling Brownell got, however, came not from southern critics of the Negro but from such Democratic champions of the Negro's civil rights as Sens. Tom Hennings of Missouri and Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming.

They pointed out that for almost four years Brownell had ducked, procrastinated, and stalled about a civil-rights program. Time after time, they pointed out, Brownell had declined invitations to testify before the Judiciary Committee.

"You have come up with no program during your four years, until last month, I believe, April 1," Sen. Hennings challenged.

"Let me say that might lead to a very misleading answer," Brownell countered. "I know you don't mean to do so."

He then detailed various civil-rights projects he said he had worked on, from restaurant segregation to discrimination in armed forces contracts.

This tends to give the people behind the iron curtain the idea that the Moscow government stands high in the world and that the free nations are ready and prepared to welcome the Soviet rulers in further conferences and negotiations.

The Korean armistice episode comes, therefore, as a timely warning to those who have begun to fall for the deceptive propaganda of the Soviets.

Reuben Robertson, Deputy Secretary of Defense, who has just returned here from a 25-day inspection trip to the Far East and who visited Korea recently, says:

"The build-up of weapons and air strikes by the Communists in North Korea is very disturbing. It is in violation of the armistice. There is need for a different situation than now exists. It must be solved within the next year."

American troops stand guard in Korea. They can be attacked at any moment if the Communists choose to provoke an engagement and blame it on the other side. It is a delicate situation that will not be solved by further appeasement of the Communists, either in Peking or in Moscow.

BUT HENNINGS was quick to point out:

"You know these were initiated in the preceding administration."

"A great many of them, yes," Brownell admitted.

Hennings: "We welcome your suggestion that there be a commission on civil rights in the Department of Justice. At my request on March 22, 1955, this letter was addressed to you."

He then read a letter to Brownell, one year old, asking his views on four bills proposing a commission on civil rights in the executive branch of the government.

Hennings: There was no reply in our records of the subcommittee, no reply from you whatever over a year ago relating to the establishment of a commission or a division. We have no record of your ever having replied to that request.

Brownell: I discussed the matter with the then chairman of the committee. He was unable to get together on a hearing on the subject.

Local Races to Test Whether Double Nomination Era Gone

A CLOSE FOLLOWER of local politics said the other day that if there's not at least one double nomination at Tuesday's primary election here, you can put it down that the day of the double nomination is definitely over.

His view was that the three crossfiled Republican candidates—Rep. Craig Hosmer and Assemblymen Herbert Klocksiem and W. S. Grant—are in situations that would certainly indicate double nominations under the rules that prevailed for decades in California politics.

If at least one of them doesn't make it, it can be concluded that those rules have been permanently repealed, according to this observer.

The three Republican candidates are multiple-term incumbents, who have never been "in trouble" in their positions. They have been popular with the voters of both parties in past elections, and they have scored well in duty in the current term.

NONE OF THE THREE is opposed by a candidate in his own party. No Democrat has crossfiled here, so these men haven't had to campaign for Republican votes. Getting the Democratic nomination is all they have to worry about.

In the cases of both Klocksiem and Grant, the Democratic opposition is split by two Democratic candidacies. In Klocksiem's 44th District, Richard Nussell and Coy Sanders will vie with the Republican for Democratic votes. Dan T. Brice and Paul Strader will divide Democratic votes with Republican Grant. So neither Klocksiem nor Grant need have a majority to get the Democrat nomination—all each needs is more votes than either of his Democratic opponents.

Hosmer faces just one Democrat, Raymond C. Simpson. But there has been some indication of defection from Simpson in Democratic ranks, as indicated by Democrat Harry Wade's recent switch. Moreover, in 1952 when Hosmer crossfiled against Simpson, Hosmer got more Democratic votes than Simpson by a sizable margin, though he didn't get enough to win the Democratic nomination. The top Democratic vote went to Grant, who was running for Congress instead of Assembly that year. Yet the fact that in 1952 two Republicans got more Democratic votes for Congress than Simpson shows that Simpson must have come a long way in Democratic popularity if he is to threaten Hosmer this year.

THESE ARE THE FACTORS favorable to double nominations as they can be seen by any objective observer, without any wishful Republican thinking. What about the other side of the story?

The big question mark about double nominations is supplied by the fact that party affiliations of candidates are now shown on the ballot.

In 1954, there were no double nominations here, and few in the state. In that year, for the first time, the candidates' affiliations were shown. This was widely attributed as the cause of the falloff in double nominations.

This year, the affiliations are on the ballot again. This is a presidential election year, when partisan influences are likely to be more sharply in evidence. This may tend to keep many Democrats from voting for candidates with "Republican" by their names, even though they may have favorable opinions of such candidates, or may know little about any candidates.

BY A SYSTEM of endorsements by the voluntary Democratic councils (a matter that is somewhat controversial itself) and in other ways, Democratic leaders have worked hard to make Democrats party-conscious, fighting the threat of the double nomination. They think they have it licked. Some others think otherwise.

That about sizes it up.

TOWN MEETING

'Ominous Threat' to Freedom

TO THE EDITOR:

Recently I read two headlines that seem to indicate an ominous threat to one of our constitutionally guaranteed freedoms—the right of free speech.

The first: "Truman Sorry for Remark."

The second: "Ike Aid Apologies for Jobless Remark."

I'm not defending the statements. They are beside the point I would like to make.

The point is that they are opinions and American citizens, under our laws, are free to state their opinions without fear or prejudice.

Was it Patrick Henry or Paine who said, "I don't agree with a word you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it?"

The headlines featured the fact that these men, who stated their opinions, were forced through fear of persecution to retract their admittedly unfortunate remarks.

Am I right in assuming that our right to free speech has gone by the board along with many others?

JESSIE R. TURNER.

11 Bolsa, Seal Beach.

(Editor's Note: No. It is a wrong assumption. If the right of free speech no longer existed, letters such as these would not be written or printed. In our opinion, the two men featured in the headlines discovered they'd put foot in mouth, and had the courage to say so.)

How to Cure Quarreling

TO THE EDITOR:

I read recently in Malcolm Epley's Beachcombing a recipe for a quarreling cure.

I have a much better and effective medicine for curing the quarreling sickness in a person, be it a woman or a man. I won a first prize with my recipe many years ago in a New York magazine and it is just as effective today as it was then. Here it is:

If anyone's husband or wife is afflicted with the quarreling sickness, and starts hickering about this or that, don't answer him or her. Don't pay attention whatsoever.

Well, it takes two to make it a fight. No one can quarrel or fight alone.

Try the recipe and find out.

MRS. EVI LEINO.

Wants Law Belling Bikes

TO THE EDITOR:

I've been glad that children could ride on the sidewalks because they are safer and because I love children.

However, recently my nearest neighbor was knocked down by a boy only 6½ years old. My friend suffered a broken arm—one fracture above and one below her elbow.

I was also nearly hit by a boy riding up behind me very fast and without sounding any alarm.

Can't there be a law, strictly enforced, that all bicyclists shall be required to have something on their bikes to sound a signal?

Lots of older people don't see or hear as well as we used to, but we still love life and want a chance to continue to enjoy it.

Yours for bikes with bells.

MRS. M. D.

Three-Lane Roads 'Insane, Unsafe'

TO THE EDITOR:

A recent story described a head-on collision on E. Seventh St. at Studebaker Rd. in which one person was killed and others injured, one critically.

This collision could have been prevented if it weren't for some hair-brained jackasses who think it's a good idea to save time and money by stopping construction on a road when three lanes are completed. This practice is insane and unsafe, to say the least.

When two cars going in opposite directions decide to pass a car at the same time, you're bound to have a head-on collision, and I don't feel you can call them accidents.

I think steps should be taken to get rid of all three-lane highways at once in order to make our roads at least partially safer, and to prevent a repetition of what happened at E. Seventh St. and Studebaker Rd.

JOHN SEYMOUR.

857 W. 4th St.

Sen. Soaper Says:

By BILL VAUGHAN

The call goes out for our schools to make mathematics more interesting and it's probably true that the average child has little occasion to divide nine apples among John, Ann, Fred and Mary.

THE DUKE STEALS SECOND

Brooklyn's Duke Snider slides into second as Cubs second baseman Gene Baker grabs late throw from catcher Hobie Landrith in first inning of first game Saturday. Man in blue suit is Dusty Boggess.—(AP)

TWO-HITTER BY BONUS BOY

Cubs Spill Bums Twice

CHICAGO (UP)—The Chicago Cubs swept a doubleheader from the Brooklyn Dodgers Saturday, 8-1, behind the two-hit pitching of bonus righthander Don Kaiser in his first major league start, and 5-4 with only two runs batted in against Don Newcombe in the nightcap before 20,751 fans.

Newcombe suffered his fourth defeat against seven wins. Cub Harry Chitt single in the third, advanced on Bob Rush's single and scored when Eddie Miksis grounded into a double play.

In the fifth, Walt Moryn tripped and scored on Jim Gilliam's wild throw to third, while Dee Fondy scored in the sixth on a single, a stolen base, Roy Campanella's throwing error and a wild pitch.

Miksis singled to open the eighth, advanced on Gene Baker's sacrifice and scored on innings for his fourth win. Furillo's grounder, Newcombe against two losses and his doubled to score Hodges and fourth victory without defeat in his home park.

Brooklyn got two runs in the first inning on a single by Pee Wee Reese, a walk to Duke Snider and singles by Randy Jackson and Sandy Amoros.

Turk Lown preserved the victory for Rush in the ninth, Gil Hodges singled and reached third on Baker's error on Carl Kaiser, a 21-year-old from Ada, Okla., gave up Brooklyn's only run on a first inning walk, a single and a sacrifice fly.

Then he retired 18 batters in order.

Hope in the Stevenson camp now soared. Both birdied the 15th on short putts and parred in the 18th which Steelsmith took on an 8-iron to the green and five-foot birdie putt.

But in the afternoon round—just as in the morning—Pinky was set back on his heels in a hurry.

Steelsmith birdied the first two holes on putts of five and six feet and Stevenson bogied the third on another poor chip.

Five ahead, Steelsmith played sound par golf the rest of the way and was never threatened.

He was one over par for morning round and three under in the afternoon. Stevenson was two and one over respectively.

WHEREAS the gallery started on the heels of Stevenson and Steelsmith, they soon switched allegiance when news of the torrid Reed-Cotchonis duel became known.

If ever there was a hero in defeat it was Cotchonis, a straight-A philosophy major at UCLA who delivers newspapers from 4 to 6 a.m. in order to make golfing money. He played like a tiger and putted like a demon. Reed was his usual glit-edged precision self.

Cotchonis, two down after eight, birdied the ninth on a 30-foot putt from the edge of the green, won the 10th on a par, the 14th on an eight-foot birdie putt and the 15th on a three-foot eagle putt—after a spoon to the green—to go two up. Reed birdied the 16th on an eight-

Cotchonis Loses in Thriller

By JERRY WYNN

Jerry Steelsmith whipped Pinky Stevenson, 6 and 5, and Bob Reed outlasted Gene Cotchonis in a thrilling 38-hole birdie battle in Long Beach City Golf Championship semi-finals at Recreation Park Saturday.

Steelsmith, the Southern California Amateur champion from Oakmont CC, and Reed the veteran Clock CC star, will meet today in 36-hole finals starting at 9 a.m. Seldom has the 32-year-old tournament had finer title aspirants.

The 20-year-old Steelsmith didn't have to be at his best Saturday to beat his 17-year-old Long Beach opponent, but when faced with Stevenson's one hole challenge, he was more than equal to the occasion.

That came when Pinky fought back from an early four hole deficit to come within one going into the 18th. Steelsmith then retaliated by birdying the 18th and the first and second holes of the afternoon round.

THE 37-YEAR-OLD Reed boldly withstood challenge after challenge from the unheralded Cotchonis whose string of pressure putts brought cheers from a gallery of 500. However, it was a missed 3 1/2-foot putt on the second extra hole for a bogey that ended Cotchonis' bid. Both players were five under par.

It was just not Stevenson's day. The spunky youth tried hard but his irons lacked their customary precision—and his chipping was poor. Steelsmith played his usual fine game off the greens but had a terrible time with his putting, particularly in the morning round.

Before the match was an hour old, Pinky was three down, all on bad chip shots which resulted in bogies. Steelsmith birdied the seventh on a 35-foot chip shot to go four ahead. Stevenson got his first bird on a 10-foot putt on the ninth but missed a four-footer to bogey and lose the 10th.

THEN IT WAS Steelsmith's turn to go sour and see his big advantage dwindle. He three-putted to bogey the 11th, hit out-of-bounds on the 13th (which Pinky birdied anyway), and hit a poor approach to bogey and lose the 14th.

Hope in the Stevenson camp now soared. Both birdied the 15th on short putts and parred in the 18th which Steelsmith took on an 8-iron to the green and five-foot birdie putt.

But in the afternoon round—just as in the morning—Pinky was set back on his heels in a hurry.

Steelsmith birdied the first two holes on putts of five and six feet and Stevenson bogied the third on another poor chip.

Five ahead, Steelsmith played sound par golf the rest of the way and was never threatened.

He was one over par for morning round and three under in the afternoon. Stevenson was two and one over respectively.

The chunky, blond youngster, hailed as a budding Bobby Jones, defeated 32-year-old Leslie Taylor, 5 and 4, as gales howled across the Firth of Clyde with such fury that they drove putts off line as they rolled toward the cups.

No golfer so young ever before has won either the British or American amateur titles.

Bannister's 'First' Out of Top 10 Miles

By Associated Press

Roger Bannister's historic breakthrough of the four-minute mile barrier no longer can be included among the world's 10 fastest miles.

So common have sub-four-minute miles become that Bannister's first effort, 3:59.4 on May 6, 1954, little more than two years ago, now is 11th on the list.

The latest runners in the four minute club were Ron Delany of Ireland with 3:59.0 Friday night at Compton, and Gunnar Nielsen of Denmark, with 3:59.1 in the same race.

Once Over Lightly

There are three important milestones in the major league pennant races—Memorial Day, July 4 and Labor Day.

The clubs have just passed the first—Memorial Day—so it might be interesting to delve into the championship situation at this time.

Memorial Day, of course, usually rings down the curtain on the first home-and-home swing around the circuit, which is devoted mainly to testing the other clubs' strength and weaknesses and filling the new hitters in the various pitching "books."

The second phase of the races between Memorial Day and July 4 is when the main string begins and the real championship races take form among the true contenders.

The fourth of July marks the halfway point in the pennant races and the leaders at that time generally are conceded the championships, but that does not consistently hold true.

Labor Day, the final milestone, launches the stretch drive.

In passing the first milestone this season, there were only a couple of surprises... and both of them developed from the National League race.

One is the amazing bid of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who finally have risen from their perennial cellar position to challenge for the league lead.

Even though plagued by bad weather, which has upset the playing schedule, the National League is running pretty much true to form except for Pittsburgh and Brooklyn.

In the month to go before the clubs reach the second milestone, there probably will be a shift in the standings with Brooklyn, only three games from the top despite its slow start, either challenging for the lead or having regained the pacesetter role.

Brooklyn and Milwaukee still appear to be the solid pennant contenders with the Cardinals as the best bet to upset them.

MEANWHILE, but for dropping four or five one-run decisions so far, the New York Yankees could have broken the American League race wide open.

They're doing a pretty good job of it right now, you say? After all they were leading by 6½ games through Friday.

But close inspection of the situation shows that the Yankee lead is not as solid as it looks. Oh, the Yankees will win the pennant all right, but their present lead could be narrowed to around two games by makeup games.

and Detroit. They have only been able to get a 4-4 break thus far with the Orioles, whom they murdered a year ago, and have gained only a 3-3 split with Detroit.

It's still a four-team fight among the Yankees, Indians, White Sox and Red Sox as they head for the season's second milestone... the halfway point on July 4.

And we're still sticking with our original pennant picks—the Dodgers and Yankees!

Along with the PCC crown, the Cougars also won the District 8 NCAA playoff berth.

Rich did his heavy stickwork in the first two innings. He walked a 450-foot homer in the first frame to account for three runs.

The four SC pitchers who saw action gave up only six hits, but they issued 11 bases on balls. The Cougars left 11 men on base.

DUKE WHIPPED Florida State, 4-2 and 7-6, to advance to the District 3 finals Monday against Mississippi, 3-2 victor over Tennessee Tech. Minnesota nipped Ohio University, 7-6, to gain the District 4 berth in the finals.

Yale pushed across a run in the 16th inning to nip Princeton, 4-3, and take the Eastern Intercollegiate League title. New Hampshire also qualified for the NCAA title series at Omaha next week by blanking Vermont, 2-0.

'Mom' Rockne, Widow of Great Irish Coach, Dies

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Mrs. Knute Rockne, 64, widow of Notre Dame's great football coach and known as "Mom" to scores of Irish grid immortals, died Saturday in St. Joseph's Hospital.

The slight, dark-haired Mrs. Rockne entered the hospital two weeks ago for treatment of an undisclosed illness. At the time friends said she was suffering from "complications."

Mrs. Rockne was a resident of South Bend since 1915 when she and Knute moved here and built a large brick residence in a quiet part of town.

Funeral arrangements were not complete, but relatives said Mrs. Rockne would be buried in Highland Cemetery in South Bend next to her husband's grave.

Rockne, famed as Irish head football coach from 1918 through 1930, was killed in a plane crash March 31, 1931.

Mrs. Rockne accompanied her husband and the team on numerous football trips and once sat on the bench with the players.

The Duke sprinter's great showing was challenged for top crowd interest by Ron Delany of Villanova, shotput champion of the season, who earlier in the season had also run the 100 in 9.3 and the 220 in 20.1.

Mrs. Rockne accompanied her husband and the team on numerous football trips and once sat on the bench with the players.

The Duke sprinter's great showing was challenged for top crowd interest by Ron Delany of Villanova, shotput champion of the season, who earlier in the season had also run the 100 in 9.3 and the 220 in 20.1.

He missed 15 feet 8 1/2 three times. Delany was boxed and bumped by a bulky field of 17 in the half-mile but came on with a terrific finishing drive to nip San Jose State's Lang Stanley in 1:49.5.

O'Brien, holder of the world shotput record at 60 feet 10 inches and with one of 61-1, won his event with a throw of 60 1/2. Then on a seventh throw he got away the longest one ever—61-8 1/2. But it won't go into the books. Officials ruled it was an extra toss.

O'BRIEN SCORED A double by also winning the discus with a heave to 180-4 1/2. Des Koch of the Los Angeles Striders was second at 177-10 and Fortune Gordien third at 177-5 1/2.

Fred Dwyer won the mile handily in 4:12, with Bill Weiss of the Striders 10 yards back. Charley Jenkins of Villanova took the 440 in 47.5, followed by Lon Spurrier of the Air Force in 48.0. Jack Davis of San Diego Navy won the high hurdles in 13.8. Joel Shankle of Duke was second in 13.9 and Lee Calhoun of North Carolina College third in 14.6.

In the sprints, Sime finished five yards ahead of Agostini both times, with the rest of the field well behind.

A false start by Sime probably cost him his chance for an official 9.3. At that time the wind meter showed only one mile per hour breeze. But by the time the runners returned to their blocks and were off again, the wind had increased beyond the allowable amount.

BILL RUSSELL, the University of San Francisco All-American basketball star, and Verne Wilson of the Santa Clara Youth Center tied in the high jump at 6-8.

Cy Young, 1952 Olympic javelin winner, took his event with a throw of 227-6 1/2. Bud Held, world record holder, was second at 223-1. Ron Hermann of Stanford won the broad jump with a mediocre leap of 23-6.

The 220-yard low hurdles went to Ansel Robinson of Fresno State in 23.4. Joe Tyler of San Diego Navy captured the two mile run in 9:05.4 and Horace Ashenfelter of the New York Athletic Club won the 3000-meter steeplechase in 9:08.5.

Displaying the same torrid shooting ability that took him to the national championship, Alex Kerr scored a near clean sweep in Saturday's opening round of the Southern California skeet championship at Rancho Angelus Gun Club in Gardena as he won two out of three division titles.

All-Army Track Meet at Compton

Track and field stars of the United States Army will be facing their biggest test of the season Tuesday and Wednesday when they compete in the All-Army meet at Ramsaur Stadium in Compton.

The Olympic hopefuls were selected to participate in the All-Army contest on the basis of their performances in elimination meets.

Two top track figures scheduled to appear at Compton are Pts. Charlie Pratt and Tom Courtney. Pratt, former Manhattan flash, bettered two Army standards when he sped to a 9.6 hundred and skinned over the 120-yard high hurdles in the fast time of 14 flat in the first Army tryouts at West Point last week.

COURTNEY, competing in the same record breaking meet with Pratt, smashed two inter-service marks when he won the 880 in 1:48.5 and returned a day later to earn a blue ribbon in the 440 in 46.8.

In the CISM championships at Athens, Greece last year Howard ran the 400-meter low hurdles in 52.8.

Stiffest competition may well lie in the shorter dashes with such sprint stars as Pts. Alex Burl, Dean Smith, Ira Murchison and Larry McBride competing along with Pratt. Burl, former Skyline Conference champion from Colorado A&M, sped to a 10.4 clocking in the 100 meters and won the 200 meters in 21.7 around a curve.

Murchison, former Iowa and Western Michigan sprint star, has two 9.5 hundred yard dashes and a world record tying 10.2 100 meters to his credit. McBride is the holder of a 9.3 century clocking with a 5.5 mph wind while at the University of Houston.

Smith, a fourth place finisher in the 100 meters at the 1952 Olympics, was also a member of the victorious U.S. 400-meter relay team at Helsinki.

First day opening ceremonies are slated for 1:30 p.m., with actual competition beginning at 2 o'clock each day. Admission to the meet is free.

PAR TICALS

by JERRY WYNN

Saturday, 9:33 a.m.
There's still a long, long way to go but after just leaving the fifth green here at Recreation Park this morning, it looks like Long Beach's young Mr. Stevenson will have to ignite in a hurry to catch Mr. Steelsmith. . . . Pinky's three over par, three down and pushing his short shots and something awful. . . . Steelsmith has a game as strong as steel and the poise of twice his 20 years. . . . In the gallery is Pinky's father, Spec Stevenson, who won the City title in 1929.

IT'S BEEN AN exciting tournament. Although far less an accurate test of golf than medal play, match play contains far more the human element. Instead of man against par, it's man against man. What results frequently borders on the spectacular.

As a case in point there was the Steelsmith-Nell White second round match, one of the finest of the tournament. You could feel the turn of events that saw Steelsmith overcome a two hole deficit on the back nine by watching the players rather than the shots.

Steelsmith was getting stronger, stroking with more intensity, and even walking at a quickened pace. White was weakening under the two-round grind, playing more slowly and talking to his putts.

The match has just left the 14th green. Stevenson is now one down. Steelsmith's steel has become a bit tarnished.

"If he can just go into the afternoon round in a contented position, he'll be a much tougher player," said Pinky's mother. "He was nervous and over-excited when he started out."

Pinky's mother was seated in a parked car near the 12th green. Mr. Stevenson relayed the news of the match. Asked whether mother ever watched son play, he replied:

"Oh, no, she'd be scared to death."

IN THE afore-mentioned match between Steelsmith and White, the latter pulled a darling maneuver. Needing a birdie to keep alive on the 17th hole, he put his tee into the vacated eraser top of a pencil giving it an elevation of almost a foot. The hope was to drive over the guarding trees in front of the green. . . . and he did. . . . but in vain. Steelsmith birdied the hole and ended the match.

Steelsmith is 2 up after 18 holes.

"What a poor putter for such a fine player. His game from tee to green is outstanding but he doesn't even look good addressing a putt. Maybe he's been playing too much golf. That can often ruin one's putting stroke."

The speaker was Joe Robinson, Virginia CC professional.

"He sure plays deliberately, maybe too much so. Swings a lot like Middlecoff. Yes, he's got a fine future."

DURING the qualifying, Manny Cabral of Alondra Park had a 10-foot birdie putt on the 16th hole and seven-putted.

After missing the first try, he—a la Tommy Bolt—disgustingly tried to back-hand the putt in. The result, a 10.

Stevenson is five down after 23 holes.

After wearing dapper golfing togs in the morning and looking like a young George Lake, Pinky switched back to his customary red sweat shirt and denims for the afternoon round.

Asked why the change, Pinky replied dejectedly: "The way I'm playing, I shouldn't have showed up at all."

EVER NOTICE the resemblance between the putting styles of Craig Olson and Patty Berg? . . . Marv Nischen, the fine Inglewood CC youth, has intentions of turning pro. . . . Dick Carmody was the ladies' gallery favorite. His loss on the 18th hole to Steelsmith was greeted by a number of high-pitched "ahhhhs."

There is little joy in Long Beach, young Pinky was struck out!

LANCASTER, Pa. (U.P.)—Franklin and Marshall College trustees voted Saturday to drop all athletic scholarships because the policy "put us in the middle."

Outboards Here Next Week

By BOB RUSKAUFF

Officially, the rather block-busting Memorial holiday program of marine sport concludes this afternoon as:

(1) Small boat races for seven fleets, 81 boats strong, wind up on Alamitos Bay; (2) yacht inspection and flag-raising ceremony; followed by afternoon sailing races, feature 1956 opening program of Los Angeles YC at outer harbor and (3) the annual keel-centerboard race tops the Balboa YC opening program.

On the motorboat front it is quiet today, but busy things are ahead. Next Sunday, on Marine Stadium, some 90 racing outboards, which will present the nation's greatest event on the famed local course this year, will open their 1956 action here with the 13th annual June regatta.

The event is sponsored and conducted by the Los Angeles Speedboat Association, whose commodore, Jack Gouldstone, points out the major outboard agenda:

On July 14-15, the combined boat show-regatta; Aug. 11-12, the western divisional championships, followed Sept. 21-24 (with basic non-race items starting Sept. 17) by the national championship regatta of the American Power Boat Association.

Another breed of outboarders, "family stockers," will next Sunday bring what Chairman George Austin hopes will top the 193-boat entry of last year, to race from Avalon to Long Beach, in the fourth annual 21-mile cross-channel "darby."

The boats, divided into 15 or more fleets, will depart the Crescent Bay at about 8 a.m. It'll be over by 11, so dyed-in-the-wool boat fans may easily make the big outboard meet at Marine Stadium and complete their day. A salty Sunday, indeed!

AS FOR the high-riding and colorful inboard speedboat action:

Repercussions concerning "program arrangement" of the Memorial Day sweepstakes regatta on Marine Stadium have been many (and not good).

West Long Beach Lions Club, sponsors of the second big fixture on the national holiday schedule (July 4) are determined to have no more of the same.

So, for that matter, is the Southern California Speedboat Club which, admittedly, as race conductor, was responsible for a needlessly fouled-up situation from the fans' viewpoint (some 13,000 worth).

Intelligent and determined forethought could have prevented program lags, plus putting the top races where they belonged.

All interested parties (except the public) were a little at fault: race conductors (who failed in their public consideration); sponsors (who wanted, but did not demand, a proper programming); the drivers (who, by a last-minute vote, almost turned a potentially wonderful sports show into something else again).

'FOOTBALL MEANS TO AN END'

Fete Grid Star Cassidy as Athlete of the Year

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, formally honored Saturday as 1955's male "athlete of the year," said he has no intention of making a career in sports.

"That's the reason I have chosen to play professional football instead of baseball," the talented All America halfback from Ohio State added. "It's a means to an end."

"If I were to play baseball it would take nine or 10 months a year and I wouldn't have a chance to do anything else. Football is more seasonal and much less demanding. I took a minor in business insurance, majoring in physical education."

"I hope to build up an insurance business in Columbus, Ohio."

Cassidy was here to receive the first Frederick C. Miller memorial trophy emblematic of his selection in the Associated Press' annual poll as the male "athlete of the year."

A similar award was given Patty Berg, the red-haired women's golf star from Minneapolis.

80 Qualify Monday in City Ladies' Golf

Defending champion Jane Lange will head a field of 80 in qualifying for the 29th annual Long Beach City Women's Golf Championship at Recreation Park Monday.

Eighteen-hole match play rounds will begin Tuesday and conclude with Friday's finals. Connie Freeze is tournament chairman.

Miss Lange should receive plenty of competition from the likes of Connie Calveit, the 1955 runner-up; Southern California Publicix champion Ruth Miller, a one-handcapper at Recreation; Shirley McFeters Hale, the former National Women's Amateur runner-up and Long Beach star, and Shirley's talented club-mate from Willowick, Dora Donaldson. Monday's starting times:

9 a.m.—Connie Freeze, Connie Calveit, Dora Donaldson, Ruth Miller, Shirley McFeters Hale, Mary Ellen Baker, Norma Deebie, 9:15—Grace Stevens, Margaret Epling, 9:30—Lillian Meador, 9:45—Averna Johnson, Betsey Straub, 10 a.m.—Lucille Baker, Rose Combs, Edna Allen, 10:15—Lillian Handford, Jackie Ash.

In This Corner---

More courtesy and color say its advocates. . . . John Landy thinks Uclan Bobby Seaman is the best U. S. sub—4.00 mile threat because the Bruin youngster at 19 has a 4:01.4 clocking while the Australian at 19 had a best of 4:15. . . . Moreover, Seaman has the speed, Landy claims, as shown by his times of 10:25 in the 100, 22s in the 220, 47-in in the 440 as a relay lap and 1:51.8 in the half.

Long Beach's Bill Wilson is having difficulty untracking himself from a wholesale plague of injuries and illnesses this season. . . . He's been out of a Toronto Maple Leaf uniform more often than he has been in it. . . . The flu bug forced him to bed for four days last week. . . . Chuck Stevens' Amarillo Gold Sox have leveled off after riding atop the Western League standings the first three weeks of the season. . . . Chuck's pitching staff has fallen apart. . . . The Gold Sox recently skidded to fourth place. . . . Another Long Beach minor league skipper, Jerry Gardner, has his Douglas team in the Arizona-Mexico League atop the standings, while Eddie Beckman's Visalia club in the California League is fifth and fighting to crash the first division. . . . Time for tea?

4:32 P. M.: There is little joy in Long Beach, young Pinky was struck out!

After wearing dapper golfing togs in the morning and looking like a young George Lake, Pinky switched back to his customary red sweat shirt and denims for the afternoon round.

Stevenson is five down after 23 holes.

Stars of Tomorrow

By DOUG MILES

The eighth annual Rotary Kid Baseball tournament which opened a month ago with 21 teams aiming for the title, ends this week with Proctor's Sporting Goods, Shamrock Drillers and undefeated North Long Beach Lions bidding for the crown.

Proctor's and Shamrock collide Monday at 7 p.m. at Clark and Conant for the loser's bracket championship. The winner meets the Lions Thursday at 7 at Cherry Ave diamond.

A second game will be played Friday night if the Lions lose.

CHAMPIONSHIP contenders for the first annual Pony League double-elimination tournament should be narrowed down today when Beach City Chevrolet and Bickel Braves, the only undefeated teams, clash at 1 p.m. at Whaley Park, Bellflower and Atherton.

Two more elimination games of the loser's bracket were played Saturday, Brown Drilling defeating Proctor's Sporting Goods, 11-7, and the Oil Workers outfitting Used Car Dealers, 16-10.

Larry Lamerson paced the Drillers' attack against Proctor's with three for three as he banged out a triple, double and single. The Oil Workers clinched the nightcap with an 11-run first inning.

Brown Drilling, 101 215 1-11 3 3 Proctor's, 004 000 0-7 0 3 Williams, Edmiston (4), Stucker (7), Kreiburg (6) and Lutz (4). Oil Workers, 110 000 2-10 2 4 Used Car Dealers, 023 000 2-10 4 Rosenthal, Thayer (4), Barr (4) and Frey, Andrie, LeCros (4), Craipe (5) and Martin.

Tribe Rookies Test Rockets

Sparked by a pair of 400 hitters, the Long Beach Rockets go after their fourth straight semipro triumph this afternoon against the Cleveland Rookies at Recreation Park. Game time is 2:15 p.m.

Outfielder Bob Carter caught second baseman Chuck Winslow in their year-long slugging duel last Sunday as the Rockets belted the American Eagles, 5-3. Carter had 2-for-4, while Winslow was held to 1-for-4. Both now have 22 hits in 55 trips for a .400 average.

Today's Rocket foes are operated by the Cleveland Indians through their Southern California scouting program.

The Rockets will field their usual lineup with a tossup among Bill Goodback, Pete Cassidy and Don Mello as the starting pitcher.

Next week the Rockets host the L. A. Colored Yankees.

Flam, Howe Gain Spanish Net Finals

BARCELONA, Spain (U.P.)—Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., defeated fellow Californian Art Larsen and Bob Howe of Australia downed Bob Perry of Los Angeles Saturday to reach the men's singles final in the Count Godo tennis tournament.

Flam defeated Larsen of San Leandro, 6-4, 6-0, 6-2, while Howe had a much tougher time before eliminating Perry, 1-6, 7-5, 6-3, 5-7, 6-4. Flam will meet Howe today in the finals.

Fishin' Around

By DONNELL CULPEPPER

Youngsters of Long Beach and its surrounding area will have one of the greatest fishing summers in history. Within a month the Tackle Buster Clubs will start activities and, this year, there will be a traveling instructor for the groups.

These Tackle Buster Clubs will have handicraft programs embracing such subjects as rod-making, leaders and hooks, fishing techniques, conservation, in addition to movies about angling. Any boy or girl is eligible for one of the clubs.

Beginning July 2 and ending Aug. 24, here is the schedule for the Tackle Busters:

Mondays, 7 to 9 p. m., Houghton Park, 6301 Myrtle Ave.

Tuesdays, 3 to 5 p. m., El Dorado Park, 2800 Studebaker Rd.

Wednesdays, 3 to 5 p. m., Silverado Park, 51st and Santa Fe.

Also 7 to 9 p. m., Pan American Park, 5157 Centralia.

Thursdays, 7 to 9 p. m., Wardlow Park, 3457 Stanbridge.

Fridays, 7 to 9 p. m., MacArthur Park, 1340 Warren.

Parents are encouraged to attend with their children if they wish. Jack Minar, head of the Recreation Department's special activities group, advises all children to attend the meeting nearest their own homes.

Donald Hansted, an excellent fisherman and also an enthusiast in skin-diving, will be the traveling instructor.

Fishing excursions are planned for July 14 and 28; Aug. 4, 11 and 18. The summer TBC sessions will be climaxed on Thursday, Aug. 23, with the all-city fishing rodeo on Belmont Pier. That event last year attracted hundreds of boys and girls.

MEMORIAL DAY brought hundreds of inland residents to Long Beach for fishing excursions, but the angling didn't improve anywhere, except possibly at some choice surf-fishing spots. Deep-sea skippers tried hard to make it a big day, but the fish didn't cooperate.

Good catches of hump and bull bass came from San Clemente Island. A few barracuda were caught around Catalina, but offshore banks yielded practically nothing except the usual assortment of bottom fish, good for the table, but not much for sport.

The boat Neleh, again skippered by Art Shankman, is making half-day runs from Seal Beach Pier at 8 a. m. and 1 p. m., according to Art Lescher and Merle Stockton, operators of the landing.

The Red Rocket will be put into service about June 15 and will make daily runs to Catalina Island. Skipper will be Bob (Freckles) Baggett.

Late reports from Ensenada showed barracuda fishing picking up considerably. Gordo's Bait House said its fleet was averaging 200 to 300 per day. However, there were a few blank days mixed in with the others. Only an occasional yellowtail was reported.

At San Diego, yellowtail fishing broke wide open Friday for the fishoff in the first period of the yellowtail derby. All boats reported the best catches of the year.

JUST IN CASE you missed the roundup of deer seasons in a recent edition of The Press-Telegram, here is the schedule:

Coastal—Aug. 4 through Sept. 16.

Inyo-Mono (with certain western areas excepted)—Sept. 15 through Oct. 28.

Inyo-Mono (western portions)—Sept. 15 through Oct. 14.

Balance of state—Sept. 22 through Oct. 28.

Bag limit is two bucks in the same areas as 1955 and one buck elsewhere. The coastal area boundaries are not changed from 1955. And for the last three days of the coastal season (Sept. 14, 15 and 16) a deer of either sex may be shot—but ONLY ONE per hunter. Same applies to the inland, or Sierra, season.

If you are in doubt about boundaries and regulations, the Department of Fish and Game will have its hunting booklet in the hands of license dealers well in advance of the first opening date. It would be wise to peruse it carefully.

Other hunting seasons:

Pheasants—Nov. 17 to Dec. 2, inclusive. Daily bag limit is two birds and 10 for the season. One hen may be included in the up-state bag of 10. In Southern California 10 birds of either sex may be included.

Quail (north and coastal areas)—Oct. 27-Dec. 31. (Northeastern, including Plumas County)—Nov. 17 to Dec. 15. (Rest of state)—Nov. 17 to Dec. 31. Bag and possession limit remains at eight birds.

A special mountain quail season has been set for Oct. 6 to 14 for the same areas as in 1955.

Chukar partridge—Nov. 17 to Dec. 15 in Inyo and Mono counties; Nov. 17 to Dec. 31 in San Bernardino, Riverside, Imperial, San Diego, Orange, Los Angeles, Ventura and those portions of San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara counties east of U. S. 101, and in the same portions of Fresno, Kern and Kings counties open in 1955. Bag and possession limits remain at four birds.

A FRIEND at Lac La Ronge, jumping-off place for my memorable Saskatchewan aerial junket two years ago, writes that La Ronge has opened its 1956 season, with the usual number of prizes for different species.

Americans seem to cop most of those awards. There are $25 top prizes for northern pike, lake trout, rainbow trout, brook trout, Loch Leven, pickerel, perch, grayling and the famed goldeneye.

Largest fish ever recorded in a Lac La Ronge derby was the 41-pound lake trout caught in 1953. But lakies and northerners weighing 20 to 30 pounds are quite common in that gigantic lake, which marks the end of the road for all automobiles. From there, transportation is by plane and canoe, or, if you care to wait for winter—snowshoes.

All-New Aud Mat Bill Opens Thursday

Professional wrestling at Long Beach Municipal Auditorium has had its face lifted, but completely!

Everything is new, from the promoter on down.

First, the night has been changed from Tuesday to Thursday and the time from 8:30 to 8 p. m.

Third, the new matchmaker is John J. Doyle, confidante of the nation's top grapplers for a quarter of a century.

Fourth, and most important, the Armand-Doyle combo is importing a carload of top wrestlers from other major western waypoints, such as Las Vegas, Salt Lake City and Ogden, Utah.

Shire, an arrogant, disdainful sort who makes Gorgeous George seem downright sociable by comparison, will toe the mark with a young ex-collegiate football hero, Guy Brunetti, in Thursday night's main event, first under the new regime.

This match will be supported by two others, either of which might be the main event in any other week.

Brunetti's tag team partner, Joe Tangaro, another one-time football hero, will tangle with Bob Ford of Canton, O., in the semi-windup, and the Mexican father-son tag team of Chico and Reyes Gracio will meet Hardy Kruskamp and Black Jack Dillon in the curtain-opener.

The show will be televised over KCOP (13).

BULLFIGHTS SLATED TODAY

Mexico's leading matador, Jaime Bravo, will be featured today in the second bullfight program of the season at Tijuana.

Others on the program are Pepe Luis Cazquez and Andres Blando. The matadors go up against six La Punta bulls.

PLAY UMPIRES

Cuties Nine Plays Here

The California Cuties, softball's answer to the Harlem Globetrotters, come to Recreation Park Sunday night, June 17, to meet a talented team of Long Beach City League umpires.

The Cuties, a men's softball team dressed in ladies garments, originated in Compton and are managed by Trino Palacios. Palacios also doubles as a pitcher named Liza Jane.

Other Cuties include Main Street Sally, Beulah, Grandma and Vampira, the star pitcher. Beulah is a 36-inch midget who plays shortstop, pitches and also sings and dances.

Hollerder MVP

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Don Hollender of Webster, N. Y., Army's controversial quarterback of the 1955 football season, was given the Hughes Award Saturday as the most valuable member of the Cadet eleven last fall.

Sprints Featured in NAIA Weekend Meet

SAN DIEGO—At least nine records are in serious danger in the fourth annual NAIA track and field championships to be staged in Balboa Stadium here next Friday and Saturday nights.

The NAIA is composed of 450 members of the "small college" class.

The sprints are the feature attraction and the crack field of dashmen is headed by one of the top candidates for the American Olympic team—Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian.

Morrow, who has a 9.4 century to his credit with a wind at his back and an official 9.5, will meet Ken Kave of Morgan State, who has a 9.3 "wind" race along with such other stars as Abe Butler of Baldwin-Wallace (9.5), Larry Lewis of Sam Houston (9.5) and Bill Woodhouse, also of Abilene Christian.

In all, 20 sprinters who have run 9.7 or better will go in the 100.

The 220 also has an all-star group of dashmen, three of whom have bettered 21 flat—

Morrow, Bruce Lenoir of Louisiana Tech and Clyde Harris of East Texas.

HERB WASHINGTON of Morgan State, with a 46.6 relay lap to his credit, will head the 440, while the half-mile and mile fields are featured by Billy Tidwell of Kansas State Teachers at Emporia. Tidwell has run a 1:47.4 half-mile relay lap and has registered a 4:10.9 mile.

Lee Calhoun of North Carolina State, a 13.8 and 23.4 hurdler, is another outstanding performer slated to appear.

The field events will be featured by the high jump which will bring out two 6-8 leapers in Bob Barksdale of Morgan State and Charles McCollough of North Carolina State along with five others over 6-6.

Other top field event performers will be Oxy's Bob Gutowski, a 15-foot pole vaulter, and Jim Gamble and Cal White of Prairie View, both of whom are 24-foot broad jumpers.

The new Bel Air Convertible with Body by Fisher—one of 20 sassy-styled new Chevrolets.

Want to take the wheel of one of America's few great road cars?
Want to send pleasant little tingles up and down your spine? Want to drive the new car that politely murmurs "Move over, big boy" to the high-priced jobs? Then hustle on in and try out a new Chevrolet V8!

Now showing—the happiest "double feature" of the year! One part is bold, new Motoramic styling. The other is record-breaking V8 action. Hollywood has a heap of words that describe it: colossal, stupendous, magnificent. We'll settle for just the name—Chevrolet.

Because once you've driven this sweet-handling showboat, the adjectives will take care of themselves. Once you've sampled Chevy's hair-trigger reflexes and nailed-down stability, you'll see why it's one of the few great road cars built today. It's a beautiful thing to handle!

Horsepower that ranges up to 225 makes hills flatter and saves precious seconds for safer passing. And the way this Chevrolet wheels around tight turns would gladden the heart of a dyed-in-the-wool sports car fan.

Stop in sometime soon and highway-test this new Chevrolet. We've got one ready and waiting for you.

TO PRESENT 'MIKADO'

The music of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado" will be enjoyed by Long Beach audiences June 22 and 23 when the Singers' Workshop presents its special summer production at the Municipal Auditorium. The Workshop's production five years ago of the "Mikado" was so enjoyed that Henri Scanlon, producer-director, decided to perform it again. The original stars include: The Mikado, Harold Woodhouse; Nanki-Poo, Scanlon (shown here); Ko-Ko, Arthur Caray, and Pooh-Bah, Don Roberts. Pish-Tish will be played by Raymond Chace. A new voice will be Cynthia Howard, Yum-Yum. Pitti-Sing, Jackie McFadden; Peep-Bo, Betty Shimer, with the part of Katisha filled by Lea-Ora Mead and Jean Norris, and a chorus of 60 voices complete the casting.

Balsa Falsies Give Eyes a Lift, Offer 'Speakeasy' Beach Shield

Balsa wood falsies for the eyes may soon be the craze among TV viewers and sunbathers.

Long Beach inventor Frederick T. Saunders has built and patented a boxy little device designed to give a third dimension to television programs. With interchangeable parts it also provides for restful reading or for a kind of "speakeasy" sun shield on the beach.

The device is called "Natural Specs." Its principle is "tunnel vision." A balsa shield, built over a regular spectacle frame, and with binocular-type channels projecting from each eye-piece, cuts out all vision except the TV screen.

Round apertures are installed at the outer end of the viewing channel. These apertures can be adjusted to individual requirements until they blend into one round opening which admits your TV screen and nothing else.

He thinks enough of the principle to have spent some 20 years in its development. Some 20 years ago Saunders marketed a spectacle device called "Concentrators." The principle—reported in the publication Scientific American at that time—is the same. It cuts out your indirect vision and gives you what

Ohioan to Head Taxation Group

you what is technically called "central fixation." Saunders' "Natural Specs" can be adapted, by just interchanging parts, to become a concentrator for restful reading. In specific seeing tasks, the concentrator is advantageous for the reason it shuts out objects in the periphery and the brain is relieved of the problem of viewing them simultaneously with objects on which the attention is focused.

However, the chances of your being recognized by an acquaintance while you're wearing "Natural Specs." And you yourself are likely to emerge with the feeling "I Am a Camera."

Saunders has applied for patents for his device but does not intend to build it for sale immediately. He intends rather to sell the set of simple plans through national advertising. He says his drawings with numbered parts would enable the amateur do-it-yourself fan to build a set of "Natural Specs" in a couple of days' spare time.

Parts required are a spectacle frame (or one with your prescription lenses if needed), about 30 cents worth of balsa wood, a few small screws or brads and a dab of black stain or paint.

So, if you're inclined to tangle-building escapism—right into your TV set, "Natural Specs" "speakeasy" panel and chat may be the answer.

Mitchell to Attend Retailer Ceremony

Long Beach Retailers Association will install its 1956-57 officers Thursday at the Lafayette Hotel, with Don Spring of McCrery's being seated as new president.

Other officers to be installed by Lawrence A. Collins, installing officer, editorial columnist for the Independent Press-Telegram, are: Vernon Fay of J. C. Penney Co., vice president; Harold Lewis of C. C. Lewis Jewelry Co., secretary, and Ken Walker of Farmers & Merchants Bank, treasurer.

THOMAS MITCHELL, movie and television character actor, will be principal speaker at the installation banquet. Mitchell will also speak to the Long Beach State College drama group at 11 a. m., Thursday and at Poly High School at 1 p. m.

Music for the LERA banquet will be provided by Jeri Pack.

Mayor George Vermillion will present the keys to the city to veteran actor Mitchell.

Mitchell himself is "Mayor of the Town" in a current TV series of that title. He won the Television Academy Award in 1952 as outstanding actor of the year.

MITCHELL HAS received awards and acclaim throughout the world for his characterizations, including an "Oscar" for his alcoholic doctor's role in the movie "Stagecoach." He received a medal from Belgium for his performance in "The Sullivans."

'God's Hand' Saves Priest in Jet Bailout

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Catholic Air Force chaplain who bailed out of a crashing jet plane said Saturday the "hand of God" pulled the ripcord of his parachute and carried him to safety.

The Rev. Cornelius F. McLaughlin, 39, of Philadelphia, who is stationed at the Sioux City, Iowa, Air Force Base, was hitchhiking a ride aboard a T33 jet trainer to Philadelphia to perform the marriage ceremony of a cousin.

Over Pine Bush, N. Y., Friday night the plane ran out of fuel and cracked up in a hayfield. Father McLaughlin and the pilot, Lt. Charles B. Henk, formerly of Trenton, N. J., both pushed the automatic controls which ejected them from the doomed plane.

FATHER McLAUGHLIN described it this way:

"I can read the instruments and I could see we were running out of gas. We had only about five gallons left. There was a low ceiling and I knew we couldn't land.

"I knew it was time for me to go, so I pushed the button to eject myself from the plane.

"I started to fall and the wind was so great that it pushed my helmet back over my head.

"Then I found I couldn't release the parachute ring—the ring you pull to pull the ripcord. I was falling head first.

"I KNEW THIS might be it, I said my prayers.

"I was pulling on this ring and I said 'Lord, don't let me die, I've got too much yet to do for thee.

"With that, the hand of God must have pulled that ripcord. The parachute was immediately released.

"I don't know how much further I fell but I landed in a pretty tall tree in some marshland."

Father McLaughlin had with him a hunting knife lent him by a fellow officer and managed to cut himself free of the parachute and drop to the ground. Then he tramped through the woods to a farmhouse and telephoned to his home and to police that he was "okay."

HE ARRIVED in Philadelphia 45 minutes late for the wedding. It had already started but he was present for the ceremony.

The priest was first reported killed in the crash. When no body was found in the plane, a search was begun. Lt. Henk, who parachuted to safety without difficulty, had said he believed the priest had left the plane before he did.

Bedridden Mom Sees Graduation Via Movie Film

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis. (AP)—A bedridden mother will get to see her midshipman son graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy after all, thanks to intervention by President Eisenhower.

The mother, Mrs. Carmen Shafer, was too ill to travel to Annapolis, Md., to see her son, Richard, graduate, so the President arranged for Shafer's part in the commencement program to be filmed.

The films will be flown here so Mrs. Shafer can look at them at her bedside.

Denmark King's Library Too Small

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—King Frederik IX needs more library space. Librarians counted more than 100,000 volumes in the Christiansborg castle library and weeded out 1,000 duplicates. These will be sold at a Copenhagen second-hand bookshop at their market value.

Dear Mr. Petree:

Your furniture buyers recently visited our factories in Lenoir, North Carolina, and requested we furnish them some very "out-standing value" that you could offer to your customers.

Since we have always prized our friendship with Barker Bros., as well as their being one of our largest accounts, we naturally wanted to come up with the best value possible. We at Broyhill Factories are quite proud to furnish you this traditional bedroom group for your special sale. We have included all of the quality features that your customers would normally find only in suites selling at much higher prices.

Sincerely,

LONG BEACH 12, CALIF., SUNDAY, JUNE 3, 1956

SECTION C

With MALCOLM EPLEY

CAMPUS chatter:

At the annual "Black and White Banquet" of Long Beach State College journalists at the Hawaiian the other eve, special awards were given for able and conscientious work on the various campus publications.

When they got around to the staff of the college yearbook, the Prospector, several of the honorees were missing. The names of Jim Moore, John Chillington, Gloria McCann, Barbara Rippenhagen and Sue Brooks were called, but none of these worthy young folks walked up to receive awards.

The reason: They were too busy that night, getting out the year book, to attend the banquet.

SOME strange requests are received at Long Beach City College, and one of the strangest of recent date came from a fellow named Wayne O'Neal of 829 West D St., Ontario.

He said he had met a student named Anthony at Victoria Beach, liked him very much, but forgot to get his full name or address.

"Would it be possible," he wrote to City College, "for you to send me the last names and addresses of all male students named Anthony?"

If the Anthony who was at Victoria Beach happens to read this, he might get in touch with O'Neal, and the college authorities, and save somebody a lot of work.

PAUL STRADER JR., who is making his first try for public office in the 70th Assembly district race next Tuesday, won't be here to find out how he fared in the voting. He'll have to get the news by telegram from associates.

Strader is leaving late on election day with his wife, the former Gilberte Muller, for Troyes, France, where Mrs. Strader will visit her mother. The Straders met and married while he was serving with the Judge Advocate General's Department in France during the war.

THIS department has been asked by Mrs. Dorothy Waller to pass along a good word for a couple of employees of the City Public Services Dept.

Mrs. Waller, a matron at the girls' gym at Rogers Junior High, lost her purse at Second and Covina, when she got out of her car. The public service men, working on a city job at the corner there, found the purse, took it across town to her home, and refused to take anything for a reward. Their names, she learned, were Comstock and Erickson.

Another purse-finding story comes from Henry Sausser, an elderly North Dakotan who spent the winter here and returned to his home a week or two ago.

Shortly before he left, Sausser lost his purse on the floor of a local restaurant. He had about given up hope of finding it when a letter arrived from the woman who had found it—Mrs. E. Ralph Collins, 207 La Verge Ave. Sausser is now back in North Dakota, singing the praises of Long Beach and the honest people who live here.

A RECENT item in our Ten Years ago column told how 800 pounds of butter a day was being received at the Long Beach post office.

This brought a flood of memories of the war days of rationing shortages, when midwestern relatives of local folks saved the day for them by mailing foods they couldn't buy on the local market.

No butter comes through the post office any more, according to Postmaster George McMillin.

"We don't even get any baby chicks any more," he said. "It used to be in the spring, we got cheeping chicks sent here from Texas or elsewhere. I haven't heard a cheep this year."

Outside of an occasional cake or box of cookies for servicemen stationed here, the post office just isn't handling much incoming food. McMillin recalls that they used to get maple sugar and maple syrup in season from Vermont or thereabouts, but it's all right with him that that has stopped, too.

Every now and then the containers would break and free-running maple syrup can make a mess in the mail.

Dull Campaign Chugs Toward Close

50-Pct. Vote Seen; No Republican Race

By MALCOLM EPLEY

The 1956 primary campaign rattled around the turn for home today, still begging for public interest and not getting much.

From 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday, about half of the Long Beach area's 184,349 registered voters are expected to go to the polls in an election in which the only local partisan contests are for Democratic nominations.

Because of the lack of Republican contests here and the fact that President Eisenhower is unopposed for GOP presidential preference in the statewide balloting, Republican leaders were concerned about the danger of a smaller than usual Republican voter turnout.

On the Democratic side, the presidential preference contest between Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver had provoked the top interest in the primary campaign.

But even that appeared unlikely to produce enough voting to bring the total vote here up to more than about 50 per cent of the registration. In the 1954 primary, about 47½ per cent of the voters here went to the polls.

LOCALLY, PRIME interest centers around the chances of the three Republican incumbents to win double nominations.

Republican nominations are assured for Rep. Craig Hosmer in the 18th Congressional District, Assemblymen Herbert R. Klockslem in the 44th Assembly District and Assemblyman W. S. Grant in the 70th Assembly District. These Republicans have no opposition on the GOP ballot, but they have crossed on the Democratic side.

There, Hosmer will battle with Democrat Raymond C. Simpson for the Democratic Congressional nomination in the only local contest that has produced any fireworks in the campaign.

In the 44th Assembly District, Democrats will choose among Republican Klockslem and Democrats Coy Sanders and Richard Nussell for the Democratic nomination. A three-way contest for the Democratic nomination in the 70th Assembly District finds Republican Grant and Democrats Dan T. Brice and Paul D. Strader as the candidates.

Simpson, Sanders and Brice have the endorsement of the volunteer Democratic Councils in their respective districts, and the primary may prove to be a test of the potency of this method of pre-primary endorsement. Nussell, in the 44th District, claims endorsement of the official party committees in the district and the county, and Strader has the endorsement of the 70th District Democratic County Central Committee.

The 44th and 70th Assembly Districts are divided generally along Orange Ave., with the 44th on the west. These two assembly districts constitute the 18th Congressional District, which comprises the Long Beach, Signal Hill and Lakewood areas.

LONG BEACH CITIZENS living on the west side of the city, which lies in the Fourth Supervisorial district, will mark their ballots in a contest between Supervisor Burton W. Chace, former Long Beach mayor, and Roy R. C. Sanderson of Redondo Beach. Chace is expected to get a heavy vote here in his bid for re-election.

The eastern boundary line of the Fourth Supervisorial District trict lies generally along Cherry Ave. Voters living east of that line will not participate in the Chace-Sanderson contest.

The two candidates for California's presidential preference on the Democratic ballot, Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver, have campaigned in this area and both have active supporting groups in Long Beach. Both sides here have indicated they are optimistic about the chances of their favorite.

Republicans, having no contest, have been urging a big vote of confidence for President Eisenhower in the GOP primary. There will be no voting on vice presidential preference.

There has been mild interest here in the U. S. Senatorial contest, where the GOP incumbent, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, is making a drive for a double nomination. Kuchel is generally conceded to be sure to win the Republican nomination, although two Republicans, Raymond R. Pritchard and Tilden Johnson, and Democrat Sam Yorty, have also filed for the GOP nomination.

Yorty has engaged in a warm political battle with State Sen.

CONGRESS CANDIDATES

CRAIG HOSMER

Hosmer, 41, is an attorney, a native of Brea, Calif., and grew up in Long Beach. He attended Wilson High, got his bachelor's degree at the University of California and his LL.B. degree at University of Southern California. He saw Navy service in World War II and attained the rank of commander. Hosmer entered politics as a candidate for Congress in 1950, was first elected in 1952 and re-elected in 1954. A Republican, he has cross-filed in the 1956 election. Hosmer generally supports the policies of President Eisenhower, but has differed with the Administration on some issues, notably the Upper Colorado water project. He is standing for re-election on the basis of his service to his district and the country and his established seniority in Congress.

RAYMOND C. SIMPSON

Simpson, 37, a Long Beach attorney, wants to go as congressman to Washington, D. C., his birthplace. He attended school in Long Beach and Pasadena, graduated in history at Pepperdine College, did graduate work in psychological warfare at the University of Hawaii, got his degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence at the University of Chicago. He has filed for Democratic nomination only in his second try for Congress. He states his basic economic philosophy proposes a program that will give to those who have an insufficiency, rather than giving more to those who already have a sufficiency. "I have campaigned on the basis of a practical, permanent peace program and equality in the civil rights field," said Simpson.

44TH ASSEMBLY DISTRICT ENTRIES

HERBERT R. KLOCKSLEM

Klockslem, a former Long Beach City Councilman who went to the Legislature in 1950, is seeking his fourth term on the basis of the record which, he says, "is well known to all who are interested in the welfare of the community." He was born in Indiana, graduated from high school and went to business college there. He came to Long Beach 35 years ago and has engaged in business and home-building here. A Republican, he has cross-filed in this year's primary. "I have worked constantly for good government, have represented this community vigorously, and have never missed a day of attendance at the Legislature since I was first elected," said Klockslem. "I am asking for a vote of confidence that will elect me at the primary."

RICHARD J. NUSSSELL

Nussell, a senior coordinator-public relations engineer, has received the endorsement of the Democratic central committees in the county and his district. He ran in 1954, won the Democratic nomination, lost the election in the final. Nussell got his education at the University of Indiana, Bradley Tech. Roger Babson Institute and Long Beach City College. He feels that water development and settlement of the tidelands issue are prime issues. "I feel that a young, aggressive and highly qualified man should represent the 44th District, due to the fact that we're rapidly becoming an industrial district. That is why all organized labor as well as the Southern California Business Men's Assn. are backing me this election."

COY SANDERS

Sanders, a sales executive in the real estate business, filed for the Democratic nomination only after receiving endorsement of the 44th District Democratic Council. He is a graduate of Pomona College and the USC Delinquency Control Institute, and before entering real estate was engaged in juvenile work here. His civic work brought him selection as outstanding citizen in 1951 as a result of a poll of community leaders. Sanders has held no elective office, but sought the Assembly nomination in 1954. "A candidate's past experience," said Sanders, "is important only as it indicates the set of his mind. My community has given me much. I would like the privilege of repaying that debt."

70TH ASSEMBLY DISTRICT ENTRIES

W. S. GRANT

Grant, a retired oil company executive, with a long record of public service in Long Beach, is seeking his fifth term in the Legislature. Grant is a native Californian, was educated in the state's public schools, and served eight years as overseas representative of the Union Oil Co. As a member of the tidelands interim committee at the last session of the Legislature, he carried the ball in bringing about the Long Beach tidelands settlement. Grant has filed for nomination by his own Republican Party and has cross-filed for the Democratic nomination. He says that his service in the Legislature has been non-partisan in nature. "On the basis of faithful service and my knowledge of California's government, I feel justified in asking for broad support in my bid for re-election," said Grant. "My record speaks for itself."

DAN T. BRICE

Brice, a union bricklayer who is making his first try for public office, got his education at the U. S. Maritime Academy at King's Point, Seton Hall University, Newark College of Engineering and Long Beach City College. He has been active in civic and political work in the community. Brice filed for the Democratic nomination after being endorsed by the 70th District Democratic Council. "I am for progress to keep pace with the vigor and growth of the state as a whole and the impact of the tremendous influx of young veterans and their families in the 70th Assembly District," said Brice. "I feel I am qualified to represent the district as a veteran aware of veteran problems, as a worker aware of the problems of labor, and as a parent vitally concerned about school facilities and teacher shortages and the need for child care centers."

PAUL D. STRADER

Strader, a native of West Virginia, is a Long Beach attorney who was with the Judge Advocate General's Department in World War II and later served as a judge in a U. S. Occupation Court in Germany. He served for a time as deputy city prosecutor here. A Democrat, Strader filed for his own party nomination only after receiving endorsement of the district party central committee. His platform includes speeding up freeway work and using funds from the Long Beach tidelands for state office building in the Long Beach-Lakewood area. "My platform emphasizes the forward look," said Strader. "I'm looking ahead for the things that we need to improve our district. I feel I am qualified by age (39) and background to give the Long Beach-Lakewood area vigorous and aggressive representation."

COUNCIL PREPARES TO DO A NOAH WEBSTER

Legislators Study Group of Definitions for Zoning

By GEORGE WEEKS

City Hall Reporter

City Council is about to take on a Noah Webster job.

After having sidestepped the assignment for two weeks, councilmen are scheduled to act Wednesday on a zoning dictionary—101 definitions prepared by the Planning Commission.

The new definitions are necessary for proper interpretation and administration of zoning regulations, according to Planning Director Werner Ruchti.

Many definitions are completely lacking in the current Municipal Code, Ruchti asserted in a foreword to the proposed dictionary. Others are vague and meaningless and still others are contradictory.

And Noah Webster's standard masterpiece is not always helpful. Numerous definitions appearing there are not specific enough for application to zoning cases that come before the commission and the Council.

The planners propose that the Council order adoption of the revised language for inclusion in the Municipal Code.

Here are some typical definitions proposed by the commission for words in frequent use before official bodies—often with only a dim understanding as to what they mean:

Alley—Any public way 20 feet or less in width designed and intended to provide only a secondary means of access to any property abutting thereon.

Breezeway—Any roofed structure which connects an accessory building with a main building. Such structure shall be of the same roof construction as the main building and shall not be less than 8 feet in width.

Building—Any structure having a single or common roof supported by columns or walls, for the housing, shelter or enclosure of persons, animals or property.

Court—Any open, unoccupied area, other than a yard, on the same lot with a building or buildings, and bounded on two or more sides by such building or buildings.

Frontage—All the property fronting on one side of a street between intersecting streets or between a street and right of way, waterway, park, beach, and of street or city boundary.

Hedge—Any type of plant material arranged as a barrier or boundary.

Lot—Land occupied or to be occupied by open uses, or by a building or buildings, including such open areas as are required by this ordinance, and having its frontage upon a street.

Motel or motor lodge—Any group of two or more detached or semi-detached buildings containing individual dwelling or sleeping units designed for or used by automobile tourists or transients, with a garage attached or parking space on the same lot or site, including groups designated as automobile or auto court or tourist court.

Parcel of land—Any area of land which is not a lot as defined herein.

Rumpus or recreation room—A single room designed, used or intended to be used exclusively for recreational purposes by the occupants or guests of the occupants of the premises; however, no portion of such room shall be used as a kitchen.

Yard—Any open space, other than a court, adjacent to any lot line, unobstructed from the ground to the sky except for

LIMPING TO L.B.

Dislocated Foot Bone Slows Candidate's Hike

By HARRY KARNIS

A dislocated foot bone slowed but did not halt Candidate Roy R. C. Sanderson Saturday in his 87-mile campaign walk through the 4th Supervisorial District.

Connie Anastassiou, Sanderson's special events co-ordinator, reported that the candidate treated the dislocation himself. "He's a chiropractor," she pointed out.

Saturday night found Sanderson limping through the San Pedro and Wilmington area.

And if all went well, said Miss Anastassiou, he would hit the road again early today and arrive at Long Beach's Lincoln Park about 11 a.m. End of the road will be Belmont Pier, at which Sanderson expects to arrive about 1 p.m.

THE LONG WALK started last Monday at Malibu Pier on the Ventura County line.

Sanderson strode briskly off with a campaign truck following him. En route he halted to shake hands and make speeches on street corners. Before nightfall he had passed through Santa Monica and come to Beverly Hills, where a person afoot is always a rare specimen.

Tuesday he strode through Culver City and Venice. He took Memorial Day off and resumed the trek on Thursday, passing through Westchester and Manhattan Beach. Friday, Hermosa Beach and Redondo Beach.

Saturday in Torrance, asked how he felt, Sanderson said: "Great." Soon thereafter he limped to a halt with the bone dislocation. After some manipulation, he was able to proceed, however.

Said Miss Anastassiou who has campaign budget worries: "Thank heavens, he's a do-it-yourself candidate."

Sanderson is trying to unseat 4th District Supervisor Burton W. Chace.

transients, with a garage attached or parking space on the same lot or site, including groups designated as automobile or auto court or tourist court.

Parcel of land—Any area of land which is not a lot as defined herein.

Rumpus or recreation room—A single room designed, used or intended to be used exclusively for recreational purposes by the occupants or guests of the occupants of the premises; however, no portion of such room shall be used as a kitchen.

Yard—Any open space, other than a court, adjacent to any lot line, unobstructed from the ground to the sky except for projections specifically permitted by this ordinance.

Tree—Any type of natural growth except farm crops which are cut at least once a year, and except shrubs, bushes or plants which are maintained at a height of not more than 5 feet.

AIR QUEEN

Judy Bell will be "Miss Aviation" for the Sale on Wings display today at the Municipal Airport. The public exhibit of private planes, complete with price tags, is being staged by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to spur interest in aviation.

Navy Bride Found Dead in Her Home

June E. Wooten, 17, bride of a year, and a prospective mother, was found dead in her apartment by her husband, Lloyd B. Wooten, 20, of the USS Lucid, when he returned to his home, at 603 Truman Boyd Manor, Saturday, after being at sea for seven days.

Mrs. Wooten, reported to be subject to fainting spells, is believed by police to have broken her neck when she fell and struck her head against the wall of her bedroom early Saturday.

The body is at Dilday's Mortuary, pending coroner's examination.

Two friends of the deceased, Sylvia J. Ellis, 626 Truman Boyd Manor, and Willa D. Miller, 594 Truman Boyd Manor, told police that Mrs. Wooten had gone to a show with them Friday night and they had left her at her apartment Saturday at 1:30 a.m., apparently in good health.

Wooten said that his wife was being treated by a Navy doctor.

REGIONAL POLITICS

Simpson Calls Report of Ships Transfers a Political Hokum

By The Lookout

A recent report of possible movement of Navy aircraft carriers to Long Beach became involved in political discussion Saturday as candidates in the congressional races at stake in Tuesday's election began mop-up operations in their campaigns.

Congressman Craig Hosmer's recent statement that possibly six aircraft carriers would be moved to Long Beach came under fire of his opponent, Raymond C. Simpson, who also took a shot at the local newspapers for printing the story.

But Hosmer said there was nothing wrong with the report, and that it is true that transfer of the carriers had been recommended by Vice Adm. A. M. Fride, commander of the Pacific Fleet Air Forces, to Vice Adm. Felix B. Stump, commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet. Two carriers have already come here, he said. As to the others, he noted, the story made it clear that the movement was simply under consideration.

Simpson, addressing his campaign workers Saturday morning, claimed that the story and the way it was displayed in the newspaper appeared to represent a political conspiracy. He used such words as fraud, deception, concealment, hokum and political lies. He said that Los Angeles newspaper stories had refuted the report, but the refutation had not been printed in the Long Beach paper.

Hosmer commented that sometime ago he was asked by a member of the Press-Telegram staff about the possibilities of carrier transfers, after the reporter apparently heard about it on the "harbor beat" here. He said there was no conspiracy of any kind—just an attempt to get information on a matter of great interest in Long Beach. He made inquiries in Washington and learned of the recommendation, but again pointed out that no final action on six carriers had been announced. The headline over the story, it was noted, qualified the carrier movement strictly as a possibility, reading: "Navy May Move Six Carriers to L.B. Port."

Simpson said that the "exaggerated report" had led certain business men to negotiate costly leases for storerooms in which they propose to open businesses catering to Navy personnel.

POSTOFFICE ISSUE

Simpson, Democratic candidate who is fighting Republican Hosmer's bid for a double nomination at Tuesday's voting, likewise took issue with publicity given reports of a new post office for Lakewood. He said he had investigated this matter and found it to be nothing but rumor.

Hosmer stated that the postmaster general has definitely reached a decision to establish a post office in Lakewood, and that the information printed on this matter is correct.

But Simpson said that a "prejudiced press is passionately pushing for the re-election of a do-nothing Congressman." He also complained that Hosmer has not identified himself as a Republican in campaign literature.

CLAIMS CONFLICT

In the other congressional race—that for U. S. Senator—there was news Saturday from the camps of Republican incumbent, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, and State Sen. Richard Richards, who is seeking the Democratic nomination.

Dan Kimball, chairman of the Richards committee, said Richards will win the Democratic nomination by a "convincing majority." Noting that Kuchel is trying for Democratic as well as the Republican nomination, he said "the cloak of non-partisanship with which he has sought

50-Pct. Vote Seen Likely Here Tuesday

Richard Richards, Democrat, in the senatorial nomination contest. Richards, who has the endorsement of the California Democratic Council, has filed for Democratic nomination only.

IN THE NONPARTISAN department of the balloting, Los Angeles County voters will name 28 Superior Court judges Tuesday. There are contests in only three races and little interest has been shown in this situation here.

Also on the nonpartisan ballot is the district attorney election, with District Attorney S. Ernest Roll seeking re-election as the only filed candidate.

All local voters will find two measures on their ballots. One, Prop. C, would authorize an increase in the tax limitation for general operation of the Long Beach Unified School District. The other, Prop. W, would permit the Metropolitan Water District to issue short-term notes to finance expansion of the system through which it distributes Colorado River water to 6,000,000 Southern Californians. There has been little controversy over either proposal.

In each Assembly district, party registrants will choose seven members of the County Central committees of both major parties in Tuesday's voting. This phase of the campaign has received a modicum of attention.

to surround himself will be ripped away for all to see."

But the Kuchel campaign committee announced Saturday that 40 of the state's top labor leaders "have given their blessing to U. S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel and will urge members of their unions to vote for him."

BRICE CAMPAIGN
Dan T. Brice, Democratic candidate for 70th District Assemblyman, tapered off his campaign over the weekend.

He concluded a series of house parties at the home of Carol and Lou Zukor, 3144 Stevely Ave., where he spoke in behalf of Propositions C and W on the Tuesday ballot.

MRS. SNYDER SPEAKS

Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, will be guest speaker for the June meeting of the Long Beach Democratic Luncheon Club at noon Monday in the Empire Room of the Wilton Hotel.

The club usually meets on Tuesday, but is holding its luncheon on Monday "so members can get out and work to get people to exercise their right to vote on Tuesday," according to Joe Kennick, club president.

Mrs. Snyder is the first woman to be elected to the Democratic party's top state post.

Monaco Mum on Grace's Expectations

MONTE CARLO (AP)—If Grace Kelly is going to have a baby, nobody in Monaco admits knowing anything about it.

The American actress is Her Highness Princess Grace of Monaco, since her marriage to Prince Rainier III in April.

The prince's personal chaplain, Father Francis Tucker, said Saturday when asked about rumors that the Prince and Grace were expecting: "I don't know anything about it."

Officials in the tiny principality on the Riviera coast also said they were completely in the dark as to whether the honeymoon couple are about to become parents.

Membership Up for Girls Scouts

NEW YORK (AP)—Girl Scout membership reached an all-time high of 2,642,616 last year, the Girl Scouts said Saturday in their annual report to Congress.

The report revealed that the organization is increasing by more than 850 members a day. "One out of eight girls of scout age (7-17) is a Girl Scout, according to the report."

Drink Less Milk, Heart Doctor Urges

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Dr. Irvine H. Page, president of the American Heart Association said Saturday that Americans should drink less milk to cut down their calorie intake.

JOURNALISM STUDENTS HONORED

College Journalists Gain Guild Honors

James E. (Jim) Mangan, a last year turned to journalism senior at Long Beach State College, and Ben Cunningham, finishing his second year at Long Beach City College, have been chosen as the city's outstanding journalistic students for the 1955-56 college year.

Mangan and Cunningham received trophies last week from the Independent Press-Telegram unit of the Los Angeles Newspaper Guild at respective banquets of the colleges' publications organizations.

Runners-up at LBSC who received certificates of merit for outstanding journalistic work on campus publications were Elson E. Irwin, Ursula Delworth, Ronald Roederer and Mrs. Dorothy Sawyer.

Those getting similar certificates at LBCC were Frank Goolsby, Holly Hill, Allee Arnold, Miji Skare, Charles Jackson and Bob Crittendon. Jackson and Crittendon are students at the Business and Technology Division of LBCC and received their citations at a separate meeting.

JUDGING WAS DONE by a Guild committee composed of Donnell Culpepper, chairman, Fred Kraft and Ted Kree. Mangan, who is married and has six children, lives at 3521 Charlemagne Ave. He is a retired Navy chief. He served in World War II in a destroyer division. He entered LBSC in 1954 after his retirement and

CUNNINGHAM, editor of The Viking, served in the Korean War with the Army. He is married and has one son. He and his family live at 3349 Gondar Ave.

Cunningham, who went to high school in Dayton, Ohio, plans to continue his studies at the University of Southern California next year. He will major in political science, with a minor in journalism.

Both men already have done some writing for this newspaper, particularly in the sports field.

Culpepper, speaking to the journalism students at both colleges, explained the purposes of the awards, namely to encourage more Long Beach students to study journalism, and to take up newspaper work as a career. This is the fourth year that the awards have been presented. In addition to the cups, each college has a permanent plaque on which the names of the top winners are inscribed each year.

3 Seek Thompson's Water Post Tuesday

T. Mayne Thompson of Bellflower, incumbent director of Division 5 in the Central Basin Municipal Water District, will face competition from three Lakewood City residents in Tuesday's election.

Seeking Thompson's post are school teacher Wilson Bell of 4203 Maybank Ave., truck loading contractor Phillip Guy Patterson of 5619 Verdura Ave. and dairymen Joseph J. Covas of 4551 Lakewood Blvd. All three Lakewood men have been active in Lakewood political life. Bell is a member and past chairman of the City Planning Commission. Patterson is a member and past chairman of the City Traffic and Safety Commission. Covas was an unsuccessful candidate for City Council at the time of incorporation two years ago.

The incumbent director, Thompson, resides at 947 Beach Ave. He is active in Bellflower community affairs and is associated with Thompson's store. Division 5 includes Lakewood, Bellflower, Signal Hill, Paramount, Artesia, Hawaiian Gardens and Norwalk.

AN OPEN LETTER TO OUR FELLOW DEMOCRATS

DEMOCRATS FOR KUCHEL COMMITTEE

704 SOUTH SPRING ST. ROOM 402 • TRINITY 2457 • LOS ANGELES 14, CALIFORNIA
May 29, 1956

Fellow Democrats:

As Democrats, we have three choices for United States Senator on June 5. The first name on our ballot is that of our incumbent United States Senator, Thomas H. Kuchel, who has ably represented California in the United States Senate for the past 3 1/2 years and is now up for re-election.

Tom Kuchel has a background of 20 years of service to this State and nation as Assemblyman, State Senator, Navy veteran, State Controller and United States Senator, to which high post he was named by Governor Earl Warren in 1952 and elected by over 300,000 majority two years ago.

He has been a hard-working, efficient senator, serving the best interests of all the people. During his 3 1/2 years in the United States Senate, he has sponsored legislation to assure prevailing wage standards on Federal projects, to protect veterans against loss of their G.I. insurance, to increase old age assistance, to increase salaries of low-paid Postal employees and other government workers, to provide stronger penalties against dope traffic, to provide Federal assistance in school building and to protect the rights of citizens before Senate investigating committees. The best evidence of his ability to get things done is the fact that 49 bills which he has sponsored have been voted into public law.

He has been strongly endorsed by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, The Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen, and many other organizations representing labor, industry and just plain people.

Neither of his opponents can match this record. In our opinion, they are by comparison sadly lacking in the experience, good judgment and proven ability of Senator Kuchel. California now enjoys a high level of prosperity for all the people. Now is no time to risk our jobs and our income by electing an untried and inexperienced United States Senator.

A record is better than a promise. After studying the records of these three candidates, we believe there can be but one choice. We urge you to join with us to re-elect United States Senator Tom Kuchel on June 5.

Yours for Good Government,

Manuelito Kelly
STATE CHAIRMAN
Henry J. Daniels
SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA CHAIRMAN
William H. Hanks

Ethiopia, Soviet Raise Legations

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP)—Ethiopia and the Soviet Union have agreed to raise their respective legations in Moscow and Addis Ababa to embassy status, the Ethiopian Foreign Ministry said Saturday.

An Ethiopian national football team is leaving Wednesday for Russia to meet Soviet teams. All expenses of the 18 Ethiopian players are being paid by the Soviet Government.

ON LARGE LOTS

Only $50 cash is required to move into beautiful Rancho Bell Air, centrally-located development just 10 minutes from most South Coast Communities. On spacious lots, the new 4 and 3-bedroom homes are part of a fully-developed community on Westminster Blvd.

Only $50 Cash Down for Rancho Bell Air

Only $50 cash can move a fully developed home community. A school is less than a block away, all community facilities are in and paid for and a nearby highway provides rapid driving to work.

Although 10 minutes from most coastal communities, Rancho Bell Air is a "million miles" from daily cares in a

dential Westminster, the new homes have massive brick fireplaces, genuine bath and plaster walls, comfortable hardwood floors and many built-in accessories including forced air heat with summer fan, Pioneer built-in oven and range, Waste King garbage disposer, automatic water heater and thermostatic control for the forced air furnace. To see the models decorated by the Central Furniture Co., take 7th St. to Los Alamitos, turn right to Westminster Blvd. Go left 1 mile to the entrance marked by signs and waving palm trees.

Both the low terms offered and the many features provided are boosting sales in California Gardens Homes, Cerritos and Gilbert St., in the Garden Grove-Anaheim area.

Veterans need no cash down except costs and impounds to buy the 3 or 4-bedroom homes with 2 baths with monthly payments of $66.92 including principal and interest. Some of the homes are ready for immediate occupancy. Of contemporary design, the homes have such features as built-in dishwasher; Dish-Wiz for quick cleanups; Martha Washington built-in range and oven; Nu-Tone hood and vent over range; all-purpose breakfast bar with built-in Convertible and seats; Waste King disposal; Ash panel living room walls; a distinctive dining area and entertainment-size patio with sliding wall of glass leading to it.

Forced air heating system has a summer cooling system. Aluminum casement windows are provided and there is Rockwool insulation in ceilings. The homes are built on lots large enough to have a swimming pool.

Front, side and rear lawns are completely landscaped and there is a 5-foot basket weave fence enclosing the back yard. The over-size garages have extra room.

From Long Beach drive east on Spring St., which becomes Cerritos Ave., and the homes are located on Cerritos between Magnolia and Gilbert Sts. They also may be reached by driving east on 7th St. (Garden Grove Blvd.) to Gilbert and turn left. Or go east on Carson (Lincoln Blvd.) to Gilbert and turn right.

IN CHAMPAGNE HOME

Here is one of the attractive Champagne Homes in Garden Grove which has easy terms for both vet and non-vet.

Like Carrousel Room in Champagne Homes

Designed for a regular merry-go-round of fun and at-home relaxation, day in and day out, the lively and gay "Carrousel Room" continues to attract throngs of visitors to Contracting Engineers' Champagne Homes at Magnolia and Chapman Ave. in suburban Garden Grove.

Designed by Smith and Williams, noted architects who captured the 1954 National Award of Merit for the most "livable" home design, and imaginatively decorated by C. Tony Perelra, world-famed color stylist and interior decorator, this highly versatile room was transformed, through design ingenuity, from an ordinary garage room to a colorful fun-room.

Appropriately, it utilizes informal Dutch doors, striped wooden valances, decor that is as clever as it is original, and unique fixture. Together they successfully convert its happy theme.

A VARIETY of floor plans

are available, offering 3 and 4 bedrooms, plus the "Carrousel Room." Each has two big, bright baths, and an oversized two-car garage.

Typical is "Horizon House." It features a giant floor-to-ceiling fireplace, covered patio with built-in barbecue, and sumptuous master suite with its own private adjoining bathroom.

"Galaxy Home" is noteworthy for its lovely and authentic Swedish fireplace, comfortable family room, and unique interior masonry.

Frank Chandler of Pioneer Land Co., sales agent, explained that non-veterans may now move into one of these prestige residences for only $995.50 down.

Easier-than-rental purchase plans are also available to veterans, Chandler explained.

Champagne Homes are reached from Long Beach via 7th St. (Garden Grove Blvd.) to Magnolia; turn left and drive to model homes at Magnolia and Chapman in Garden Grove.

Ad Group Will Meet

The Long Beach Advertising Club joins the Advertising Club of Los Angeles in playing host to more than 1,000 advertising men and women from the 11 Western states who will meet in Los Angeles June 24 to 28, when the Advertising Association of the West holds its 1956 convention at the Statler Hotel.

Robert W. Sample, convention general chairman, said the 5-day meeting will be known as an "Ad-Orama," with many of the nation's outstanding advertising specialists participating.

Actress Arlene Dahl will serve as the Ad-Orama honorary hostess.

Sample said Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, Treasurer of the United States; Mayor Norris Poulson of Los Angeles; Norman Strouse, President of J. Walter Thompson, and William G. Werner, advertising manager, Proctor and Gamble, will be speakers on the opening day.

Special convention events listed by Sample include a reception on Sunday, June 24, sponsored by the Los Angeles Newspaper Publishers Association, a dinner-dance at the Beverly Hilton Hotel, June 25, a tour of CBS color television facilities and dinner at the Moulin Rouge, June 26, President's Banquet, June 27, and a tour of Disneyland, June 28.

Kress Store Will Expand Sales Area

Work already is well under way on a vast remodeling program at the S. S. Kress Co. building, 5th and Pine Ave., and when completed it will make a decided change in the downtown appearance, store officials announced.

On the exterior a new veneer will be installed up to the third floor, blending with the new modern fronts on other stores in the area. The upper floors of the towering office structure will be painted to blend with the veneer.

Much of the half-million-dollar program will be done inside the Kress Store which occupies the main floor and basement.

Sales space of the store will be increased 25 per cent to make the store the largest in the Southland. New types of displays will be installed.

The ceiling of the main floor will be lowered and the entire store is to be air-conditioned. The lunch counter will be moved from the basement to the main floor. Escalators will be

Sees Great Future for Own-Your Owns

With Long Beach virtually filled as far as housing tracts are concerned, it now is becoming one of the leaders in the nation in own-your-own apartments, reports A. Charles Koerner, 219 Cedar, who has sold more than $2 million of the units.

"We started these own-your-owns in a big way here in Long Beach when in the sale of the stead of lifetime leases," said Koerner. "Now others are doing the same."

Koerner now has booked for selling the remainder of the year $1,138,000 worth of the units.

Soon ready for offering will be the Coronado Manor, 3130 E. 2nd St., 12 units built by Howard Latham of Howard's Jewelry Co.

Installed to serve the basement area.

New modern facilities also are to be installed for the employees, the company said.

The store will remain open during the entire remodeling program.

Von's New Lakewood Market Will Open for Preview Tuesday

Von's Lakewood Market, located at Carson St. and Woodruff Ave., will open this week, presenting the Lakewood-Long Beach area with the most modern store operated by the 56-year-old grocery company.

Tuesday and Wednesday will be "preview days" while the gala formal opening celebration is scheduled for Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Perc Reins, general manager of the big new market, announced that for the 4-day formal opening celebration there will be a big "Food Fair" sponsored by many of the major firms selling products in the store. This food show, which will see many samples and gifts given the public, will be held out of doors so the interior of the market will not be jammed.

"THIS WILL BE the 25th market in Von's chain and company officials said it will be one of their largest and their most modern.

Surrounded by acres of free parking, the store is of modern architecture to provide customer ease in shopping. Extremely wide aisles are used.

"This market is a virtual one-stop shopping center," explained Reins. "Patrons will find more than 6,000 items stocked on the easy-to-shop display racks.

"Besides the large grocery, meat and produce departments we will have separate departments such as drugs and sundries, liquor, big delicatessen, snack bar, Van de Kamp's Bakery and a large bulk cookie department.

"A GIANT DAIRY BOX is another feature and we will have a hand-packed ice cream department.

"Special services such as check cashing, utility paying desk and a speedway checking stand also will be provided."

The big market will open at 9 a. m. every morning and close at 9 p. m. except on Friday nights when it will remain open until 10 p. m.

License Examiner Really Can Preach

HUGO, Okla. (AP)—A 34-year-old drivers' license examiner with the Oklahoma Department of Public Safety has been busy since February combining his present job with newer duties as a minister.

R. J. Brown is looking forward to an even busier schedule, as he prepares to further his education in the ministry. One of his problems was solved when a friend offered to pay his tuition for a session at Oklahoma Baptist University, Shawnee.

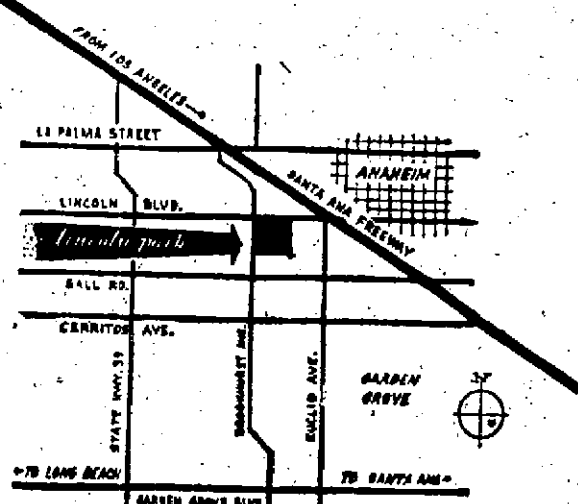

Active in church work since the age of 16, Brown was ordained as a minister last February and since has served as full-time pastor of Oak Grove Baptist Church.

OFFERED VETERANS

Award Homes de luxe series announce brisk sales to veterans of homes in final unit at Golden West St. and Garden Grove Blvd. No down payment, and $61.93 monthly buys a three-bedroom and family room home with two baths and two-car garage.

Award Homes Sales Continue to Climb

Strong demand for quality 3-bedroom and family room Award Homes offered to veterans on terms of no down payment is being demonstrated at Golden West St. and Garden Grove Blvd. Within the past few weeks, several thousand veterans and their families have visited the 7 furnished, landscaped model homes and sales have been good. It is reported by the developers, a Volk-McLain Co. There is still a good selection of lots, designs and floor plans.

During the recent American Institute of Architects' convention in Los Angeles, one of the Award Homes received the AIA First Honor Award for "outstanding contribution to homes for better living." The award-winning home may now be seen at Golden West St. and Garden Grove Blvd. Previously, Award Homes won the National Award of Merit given by the National Association of Home Builders.

New Land Firm Picks Officers

Appointment of Frank C. Chandler as general sales manager of the newly formed Key Land Co. of Whittier was announced by James B. Frank, president of the firm.

Frank A. Stout will be vice president, Frank said. Sales supervisors are Bob Richards and Harry Wilson. The new firm is situated at 11048 E. Washington Blvd. in Whittier. A new land procurement department has been opened to aid home builders in securing acreage.

An escrow department at the same address will aid home buyers, Frank said. In addition the new firm will operate its own insurance and Home Resale department.

Low Terms in Shamrock Push Sales

Exceptionally good sales at Shamrock Park's third and final unit are reported by Frank Hart, general sales manager of Walker & Lee, Inc., agents for the Garden Grove development.

At Shamrock Park, veterans may purchase on no-down payment financing and buyers still can buy such needed appliances as refrigerator, range, and washer by having the price applied to their loan and without making an additional down payment.

"One of the most popular features at Shamrock Park is the large living room and walls of glass, and real fireplaces," Hart continued. "This fits into the Southern California trend for indoor-outdoor living." Hart said, "and adjoining the living rooms are rear patios with barbecues so that the entire family can relax or entertain in the style of casual good pleasure offered only where climate allows the barbecue-patio to become an important function in every-day relaxation."

"Shamrock Park is reached from Los Angeles and northern points by taking the Santa Ana Freeway to Harbor and turning south. From Long Beach, take 7th Street (Garden Grove Boulevard) and turn south at Harbor to model homes.

CHARM OF NEW ENGLAND

This is one of the models of New England Rustic Estates which is attracting crowds of buyers to the Anaheim development, salesmen report.

New England Rustic Estates Are Appealing to Home Buyers

Approval is being registered by home buyers visiting New England Rustic Estates, development of "Architect Homes" in an orange grove at Katella and Magnolia in Anaheim. It was reported by sales agents.

"Our custom-built homes have always been received enthusiastically and sell out quickly because they are priced moderately," said Andrew Weiner, official of California-Pacific Construction Co.

"New England Rustic Estates have two additional factors in their favor: First, this development is set in a beautiful orange grove which captures the hearts of families who wish to enjoy the full beauty of outdoor living."

"Secondly," Weiner continued, "these homes are offered on a no-down-payment basis to veterans and conventional and FHA financing as well."

The homes have 3 and 4 bedrooms, and 2 bedrooms with convertible den. They have as much as 1500 square feet of floor space and are set on wide lots.

"These homes have all the lux features such as 2 baths with colored fixtures, fireplaces, ash cabinets and Early American wrought iron hardware," Weiner said. "They are truly custom-built although prices start at just $16,420."

Model homes are open Sundays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and weekdays from 10 to 6.

Reports Gain in Business

LOS ANGELES—Business activity in the 11 western states continued its steady upward climb during the first three months of 1956, showing an increase of 6.5 per cent over the first three months of the same period a year ago, according to Prudential Insurance Co.'s seasonally-adjusted index. A gain of .3 per cent was shown over the fourth quarter of 1955. Construction activity, seasonally-adjusted, rose 2 per cent during the first quarter above the preceding 3-month period. Compared to the first quarter of 1955, building permit valuations declined 5 per cent, while engineering contracts awarded gained 20 per cent.

Extra Built-ins Appeal in New Prudential Homes

With industry constantly expanding in Orange County, more and more families desiring fine homes in a distinguished neighborhood are finding that the immediate occupancies offered by Prudential Homes at their Anaheim Estates development fulfill their every requisite, according to Harry L. Scholer, well known Southland builder.

Five distinctively furnished models are open daily displaying fresh concepts of living through the use of unique built-in conveniences. Four center-hall floor plans present room arrangements adaptable to individual residential needs. For example the model called the "Suburban Sophisticate" is an outstanding dwelling for the typical family. Generous living space is easily convertible by folding doors to private dining room, family room, and den areas.

The large garage makes possible an enjoyable 420 square foot indoor recreation room.

Especially conceived for those preferring a unique interior is the "Western Galleria." It has a sunken living room bordered by a stylized wrought iron rail and an adjacent raised dining gallery. This combination provides a most unusual yet adaptable setting.

"THE RURAL HOSTESS" has large family room and convertible den that provides a

Havenwood's Opening Sees Buying Rush

Liberal terms offered by Havenwood Homes to non-vets and to vets who have used their GI rights met with wide approval this past Sunday, the first day of opening, according to Art Wall the developer.

"A constant flow of visitors through the open models from 10 a.m. to well after closing time kept the entire sales staff on their toes," he said.

Of the sales written up, 7 have been stamped "Approved, forward to Escrow," said Bob Hauge, sales manager for the firm. For those that require occupancy in a hurry, possession in 5 days is the motto.

With terms at $495 total down and $87.50 per month and the wife's earned income included to qualify, makes it possible for almost anyone with the desire to own a home an opportunity to fulfill that wish. Prices start at $12,250 and stop at $12,500. All units are 3 bedrooms with 1½ or 2 baths.

Constructed along conventional lines, with hardwood floors in all homes and styles from provincials to moderns, there is a wide selection to choose from. With the use of 18 exterior designs and 4 different floor plans, the tract look has been eliminated, but the tract price retained.

Included in the features are select oak floors, forced air heating, Waste King disposal units, natural finish mahogany kitchen cabinets, extensive use of ceramic tile in the kitchens and "head high" over the shower area of bathtubs. The oversized 20x20 garages proved popular with "dad" for he now has work space as well as room for two cars.

Bob Hauge says, "The best way to visit the site, starting from Long Beach, is drive out E. 7th St. (which becomes Garden Grove Blvd.) to the center of Garden Grove. Watch for the Garden Grove water tower and turn South on Century Blvd. to Verano St. South on Verano to Trask Ave. and then East on Trask. The homes are just East of Verano on Trask Ave."

A PRUDENTIAL HOME

This photograph shows sunken living room of "Western Galleria" model cited as example of different styling crafted into Prudential Homes in Anaheim. Five furnished models boast individual arrangements having floor plans ideal for varied family requirements.

Visitors Thronging to Chapman Woods

Buyers of Chapman Woods homes enthuse with equal pleasure over each of the many features of the Garden Grove dwellings, reports Walker and Lee, Inc., sales agents. The Cliff B. Robertson development, opened recently, is enjoying a steady throng of visitors, it was revealed, maintaining the high sales record of opening week.

Much praise is given the color-harmonizing kitchen which features built-in Western Holly range and oven, built-in General Electric washer-dryer combination, Waste-King pulverizer and birch cabinetry. Armstrong linoleum and a breakfast bar complete the room for pretty as well as practical homemaking pursuits.

In the living rooms, high point of interest is held by the floor-to-ceiling free-standing fireplace of slumpstone, used brick or ruffled brick. The fireplace is backed by an indoor barbecue in the family room.

Patio areas are separated from the living room by sliding Horizon window walls which complement the Cathedral ceilings and cove-lighting in the living rooms. Center hall plans minimize room traffic and promote the privacy desired in the bedroom areas.

No down payment terms are offered veterans who buy in the subdivision, open at the corner of Chapman and 9th in Garden Grove. Visitors drive out Garden Grove Blvd. to Hwy. 39, north to Chapman and east on Chapman to 9th St.

Katella Park Open for Evening Viewers

"The long summer evenings are a wonderful time for Long Beach home buyers to drive out to Orange County and see what are," Herman Trott, sales manager of the Garden Grove development, said Saturday. Trott stated that the model homes will be open until 9 each evening now to accommodate buyers. He added that Katella Park is only about 20 minutes away from central Long Beach and even closer from many of the suburbs. The 4-bedroom, 2-bath model homes are located at the corner of Brookhurst St. and Katella Ave. Included in the sales price of $16,450 are built-in and color-matched range, oven, washer-dryer, refrigerator, dishwasher and waste disposer. "We feel that one of the reasons that sales have been building up at Katella Park lately is that buyers are really recognizing the importance of buying a home that has been especially designed for family living," Trott added. Among the features that buyers like are the separate and unique laundry area, the sliding wall between two of the bedrooms, and the luxurious finishes, such as hand-painted wallpaper, hardwood panel, the floor-to-ceiling all-brick fireplace, and the fact that the homes are on custom-styled lots. Builders are H. Cedric Roberts & Sons, creators of Roberts family homes.

FOR FAMILY LIVING

Roberts family homes in Katella Park are popular with buyers who appreciate a home especially designed for family living. Model homes at the Garden Grove development, only 20 minutes from downtown Long Beach, are now open until 9 p. m., so people can drive out during the long evening daylight hours.

FAIRYTALE HOME

Opening of the Fairview Ranchos residences last week drew big crowds of young and old to the Story-book Homes such as this.

Prince Charming Scenes Prove Great Attraction

Young and old alike thrilled to last week-end's preview reception of D. & E. Corporation's series of fairytale homes significantly called their "Prince Charming" series of Fairview Ranchos residences. Located at Fairview Ave. and Bristol St., in a residential section of Santa Ana, these "straight from the pages of Sleeping Beauty" and "Cinderella" big-family homes reflect a warm, rustic charm and Early American friendliness from their low, sweeping eaves, sparkling diamond-cut windows and to charming color combinations that highlight their restful Provincial styling. Inside is a whole houseful of mannered refinements such as Waste King kitchen, which is having its first official American showing in these homes. It includes built-in Waste King gas range with automatic pilot, gas wall-oven with window and automatic timer, built-in Dishmaster semi-automatic dishwasher with rinsing-drying action, and sink-installed dis-

Custom Styling in Bonser Homes

Confirming his judgment that what the buying public wants is individualized homes, Paul Bonser, builder reports that more than half of Majestic Homes on Western Ave., Anaheim, have already been purchased.

According to Bonser, 9 different elevations in this "custom-styled" group of 38 homes make the new residences as "individual as the families who move into them." Sites are large; homes are low and rambling with picturesque shake roofs. Featured are genuine lath and plaster walls, A-1 hardwood floors and oversize 2-car garages.

Designed for either vet or non-vet, Majestic Homes offer 3 or 4 bedrooms. Popular feature in the 3-bedroom homes is the cork-floored Family Room that can double as a den or sewing room.

STREAMLINED KITCHENS offer built-in O'Keefe & Merritt gas range and oven, disposals, and convenient double sink. Baths have colored fixtures and ceramic tile. Glamour feature is the unusual marble-topped Pullman. On the practical side, there's a 50 gallon water heater. Rich colored, used brick fireplace offer a pleasant vista through the wide, sliding patio doors. Majestic Homes are rapidly and easily reached from Long Beach. Drive out 7th St. and turn left (north) on Highway 39 (Stanton Ave.) Turn left (west) on Ball Rd., then right (north) on Western to model homes.

Outside Conditioning LOS ANGELES (UP)—The shipping clerk and busy housewife both need outside exercise to keep fit for their tasks, according to a professor of physical education at the University of Los Angeles campus here. He believes this is needed because the work they do is inadequate to keep them in condition to perform it.

DOUGLAS WORKERS HONORED

For outstanding patriotic accomplishment in their recent campaign, which signed up more than 31,000 new payroll savers to buy U. S. savings bonds regularly, the Douglas Aircraft Co. was awarded a citation by the Treasury Department during the annual convention of the Aircraft Industries Association in Williamsburg, Va., on May 24. The campaign brought the total of payroll savers in Douglas plants at Santa Monica, Long Beach and El Segundo, Calif., and at Tulsa, Okla., to 53,900. John R. Buckley (right), national director of the Treasury's U. S. Savings Bonds Division, is shown presenting the citation to A. M. Roehlen of Los Angeles, director of public relations for Douglas.

TOWERING SIGN

This 60-foot sign can be seen for many miles to direct homeseekers to the Merryville Estates which is having a grand opening today.

Tobin's Merryville Estates in Opening

"Look for the signs of the Tobin Companies, builders and beautiful Queen . . . she points the way to the grand opening of Tobin's new Merryville Estates which is having a grand opening today. This advertising theme supports the program of the new 3 and 4-bedroom, 2-bath homes priced from $15,195 to $16,600.

Terms for vets are no money down and low monthly payments of $77.61. For non-vets the terms are only $2,500 down and low monthly payments of $94.22 including principal and interest. Prospective buyers who saw Merryville Estates last week during the preview showing were delighted with the home selections which consist of 8 furnished models and 19 new exteriors. It has been pointed out by those closely related to the building industry that these new homes are the first in the nation to include so many of the newest and latest conceptions in planning, design and construction.

HERBERT D. TOBIN of the signs literally cover the area.

Orangewood Manor Reports Only Three Homes Remaining

There are only 3 homes remaining in Orangewood Manor reports Thomas Helt, spokesman for the McCarthy Company, sales agents for the Garden Grove development. These homes can be purchased by veterans with no down payment, Helt pointed out. Kitchens in Orangewood Manor have proven very popular with their beautiful Roper gas ranges in pastel colors that match the Columbia steel cabinets. The living rooms boast real fireplaces and walls of glass that offer popular indoor-outdoor living. Patios have built-in barbecues. From Long Beach, visitors drive out 7th St. (Garden Grove Blvd.) and turn north on Magnolia. From Los Angeles, take the Santa Ana Freeway, turn south on Magnolia and continue 4 miles to Orangewood Manor.

Buena Park Mutual Homes Can Assure Early Move-in

Construction has begun on the first units of Buena Park Mutual Homes, promising buyers an early move-in date at the newest development by the builders of Lakewood Park. The developers are working several crews simultaneously to speed up completion of homes already sold as well as those for sale this weekend in the "Center of the Southland," Buena Park. Months of planning have gone into making Buena Park Mutual Homes a complete community in which to live. A shopping center, which will be located across from the southwest corner of the unit will include a Sears, Roebuck and Co. store as well as specialty shops. Immediately west on Grand Ave., builders have scheduled construction of a 50-acre shopping center which will include a supermarket, bowling alley, department, drug and specialty stores. An elementary school within walking distance of all homes in the development is scheduled to open next semester, and Buena Park Mutual Homes offer an architectural styling to fit every taste. Everything from Early American and Farmhouse to Contemporary models with colored rock roofs are available at Buena Park Mutual Homes, with each home situated on a wide lot with plenty of indoor-outdoor living space. Several two-story models are included in the wide selection. WITH ALL THESE extra-value features, homeseekers are surprised to learn that Buena Park Mutual Homes are available to veterans and non-vets with down payments as low as $295. The low cost, long-term financing is available to veterans who have used their GI benefits, no matter when or where they were used, and to all non-vets. Buena Park Mutual Homes may be reached from Long Beach by driving east on Carson which becomes Lincoln Ave. Turn left on Grand Ave. (Highway 39) to the sales office at 7422 S. Grand Ave.

ANAHEIM HOME

Typified are the seven 3 and 4-bedroom, 2-bath homes which remain in Wonderland Homes' first unit in Anaheim, at corner of Ball Rd. and Walnut St., off the Santa Ana Freeway. Available because early buyers failed to qualify, the homes are offered to vets at savings.

'Bargain-Priced' Homes Offered

Seven lucky home seekers may save $1,200 to $1,500 each today at Wonderland Homes in the Anaheim area, where homes returned to the market because early buyers failed to qualify are to be sold at considerably below the current price of such 4-bedroom, 2-bath homes.

This was announced yesterday by a spokesman for the development, who said that although all homes of this quality will sell for much more money, the 7 homes which have returned to the market will be let go at their original prices of $12,485 to $13,825.

Terms of nothing down but costs and impounds are available to vets, with monthly payments actually lower than rent, it was stated.

"The 173 homes in our new unit will have higher prices and the monthly payments will have to be higher also because labor is higher now and all materials cost more," the official pointed out. "This means the first buyers who show up on Sunday will get a real bargain in both total price and in terms."

Designed by Architect William M. Bray, A. I. A., Wonderland Homes are located on the southwest corner of Ball Rd. and Walnut St. in Anaheim, within easy reach of Long Beach.

Visitors, it is suggested, should follow Carson (Lincoln) to Euclid Ave., turning right on Euclid to Ball Rd. where a left turn leads to Walnut St. and the model homes.

Home features include lots with from 6 to 8 full-bearing orange trees, living rooms with a complete wall of glass and sliding glass doors, fixed floor-to-ceiling windows overlooking paved patios, forced air heating, hood and fan over kitchen range area, garbage disposers, ceramic tile in bathrooms.

Lincoln Park Homes Built to Offer Gracious Living

Gracious living is a reality in Lincoln Park, located at Lincoln and Brookhurst in Anaheim, salesmen point out.

Built by Centex Construction Co., the nation's largest residential builder, these homes feature outstanding quality of construction and expert planning, in keeping with the company policy of offering the discriminating home buyer "the most house for the money."

Typical of the workmanship and planning which have earned Centex the title of "First in the Nation" is the Grant, one of five furnished models now open for inspection. Planned with a central hall arrangement, this home has such noteworthy features as double fireplaces of used brick, wall of built-in bookcases and cabinets, natural ash cabinets in the kitchen, built-in range and oven of antique copper finish, separate dining area, large utility room just off the kitchen, sliding doors to spacious closets, two baths with colored bath fixtures, glass-enclosed shower stalls, and tiled pullman sections topped with double medicine cabinets.

The master bedroom has its own adjoining bath, and opening off the hall are two other bedrooms with ash-paneled doors, a large linen closet with pull-out tray for sorting and folding, and utility closet housing the water heater and forced-air furnace.

Air-Conditioned Castle Crest Homes in Anaheim Shown Today

Castle Crest Homes, fully air-conditioned homes within reach of the junior executive, open today in Anaheim.

Large, luxurious, the homes are available to veterans for only $84.04 per month, and to non-vets on FHA terms at only $75 per month, according to Walker & Lee, sales agents.

Both monthly payments include principal and interest.

The air conditioning — not merely air-cooling — is one of many luxury features in Castle Crest homes located on Broadway just east of Magnolia Blvd. A complete forced air heating system is also included.

IN THE HOMES on their unusually large lots are such quality items as Armstrong inlaid linoleum, acoustical ceilings, full insulation, lath and plaster walls and fine hardwood floors. All homes have 3 bedrooms, 2 baths and separate dining room.

Colorful bathrooms have separate electric heaters and three-dimensional mirrors over the pullman sinks.

The 2-car garages have extra access doors built in, and workshop areas provided.

To attend the preview opening of Castle Crest's models, drive out 7th St. which becomes Garden Grove Blvd. to Magnolia Blvd., turn left and proceed to signs indicating the Castle Crest entrance.

Throughout the interior and exterior of the home, custom-styled color schemes featuring decorator wallpaper in the kitchen, baths, and bedrooms add a distinctive note.

Included in the sales price, ranging from $15,625 to $16,250, are a five-foot redwood fence, and complete lawns, plus a patio opening off the living room by sliding glass walls. All assessments are installed at the builder's expense; and the location, inside the city limits of Anaheim, offers easy access to freeways, shopping centers, churches, schools, and recreation areas, plus regular bus service into Anaheim.

Available to both veteran and FHA purchasers, a few homes are now ready for occupancy, and more homes are being completed daily, according to Torn Price, sales manager.

Lower Terms, Quick Occupancy Offered

Availability of some homes for immediate occupancy and terms of nothing down for vets and only $195 down for non-vets was credited yesterday with boosting sales at Candy Stick Lane Estates, new development rising at 11791 Medina Dr., Garden Grove.

"Vets may move in for nothing down but costs and im- pounds," a spokesman said, "and non-vets may buy one of these 3-bedroom, 2-bath homes for only $195 down. Some are offered for immediate occupancy at close of escrow." Priced at only $12,875, the homes have such features as closets and spacious breakfast nooks. . . .

BUYERS HAVE been im- pressed, it was reported, by the location of the new community, which is rising in the center of a built-up luxury residential area in which many homes are valued at $30,000 and more.

It was noted also that sales have been stimulated by the ease with which both vets and non-vets may qualify for the unusually low terms.

"The income of wives, as well as husbands, is taken into consideration in figuring eligibility for home ownership of non-vets," a spokesman explained.

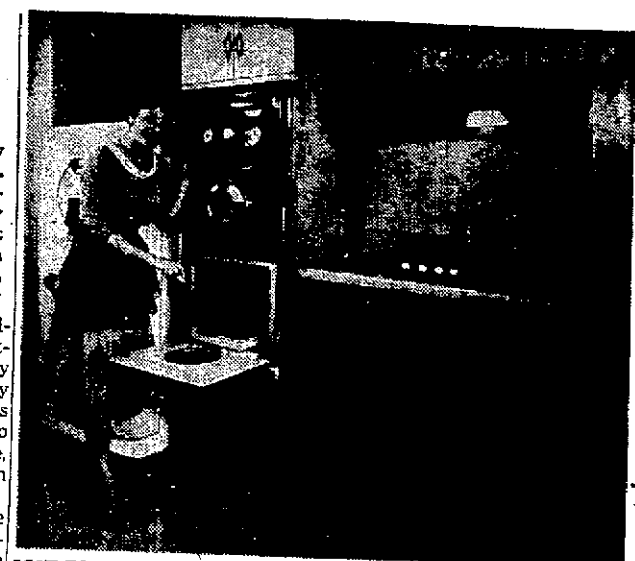

To reach the property, visitors from Long Beach are directed to follow 7th St., which becomes Garden Grove, to Euclid Ave. in Garden Grove. Euclid is then taken north to Chapman Ave., where a left turn leads to Medina Dr., just 4 short blocks west of Euclid.

Range Queen Will Appear at Beverly Gardens Unit

Donna Cole, "Queen of the Western Ranges," will be on hand today in the model homes at Beverly Gardens to demonstrate the new Western-Holly built-in de luxe double oven with rotisserie and range top, it was announced by George J. Heltzer, builder-developer of the community in the heart of Garden Grove.

The new appliance, an optional feature being shown for the first time in Southern California, can cook an entire meal in the upper oven while a "holiday-size" turkey or roast turns on the spit of the lower oven. Each oven is equipped with a round "look-through" window and automatic clock control.

QUALITY FEATURES offered in these 4 and 3-bedroom homes include hardwood floors, lath and plaster walls and ceilings, wood shingle roofs, real fireplaces, forced air heating and convenient separate service porches, it was pointed out. "This last feature," said

Laurel Homes' Coral Gardens Have Wealth of Extra Features

Home buyers' enthusiasm based on unusual "Islander" designs by Architect Richard L. Drucker, wood-burning natural fireplaces and popular all-electric kitchens has brought large crowds and heavy sales to Laurel Homes' Coral Gardens in Anaheim.

Available to nonvets on conventional financing as low as $990 down, and priced from $14,800 to $14,900, these homes may be reached by following the Santa Ana Freeway to Orange-Thorpe Ave., turning east to Raymond ("E") St., driving south one street to Romneya and then turning left to Acacia St.

Thousands of visitors were reported at the furnished model home, with color co-ordination by "Marie" and decor by Modern Interior of California.

"BUYERS ENJOY the tropic interior colors, capturing the flavor of the South Pacific, and the wealth of special features," a spokesman said. "These include Panador sliding aluminum glass doors set in 12-foot walls of glass, sliding aluminum windows, Modernfold accordion-type doors between den and living room, blown acoustical type ceilings, solid oak hardwood floors on conventional foundations, huge wardrobe closets and enclosed service areas."

Also high on the list of featured features are breakfast nooks and dining alcoves, lath and plaster walls, 75,000 BTU Co. has figured out the answer forced air furnaces, Modernaire and—hold your breath—it's custom hood and fan over actively $415,153.50!

Enchanted Homes Are Available to Both Veteran, Non-Veteran

Both veterans and non-veterans may purchase a unique Enchanted Home in Garden Grove, Pioneer Land Co., sales agents, said Saturday.

Because of the luxurious appearance of the highly-individualized Enchanted Homes, many viewers have thought them to be in a much higher price category.

The complete Enchanted Home, with its heavy shake, sweeping roofs and giant antique brick fireplaces are available from only $15,200 to $15,400 with low down payments on both VA and FHA terms.

Built in an unusual "south-of-France" style, the new Enchanted Homes have sparkling diamond-like windows, and a wide variety of exterior brick and wood panelling. They are exceptionally cool in summer with wide sun-sheltering eaves.

INSIDE EACH Enchanted Home are such welcome features as 3 unusually large bedrooms, and a completely separate powder room with its own shower, wide, wide mirror and charming make-up table.

In the Enchanted Kitchen are fine built-in range and oven, life-time formica-topped work surfaces, efficient garbage disposer and many natural birch cabinets.

Antique brick forms a high and wide fireplace with commodious hearth, and an attractive and durable family room provides a work and play center for the entire household at all hours.

All Enchanted Homes have hardwood floors with two-inch sub-floors, 75,000 BTU forced air heaters with summer cooling and finger-tip thermostat control, and 50-gallon water heaters.

AN ENCHANTED HOME

Turned-wood posts, antique brick fireplace and sparkling diamond-like windows are individual features of Enchanted Homes in Garden Grove. Shown is a living room of one of these homes which are available to both vets and non-vets for low-down payments on VA and FHA terms.

HERE'S ONE MODEL

Charming model homes of Town and Country Square furnished by W & J Sloane, can be seen from Long Beach by driving east on Carson St. (which becomes Lincoln Ave.), and turn north on Miller St.

Big Kitchen Is Appealing in Town-Country Square

Step-saving Freedom Gas Kitchens in each new home are proving to be an outstanding attraction to home buyers at Town and Country Square in Buena Park, according to Larwin Co., the home, providing the buyer with plenty of leeway in making a selection according to the requirements of his family.

The Freedom Gas Kitchens carry out the quality-plus theme of the new homes. Kitchens feature built-in Western-Holly oven and range with exhaust fan over cooking area; colorful ceramic tile drainboards and counter tops; Waste-King garbage Pulverator; spacious cabinets of either natural ash or knotty pine, and breakfast nooks or smart snack bars. An optional feature is a Servel Ice-Maker Refrigerator.

THE NEW HOMES at Town and Country Square contain all the quality features that helped Larwin Co. homes to be selected, down, except costs and infrom hundreds of nominations, pounds.

Park 7 Homes Draw Huge Crowds Daily

Park 7 Homes, distinctive, are among the outstanding new community offering the features at Park 7 Homes. New home "firsts" include yet located only 14 minutes from the center of Long Beach, has drawn as many as 1,000 visitors in a day, it was disclosed by Nathan Schneider, president of Parkside Construction Co., builders.

Located in the brand-new community of North Westminster, Park 7 Homes are situated on Garden Grove Blvd. west of Stanton. This is an extension of 7th St., a principal Long Beach artery.

QUALITY-BUILT, the new homes are priced from $14,700, with monthly payments as low as $74.19 including principal and interest. They are available on both VA and FHA loans.

Palmer & Krisel, A.I.A., twice winners of architectural awards in the past year, have designed the unique new homes.

Included in the features is an unusual "island" cooking center, and glass-walled living room. There are both 4 and 3-bedroom homes, with 2 baths.

In the efficient kitchen are Western-Holly built-in range and oven, Waste-King disposer, unusually abundant cabinets and life-time ceramic tile throughout.

Only 25 Remain in Shamrock

Only 25 homes remain in Shamrock Park reports Frank Hart, general sales manager for Walker & Lee, Inc., sales agents for the Garden Grove development. "The past few weeks have been the best sales producers since we opened the development," Hart reported.

Hart pointed out that the financing arrangements at Shamrock Park permit veterans to buy for nothing down and has proven very attractive to buyers. Furthermore, purchasers have available such needed appliances as Westinghouse refrigerator, laundromat, and Gafers & Satter's range without the necessity of making an additional down payment.

Very popular with Shamrock Park buyers are the large living rooms with walls of glass and real fireplaces, Hart pointed out. Adjoining the living rooms are spacious rear patios with barbecues which afford families real opportunity to enjoy Southern California's indoor-outdoor living.

Additional features found at Shamrock Park are: step-saving kitchens with gleaming ceramic tile, and quietly efficient garbage disposals, family-size bathrooms with colored plumbing fixtures, large bedrooms with Woodall sliding wardrobe doors, forced air heating, cork and asphalt tile flooring, walls of genuine lath and plaster, dust-free mahogany slab doors, steel sash windows. Rockwool insulation, weatherstripping, TV jacks and outlets and large 2-car garages with ample space for storage and work areas.

Shamrock Park is reached from Los Angeles and northern points by taking the Santa Ana Freeway to Harbor and turning south. From Long Beach, take 7th St. (Garden Grove Blvd.) and turn south at Harbor to Shamrock Park model homes.

FOR VETS, NON-VETS

Here is one of the attractive Park 7 Homes opened on Garden Grove Blvd. in new North Westminster. Less than 14 minutes from the heart of Long Beach, Park 7 Homes are reached by driving out 7th St. Vets and non-vets may buy.

Homestead Gardens Terms Draw Vets, Non-Veterans

Stepped-up sales to both vets and non-vets were reported this past week at Homestead Gardens, Orange County community of 3- and 4-bedroom, 2-bath homes on Verano St., just north of Westminster Ave.

East of qualification plus chance to move in within 10 days has increased buyers' interest, according to Walker & Lee, Inc., sales agents. Vets' terms, they reported, are nothing down with only $35 needed to move in, while non-vets can buy for as little as 10 per cent down, with FHA terms offered. Vets' monthly payments, like those for non-vets, are much lower than rent.

Of special interest to home-seekers, it was noted, is a display of furnished model homes, with decor by Aaron Schultz, exemplifying the many added features of the new residences.

INCLUDED ARE such items as mahogany kitchen cabinets, large 7200-square-foot lots, thermostat-controlled heating, wardrobe closets, steel casement windows, fibre glass insulation acoustic ceilings, lath and plaster walls, stall showers with large glass doors and large garages with storage space.

Other features are Waste-

King food waste pulverators, wide driveways, weatherstripped doors, modern exteriors with redwood trim, rock roofs in a wide selection of colors, gutters and downspouts, wide overhangs.

Property improvements include sidewalks, sewers and all utilities are in and paid for.

The new community is situated within easy walking distance of schools and churches and is served by a shopping center just four blocks away.

ON BUDGET TERMS

Terms to fit family budgets for both vets and non-vets are reported boosting sales at Homestead Gardens, residential community of three-bedroom, two-bath homes, typified above, which are rising in Garden Grove on Verano St., just north of Westminster Ave.

HERE'S THE REASON WHY second-home buyers prefer...

KATELLA PARK

It takes a heap o' livin' to know the good points and drawbacks in a home. Folks who've owned homes before know what to look for. Experience has shown them that a home is more than four walls and a roof. They've found how accumulated furniture and a growing family can make a home that once seemed adequate—too small, too soon. They've discovered, too, how much easier it is to maintain a home that has been quality built—to last!

Practical experience is why so many second-home owners now live in KATELLA PARK. For here there is more room for living... greater convenience... easier accessibility to and from all sections of Greater Los Angeles... and a sounder investment in a community of fine homes on custom sized lots on gracefully curving tree-lined streets that assures a high resale value in the future.

Visit Katella Park today and choose your home of tomorrow. Immediate occupancy if you hurry.

COUNTING THE DOLLARS

Steve Birch, representing Title Insurance & Trust Co., assists program chairman, Helen Harris, in counting some of the silver dollars that will be awarded at Tuesday's breakfast forum meeting. President Holmquist looks on.

Silver Dollar Quiz at Realtor Meeting

Norman Woest, community relations director for Title Insurance and Trust Co., Los Angeles, will present his "Silver Dollar Quiz" at the Tuesday meeting of the Long Beach Board of Realtors. Helen Harris of the Pacific Coast Escrow Co., program chairman, announced.

Questions on California real estate law will be asked the members and for each correct answer, Quizmaster Woest will award silver dollars. A 23-year veteran with the Los Angeles title firm, Woest knows most of the answers for he spent many years as a title officer for his company prior to being assigned to the public relations division.

In addition to this program will be the regular monthly installation meeting of the following new applicants for membership in the Long Beach Board: Harold Frederick Bemis with Harold Steele; Florence P. Gray with Mildred Stanley; Donald O. Sarrington with Howard Butler; Keith Virgil Johnson with S. L. Starr; Helene L. Mooney with Fae Matthews; George R. Borel with Fae Matthews; William M. Smith with Clive Graham, and Barbara M. Henry with Henry Blythe. New applicants for Realtor memberships are Gladys L. Bryant, H. June Ivins, Mildred M. Becker, Arthur R. Holmes and Andrew H. Baird. Elizabeth Ann Pastor is an applicant for Associate Salesman membership with J. L. Tolbert, President Holmquist said.

Short reports will be given of the directors meeting to bring the local members up to date on the California Real Estate Association activity.

Community Service—A Family Responsibility

is a den mother. Brian, a member of the central Boys' Club, is the envy of Bruce, 4, who wishes he were a few years older. Page is Cubmaster, Cub Scout Pack 260.

and Mrs. W. L. Sudenga. Her dad is on the Camp Fire Girls Council and chairman of that finance committee. Mrs. Sudenga impartially divides her time between Cubs and Bluebirds.

CARRYING ON A TRADITION of service to the community is Mrs. Charles E. Duggan (left) who now is serving her second year on the Community Chest budget committee, and also acts as secretary for the

Red Feather Agencies Gain Important Support Through Husband-Wife Teams

Family interest in the health, welfare and youth agencies of the United Neighbors Community Chest is evidenced by the work being done by the thousands of volunteers who are troop leaders, board members and committeemen and women.

A recent report compiled by the Community Welfare Council for the Chest revealed more than 18,000 people are volunteer workers in the 30 agencies, and many are members of the same families.

Sometimes parents become active in an agency because of the membership of their children in that organization, or are asked by friends and neighbors to assist in the various types of work being done.

In other cases husbands and wives find each other devoting much of their leisure time to the same agency as do Mr. and Mrs. Franc Mayer, board members of the Jewish Community Center, and Mr. and Mrs. Milton B. Smith, board members of the Camp Fire Girls.

More often, they divide their interests as in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bailey, he, as president of Travelers Aid, and she, as a member of the Community Volunteer Office.

Dr. David L. Bryant has been chairman of the Community Welfare Council for the past year while his wife recently received a five-year pin in recognition of her work with the Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Vernon Fay is a member of the Salvation Army advisory board while her husband is a director of the Chest board.

The Catholic Welfare Board lists as directors, Howard Jones, Donnell Davis and Edward Sheridan. Mrs. Jones is a past president of Sandlarks, the Children's Home Society Auxiliary here; Mrs. Davis is a director of Family Service, and Mrs. Sheridan is a director of the Mental Hygiene board.

Also on the Mental Hygiene Clinic board are Mrs. Glenn Buss and Mayor Angelo Iacoboni of Lakewood. Buss is the newly appointed Chest budget committee chairman and Mrs. Iacoboni is currently a director of the Catholic Welfare Bureau board.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse S. Holton are directors of the Boy and Girl Scouts respectively. Other agency board members are: Mr. and Mrs. Ely Sommerville, Family Service and Girl Scouts; Dr. and Mrs. Sidney Penn, Jewish Community Center president and Mental Hygiene Clinic; Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Marcus, Children's Clinic and Girl Scouts; Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. McClaughry, Chest vice president and YWCA; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Minor, Mental Hygiene Clinic and YWCA; Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Benson Belis, Family Service and Day Nurseries; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buffum, Boy Scouts and Day Nurseries.

Mrs. Roger T. Huffman, president of the Chest this year and former Girl Scout president, hears about the Boy Scout Council work from her husband who is a member.

George Hart, president of the Volunteers of America board, and his son George Jr., a member of the CVO board, are carrying on a family tradition of service to the community as are James G. Craig of the Boy Scout Council and his son, James G. Jr., who is a new member of the Chest board. Another father and son duo is Dr. W. G. Cheney of the Armed Services YMCA and Dr. William S. Cheney of the downtown YMCA boards.

The daughter of Mrs. William Casselberry, past president of the YWCA, Mrs. Charles Duggan, is secretary of the Family Service board. Mrs. Lynn Evans, a member of the Children's Clinic board is following in the footsteps of her father, Bruce Mason, who has served on the Armed Services Y and Mental Hygiene Clinic boards, and now is one of the YMCA directors.

IT'S A RARE MOMENT when busy Mayor and Mrs. Angelo Iacoboni can relax with their boys and the family pets, for in addition to Lakewood City government affairs, the mayor is a member of the board of directors of the Mental Hygiene Clinic and his wife is a director of the Catholic Welfare Bureau. Mike (left) is a member of the Catholic Youth Organization while Stephen (center) and Anthony must wait a few years before joining any of the Red Feather youth services.

To Fete Patricia Weaver Bon Voyage Wishes Fly

Powder blue, favorite color of bride-elect Patricia Jean Weaver of San Pedro, will be effectively used in decorations this afternoon at a crystal shower and tea in the home of Mrs. Burton W. Chace, 4160 Country Club Dr.

Co-hostesses, Mmes. Beach Vasey, Arthur Arnold, Francis McCrea, Roger Engel, Duane George, and William Woolfin, will wear dainty white net umbrellas at their shoulders. Similar umbrellas filled with dainty flowers will be given the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Harry George Weaver.

Layers of white net caught in swags at the side with clusters of forget-me-nots will give the tea table bridal beauty. Center of attention will be a bouquet of delphiniums in varying shades.

Fragrant magnolias will be used in other rooms of the home. In the garden, quartet tables will wear powder blue covers with an overlay of white organdy.

Asked to pour are Mmes. Harry Tyler, George Hardy, Roy Becker, Gilbert Myers, Donald Earl, Joseph Fenton, Homer Martin, grandmother of the prospective bridegroom, and Eugene Chace, sister-in-law of the hostess.

Miss Weaver will become the bride June 9 of Lowell Martin Hill, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lowell R. Hill of Long Beach and Rolling Hills. The ceremony will take place in First Presbyterian Church, San Pedro.

Mr. and Mrs. William Harbert of Long Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Shupe of Compton, formerly of this city, received bon voyage wishes from scores of friends preceding their departure aboard the Lurline for a three-week vacation in Hawaii.

Among pre-travel fetes was a poolside party given for the Harberts by Dr. and Mrs. Cecil Ridgeway in their home, 3935 Lewis Ave. This affair served to "initiate" the Ridgeway's new pool as well as heighten trip anticipation for the honored guests.

The Harberts and Shupes planned to stay at the Royal Hawaiian while in Honolulu.

Bridge Party Takes Theme From Hawaii

A corner of Hawaii found its way into Balboa Bay Club on Thursday when Mrs. James H. McGranahan of 393 Haines Ave. and Mrs. Walter Dabney of Huntington Beach, hosted a bridge luncheon for 40 guests.

Party theme was set by Mrs. Dabney's recent return from the Islands, and was completely Hawaiian even to bridge prizes purchased there. Elaborate tropical decor was used at individual tables-four as well as on the buffet table, and each guest was recipient of a vividly colored lei.

Betrothal News

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Aagard, 6703 La Marimba, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Gaynor Marston, to Roy Don Milligan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Milligan of 5941 Rose Ave.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Wilson High School. Her fiancé was graduated from Jordan High School. They plan a November wedding.

Wild Waves By IOLA MASTERSON

Some clubs install new officers with so much symbolic ritual it's hard to follow the script. In fact, without a program, you're apt to miss the main event—La Presidente plopping the final rose in place to complete the wheel or whatever.

Not so with the Virginia Country Club women's group of 18 hole golfers. When they install it's all good, clean fun. What's more, they get the job done just as securely as if bugles were blowing. Tuesday the plotting and the planning crew of the golf club changed hands with Naomi (Mrs. Byron) Wolfe stepping down from her job as chairman and handing the gavel (shaped like a mashie, of course) to Helen (Mrs. Langdon) Smith.

All in party spirit the women played a brisk nine hole tournament preceding a happy luncheon (they chased all the men out of the Grill and had it there). Awards, merriment and gifts to and fro intermingled with typical "golf gab" and the gradual installation of all incoming officers including Myrtle (Mrs. William) Harrower, vice chairman; Polly (Mrs. Melbourne) Marsh, secretary; Marjorie (Mrs. Robert) Sprague, treasurer; and Bess (Mrs. Lowell) Overlock as assistant treasurer. With two treasurers there's one thing certain, they may kid around about installation but they're dead serious when it comes to the money!

Others assuming this, that and the other post were Vi (Mrs. Harold) West, Pat Collins Cameron, Betty (Mrs. Harrison) Leedy, Helen (Mrs. Charles) Foulks, Zelma Burson Schooling, Pat (Mrs. Charles) Van de Water, Kay (Mrs. Buford) Smith, Libby (Mrs. William) Spawr, Betty (Mrs. Alan) Hess, Florence (Mrs. John) Mead, Jo (Mrs. Joseph) Hayes and Emma (Mrs. Edwin) Brain.

Bon voyage parties are popping up like crocuses on a hot spring day for our peripatetic local residents. One of the finest for the whole summer is sure to be the coffee Betty (Mrs. Seth) Smith will have for sister Clare Hossom next Thursday. Betty will come down from her home in Van Nuys and entertain right here in the Hossom home.

Why the bon voyage? Clare, Lynn and the girls will be summertime Europe travelers. Assisting Betty keep party spirits high for the more than 100 guests bidden will be Jo Paap, Norma Trammell, Alma Decker, Dorothy Dunlap, Marjory Van Dyke, Dorothy Goodknight, Elinor Ball, Margaret Hanson and Mildred Brayton.

Magazine cover perfection has been achieved by Kay and Bill Nesbitt in their new patio they've been a year planning and creating. Friday Kay initiated the pink and white confetti of a place for an intimate group of close friends at a bridge luncheon. Previewing friends were Betty Spath, Flossie Rene, Trudi Dowds, Bette Barden, Lois Benwell, Lucille Garver and Virginia Faris.

That was no mystic ceremony the Crawford boys, Don and Jack, were performing the other day but plain common sense planning. You may have witnessed them with a little Porsche Speedster and a flock of suitcases, stacking them in the car this way and that; then painstakingly unpacking and restacking. The fellows were rehearsing for their European tour. They borrowed the car to see how much stuff they can take with them because they're buying just such a Porsche in which to tour. They fly to New York Friday and board the Andrea Doria June 12, bound for Naples. Then a flight to Stuttgart—the Porsche—and, with all that pre-travel packing experience they shouldn't have to jettison more than six or seven cases! Suitcase shortage or not, they won't come home till fall in time for Don to enter USC for his final year.

Whether they have a future Kentucky Derby contender or just another bridal path oat burner doesn't matter to Sue and Dr. Art Buell just so "Quentin," their new colt, is healthy and happy. If Quentin had been a filly instead of a colt (and for awhile there was some confusion about this) the little equine would now be known as Tehachapi. This prison-naming monomania has a reason. When Quentin's parents were still childless and without responsibility they escaped their corral and there followed an unprecedented spree of lawn nibbling and shrub guzzling until the long arm of the law ended their bender. For the mother-to-be it meant an inglorious, if unrepentant, night in jail before the Buells could bail out their bale lovers.

Kelly's here! Anybody here seen Kelly? If not better whip on over to "Bingy" and John Vosburg's and get acquainted with their new baby daughter. Kelly's two-year-old brother, Mike, is taking a very pre-emptory attitude about her but if you take grandparents Nancy and Myrl Ott or Mrs. Ella Lord along you may get by his guard long enough for a peek!

Barbara Powell and Carol Jerman's delightful mother, Mrs. Billie Luce, finally "got the word" or whatever other phenomena happens to dyed-in-the-wool Easterners who decide California is the only place to live after all and now she's a resident here! She started getting into the spirit the minute that plane left La Guardia and by the time she set foot on International Friday she was a real native! If she wavered in her western loyalty what she saw at the airport must have been the clincher. There were Barbara and George, Carol and John, Caroline and Sterling Blakeman and Bernice and "Gap" Powell and assorted children waving a banner 10 feet long by three feet wide that read, "Welcome Home Grandma, Billie." If she ever changes her mind after that, why, ma'am, that's apt to be some gunplay. Ma'am.

Speaking of Bernice and "Gap" Powell, they accommodated some Palm Springs motel-owning friends and looked after things while said friends took off for a few days. Handed out towels and checked in paying guests just like they were bona fide members of the brotherhood, we hear! Had plenty of opportunity in between time to sop up a native's share of ultra-violet, too.

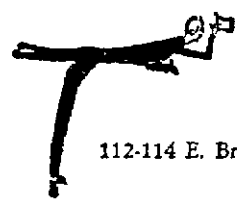

There were only three requisites for surprise housewarming friends last night of Audrey and Arnold Romeyns. They had to bring something to eat, a swimming suit and best wishes to shout at the bamboozled Romeyns! Kay and Crofton Cooper and Virginia and Earl Milton were co-conspirators for the surprise and the gang gave the 1000 Bixby Rd. house a big lounge to grace the side of the indoor pool. In fact, that pool is the home's center with the rest of it built all around. Other eaters, swimmers and well wishers last night were Shirley and Bill Billis, Naomi and Chuck Chandler, Betty and Irving Dumm, Frances and Al Bonzer, Jean and Glenn Doody, Audrey and Art Haskel and Louis and Francis O'Bryan.

Introductory Tea Compliments New Provisionals of League

A year of outstanding accomplishment by members of Children's Benefit League was vividly highlighted by reports from officers and chairmen at the annual introductory tea for new members given recently in the spacious gardens of the Seibert C. Pearson home in Park Estates.

Receiving with League president, Mrs. E. Max Parkins, were the two co-chairmen of the event, Mmes. Arthur Doherty and Frederick W. Schafer, assisted by board members Mmes. A. A. Schlagel, J. P. Wilson, Donald Penrose, Howard Lawson, Laban Breyer, Byron E. Morris, J. H. Jeffries Jr., E. O. Bemis, R. F. Cuyler, James Buckingham and Edward Goosman.

Twenty-five new provisional and five associate members were welcomed into this organization of limited membership and will join the others who, devoting their interest "for the aid to handicapped children," keep the needs of youngsters always uppermost in their plans.

Bringing the picture of achievement into sharp focus was the announcement that the concerted effort of the group has made it possible for the League to pledge $10,000 to build two rooms for children at Community Hospital this year in addition to the usual philanthropies.

Harmonizing with the decor and pastel colors used throughout Mrs. Pearson's home were decorations arranged by Mrs. L. W. Clarke and her committee, Mmes. W. T. Ezell, Walter Hauptman, Fred Menze and R. F. Trapp. Pink pelargonium in a gleaming silver and crystal epergne graced the lace covered tea table.

To identify new members, the committee devised clever name tags with butterflies perching daintily on petals of tiny Cecil Brunner roses. Little bees attached to name cards made known the provisional and tea committees, and board members wore name tags of hand drawn symbols depicting their offices.

Group 7, headed by Mrs. Frank J. Smith, with Mmes. F. B. Halley, Robert Gray, M. F. Palmer Jr., J. F. McCarthy, Arthur Doherty and B. W. Neumaier served. Presiding at the coffee and tea urns were the president, Mrs. Parkin, and Mmes. William Mohler and E. E. Adams, past presidents of the group.

Final Meet for Demo Study Club

Democratic Women's Study Club will have its final business meeting of this club year with reports of all committee chairman and officers taking place at 10:30 Wednesday morning in the Pageant Room of Hotel Wilton.

Installation of officers for 1956-57 will be the important feature of the morning with Mrs. F. Glenn Agee serving as installation officer. The luncheon meeting, under the charge of Mrs. Ethel Hoagland, will honor new members who will be presented by Mrs. Frank Parker. The program, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Rone, will feature membership participation in lieu of a formal luncheon speaker.

Elected officers to serve the organization for the ensuing year will be Mmes. Lucian F. Remley, president; Edwin S. Luther, first vice president; David S. Thomas, second vice president; Frank Parker, third vice president; Harry Jones, fourth vice president; Russell Cocks, recording secretary; L. H. Jarnagin, corresponding secretary; Uarda Downs, financial secretary; Wallace Dressing, treasurer; John W. Tabor, historian; Lilian Cave, auditor; F. Glenn Agee, parliamentarian, and E. J. Theiss, chaplain.

Mrs. Remley will preside at the all-day session which is open to the public.

Benefit Luncheon

Woman's Benefit Association will meet at noon Tuesday for luncheon at Machinists Hall, 728 Elm Ave. Pioneer women will be hostesses. A business session is scheduled at 1 p.m., with a memorial service following. Ellice Dunbar will preside.

Pulitzer, Praise Go to Hacketts' 'Diary'

By ILKA CHASE

When the Pulitzer Prize for Drama went to Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett, Mr. and Mrs. that is, there was a spontaneous burst of applause from everyone who knew them.

I've known the Hacketts a long time and a warmer, cheerier pair you'll never meet. Being human they're happy about the award but they're happier about the state of their play, "The Diary of Anne Frank."

"Diary" opened Oct. 5, 1955, and when a play becomes an established hit one of the hardest things in the world is to keep it fresh, to keep the performances spontaneous and the actors from becoming blurred carbon copies of what they were on the opening night.

For the first few weeks it's no trick. The cast is exhilarated by success and with good actors the characterizations grow and deepen. They take on a richness impossible to achieve in rehearsal or in a couple of weeks of out of town tryouts. But the stage of natural development lasts only so long. After that, unless a sharp and authoritative eye is cocked at the luminaries, disintegration sets in.

When a play is in rehearsal actors fall in love with the director the way pregnant women are said to fall in love with their obstetricians but few mothers seek obstetrical opinion on the care of the growing babe; and actors, once the curtain is up and the critical returns in, tend to slough off the one who pulled them through the great crisis. Also it must be said the parting of the ways is often mutual. The director has given his all in preparation and during the rehearsal and tryout periods. So we've opened, we're a hit. On to the next one.

Garson Kanin who directed "Diary" is not like that in any event and about this work he has a special feeling. As he says to the cast, "Remember, these are real people you're portraying. They aren't invented characters. Otto Frank and his daughter Anne and the rest of the family and their friends existed."

Their own theory as to why they won the Pulitzer Prize is that it's because they once rented Emily Kimbrough's apartment in the remodeled old Pulitzer mansion in New York and it rubbed off on them.

Albert's splurge after the mantle of fame had fallen upon him was restricted. "I thought I'd try sugar in my coffee by way of a change, but it hasn't worked out."

They would have liked to stay in New York a while longer but they had to get back to the Coast on a specific date, because they'd promised Kenneth MacKenna, the head of MGM's story department, to sit on a platform with Christopher Isherwood and Bob Anderson and tell high school students how to read fast. Fast reading is a new thing all the literary lads are nuts about.

Albert sighed. "I don't know why Kenneth picked on me," he said. "I have to form the words with my lips and hold my finger at the place when I read." Illiterates arise, grab the Pulitzer Prize!

CRITICAL INSPECTION

Hawaii goes Californian with the Junior League's Aloha Lanai dinner dance Friday evening, 8 o'clock to 2 a. m., at Lafayette Hotel when members and guests will gather about the hotel's new pool and Lanai section. Inspection of South Sea table decor is made above by Mmes. Louis Hopkins, John M. Clarke, Don Raney and Lee Wiltse, left to right. Following dinner in the Supper Room, attendees will dance to music provided by Burrell Ubben's Orchestra.—(Staff)

Enchantment Ahead in Gay Club Events

A sparkling pool, swaying palm trees and enchanting Hawaiian music will provide an atmosphere of island splendor for two major social events, one by the Junior League on Friday night and the other Saturday afternoon to be hosted by Nightingales.

Both festivities will center in the recently opened Lanai section of Lafayette Hotel, focal point of which is a spacious new swimming pool.

Junior Leaguers will be hostesses to an expected 500 persons Friday night at their Aloha Lanai dinner dance, 8 p. m. to 2 a. m. Early activities will take place poolside as an Hawaiian trio provides appropriate musical background during the cocktail hour and again for an impressive water ballet by prominent local swimming sisters, Mrs. Geary Bartell and Mrs. Merritt Adamson (Pat and Sharon Geary). Jack Drown will commentate.

Lovely summer gowns of varying styles and gay colors will dot the Supper Room where diners will be seated at tables appropriately decorated with lovely sea-shell arrangements. Chairman for the dance is Mrs. Thomas Rowan, assisted by Mmes. Bruce Mitchell and Louis Hopkins. In charge of decorations are Mmes. Jack Wooding, Ray Parker and Geary Bartell.

Dancing will follow to music provided by Burrell Ubben's orchestra.

With the theme "Hawaii Bound," members of Nightingales, junior organization of Auxiliary to Children's Memorial Hospital, will present a luncheon and fashion show in the Lafayette Lanai. Proceeds from the afternoon will go toward medical expenses and hospitalization at Seaside Hospital for local underprivileged children.

Eleven Long Beach merchants will display their summer fashions in the show by Wilma Hastings and her models. An imaginary flight to magical Hawaii will provide fitting commentary for the showing of summer travel styles for the entire family.

Nightingales responsible for the day's festivities include Mmes. Loether Buck, Wendell Gowdy, Kenneth Henry, Bruce Murray and John Sumner.

BEAUTY AT THE POOL

The fragrance of colorful flowers drifting lazily on the new pool at Lafayette Hotel will greet nearly 500 guests attending Friday's Aloha Lanai dinner dance sponsored by the Junior League of Long Beach. Above, from left, Mmes. Fred Wise, Fort Alcorn and Geary Bartell test the floating power of a few blossoms. A lovely water ballet by Mrs. Bartell and her sister, Mrs. Merritt Adamson, will highlight the evening's entertainment.—(Staff photo.)

Pre-Nuptial Courtesies Compliment Joyce Jacobs

Among many courtesies being extended to Miss Joyce Jacobs, who will become the bride of Joseph F. Hamula June 15, was a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Harold A. Hinckley, 812 E. 37th St., and her daughter, Miss Janice Hinckley.

The table was decorated with a pink net umbrella and individual favors were pink nuptials featuring metallic umbrellas.

Attending were Mrs. J. S. Jacobs, mother of the bride-elect; Miss Janet Jacobs, sister of the bride-elect; Mrs. Ambrose Hamula, Mrs. John Weber, mother and sister respectively of the bridegroom-elect; Mmes. Hugh Anderson, William Appleberry, Dean Barnes, David Beal, Gary Bingham, Parley Deem, H. Douglas, Carl Johnson, Brodie Jones, Frank Kearn, Owen Leavitt, Robert Morrow, James Norman, Walter Sant, Kenneth State, Rodney Swigart, Gordon Taylor, J. Walton, and Misses Margaret Beal, Shirley Deem, Diane Gray, Joyce Harrington, Marion Hartkopf, Virginia Rosenburg, Janet Rosenlof.

Mrs. Karl Ward and Mrs. Derrall Call entertained recently at a luncheon and kitchen shower at the Pacific Coast Club in honor of the bride-elect.

On this occasion, the table was attractively decorated with a centerpiece of white and pastel flowers and gold hearts. At each place was a tiny place card of spring flowers and miniature kitchen utensils. Miss Jacobs was presented with a white orchid.

Those attending were Mrs. J. S. Jacobs, Mmes. Hugh Anderson, Lorin Daniels, Howard Lamb, Walter Jones, Joseph Lindsey, Don Markham, William Price, Conrad Samuelson, Harold Snow and Miss Marilyn Snow of Beverly Hills.

On June 2, a party for Miss Jacobs and her fiancé was given by Miss Marilyn Snow and her fiancé, Dr. Thomas Jones, at her home, 1155 Angelo Dr., Beverly Hills. College friends from the University of Utah and University of Southern California bidden to the event were Messrs. and Mmes. Jack Hansen, Lyle Jacobson, Robert Seltzer, Neil Williams of Pasadena, Carter Broyles, Albuquerque, N. M., Richard Hobson, Miss Mary Martha Christensen, David Smith, Miss June McBride and David Wood, Los Angeles.

States Dinner

Burnett Woman's Christian Temperance Union will sponsor an all states dinner at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday at Atlantic Avenue Methodist Church. Tables representing each state will be provided, and special music is planned. The public is welcome.

Miss Kirk Takes Helm of Taoleons

A floral key of welcome and hospitality was presented Miss Freda Kirk as she became the new president of Taoleon Club in recent installation ceremonies at Chandelier Restaurant.

Assuming executive positions with Miss Kirk were Mrs. Albert W. Hood, Miss Marie Barbee, Mrs. E. E. Christensen and Mrs. Donald Nicholson, vice presidents; Miss Marie Ragland, recording secretary; Mrs. Horace Whitaker, corresponding secretary; Miss Bertha Berge, financial secretary; Mrs. Forest Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Arnel

Nuptial Rite to Link Names of Long Beach Families

Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Bellows, 360 Molino Ave., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Laureta Clare, to Joseph Perkins Gibbs of this city. Announcement was first made to the sorority sisters of the bride-elect. An August 5 wedding is planned.

Both young persons were educated in Long Beach city schools. She was graduated from Wilson High School and he from Poly High. The bride-elect, a fourth-generation Californian, attended Long Beach City College and will be graduated in June from Long Beach State College. She is a member of the Long Beach Philharmonic. Other affiliations include Entre Nous and Sigma Kappa sororities.

The benedict will receive his degree this June from the California Institute of Technology and will continue his studies there next year. He holds membership in the Society of American Engineers and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Gibbs, 2469 Eucliptus Ave., Long Beach.

Marriage Solemnized

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Mott, 1020 Burlinghall Dr., have announced the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth June, to Charles Sterling Pohl, son of Mr. William Pohl and the late Mrs. Pohl of Detroit, Mich. The wedding was solemnized May 1 in Yuma, Ariz.

The bride, a senior at Polytechnic High School, is a member of Tajma Sorority. The bridegroom received his education in Detroit and served six years with the Armed Forces.

Pair to Wed in August

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. McDugald, 4421 Heather Rd., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Velma Lee, to John Lee Newman, son of Mr. C. E. Newman, Rockford, Ill.

The future bride attended Wilson High School, Long Beach City College and Whittier College where she took her degree. She now teaches in the Rivera School District.

Her fiancé attended schools in Illinois, including Northern Illinois State Teachers College, De Kalb. He is now serving in the Navy.

The wedding will be performed August 17.

Among Career Women

Jo Knoerr to Accept NSA Leadership; Manuela Nieto BPW Seats Yola Brazil

By ANNE GILCHRIST

According to an old adage, people are supposed "to crawl before they can walk." That belief, obviously, was formulated before Jo Maes Knoerr came along and started out, neither "crawling or walking," but at a full gallop, service-wise, at least, for National Secretaries!

Here's the explanation. When the first state association for the national secretarial organization was formed in California approximately four years ago, Mrs.

of her own club, Long Beach's Queen Beach Chapter, NSA, in installation ceremonies Tuesday night during a dinner meeting at the Petroleum Club.

Installation will be conducted by outgoing president Marie Wells. Mrs. Knoerr, secretary to N. R. Dumont of Dumont Aviation Associates, will be joined during her year as president by Wilma Conde, first vice president; Geraldine Horstman (Long Beach State College), second vice president; Ethel Dudley (Chrysler Corp.), corresponding secretary; Neva Blust (American Brass Co.), recording secretary; Dorothy Gahry (Douglas Oil Co.), treasurer; and Elma J. Braid (Coca-Cola Bottling Co.), public relations.

Manuela Nieto BPW

Using the theme, "Tree of Friendship," Manuela Nieto Business and Professional Women installed its new officers for 1956-57 recently in ceremonies conducted at the Woodruff Community Church.

Mrs. Yola Brazil assumed the duties of president and was inducted to office by Miss Kathleen Head, president of Sierra Mar District of BPW. Others installed with Mrs. Brazil were Mary Pierson, first vice president; Sadie Michnick, second vice president; Opal Landey, recording secretary; Bernice Benzley, corresponding secretary; and Mabel McMahon, treasurer.

Margaret Nagel, program chairman of the evening, introduced Mrs. Kathryn Campbell, soprano, who provided the musical interlude. Alice Belknap, Charlotte McIntosh and Aleene Phillips were in charge of decorations and for the dessert buffet which followed installation used a lovely yellow and green decor.

Pat Freeman, outgoing president, conducted the present were: May Wakatsuki, now attending Long Beach State College working toward her elementary teacher's credentials; Rose Ann Wood of LBSC, who won first place in piano during the recent Long Beach Philharmonic auditions and whose goal is to become a music teacher in secondary schools; Bonnie Heinz, now nearing completion of junior college work preparatory for elementary teaching; and Thelma Matthews, another LBSC student majoring in speech and whose objective, likewise, is a career in teaching.

Personnel Women

The Personnel Women's Group of Los Angeles has announced a personnel training conference to take place June 15 on the UCLA campus under direction of the UCLA Extension Dept. of Conferences. It has been developed primarily to provide an opportunity for women who are new in the field of personnel administration to obtain training in technique important to their jobs. It is also open to college students pursuing courses in this field.

Registration for the conference will begin at 9 a. m. June 15 in the Business Administration Bldg., the conference proper to begin at 9:30 a. m. Outstanding business executives and educators will be speakers.

Further information regarding attendance at the conference should be obtained from Miss Mildred Foreman, personnel officer at UCLA, or from Miss Sally Gray, president of the Personnel Women's Group, conference sponsors. Miss Gray is assistant to the personnel director of Carnation Company.

vention at Miami Beach in July.

President Eunice Snyder announced her selection of standing and special committee chairmen for the coming year.

Gladys McPike read an inspiring paper honoring Memorial Day which was prepared by Cornelia Pollard, hostess for the social hour was Ruth Bailey.

Quota Club

Quota members "went to school" at their meeting at the Lafayette Hotel last Monday night, and so interesting was the instruction given by Miss N. Evelyn Davis, director of audio-visual education in Long Beach, they wished their own school days had been like that.

As Quota International's principal project is aid to handicapped children, particularly the hard of hearing, the May meetings throughout the world were devoted to this type of program. So it was fitting that Miss Davis, with her background of twenty years as head of the audio-visual department, be the speaker.

Witty and delightful, she explained that her work is with all Long Beach students—from kindergarten to City College. She took pains to describe in particular how handicapped children are taught and showed the club members some of the "tools" used in instructing blind and deaf children as well as those blessed with normalcy.

Of interest to parents in particular was one observation of the speaker. She said that contrary to popular opinion, television and movie viewing by youngsters does not discourage reading but rather stimulates it.

Lutheran Rite Read for Couple

In First Lutheran Church of Compton, Judith Ann Chalupnik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Chalupnik, 514 W. 38th St., Long Beach, became the bride of Larrie Dellis Schnorr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Richardson of Compton.

Wearing a ballerina-length lace-over-satin gown, the bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She carried a white orchid and stephanotis resting on a pearl covered Bible, gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Richard Bratt and James Rettstatt attended the couple, Jack Blaser and Jack D. Lane ushered.

Among the 80 guests were Mrs. Irene Graham and her daughter, Ruth, who came from San Diego to attend the wedding, and Mrs. Melissa Nuckols and her daughter, Ruby, from Santa Monica.

The bride is a graduate of Polytechnic High School. Her husband was graduated from Compton High School. They will reside at 3481 Lemon Ave.

If you have colored your hair, or even secretly contemplated doing so, you should know about the fabulous BON COIF . . . a scientific protected formula which has been thoroughly tested and approved . . . is formulated by one of America's foremost big-name cosmetic laboratories! Many have tried to obtain a vibrant, youthful appearance by the use of harsh aniline dyes—and have failed. No matter if you are tinting or dyeing your hair (providing you are attempting to match your pre-grey color) BON COIF is for you. Since we introduced this fabulous creation over five years ago, we have heard from a great many people who have had high praise for BON COIF. We have seen what this dramatic preparation accomplishes and it is truly amazing. Do come in and let Miss McAllister put a colorless cream on a strand of your grey hair and in seconds watch the grey turn to its natural-like color. We are just optimistic enough to believe that after you see this convincing demonstration of the now internationally-known BON COIF formula . . . ## Galbraith Scholarships to Aid Three Students

Three Lena Galbraith memorial scholarships to Long Beach City College will be awarded a trio of outstanding high school seniors by the Long Beach Council of Parents and Teachers Monday when the group meets in Hughes Junior High School auditorium at 9:30 a. m. for the last general assembly of the current school year.

Mrs. Galbraith, in whose memory the scholarships are named, was a past president of the council (1944-46) and an active worker in the First District.

Highlighting the program will be installation of officers by Mrs. R. L. Yankie, past council president, who will give oaths of office to President Mrs. George Gordon and her fellow executives. An honorary life membership will be presented to an outstanding person in the field of youth welfare, and Long Beach Mothersingers will sing several selections.

Mrs. Albin Larson will report on the recent national convention which took place recently in San Francisco.

New president Mrs. George Gordon has announced a meeting for all incoming presidents on Friday from 9:30 a. m. to noon at Burroughs School Auditorium, 1260 E. 33rd St.

Other roundtables for the instruction and aid of unit chairmen are as follows: Wednesday, Lincoln School Auditorium, program for elementary from 9:30 to 11 a. m.; secondary, 11 a. m. to noon, with Mrs. Walter V. Remer, director or organization, and Mrs. Donald J. Baker, program chairman, in charge. From 1 to 3 p. m. at Lincoln the financial officers will meet with Mrs. Stanley Domgaard, financial secretary; Mrs. W. F. George, treasurer, and Mrs. Ray

DONATE TIME, PROFITS TO HOSPITAL

Shown inspecting a few of the varied gifts that will be available in the gift shop when the new Long Beach Osteopathic Hospital opens its doors about June 11 are, from left, Mmes. Robert F. Dilday, Clifton S. Smith and Lloyd G. Hallamore. Mrs. Smith is president of the newly formed Hospital Guild, members of which will give their time and sales profits to the hospital for purchase of equipment and supplies. The shop will be open to the public from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. daily.—(Staff photo.)

New Board for Court St. Ann

Court St. Ann, Catholic Daughters of America, will install the following new officers Tuesday at 8 p. m. in St. Anthony's Catholic Center, 6th St. and Alamitos Ave.:

Jessie McGuire, grand regent; Laurette White, vice regent; Juanita Hahn, prophetess; Kathrine Reed, financial secretary; Margaret Balough, historian; Frances Kennedy, treasurer; Mary Marquelling, lecturer; Bernice Brassic, monitor; Mary Hinkle, sentinel; Frances Davis, organist, and Ellen Cahill, Mary Pulsifer and Eleanor Ashby, trustees.

Mrs. Mary Liesman will be chairman for a tea to be given after the installation ceremony.

Hanks, finance and budget chairman.

Thursday, membership chairmen will meet at Burroughs school, elementary 9:30 to 11 and secondary, 11 to noon, with Mrs. Dow Mead, director of extension, and Mrs. John M. Rigby, membership chairman, in charge.

All publicity chairmen, outside or press, inside or newsletter, and record book are asked to meet at Burroughs school from 1 to 3 p. m. Thursday. Council chairmen in charge are Mrs. J. W. Dean, press; Mrs. Edward Seeley, assistant press; Mrs. R. A. West, councilor editor; Mrs. C. L. Davis, co-editor, and Mrs. Donald Bongers, record book.

Guild Forms, Operates New Hospital Gift Shop

Philanthropic-minded women have again banded together to aid worthy institutions, this time in the form of the newly organized Long Beach Osteopathic Guild.

A hard-working committee headed by Mrs. Gerald Houts has been rushing plans to establish a gift shop at the new Osteopathic Hospital, Pacific Ave., which was dedicated May 25. The modern green and yellow decorated shop opened its doors to the public for a quick preview that day and again at the open house celebration May 27, but will not be operating officially until the hospital opens about June 11.

The gift shop, organized and completely manned by the Guild, is an entirely non-profit operation, group members donating their time each day between 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. Profits from sales of items ranging from baby clothes and toilet articles to aprons, men's goods and toys, will be turned over to the hospital for purchase of materials and equipment.

Committee women include Mmes. Lloyd G. Hallamore, Robert F. Dilday, Frederick Sturges, Laurence Houts, Charles Poitevin, R. T. Han-

stine, J. C. Molina, George Lancer, Walter Gunderman, Ward DeWitt, Geneva Peterson, Miss May Brittain and the president, Mrs. C. S. Smith.

On Tuesday afternoon, Guild women will meet in the home of Mrs. Rufus A. Davis, 4230 Pacific Ave., for a "Friendship Tea," their first social function. Sponsoring the event and assisting as hostesses are the Long Beach Osteopathic and Bay Harbor Auxiliaries under the direction of their presidents, Mrs. Willis F. Baughman and Mrs. Bryce Pizey, respectively. Mrs. Gus A. Lucking and Mrs. Elmer S. Clark are in charge of tea arrangements, and the committee on invitations includes Mmes. Forrest Pendergast, Dave Lawrence, Charles Posson and Lynn Albrecht. Serving as an advisory committee are Mmes. Joseph Madden, Lynn Bruce and A. A. Carrey.

Mrs. Duane Harold Kuster

Kuster-Eaton Nuptials Read by Soft Candlelight

Tall candelabra cast a soft, flickering glow on the chancel of All Saints' Episcopal Church for Friday night's reverent nuptial service uniting in marriage Lucy Woodward Eaton and Duane Harold Kuster. Plain gold wedding bands, symbolic of their love, were exchanged by the young couple as Rev. Ainsley Maxwell Carlton read the service before 350 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Reginald Orpin Eaton, 1864 Chatwin Ave., and the late Capt. Eaton. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Kuster, 1439 E. 56th St.

Delicate shades of pink against a background of white set the lovely color theme for the occasion, with banks of pink carnations and white stock gracing the altar and in the nuptial bouquets of pink gladioli and white stock.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were her attendants identically gowned in waltz-length pink slipper satin and carrying pink peony carnations interspersed with sprays of miniature ivy. Wreaths of ivy encircled their hair. Mrs. Kenneth J. Eaton served her sister-in-law as matron of honor, while bridesmaids were Mrs. Edward Crook and Miss Jeannette Coffin.

As she approached the altar with her brother, Kenneth J. Eaton of Chula Vista, the radiant bride wore a gown fashioned of white slipper satin. The fitted bodice featured a portrait neckline trimmed with a satin bow, and the full skirt swept back into a chapel-length train. A filmy tulle veil cascaded from a satin pillbox. Pearl earrings, a gift from the bridegroom, and a lace handkerchief presented by his mother, completed the bridal ensemble. White peonies mingled with English ivy to form the bride's bouquet.

Attending the bridegroom were his brother, Robert J. Kuster, as best man, and ushers Richard M. Hollar, Buckner N. Harris, Willis G. Linker and Donald P. Malmberg.

The newlyweds greeted their guests in the parish hall of the church and were assisted by Mrs. Shelley Hartzell at the guest book and Misses Curtis Coffin, William Seal, Charles Orcutt and Herbert Forsberg. Louise and Carol Eaton, nieces of the bride distributed favors among the well-wishers.

A graduate of Villa Maria Academy in Erie, Pa., and Louisiana State University, the new Mrs. Kuster also attended the University of California. She received her Master's Degree from Long Beach State College and is presently teaching at Nettie L. Waite School in Norwalk. Among her affiliations are Symphony Juniors of Long Beach Auxiliary of Southern California Symphony Association and American Association of University Women.

The bridegroom, an alumnus of Wilson High School, attended UCLA where he was a member of Alpha Sigma Phi. He also obtained his Master's Degree from LBSC and now teaches at Stanford Junior High School.

Following a brief honeymoon, the couple will make their home at 2000 Chatwin Ave.

Club Hears Report of Desert Trip

Long Beach Cactus Club will meet June 17 in the home of Mr. M. J. Armstrong in Silverado Canyon and will enjoy a basket lunch and a varied program in the artistic rock garden.

Clarence B. Wright presided at the May meeting in the home of Mrs. A. A. Anderson, 1970 Maine Ave. The group voted to add to their growing library and heard a resume of the recent trip of the Southern California Affiliated Cactus Clubs to the Joshua National Monument Park.

Others participating in the program were Jack Klenke and Homer B. Rush.

August Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Trout of 1515 Pine Ave. have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lorraine, to Jack A. Von Werner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Von Werner of 938 Chestnut. The bride-elect is a native daughter and was graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles. An August wedding is planned.

Busy Club Life, VIPs, Houseguests Are Noted on Military Social Scene

By VIRGINIA NEWTON

With a gay hearted summertime theme in mind and plans of centerpieces of pastel colored glads and pretty streamers, busy Wives of Navy Doctors Club will hostess a luncheon party Wednesday, June 13, at noontime in the Officers Club, Allen Center.

Mrs. James A. Johnson will be hostess for the afternoon. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Lewis Dorgan of 4203 Linden Ave. by noon of June 11.

Speaking of busy clubs, the active and popular Mine Force Officers Wives Club recently elected new officers at a coffee gathering in the Staff Mess at the Naval Base. Those now holding office are Mmes. R. D. Faubion, president; A. C. Filiatrault, vice president; F. A. Mitchell, secretary; T. B. Wilson, treasurer, and G. S. Whittaker, director chairman.

A very cordial welcome was given visiting VIP Rear Adm. William Marshall, commander Destroyer Flotilla One, and his staff here from the Far East. The occasion was a welcoming reception at Allen Center given by the officers attached to the many destroyer units based here, and their ladies. Also present was Rear Adm. Campbell, commander Naval Base, and Mrs. Campbell.

Leaving about June 15 for new residence and duty in Newport, R. I., will be Comdr. and Mrs. Earl Leach and three children, Marilyn, Robert and Cheryl. Commander Leach, who was formerly attached to the USS Los Angeles, will attend Officers School in Rhode Island.

Recent houseguests of those retired Navy folks, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Craig, were their friends Capt. and Mrs. John McElroy of Washington, D. C., who were en route to new duty and residence in San Francisco.

The wives of officers attached to Destroyer Squadron Three recently enjoyed a coffee hour at Allen Center with the wives of officers attached to the USS Mason as hostesses.

Mrs. Ray H. Bradshaw and two children, Laura and Patty, left last Monday morning for Chicago.

day" to pretty Ann Rogers, daughter of Comdr. and Mrs. William Rogers, who celebrated her 11th birthday with a party last week attended by her school friends and neighbors.

Paid up members of the Nautical Club will be honored by the club at a "It's on the Club" luncheon party Wednesday at the Hawaiian Gardens. Those planning to attend should call their reservations to Mrs. C. A. Murray or Mrs. O. A. Ottesen. Members may bring guests to the event.

News from the NCO Wives Club out at the Long Beach Air Force Base includes mention of a Bake Sale by the members Wednesday at the NCO Club at 7 o'clock. The next meeting date of the club will be at 7:30 on June 14.

Club members recently toured Helms Bakery in Los Angeles and had as their civilian guests Mmes. Evelyn Julian, Francis Shain and Clare Lewis and youngster Charles Bohline Jr.

Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. Harry A. Guthrie's houseguest this week is Mrs. Guthrie's mother, Mrs. Olive Berg, here from Santa Cruz to attend the wedding of her cousin, Roland Haggard of Los Angeles.

Also visiting is Mrs. Guthrie's uncle and aunt from Santa Cruz, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Beat, and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wise of San Pablo, who plan to go on to

Prize Contests Rewarding Financially, as Family Fun

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-371: Dr. Arthur, aged 45, is a successful dentist.

"Dr. Crane, some years ago I read your advice about entering prize contests," he informed me when I was addressing his dental society.

"So I decided to try contesting as an interesting diversion. My wife and I made it our mutual hobby. It has been a great deal of fun, and we have also won several cash prizes, including one for $1,000.

"I certainly can recommend it as a very stimulating family project to tie husband and wife more closely together in their interests."

Mrs. Crane and I became contest addicts during our first year of marriage. We sent entries into dozens of contests. Some were of the limerick variety. Others asked for the solution of simple crossword puzzles. In the latter case, a 50-word or maybe 100-word letter was also required.

And we became fairly proficient. By that, I mean we averaged possibly maybe one prize out of every 8 to 10 entries. Oh, many of our prizes were of small value, such as $2 or $5 or $10, but we did rate two first prizes of $1,000 each in nationwide contests.

And to this day we still have a great urge to go back to contesting but we lack the time.

"When we retire," says Mrs. Crane, "then we can get back into contesting." And I certainly hope so, for prize contests are mentally stimulating. They teach you to look up items in dictionaries and history books and to delve into the encyclopedia.

Such mental exercise is well worth the effort, even if you never win a prize.

And when you get your relatives or friends into the hobby, you always have plenty to talk about. Conversation never lags. So start being a contest fan. Enter many contests, however, so you are not too downhearted when you failed to win anything on last month's entry.

"Well, I have 27 more entries in other contests to be announced later," you can then bolster your morale. Contests are fairly judged, so don't worry on that score. But write very plainly or type your entries.

Try to use practical, "horse sense" examples. Don't parrot back the trite advertising phrases of the product. Present your story in your own words.

And stay within the published word limit. If the rules list a maximum of 50 words, you can't possibly win if you have 51 words. And please remember that many people come up with the same rhyming word so try to be unique.

"Nobody will ever think of this idea," Mrs. Crane and I have often decided about our entry, yet we have seen dozens exactly like it when we

Oswald Jacoby Big Hands Need Care

Big hands come along rather seldom, but they account for most of the points you win or lose in the course of a session. Handle them carefully in order to get the most out of them.

South went at his big hand, shown today, like the proverbial bull at a gate. The outcome was pleasant only to his opponents.

West opened the king of diamonds, forcing out declarer's ace. South then took 10 minutes by the clock in the attempt to guess what to do next. Should he lead out to two high trumps and then try to cash high hearts or high spades? If so, which suit should he try to run? Or should he enter dummy with a heart at the second trick and stake everything on an immediate trump finesse?

There was something to be said for each of these plans, but none of them would have worked. South went down one, ingloriously enough, avoiding a loss only because he had 100 honors.

There would have been a different story to tell if South had done his thinking during the bidding instead of during the play. There was no reason to jump to six clubs at once. If South had done some exploring he would have found a far better contract; and if nothing better turned up he could bid six clubs later.

At his second turn, South should bid three clubs. North might jump to for spades (a fine bid), but might bid only three spades. If South then bid four clubs, North would surely bid four spades. South then would bid six spades rather than six clubs.

Perhaps some delicate line of bidding would get South to seven no-trump or seven spades. Even seven hearts can be made. The point is that almost any other slam contract would have been better than South's bid of six clubs.

Graduation Gifts Should Suit Interests

By ANGELO PATRI

June is graduation month and graduation means gifts for the graduates. Flowers fade too soon? Jewelry is unsuitable for most. Try to think of something the young person wants, or which would help him on the next phase of his growth.

If the graduate is going on to the next higher school, he would like to have some bit of equipment he is going to need. Reference books that he can use are fine. A dictionary, even an encyclopedia, are gifts from heaven for the student, and they will last his lifetime. Get the standard works. They are unfailing.

A camera is one of the best gifts a graduate can have. Get the one suitable to his use for it. A beginner needs a beginner's camera, while the graduate of college grade needs a more scientific apparatus. There are cameras for every kind of use—for fun, for study, for work in various fields. Buy the one that fits the need.

Ever think of a trip abroad for a graduate? It is a wonderful gift that will give the recipient pleasure and profit for a lifetime. It's not too expensive if well planned, either.

And there is a gift that can open a door to the graduate's dream of higher education—a course at the Conservatory for the struggling young musician, a course in college or in some specialized school for medicine, science, business could make all the difference in life to your special graduate.

To the elderly friend or relative who has that money stowed away for his heirs, let me suggest that you give it to the graduate who needs the lift it could give him now. Later, after you have no further need of money, this young person, boy or girl, may have lost his chance for the course that might have opened the door to happiness and success. There is such a gift you can bestow that will keep alive a kindness through the next generation and the next, on down the years.

It is an opportunity to invest in youth. Don't miss it.

Molly Mayfield

He Won't Be 'Woman's Prey'

DEAR MRS. MAYFIELD:

This poor old country has been bamboozled into accepting domination by the American female. I am a bachelor, and being one of the last bastions of "freedom from womenkind," I can truthfully and somewhat bitterly say that even my position is being threatened by the scheming creatures.

You'll probably say I'm just sour because the girls don't go for me. I wish they didn't. My problem is really how to keep them away. I have an excellent job, a good education, and, if I do say so myself, am quite goodlooking.

But I don't intend to be trapped by one of these hypocritical, domineering females. They pretend to be sweet as sugar and once they've snared you, they turn sour as vinegar. Oh, I've seen it happen hundreds of times to poor friends of mine.

Nine-tenths of those gals aren't worth the minerals they're made of—and minerals ain't worth much on the current market! They can't cook, they can't raise kids properly, they can't keep their husbands or themselves content—and they think the world owes them a living. Now really!

The divorce rate is at an all-time high, with most divorces instituted by "them." Juvenile delinquency is at an all-time high, and most people in the know say it has its beginnings in the home where, incidentally, the child spends most of his time with his mother.

And yet, the foolish male spends more than half his time in trying to pacify these very birds of prey that feed on him. Not I!

I want to know what you think, Molly, honestly. Don't stick up for these mock birds of paradise just because you're one of them. Admit the truth. Dare you!—E.S.J.G.

Dinner Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Eagle and Mrs. Beatrice McCauley, all of Long Beach, were the recent dinner guests of Dr. M. B. Hagerdon at the Corona Navy Hospital.

DEAR E.S.J.G.:

I would love to answer you. It would be quite easy. All I'd have to say is that I hope you're never "snared" by some female beast of prey! I'd feel desperately sorry for her—if she found you on her hands.

However, I don't have to answer you. I have a letter right here from your secretary—and it's answer enough as far as I'm concerned. The letter follows.—M.M.

DEAR MRS. MAYFIELD:

Honestly, never have I witnessed such gross ignorance in my life. This may mean my job, being the secretary of the "genius" who dictated and asked me to transcribe the enclosed letter. But being a woman comes more natural with me than being a secretary, because I suppose, I was a woman before I became a secretary.

The "boss" is quite a character, to put it mildly. Does he ever have illusions of grandeur? I honestly believe that his sarcastic attitude about women comes from the fact that he has just recently been given the gate by someone who told him a few things some of us gals who work with him would like to.

HIS days at the university, HIS war career, HIS boyhood

days in dear ole West Virginia are never comparable to anything anybody else every experienced—or anything related to his present mundane way of living.

Sports Cars Holiday Down Mexico Way

By Vera Williams

MGs, JAGUARS, Austin Healys, Volkswagens, Porsches, Triumphs, Mercedes Benzes and the like will be on the road June 8 between Long Beach and Ensenada.

There will be something like 150 of these small cars, with a driver and a navigator aboard and maybe the small fry of the family tucked into the crevices.

They will leave Spring St. and Bellflower Blvd. at one minute intervals, starting at 6 a. m. and they will begin reaching Ensenada at dusk. A barbecue, tequila party, dinner dance and gymkhana later and they will be back in Long Beach June 10.

IT WILL BE THE second annual Great Western Rally, sponsored by Long Beach MG Club, the main event of the year for sports car owners and enthusiasts of this area.

"Long Beach MG Club takes in everyone who is interested," says Bill Rice, rally steward. "We have 230 members, both men and women. Ninety per cent of them have sports cars, and I suppose 70 per cent of those are foreign sports cars. . . . But a person can get in if he has a bicycle, or a pair of roller skates or owns no wheels at all, just as long as he is interested in sports cars."

ROUTES WILL BE given the Great Western rallyists about 5 minutes before they leave. The driver tries to maintain the required speed; the navigator tells him the route and keeps track of the speed. This is not a speeding event, MG owners are quick to explain. The idea is constancy and precision.

At various check points, the cars are checked for time. Often after 10 hours of driving, a car will have an "error" of less than a minute. Traffic laws are followed; anyone who gets a moving ticket is disqualified from the event.

The route will lie through the scenic "back country" to San Diego; then the coast to Ensenada.

THE RALLYISTS will have a barbecue at Tecate, shortly after they cross the border. At Ensenada they will be met by a Mexican orchestra, will have a tequila party and receive souvenirs from the Ensenada Chamber of Commerce.

A gymkhana is slated for June 9. A gymkhana is a series of tests of driving skill — the crazier the better. Common tests include blindfold driving, parking, dragging a wooden block between two crooked lines, breaking balloons, acceleration and braking, changing tires and spark plugs, picking up objects from the ground from a moving car, driving two cars at a given distance with a string tied between them. A good many of these events are run simultaneously, to add to the fun.

BEFORE AND AFTER the gymkhana, the rallyists will swim, loaf and sight-see. A dinner-dance is slated for that night at Hotel de Pacifico. Trophies will be awarded for the gymkhana and for the best driving time on the run — the best driving time is not the fastest, but the most accurate.

Sunday morning June 10 all will return home, by a more direct route.

At the Great Western last year, the sports car enthusiasts drove to Yosemite. The year before they called it a Continental, and they "wandered around Southern California."

Rally stewards for the Great Western are Sam Kreidel and Bill Rice, with Jack Thompson as chief marshal and timekeeper. Other committee members are Phil Gruber, C. J. Neal, Jim Honeter, Chet Lancaster, Dan Deeble II and Ron Teters.

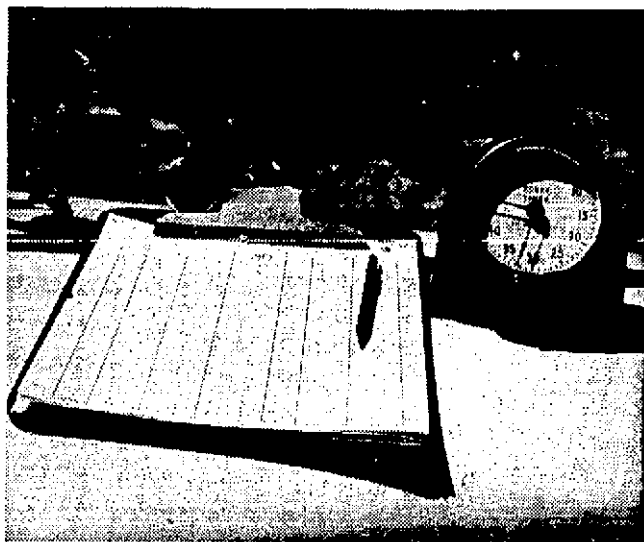

The Great Western is an open championship event.

ALTHOUGH ALL persons can participate, whether or not they are members of any sports club, those who are members of any of the 42 sports clubs in-

Enthusiasm runs high when sports car drivers get together for friendly competition. Here's the start of a rally.

Log sheet and timing pieces are the tools of crews at a check point when sports cars compete in rally.

On forested slopes, in classrooms unhindered by walls, students learn of conservation and natural sciences in a novel school located at Idyllwild.

HIGH ON THE forested slopes of the San Jacinto mountains of Southern California is located a school that is unique in this corner of the United States. At the Idyllwild School of Conservation and Natural Sciences, students, teachers and other interested persons may attend classes that are not enclosed by walls. The classroom is as large as the out of doors itself. The atmosphere is pungent with the aroma of cedar and pine. Here the student can become familiar with plants and animals and the world that surrounds him. This educational program is sponsored by the Idyllwild Arts Foundation and Long Beach State College. Enrolled students can secure college credit from Long Beach State College.

Several years ago, Dr. Max Krone founded the Idyllwild Arts Foundation in mile-high Idyllwild. This institution was primarily concerned with fostering the arts in the Southland. As the program developed, Dr. Krone and others realized that the 250-acre wooded campus offered an exceptional place to teach "the wise use and enjoyment of the outdoors." The phenomenal population growth of the Los Angeles region and the intensive land use that is sweeping over Southland California highlighted the need for establishing a school of conservation. This summer will be the fourth year of activity for the Idyll-

Southern California's School of the Woods

wild School of Conservation and Natural Science.

THE SAN JACINTO mountain area offers a natural study area and laboratory that differs from any other found in this country. An interesting group of trees cover the mountain slopes. The range lies between the dry and barren Colorado desert and the greener coastal valleys. No mountain area has better preserved its original primitive character. The mountain folk intend to keep their wilderness environment in this condition as much as is humanly possible. The village of Idyllwild has a rural atmosphere. However, on many a summer weekend more than 10,000 visitors will be scattered over the wooded hills.

On its eastern slopes the San Jacintos drop 10,000 feet in some five airline miles — right into the heart of the desert resort of Palm Springs. Few steeper descents occur in the United States — it is a challenge to the best of mountain climbers. In the winter it is possible to drive over the Pines-to-Palms Highway from snow-shrouded Idyllwild to the warm desert in little more than an hour's driving time.

THE SAN JACINTOS are contained within the boundaries of the San Bernardino National Forest. This area of more than 247,000 acres is under the jurisdiction of the United States Forest Service. Water conservation and recreation are the essential functions of this forest. Sustained yield and multiple use is the operational philosophy of the Forest Service. Limited grazing, logging and mining are still practiced in the region. Greatest threats to the mountains are periodic floods and explosive forest fires.

Riverside County contains the only area in the California State Park system that has been set aside as a wilderness state park. Some 12,000 acres in the Mt. San Jacinto State Park have been preserved in their natural state. Included in the area are several of the highest peaks in Southern California. The summit is Mt. San Jacinto, 10,831 feet.

FOUR COURSES will be offered by the Idyllwild School of Conservation and Natural Science this summer. These will consist of both workshops and more formal classes. The philosophy of the school is "study nature, not books." Outdoor study, and the observation of good and bad conservation methods are stressed, supplemented by class lectures, films, slides, discussion and exhibit. Special lectures are given by representatives of the major state and federal agencies concerned with conservation. The visiting faculty also includes individuals connected with agriculture and industry.

A conservation workshop begins June 25 and runs through July 6. This course will deal with the wise use of natural resources, such as forests, water, soils, wildlife, conservation material and recreational areas. Nu-

She's Hip to the Hula

Polynesians say hula dancers tell a story with their hands—hips and feet are just incidental. Well, perhaps some people read the story when Julie Adams does the hula in "Away All Boats," U-I's dramatic story of Uncle Sam's Navy in World War II. Julie had to learn the hula, but proved hep with the hips, as pictures prove. Hers is a figure on which a grass skirt looks good—and her natural charm and acting talent aren't a handicap, either. Also starred in the film are Jeff Chandler, George Nader, Lex Barker and Richard Boone.

Hula student Julie checks in for her first dancing lesson. Charlotte Hunter provides the grass skirt.

Student and instructress strike pose, study Julie's progress in mirror—she's getting the swing of it.

The cameras grind and Julie grinds out the hula as George Nader plunks out accompaniment on ukelele.

Hands, hips and happy smile—here's Julie close up in the carefree dance of the exotic isles. She's the lone femme in large cast of the picture.

WHAT'S YOUR HOBBY?

She Buys the Whole Hide

By Betty Washlake

IT ALL STARTED when Mrs. W. D. Gooden, 67 E. 56th St., admired an expensive tooled leather handbag purchased in Mexico by a friend.

Knowing that her chances of getting South of the Border were practically nil, Mrs. Gooden made a sudden decision: She'd take the "cow by the hide" and make her own purse.

Now, after only a year and a half, she has cut, stamped, beveled and carved 30 large handbags, 15 belts, 40 wallets, 10 drawstring bags, many earrings, key cases, pixie boots, cigarette holders and appointment books.

MANY MEMBERS of the Long Beach Police Reserve, including her husband, wear their badges in leather holders she made.

But it all didn't come about so easily, as she put in many discouraging weeks. Her first day was spent in a leather shop and, when the roundup was over, she found she had purchased half a cowhide and numerous tools of the trade including such items as a bar grounder, beveler, seeder, resin mallet, marble slab and a swivel knife. With directions spinning in her brain, excitement in her veins and the bulky hide rolled under her arm, she went home with visions of that beautiful purse swinging by her side.

THEN EVERYTHING went wrong! The knife was awkward to hold and the bevel wouldn't flatten the leather, it just dug holes! Discouraged and with a hint of panic rising in her throat (as the money spent thus far was a tidy sum) she went back to the leather shop. This time, with more patience, she learned to hold the knife and bevel correctly. She sat and practiced on

Handicap Can't Stop Him

WHEN A FELLOW stands in the top part of his class after a tough examination, that's something. And when that top part represents the cream of the crop of approximately 4,000 college seniors scattered across the land, that's something again. But when a fellow has to conquer an almost insurmountable handicap to reach that lofty position—that's really something!

Meet Richard W. Binger,

By Jim Mangan

graduate social science student at Long Beach State College.

Binger, who is almost totally blind, recently passed the difficult U. S. government junior management assistant examination with a mark of 94 per cent, the highest mark ever recorded in the memory of the members of the board who conducted the examination.

The JMA program selects trainees for U. S. government administrative positions.

VICTIM OF AN EYE ailment at the age of 14, Binger's eyesight has deteriorated until his vision is now only 6/200. "That's my good eye," he says good-naturedly, "I don't talk about the other one."

Of the original 4,000 college seniors who took the examination, 80 per cent were washed out in the first stages. The 780 who remained were further reduced to 250 after a detailed oral examination and searching personal interview. These 250, including Binger, will take up administrative positions with the U. S. government in the near future. For Binger, however, there is one qualifying factor—his vision.

"THE TYPE OF WORK I can do is limited, naturally," says Binger, "but there are about 40 different positions which I can fill. I would like to work with the Bureau of the Budget or the U. S. Civil Service Commission, in public relations or employee relations."

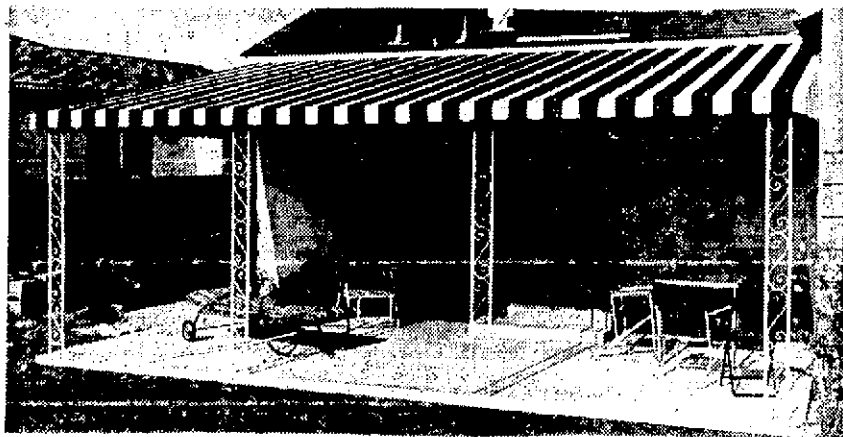

Binger, who attended Caltech and USC before coming to LBSC, depends on readers when he studies. Because of the resulting problems, he has trained himself to do almost all his learning in one reading of the text. Reviews are a special problem—there just aren't any. "It isn't that my readers won't help me review," explains Binger, "but they don't know what part of the subject I'm weak in, and I can't skim over the pages for a quick check on the main points. We were wasting so much time because neither of us knew what I wanted that I resolved to concentrate on the initial reading of the text. So now the first chance I get after something is read to me, I go over it quickly in my mind. Even when the stuff isn't clear

What's in a Name?

The Arrowhead Country of northern Minnesota — so named because it covers an expanse resembling the head of an arrow — is one of the nation's favorite recreation areas. It comprises 12 counties boasting 7,000 of Minnesota's 10,000 lakes, and an area of 22,000 miles. Fishing is tops, reports Northwest Orient Airlines, flying vacationists there.

Novelty at Nassau

By Bud Mulloy

SOMETHING NEW has been added at the staid and plush old British Colonial Hotel in Nassau, Bahamas — doormen in liveries reminiscent of Buckingham Palace or the ritziest of London hosteleries.

Visitors are deserting the famous Nassau police constables as camera subjects and are clicking their shutters at the doormen at every opportunity, and the amount of film exposed each day is fantastic.

AUTHENTIC as they can be and carrying the black and gold coat of arms colors of Sir Sidney Oakes, Bt., the uniforms come from the centuries-old tailoring shop of Simpson & Son, Ltd., London, which has supplied liveries to the royal family for many generations.

The silk top hat, with gold band, buckle and fringe, sports a black and orange silk cockade. The waistcoat is of old gold Valencia cloth, the black coat has an old gold collar, gilt ring buttons and slashed cuffs edged with gold lace and the black trouser seams are trimmed with a one-inch strip of gold. It was designed by Baroness von Hoyning-En-Huene (Nancy Oakes).

'Tis a pleasure, indeed, to be greeted now under the carriage canopy.

Britain for 38 cents. Your driving license costs 70 cents, and a seat at a small-town movie, 60 cents.

Many sights in London cost nothing. Admission is free to Changing the Guard at Buckingham Palace, the Lord Mayor's Show (early November).

The same holds true for admission to the permanent collection at the British Museum, the National Gallery, the Tate Gallery, and the Mint, source of the United Kingdom and Colonial currencies. For the latter, all that is necessary is a short letter to the Controller, Royal Mint, London. For free literature on London and all parts of Britain write the British Travel Association, 336 Madison Ave., New York 17, N. Y.

Stretching a Dollar

Worth seven shillings and a penny halfpenny, your dollar has a lot of buying power in Britain. Here are some examples of what it will do.

One dollar in London will buy two haircuts for a man, a round-trip boat ride on the Thames, a taxi ride from Piccadilly to St. Paul's and back, a good seat in a theater, or five leading magazines.

Britain is liberally dotted with inns where one can dine in solid comfort for a dollar. A railway ticket for this amount takes you from London to St. Albans, which boasts the country's oldest pub and a Roman amphitheater.

At night time you can call long distance to any point in

AROUND THE WORLD WITH DELAPLANE

"We are two school teachers with time to go by bus in the British Isles. Are there any special customs or advice we should know?"

MIGHT KEEP IN MIND to reserve — "book" is the British way of saying it — EVERYTHING.

You book hotel rooms. The hotel may be half empty but the people are upset if you arrive cold. Book restaurant tables. Don't just drop in. If you want papers, book them with the head porter. The man with the crossed keys on his uniform lapel who hands out your room keys.

Tipping needs a little looking over. Recently some of the London hotels have been adding 15 per cent for service in the Continental style. But they tell you this does not absolve you (as it does on the Continent) from full scale tipping. Ask when you register about service charges and tipping. I'm not sure of this myself now but will find out this fall.

As on the Continent, all hands get tipped at the end of your stay.

Your tips will be for room maid, room waiter who brought your breakfasts if he did, hall porter (he shined the shoes you left outside your door each night). The head porter who handled your mail, keys and newspapers. This handy man also puts out the advice on shopping, gets theater tickets and is your best friend. Use him.

As to amounts: For two people, one week, country hotel. I would say 10 shillings ($1.40) for the maid; seven for the head porter. This is neither a minimum nor maximum and can be varied for how much each was used. Just something to work on.

You do not tip in pubs. But you do in tearooms and coffee houses, 15 per cent.

The man with the cart who carries your roast beef gets a shilling or two in addition to the waiter. And the wine steward is tipped separately.

Baggage to and from your room is not tipped separately. It is in your general hall porter's tip. If there is much baggage, consider that when you tip for the nightly shoe polishing.

"Where would we find out about the best food in France? Is there a book?"

THE TOP is the "Michelin Guide." Listing not only a motor guide but maps of gourmet tours of France. This is absolutely dependable and the French look on a Michelin listing as the final word.

Too heavy to carry and expensive, but worth reading, is "Bouquet de France" by Samuel Chamberlain. Write Gourmet, 768 Fifth Ave., New York City.

For Paris only, your hotel or a magazine kiosk should have Art Buchwald's excellent pocket "Paris After Dark." There is also a small pocket Michelin Guide to Paris alone.

Your mailed questions will be answered (no phone calls). Send stamped and addressed envelope to: Stan Delaplane, Southland Magazine, Independent, Press-Telegram, Sixth and Pine, Long Beach 12, Calif.

COINCIDENCE solved a mystery and uncovered an interesting story one recent Sunday afternoon at La Casa de Rancho Los Cerritos.

A picture of what seemed to be the top deck of a submarine on visiting day lay on my desk for identification.

It was one of a collection given the Rancho by Mrs. Stanley Houghton, and she had not been able to give any information about it as the pictures were among those her late husband had kept in his office.

But on this Sunday afternoon, Fred Hunter, 249 Maine Ave., visited the historic Los Cerritos Ranch House, 4600 Virginia Rd., and mentioned he had lived in Long Beach since 1904.

I showed him the picture, and so the story came out.

"IT IS A SUBMARINE," Hunter explained. "It was built at the Dodge Boat Works over in the harbor about 1915 or 1916, I'm not really sure, by John Milton Cage.

"It was launched sideways, like the ships were at the Craig Shipyards. When it slipped into the water it rolled over so far it took on water in the hold and settled to the bottom right there.

"Cage had the water pumped out and raised it up, however, and it was fitted and powered with two Buffalo engines.

"It made several dives and managed to go down and come up again without any accident or mechanical difficulties. My father, who used to caution us often on our boyish escapades, insisted on making a dive in it. We boys held this adventure over his head thereafter, when he disapproved of things we wanted to do.

"CAGE RAN OUT of money and was not successful at selling stock in his venture and finally had to abandon the whole project. The two Buffalo engines were removed and installed in a Catalina excursion boat."

This brought to an end the submarine industry in Long Beach, but Cage was on the right track and might have made a real contribution to national defense in World War I, had circumstances been more favorable.

That was a lucky day for me.

I was just that very day working on several of these old pictures, and I still have some I cannot identify. Maybe other visitors will help me out on some other afternoon.

THERE ARE TWO pictures of the interiors of rooms which I believe to be in the first Virginia Clubhouse when it was out where the Recreation Park golf course is now. There is also an exterior view, which I think is the clubhouse. Someday someone will visit the Rancho who remembers this building.

I have had many interesting visits with longtime residents and their conversations are recorded

Dome Jackpot

In their campaign to lure more travelers back to the rails, American railroads may have hit the jackpot in modern, glass-roofed passenger cars—"domes" to the trade—that are fast revolutionizing old-fashioned concepts of rail travel, according to the May issue of Railway Progress.

Fourteen U. S. and Canadian roads today have more than 200 dome cars in service and all have found them a "tremendous attraction" to the traveling public, particularly vacationers, writes Edward A. Herron in an article whose title poses the question, "What's Different About Domes?"

"The answer," says Herron, "is simple—you see more. You enjoy a vista of mountains that's never blocked by a bald head. You absorb a wide expanse of picture blue sky that isn't squared off by a baggage rack and a battered suitcase.

"You get right in the middle of the picture—the very spot the Hollywood people have been trying to put you for years. You have a sensation of gliding through space. You come as close to piloting the big diesels as the law allows—looking straight ahead to changing signals, easing on the brakes to red, pumping oil to the green. You're in the clear, almost out in the windstream, yet wrapped around in tinted glass, air conditioned comfort.

"It's a world apart from the rest of the train."

Domes, according to Herron, come in all shapes and sizes, but the typical dome coach offers 24 seats under glass in addition to 48 conventional seats. Some railroads advertise dome cars with "every seat under the sky."

There are even dome diners built on three levels, giving travelers the chance to dine and get an eyeful of scenery at the same time.

For camera fans, the author notes, domes are a major attraction.

These Homemakers Are Hep

By Don Drury

ARE JOHNNY'S JEANS strong enough to stand the wear and tear of an active 6-year-old? Are the kitchen curtains dangerously inflammable? Will the new draperies hold their color?

At least one group of homemakers in Long Beach is now very well up on the answers to these and similar questions.

Taking part in a joint consumer-education program arranged by the School for Adults and the City College Business and Technology Division, more than 150 adult students from seven homemaking classes have toured the well equipped Materials Testing Laboratory on the BTD campus during the past two months.

They have learned exactly how the precision machines of an industrial testing center can determine such matters as the fadeability, washability, tensile strength, bursting strength and wear resistance of fabrics. They have also learned that many of these tests can be easily duplicated in the average household.

TAKE THE WASHABILITY test, which measures color-fastness, shrinkage and puckering of fabrics. The necessary ingredients, ready at hand in any home, are a mason jar, soap and water. A sample swatch of fabric is stapled to a strip of white cloth. It is placed in the jar with warm water, soap and some small weights (marbles do very nicely) to act as agitators. The covered jar is shaken for a few minutes.

The material is then removed from the jar and allowed to dry. Shrinkage can also be detected, along with any warping or puckering caused by the presence of two or more different fibers in the same cloth.

In the testing lab, of course, dozens of samples are inserted into separate jars, and the entire batch is agitated mechanically. Otherwise the processes are identical. A testing technician would be careful, of course, to use strips of non-shrinking white cloth exactly the same size as the samples.

ANOTHER TEST of considerable importance to most homemakers is fadeability. In the testing laboratory the job is done by a Fadeometer, a device which in 24 hours exposes samples to the equivalent of two weeks' normal sunlight. The home-grown, do-it-yourself fade-ometer takes longer, but works just as well. You begin with a piece of cardboard, about five by seven inches, cut out a "window" three or four inches square and then staple the cardboard to the fabric sample.

Dial readings tell Mrs. Lorraine Huebel the bursting strength of a sample fabric. Joe Pierce and his son, Mark, give practical demonstration of wear and tear.

Instead of the laboratory's battery of intensified lights, the home technician (assuming a condition of Smog Green) falls back on good old California sunshine. The sample is left exposed to sunlight (cardboard face up, tilted to the south) for about two weeks. At the end of this time, removal of the cardboard masking will reveal any significant fading of the sun-exposed portion.

Still another test easily performed at home is one for flammability. Certain fabrics used in curtains, lightweight blouses, children's Halloween or party costumes, some synthetic textiles and the like may be dangerously combustible.

FOR THIS TEST a kitchen match is lighted beneath a strip of the fabric sample. (Holding the other end between one's fingers is not recommended, incidentally.) According to typical test codes, the lighted match is held to the sample for one second. If the flame goes out when the match is removed, the material is acceptable. If, however, it continues burning briskly, the home tester may draw her own conclusions, with no prompting from the audience.

Still another part of the program in adult homemaking classes is instruction in how to read labels. The labels on clothing and many types of fabric are required by law to designate component materials, to indicate whether these materials are new or "reclaimed" and to indicate the presence and exact proportions of fiber in a composite material such as cotton-rayon-acetate. Such information, often overlooked by the purchaser, may be very important.

Certain tests performed in the testing laboratory require special machinery which obviously cannot be duplicated in the home. Among these are devices to measure abrasion or wear resistance (a factor in upholstery materials and clothing), tensile strength or wear resistance (a factor in upholstery materials and clothing), tensile strength, filler test (to detect amount of chalk, starch, etc., used to weight some materials) and identification of fibers by staining and microscopic examination.

MEMBERS OF WEAVING, upholstery, clothing and interior decoration classes took full advantage of the BTD testing center, naturally, to get samples of their current projects thoroughly examined for all these properties.

According to Mrs. Gheratine Pinniger of the School for Adults and instructor Ted Dunkle of the Business and Technology Division, many of these tests were genuine revelations to the homemaking students involved in the joint program. "If I'd only known that before!" was the typical reaction.

It is much easier on the housewife's happy frame of mind—and budget—to find out in advance whether those lovely new curtains will fade to a mournful, mottled mauve two months later, or whether Johnny's new T-shirt is going to turn the entire family wash a violent shade of orange the first time it's laundered.

A Gourmet Treat: Chilled Soup

A SIMPLE SOUP and sandwich lunch can be made glamorous and colorful by varying the soup. Many folks have not experienced the pleasure of eating chilled soup. This pleasant first course has long been a favorite of gourmets, but it can be easily prepared at home.

When you have an informal get-together with some of your friends, for an afternoon of cards or sewing, a soup and sandwich menu can be adjusted without effort and become something special. During "Dairy Month," this month, you might like to try a chilled soup if you haven't already. Of course, these soups are made with milk; they are prepared in advance and refrigerated until serving time. There are many combinations you might try—vichyssoise, a combination of potatoes, onions and milk, is probably the best known. Summer garden soup uses fresh peas as the basic vegetable, and milk as the ingredient that not only adds creamy smoothness, but also the important food nutrients of milk which are so essential in the diet.

Chilled soup, made with milk, garnished and based in bowl of ice, can be delightful afternoon refreshment.

THE SOUP BOWLS and the soup should be chilled until the last moment. If you wish to add real glamour, set the soup bowl in a bed of ice and garnish the ice with vegetable relishes or olives. This makes a most attractive service and the sight of the cool food is refreshing on a warm summer day.

A broiled sandwich might follow the soup and it will give just the right contrast. Dessert should be simple and nothing could be more suitable than ice cream, plain or with fruit, and crisp butter cookies or brownies. Here are two menus which exemplify the chilled soup and sandwich idea.

- Luncheon Menu
- Summer Garden Soup
  - Crisp Crackers
  - Butter
  - Broiled Cheese - Tomato - Bacon Sandwich
  - Relish Tray
  - Strawberry Sundae
  - Brownies
  - Milk
  - Hot Beverage, if desired
- Summer Garden Soup
- 2 cups fresh or frozen peas
  - 2 tablespoons minced onion
  - 1/4 cup butter
  - 3 tablespoons flour
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - Few grains pepper

- 3 cups milk
- 1/2 cup cream
- 1/4 cup chopped fresh mint

Cook fresh peas in 1 cup boiling slightly salted water until tender. (If using frozen peas, cook according to directions, saving liquid in which they are cooked). Press peas with liquid through sieve. Sauté onion in butter until delicately brown, blend in flour and seasonings. Slowly add milk; cook stirring constantly until thickened. Add vegetable pulp and bring to a boil. Cool. Add cream and chill in refrigerator. Before serving, sprinkle with chopped mint. If soup thickens upon standing, thin with additional cold milk. Makes 4 servings.

- Luncheon Menu
- Cucumber Soup
  - Melba Toast
  - Butter
  - Sliced Chicken on Toast with Cheese Sauce
  - Watermelon Pickles
  - Radishes
  - Raspberry Sherbet
  - Butter Cookies
  - Milk
  - Hot Beverage, if desired

- Cucumber Soup
- 4 tablespoons butter
  - 1 cup finely diced celery
  - 1/2 cup diced onion
  - 4 tablespoons flour
  - 2 teaspoons salt
  - 3 tablespoons minced parsley
  - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
  - 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
  - 4 cups milk
  - 2 chicken bouillon cubes
  - 2 cups finely diced, pared cucumber
- Melt butter, add celery and onion; cook over low heat, until tender, but not brown. Add flour, seasonings, and Worcestershire sauce and blend. Gradually add milk, while stirring, and cook until smooth and thickened, stirring constantly. Dissolve bouillon cubes in a little of the hot liquid and stir in. Add diced cucumber and parsley. Heat, to blend, then chill. Garnish with cucumber slices or paprika. Makes 6 servings.

They Wanted Neptune as Neighbor

For two who enjoy wide vistas of the Pacific shore, sounds of surf and seabirds, the George Knorrs' home is ideal. This is their living room.

Ingenuous placement of this breakfast and snack bar gives ocean view from kitchen through dining room.

with a sea view. This they have found.

JUST THREE MONTHS ago their house at 10 55th Pl. was completed. Designed by the Knorrs (with Mrs. Knorr doing most of the floor-planning) the dwelling faces the ocean in such a way that most of the rooms give a view of the sea.

The rooms are large and the plan is essentially open, so that there is much latitude in its use. The dining and living area, for example, is actually one huge room. A feeling of division is established with the placement of a sofa with its back to the dining area. Then, when entertainment commitments demand a large space for entertaining, the simple rearrangement of furniture transforms the whole into a spacious party area.

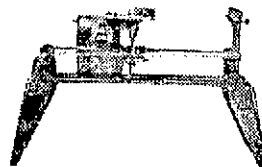

Another example of Mrs. Knorr's prowess at house planning is seen in the unique entry-den.

RATHER THAN set apart valuable floor space restricted to use as an entry, she allowed a few extra feet to permit the area to serve as an at-home office. The living room enjoys the privacy permitted by the inclusion of an entry, and the entry, itself, has become a meaningful attractive room.

In all, there are approximate-

and more fully enjoy life.

Two of mankind's healers . . . heat and massage . . . are now combined in a flat, comfortable cushion—the Niagara Thermo-Cyclopad. This fascinating new "aid-to-better-living" will encourage relaxation and help relieve the pain commonly associated with arthritis, bursitis or rheumatism.

The Thermo-Cyclopad is a result of Niagara's extensive research program conducted in hospitals, laboratories and colleges. It can be used on chair, couch or bed—lie on it, sit on it, use it behind back or on hands, feet, arms, legs. It is amazingly versatile . . . and effective.

- relieving many types of high or low back pains.
- relaxing nervous and emotional tensions and enhancing sleep.
- decreasing the over-all sense of fatigue and drowsiness of long hours of work.
- producing a feeling of relaxed well-being on the part of the user.
- increasing blood circulation.
- decreasing many types of pain as that commonly associated with medically-diagnosed chronic arthritis or bursitis.
- relieving pain associated with muscle spasm as in sprains and other injuries.
- decreasing muscle spasms of a variety of types.

The manufacturer of the famous Niagara Thermo-Cyclopad wants you to be convinced before you invest. Upon your request you can now use it in your own home or office without any cost or obligation to you.

IT IS HARD to imagine anyone—no matter how un-aesthetic he may be—whose soul can't be stirred by a magnificent view.

For some the most breathtaking is a twinkling, neon-lighted night-time view from a hill. Others find their particular beauty in the purple-to-sage stretches of desert wastelands.

And there are those who find peculiar magic in the sight, the sound, the salt spray—even the dipping of gulls—that go with the ocean.

Mr. and Mrs. George Knorr are numbered among the ocean-lovers. For years they lived in Belmont Shore, just a block or two from the beach. But they wanted to see the water from their living room, bedroom and kitchen. They wanted to be Neptune's neighbors, and so they began looking for a lot ly 1,750 square feet in the house. Two bedrooms, two baths and an all-electric kitchen are part of the plan.

The exterior stucco of the dwelling is sunset coral topped with a roof of white rock. The living room's large corner windows of tinted glass orient to the southwest to enjoy a view of the beach that stretches beyond sight. The entry is located on the west side of the building, thereby utilizing none of the south exposure, virtually all of which is glass.

The entry-den is 10 by 15 feet. It has a scuff and sound resistant cork floor, walls wainscoted with mahogany, above which they are painted a cool turquoise.

A DESK IS located here as well as a capacious sliding-door wardrobe for the accommodation of guests' wraps as well as providing extra storage for the family.

The living room, to the right of the entry is completely paneled in oak finished in a driftwood tone. The vertical paneling carries the eye to the sloped ceiling with its heavy exposed beams.

At the west end of the room is a huge Ojai fieldstone fireplace with its chimney that rises to the ceiling. Its wide based hearth provides extra seating space close to its over-size, open firebox.

To the right of the fireplace is a cabinet, crafted, like the walls, of grayish oak. This is a cabinet for the storage of magazines, books and extra accessories needed by the hostess.

The entire area, 17x35 feet, has been carpeted in a soft sage carpet. Furnishings are traditional mahogany pieces that enjoy timeless good style.

NEAR THE FIREPLACE is a deep lounge chair in dark red leather. A light green Lawson style sofa stands opposite the fireplace about 20 feet distant, thereby defining the living from the dining area.

Other living room accessories include a pair of handsome occasional chairs upholstered in quilted scenic chintz in which rose is a predominant color. A grilled-door china cabinet stands against the south wall of the living room and is an attractive tie-in for the mahogany dining set it matches.

The oval dining table enjoys the company of chairs upholstered in parchment leather. Of empire style, the regal furniture is well able to "cope with" the panoramic view that is very much a part of the dining area.

A large open pass-through from dining room to kitchen enables Mrs. Knorr to enjoy the seascape visible through the dining room window. With this in mind, she planned for the pass-through to serve as a breakfast bar from the kitchen side, directly opposite the large window.

MRS. KNORR'S kitchen enjoys the new high-style color, pink. Pink spatter linoleum sets the pace for pale pink walls and sheer marquisette curtains. Countertops are of pale beige "marble" pattern.

She Fenced Her Way Into TV

By Spencer Crump

A REVIVAL of the age-old sport of fencing is centering in Long Beach as a man and woman practice for the 1956 U. S. Olympic team and a local girl is distinguishing herself as the most televised personality in the art.

This renaissance of skills that were developed when knights were bold comes from within the Long Beach Cavaliers Fencing Club, a group of men and women meeting from 1 to 3:30 p. m. Sundays at the downtown YMCA.

People ordinarily associate light-footed fencing with dancing and the movies.

"On the contrary, fencing is the most grueling and toughest of all sports," says John C. McKee, club director and one of the few fencing masters in America.

"However, neither height, weight or sex can beat sheer skill," he adds. "Fencing is like playing a life-sized game of chess."

McKee BELIEVES that when the public becomes better acquainted with the sport, fencing will take its place in this nation along with football and track. He thinks three fencers in the local club will help focus the spotlight on the sport.

They are Marjorie Hubbard, 31, of 109 Loreta Wk.; Trudy Wodgenske, 29, of Santa Monica and Werner Kirchner, 40, of Azusa.

Miss Hubbard, a clerical employee at the Douglas plant, has fenced during the past year on seven television programs, including the Bill Leyden, Gene Norman, Helen Parrish and George Wolf shows.

Miss Wodgenske, a secretary, and Kirchner, former national saber champion of Poland, will represent California at the national finals for the U. S. Olympic fencing team in May. They practice regularly at the Long Beach club.

THE LOCAL CLUB members usually use foils, a light sword, in preference to the other fencing weapons, the triangular shaped "epee" or flat sabre.

If the U. S. team wins, it will be the first time America has captured the Olympic medal for the sport.

"Americans have overlooked fencing," says McKee, initiated into the sport at the age of 12 when he found a foil in the basement of his parents' home in Mexico City. "In Europe, children learn the sport at junior high school age and every school has its fencing master."

THERE ARE ONLY 20 accredited fencing masters in America so people here have little chance to learn the sport, he says.

"Americans in world fencing competition are like a college in Spain trying to play football with Notre Dame," says McKee, who is employed as a statistical analyst at the Douglas plant.

He trained Maxine Mitchell of Los Angeles, a member of the 1952 Olympic fencing team. He has high hopes in repeating the performance this year by coaching Miss Wodgenske and Kirchner.

Fencing has carried Marjorie Hubbard of Long Beach into several appearances before TV cameras. Here she parries thrust by an opponent, Coralie Miller.

Mobile Clothes Hamper

THIS lightweight, well ventilated clothes hamper keeps the family's soiled clothing stored out of sight — and then on wash-day the hamper lifts easily out of its cabinet and glides on wheels to the washing machine. The housewife handles soiled clothes only once when she takes them from the hamper into her machine.

By using simple butt joints and adapting this hamper to the individual situation, the home handyman can make a valuable adjunct to utility furnishings. Casters or wheel-and-axle combinations available in many hardware stores will make the unit mobile.

A few coats of plain white enamel will suffice for finishing, or decorative transfer designs obtainable in hobby, hardware or home supply stores may be applied if desired.

Perforated hardboard on front and back of the hamper and the back of the cabinet yields light weight and a functional appearance. Perforations keep contents ventilated.

A few minutes' advance planning to size the hamper to the desired location will speed the operation of construction.

Handicap Can't Stop Him

to me, I still try to clarify it and fix it in my mind."

TEACHERS WHO have had Binger in their classes say that a highly developed memory is a significant feature of his academic excellence.

"You might say that Binger is a factor that keeps professors 'honest,'" remarked one instructor. "Days, weeks or months later, he draws forth information he has stored up—sometimes to the chagrin of an instructor who has altered the original presentation just a little bit."

OF COURSE, Binger doesn't spend all his time at his studies. He has a variety of outside interests. One of them is typically masculine: food. He likes to eat, especially in good restaurants.

Speaking of restaurants, Binger, who does all the cooking at home, mentioned what he chooses to call his main claim to fame. "I make the best chili in the world," he declares with confidence. "My friends tell me it's real good, and I like it myself."

The LBSC student, who terms himself "quite a chef," has a large collection of recipes—mostly filed mentally.

"I THINK MEN are better chefs than women because they have more sensitive palates. Nobody can cook just from a recipe. It's the taste that tells—and the gals just ain't got it!"

Before his failing eyesight put a limit on his activities, Binger was a pretty busy outdoor man. He liked hiking and mountain climbing, football and horse racing—"when I had the two dollars." In 1948, when his vision was still 50 per cent normal, he climbed Mt. Whitney. While at Caltech he went out for football, but a broken leg suffered on one of his mountain meanderings put a crimp in his gridiron career. Now his exercising is confined mainly to long walks which he usually takes alone because "the country has gone soft; nobody takes long walks any more." He likes traditional jazz and has a collection of several hundred records in the New Orleans style. Kid Ory is his favorite, and Binger makes a special effort to hear the Kid when he is playing close by.

BINGER ALSO SPENDS quite a bit of time listening to the radio. He depends on it for information as well as entertainment and, on the basis of many hours of listening, considers himself something of an authority on radio in the age of TV.

Binger lives alone. He keeps house without any help and does his own laundry and shopping. At Long Beach State College he is taking courses towards his master's degree, since his graduation last semester. While he awaits word on the status of his future with the government, Binger goes his own confident way, asking little in the way of special treatment. Says this courageous Long Beach State College student simply, "I get along OK!"

With a few basic tools and a bit of advance planning, a home handyman can make this wheeled clothes hamper.

U. S. Tree Champions

The American Forestry Association, in 1940, launched a campaign to locate the largest living specimens of each of about 845 trees native to the United States.

318 champion trees, each the largest known specimen of its species, have been found. They range in size from California's General Sherman Sequoia, which measures 101'-6" around its base; to Indiana's American Elder, with a girth of only 9"—but still the champion of its species.

40 champion trees have been found in California (5 in our own Angeles National Forest), 79 on the Pacific Coast and 94 in 11 Western states.

We hope to tell you more about these champion trees in our future ads.

Official United States Navy Photos

Navy Version of a Shooting Star

SOMETHING AKIN to a shooting star is being groomed and tested as a possible successor to more conventional targets for sharpening the killer skills of the Navy's gun crews. It's the new Ryan-built XDA1 Firebee drone, an air-launched, remote-controlled, pilotless aircraft that will fly for 30 minutes at a speed of 500 miles per hour.

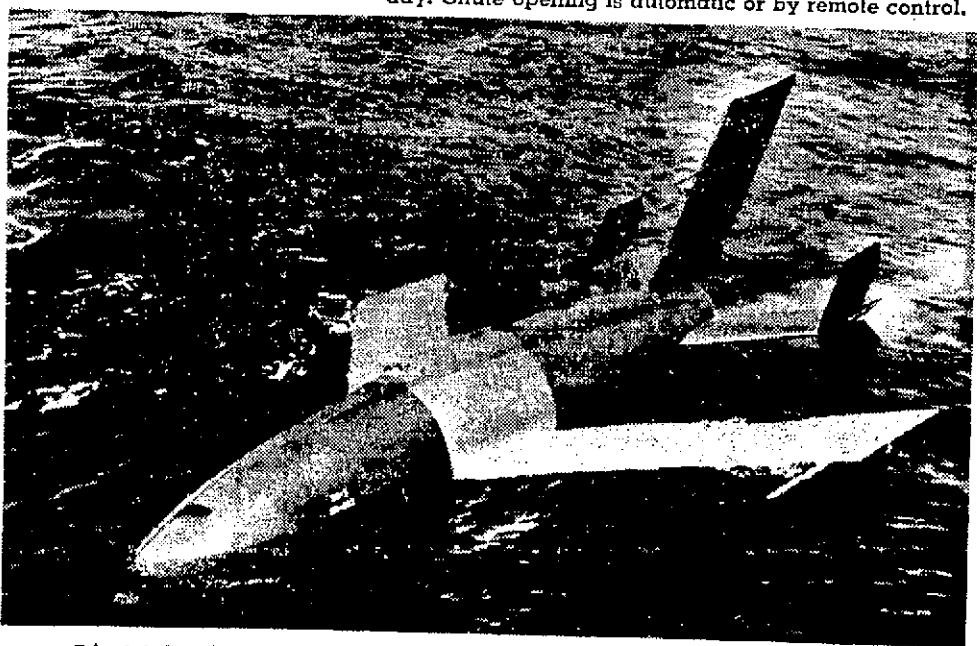

The Firebee is launched from a "mother" plane at 15,000 feet and can zoom up to an altitude of 30,000 feet. Upon termination of its flight, the Firebee can be recovered by a two-stage parachute system when flight is completed. This recovery for repeated use, coupled with initial low cost, makes the Firebee more economical than piloted aircraft converted to drone use. Also, its use as a target permits unrestricted angles of approach and fire, thereby offering more realistic missile and gunnery training.

The Firebee is 17 feet, 3 inches long; five feet, 10 inches high and has a wingspan of 11 feet, two inches. Power is a J44 turbojet engine. Reflectors sensitive to radar are installed to give gun crews an image similar to a larger craft on their radars.

Tests are being made at the Naval Air Material Test Center, Point Mugu.

Flight over, down she comes; destined to fly another day. Chute opening is automatic or by remote control.

Special flotation features will aid in recovery of the Firebee, which is destined to see wide use over water areas. Here is drone after descent.

Boot Hill, cemetery of Calico, desert ghost town, has its quota of head-board epitaphs that are in the picturesque style of the early boom days.

Are Epitaphs Really Literature?

EPIGRAPH, it is said, are the "literature of the masses."

And nowhere may more graphic epitaphs be read than those on the wooden, sunbeaten headboards on Boot Hill at Calico, ghost town near Barstow.

From these epitaphs one may glimpse into the lives of the 3,500 persons who lived and loved and died in the town's short existence.

Here are chronicled the lives of the common people ignored by historians yet preserved for a place in history. In the denunciatory, eulogistic and sometimes humor words on these headboards, the social pattern of the town and its generation is revealed.

PUNISHMENT for crime was swift as these lines written in 1881 testify:

Dan Crow

Killer-Outlaw

A no good cuss

We strung him up

Nearby is the undated headboard of a young victim of chance and circumstance:

Wes Wescott

Hung In His Youth

Twice a Sad Mistake

When we found the truth.

A grim warning to would-be claim jumpers is contained in these crudely carved letters:

Here lies

Blackie Scroggins

Hung May 1st, 1882.

Claim jumpers Take Note.

Calico attracted its share of the thousands of men who drifted through the vast and empty space of the west during the 19th century answering only to a nickname. To the memory of one such man this couplet reads:

We didn't know this gent's name

A proper burying he got the same.

WAS FRANKNESS such a virtue in the 19th century that the deceased friends and relatives raised no objections to the vivid but sometimes uncomplimentary word pictures to be found in some of these inscriptions? Or was it perhaps a long suffering husband whose pent up feelings found expression in these words?

Beneath this Stone

A Lump of Clay

Lies Nora Young

Who on the 21st of May

Began to hold her tongue.

Ezekiel Potter's scribe tried hard to give an honest picture of him:

Ezekiel Potter

An amiable man was he though somewhat frugal and misery.

Sounds as though this next epitaph might have been authored by the deceased himself.

Joe Crabbe

When I'm dead and in my grave

No more whiskey will I crave

But On My Tombstone

Shall be wrote

There's many a jolt went down his throat.

Wonder if Calico's younger generation heeded the moral in this sad tale?

Slip McVey

He might be here today

But Bum whiskey and A bad gun put him Away.

THEY HAD SOME poor punsters in those days too:

1883

Here lies Ann Mann

She lived an old maid

And died an old Mann.

Symantie paid a high price for her fear of medical men as you can see:

1885.

Here lies Symantie Proctor

Who ketched a cold

And wouldn't doctor

She couldn't stay she had to go Praise God From whom all blessings flow.

Judging from this next epitaph Miss Lottie Joy lived up to her name:

Lottie Joy, aged 25

A full life she lived well

Though short in years

It would be long if

Measured by tears.

Erected by her admirers

1881

COULD IT BE that a female bard was responsible for the following lines?

Sadie Arbuckle

Her demise was noted by many men

Her reputation can be quoted by those who knew her well.

Daisy Dooley, 1887

She came to town one day

Wasn't long before she went astray

She leaves the town today

To A better place we pray.

There are still more epitaphs but I'll leave those for you to read on your next trip to Calico.

BOOK REVIEWS

Secrets of the Indiscreet

COME WHAT MAY, the funniest book of the year is sure to be "Guestward Ho!" (Vanguard, $3.50): A collaboration, the volume is by Barbara Hooten as indiscreetly confided to Patrick Dennis, author of "Auntie Mame," published over a year ago and still high on the best seller list, first in this locality last week.

The book is filled with the doings of a lot of pleasant, interesting people; and for spice, a number of characters romp through these glad pages—one of those hippy blondes, for instance, who wastes no yardage, a poor man's Marilyn Monroe. Herein is life not only in motels and in the wide open spaces, in smart spots of Manhattan, but in a fascinating sort of home—a New Mexico guest ranch run by a charming and warm-hearted husband and wife. And Patrick Dennis was a guest. Something had to happen! What happened was the rib-tickling "Guestward Ho!"

If you can't afford a vacation, or if you can't get away from the tub or the salt mines, go "Guestward Ho!" for $3.50, the vacation of all good, merry vacations! You'll be so grateful you'll wish to send the Hootons a check—for their summer rates.—J.J.K.

FULL STORY — In D. H. Lawrence: "Novelist," (Knopf, $4.75), British author-professor F. R. Leavis, makes a good case for Lawrence, and a good case against T. S. Eliot, Lawrence's critic. The author of this sound work says, "I live in hopes that Lawrence's recognition is at last to come—to come, after all, in my lifetime; I mean, his recognition for what I am convinced he is: the great creative genius of our age, and one of the greatest figures in English literature."

Lawrence emerges as a writer of stature, and Eliot as a carping critic who seems no match for Leavis.—J.J.K.

BULKY JACKIE GLEASON, who has been seen by millions of television viewers, is brought out of mothballs in a candid biography "The Golden Ham" (Simon and Schuster, $3.95). In it are found the actor's failures and his successes, his private and public life, his stage career, all told ably enough by Jim Bishop who has written half a dozen previous books including "The Day Lincoln Was Shot." But even in a candid biography Gleason is no more interesting than on TV. Give us back the mothballs, boys!—F.T.K.

IF YOU MUST take it without butter, just the trick to help your weight and your disposition is a copy of "Gourmet Cookery for a Low-Fat Diet," (Prentice-Hall, $2.95). Written by Elise Cavanna and James Welton—with an introduction by Stephen Longstreet—here is the last word in making fatless meals a gourmet's delight. Two hundred recipes tell you how.

"DINING OUT in Any Language" (Bantam, 35c) removes the mystery from foreign menus by translating into English more than 3,000 locally-named foods and drinks of France, Italy, Germany, Spain, Sweden, Portugal, Holland, Norway and Denmark. Arranged by countries, the book also describes foreign dining customs, lists both expensive and inexpensive restaurants, and advises who and how much to tip. Author is Myrna

PATRICK DENNIS
Confidant of the Indiscreet

Waldo, food consultant of Pan American World Airways.

DEPRAVITY HAS ITS own fascination, and "A Walk on the Wild Side" by Nelson Algren (Farrar, Straus & Cudahy, $4.50) gives the author of "The Man With the Golden Arm" another opportunity to take readers into the limbo of society. The writing is superb, but even if this reader does have a measure of sophistication, there are times when he doesn't even know what Algren is writing about. Most of the novel is concerned with Perdido Street, in the old quarter of New Orleans. And the people on that street are all emotionally tough; they would have to be to survive as well as they do.

Dove Linkhorn might be dubbed the hero, and as he feels early in life; "Dove Linkhorn could not remember a time, a place nor a single person, house cat or hound dog had sought his affection." As a youth he comes to New Orleans, and it is in the middle of the depression. Dove comes up with some of the oddest ways of survival, but when he takes his place with the inhabitants of the wretched houses of prostitution, he seems to come into his own. Some of this copy is horrible, but the writing is such that the reader will go through experiences that would otherwise he denied him, which many a reader may feel would be just as well.—G. L.

DALE EVANS ROGERS' "Angel Unaware," the story of what the two-year-old child of the Roy Rogers—seriously handicapped in life—told God on her arrival in heaven, has sold half a million copies to date and is still going strong. The story of how "Angel Unaware" came to be written and how it was written now is told in "The Angel Spreads Her Wings" (Fleming H. Revel, $2). It is warm and inspirational reading because the author, Maxine Garrison, as assistant publicity director for the Roy Rogers Enterprises, watched the story unfold and was deeply impressed by what she saw.

DO-IT-YOURSELF and garage workshop addicts often learn to make handsome furniture, only to botch the job in the finishing process. "Complete Book on Wood Finishing" (McGraw-Hill, $4.50) will set them right on this phase of their projects, with its easy-to-follow instructions and illustrations. All kinds of finishes are discussed, including the various woods and the finishes each will best accept. Author Robert Scharff is a long-time expert in this field.

MUSIC, says Jacques Barzun, dean of the Graduate School of Columbia University, is interwoven with the texture of our lives from morning until night, resounding for, with and through everything. It is canned, broadcast, recorded and rebroadcast. In "Music in American Life" (Doubleday, $2.75) devoted music lover Barzun, like Walt Whitman 100 years ago, "hears America singing." He likes what he hears and his account of the making of music is a symphony in itself, a symphony that will give anyone who reads him a better and more appreciative ear for song.—F.T.K.

BASED ON THE experiences and observations of a career devoted to seafaring arts, "Small Boat Steamship," by Rear Adm. Louis B. Olson, U. S. Coast Guard, (D. Van Nostrand $7.50) brings help in a handy package for the novice boatman; and for the experienced hand, too, who wishes to check his procedure with this new manual. The author has kept his volume free of material essential only to the large, commercial vessel operator (which too often fills many pages of such books), keeping his sights on the needs of the small boat owner who is new to the field. He discusses selecting a boat, understanding water conditions, weather, tides, waterways, boat design, navigation, sailing and how to be happy and safe on the water. Illustrative drawings help in understanding the text. Excellent for the small boatman's library.

JOHN SEYMOUR went out from England to Africa when he was only twenty years old, and his "One Man's Africa" (Day, $4) is an account of his growing up in the confusing land and his various adventures while doing so. Many of his exploits as a youth have been done in flashbacks, for he returned after twenty years and writes of the new Africa, which is often not new at all but only slightly adjusted to modern times. This is a splendid and fascinating book which the reader will find enlightening in view of many and various other volumes which have reached the book stalls in recent times.

STORY OF THE globe-girdling experiences of a man and his wife, a photographer-friend and a dog, "The West in My Eyes," by Annie Van de Wiele (Dodd, Mead, $4), is a rollicking sea story with a woman's slant and male appeal. The book is aptly subtitled: "A Domestic Circumnavigation." It is the account of a two-year cruise aboard the Omoo, a 46-foot, steel-hulled gaff-rigged ketch, with an auxiliary engine that had a temperament of its own. Mrs. Van de Wiele is a woman with a keen observation and a ready—and occasionally spicy—wit. From Ostend, Belgium, around the world and back again, here is an adventure few lovers of the sea will care to miss. Here is an account of what it's like at sea and what it's like ashore in strange ports. The book is neatly illustrated with photographs by Fred Debels, the photographer-friend. Edward and Diana Young did the translation from the French version.

How to Get a Show Dog

By Eleanor Avery Price

THERE ARE TWO WAYS to try to obtain a show dog without simply paying a fabulous price for a champion—if you can get someone to sell one.

With luck or know-how, or both, you can buy a puppy or young dog that seems to have show prospects, as did Mrs. Riney Rinebarger of Long Beach, whose fine toy poodle pup appears with this article. Or you can breed for champion pups, as does Anton Marek of San Diego, with his unusual Brussels Griffons.

Do not buy a shy or diffident puppy, for no shy dog will make a good show dog no matter how nearly perfect he or she is on show points. An even temperament bespeaks a confidence that is desirable in the ring since it appeals to onlookers and judges alike.

SO BUY A PUPPY with precaution. Stand back from the pen and observe the pups at play. Then walk slowly closer and be alert to those that come up to be petted or talked to. A happy pup is a healthy pup, one that will adjust to new environment and not be overly cautious of the show ring later on.

Breeding to obtain a fine show dog has become a major sport not only with professional breeders but with one-dog or two-dog owners as well. However, most puppies become just good pets, for breeding of show dogs is not easy. It requires patience, perhaps for years, and it requires experience and a knowledge of canine eugenics which patience and study bring.

The dam (mother) and sire (father) should be chosen with meticulous care. Their ancestors should be known as well as their own temperaments, personalities and body conformations.

THERE ARE FAULTS in every breed of dog, and it is up to you to depend on judicious mating to try to weed out any undesirable qualities. You wouldn't, for example, knowingly mate two animals with the same defects, for the offspring might easily inherit the faults.

Some authorities claim the temperament comes more from the dam while the physical qualities are derived more from the sire. Whether this is entirely true or not, it stands to reason that you would not breed a well formed female to a poor-appearing sire if you want the results to be show prospects. If possible, you would breed her to a champion.

THE BEST TIME to begin breeding a female is in her second period which is generally when she is around 15 to 18 months old. To be absolutely sure of the correct time for mating, the female may be left at an animal hospital that makes smear tests. If this is impossible, carefully guard your female from stray dogs, then insist on two matings two days in a row at the right time.

Let Your Garden Path Be Gay

Convolvulus mauritanicus bears heavy burden of flowers of soft blue color.

Verbena is hardy and gay, ideal for a garden path edger. It's long-blooming.

Chrysanthemum mawaii is a wide-spreading, hardy edger that blooms all summer. Daisy-like flowers are white.

IN SPRING and summer all nature seems to conspire to add glory to Long Beach gardens. This is the period when one of the most rewarding pastimes for a gardener is to stroll down his own garden path and admire the progress and beauty

By Murtha Hurley

of plants he has set in himself. To bring color and beauty quickly and easily to garden paths, rim them with sturdy, low-growing perennials, those that have long blooming periods. Intermingle these with annuals and bulbs to furnish color highlights at various seasons.

Ask your nurseryman for Blue Morocco Creeper, (Convolvulus mauritanicus), Sun Roses, (Helianthemum nummularium), Chrysanthemum mawaii, verbenas and perennial pinks, for edging a sun-beaten path.

Each grows about six inches high and spreads widely. None are weedy. All do well in fairly dry, well-drained ground.

ONE PLANT of Convolvulus mauritanicus often spreads to three feet across, forming a dense mound of small, grayish evergreen leaves and covered with inch-wide lavender blue flowers.

Plants of Helianthemum, Sun Roses, are almost hidden by the countless dainty single or double flowers in pink, white, orange and yellow. They, too, spread to approximately three feet.

Chrysanthemum mawaii plants form a dense woolly base for rounding, finely massed foliage five to six inches high with flowering stems as tall as 15 inches bearing large 1½-inch flowering daisies with white rays and rosy-pink on the back.

Pinks have always been popular for borders. They send up their spicy, clove-scented single or double carnation-like flowers all spring and some varieties bloom into mid-summer from low-growing thick mats of tufted grayish green grass-like leaves. The plants are very hardy, last indefinitely if sheared back closely each fall. You can make new plants from the cuttings. Root them in sand.

ONE OF THE hardest of edgers is gay, long-flowering, long-lived verbenas which has a spreading habit and tucks its roots along the ground in all directions. If you like pastel colors, try deep lavender blue verbenas with coral pink. Or, if you prefer more vivid shades, one of the prettiest verbenas is a deep, cherry red. Verbenas grown from cuttings, rather than seedlings, make far sturdier plants.

Verbenas will light a sunny path with glorious masses of color for nearly nine months of the year, also provide long-lasting flowers. Cut back in fall.

Sturdy, fast-growing petunias frame a garden path with glorious color almost all year. Single varieties, "Rosy Morn" and "Heavenly Blue," as well as many of the new hybrids, such as "Ballerina," "Fire Chief" and "Prima Donna" make wide-spreading plants. Keep faded flowers snipped. Cut plants back heavily in the fall.

NEW TYPES of Alyssum, "Carpet of Snow" and "Royal

Carpet" a rich purple shade, edge a sunny path with fragrant flower heads yet do not grow sprawly as did earlier varieties.

Another gay border flower is Phlox Drummondii. Its color tones are extensive, from white to rosy red, pink, purple, lavender and coral. They need full sun and plenty of water.

For a shady path, plant fibrous rooted begonias. Both tall and low border types make bushy plants with lustrous green or bronze foliage with white, pink, rose or red flowers. Cut back before cold weather.

BELL-SHAPED campanulas also are ideal for a shady path. In blossom from June to fall, they are easy to grow, last for years, with little attention, other than division each second year.

Dainty deep blue, grape hyacinths, creamy white narcissus and yellow daffodils are hardy bulbs.

Tiny bulbs of native Brodiaea multiply rapidly. Each spring, they will pop up, sending one to two-inch grass-like leaves and loose clusters of azure-blue stars.

It's as simple as shaking salt! Just open the ORTHO Fly Killer Dry Bait shaker can and scatter contents around garbage cans, trash piles or other areas where flies swarm. There's no mixin'! No fixin'! Particles are loose in the can ready to use.

Low cost, too! One pound covers 2,000 square feet of fly feeding areas.

On all chemicals, read directions and cautions before use.

Water Deep in Summer

By Bob Gilmore

THIS IS a good time to plan your gardening chores for the warmer months of the year. The technique for raising ornamentals during the summer season is quite distinct from that recommended for spring, winter and fall.

Southern California is often described as a semi-desert region. Rainfall is frequently much less than what is anticipated. Moisture now stored in the soil is certainly less than that required for maximum growth. All of which means that from here on, watering will be of the utmost importance.

LIGHT SOILS should be watered more frequently than heavy ones but with less moisture at each application. Heavy soils, because they retain moisture for a longer period of time, require heavier irrigation but with the applications spaced further apart.

Force the water deep into the soil. Surface sprinkling does more harm than good. Plant roots remain near their source of water, keeping to the surface if that is where the water is. This is the strata that dries out first on warm or windy days. The roots are scorched by the hot, dry soil. Deeper down the soil is cooler and the roots less exposed to the drying effects of wind and heat.

Plants growing on slopes are especially susceptible to drying out in warm weather. Water will run down a hill, rather than sink into the ground. It is therefore advisable on hilly sites to erect a catch basin around each plant.

KEEPING THE SURFACE cultivated also pays dividends. This gardening technique breaks up the surface crust that inhibits moisture penetration. Friable soils absorb water readily, thus making it available for the roots below the surface.

Thinning out excessive leaf growth minimizes strain on plants during warm weather. All plants give off a tremendous amount of moisture through the stomata or openings on the leaves. In setting out transplants prune off some of the superfluous foliage growth. This lessens the shock of transplanting, makes it easier for individual specimens to catch on after being re-established.

ADDING HUMUS such as peat, leaf mold, manures, bean straw and comparable products increases the soil's capacity for moisture absorption. Mixing any of these products into the soil conserves moisture and makes for a better growing medium. In addition, a mulch of humus tends to reduce soil temperature and minimize evaporation at the surface.

Adequate pest control is also extremely important during warm weather. That's when the bugs are really on the march. This is the time of the year when insects, fungus and other garden pests wreak their greatest destruction.

Tips on Gardening

GARDENING TIPS for the week... An interesting ornamental for local growing conditions is brunfelsia, often referred to poetically as "yesterday, today and tomorrow." This subject is not nearly as well known as it should be. It is a compact growing shrub completely covered during the spring with blue and white flowers.

You need not be a millionaire to have orchids. The fact is you can grow them yourself in your own garden and outdoors at that. The cymbidium orchid is noted for its ease of culture. The flowers appear in huge sprays and are at their best during winter and spring. A shady and protected location is advisable.

African violets are rapidly becoming one of our most popular indoor plants. A clue to their successful culture is concerned with the method of watering: make certain that the temperature of the water is the same as that of the room in which the plants are growing.

Most people love birds and do not want to consider them in any way a pest. Still, birds do a great deal of damage to ripening fruit and in many instances, when you make a seed bed, they pull up your little green shoots as fast as they come through the ground.

There is a powder you can get from your nurseryman to dust the fruit and also the surface of the ground in your seed beds which will keep the birds away. It doesn't hurt them. They simply don't like to be near it and after they investigate a ripening strawberry and find it coated with this dust, they will not come back to the bed anymore. It is non-poisonous, does no injury to the plant and it leaves no residue on the fruit that can't be readily washed away when you wash your fruit to put it on the table. It has been a Godsend to gardeners all over the country.

HOW TO Repair and Protect Linoleum and Thus Add Years to Its Life

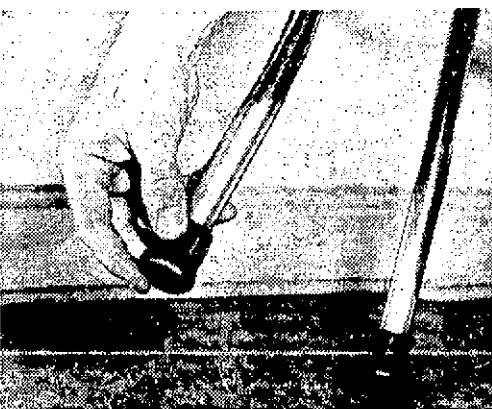

1. Stick Down seams where linoleum has loosened, using waterproof linoleum cement. Dirt and grit should be scraped away before you apply the cement to linoleum. With small roller, work in toward seam so surplus cement oozes out of crack, and roll the edges.

2. Apply Weight. If necessary, scrape the seam so the edges are flush. For large holes or damaged portions, cut matching patch first, using a sharp linoleum knife, a straight-edge and a smooth board for a cutting surface. On patterned material cut along straight lines of the design. Lay the patch over the damaged spot, scribe on outline of it and trim patch to fit. Cement and weight.

3. For Small Holes—Up to 3/8-inch in diameter—scrape thin shavings off waste linoleum of similar color and mix them with linoleum lacquer. Mixture should be the consistency of glazing compound and pressed into the break. You can repair chipped edges at seams the same way. When patch is dry, remove surplus above floor surface.

4. Protect Your linoleum from the sharp steel legs of chairs, stools and tables by covering ends with rubber crutch tips. Refrigerators can be kept off the floor by setting the feet on rubber bases, such as shoe heels, which also helps eliminate vibration and noise. Wax linoleum often to keep dirt and grit from wearing through finished surface.

5. Protect Floor by padding sharp edges around bottom of range. Leather, felt, or thick canvas lets range slide easily. Coat pads with glue that sticks to porcelain, glass and metal.

Stereo Makes Snapshots Exciting

Stereo slide viewing has come a long way since Victorian days in order to win interest of modern age.

By the Shutterbug

WHAT'S NEW about stereo?—nothing, if you are talking about the basic principle. It's as old as Euclid—and the viewing of stereo slides was a favorite indoor sport of the Victorian era. But a lot has happened to stereo since then—and we thought you should be brought up to date on it.

You take your own full-color stereo pictures with an easy-to-use camera—a privilege our grandmothers never had in their day of dependence on stock views of Niagara Falls and the Great Smokies. Today's stereo enables you to catch the pictures that are important to you personally—the ones that represent large and small milestones in your own individual family history.

WHAT THEN, you may ask, makes stereo pictures different from those snapped with ordinary cameras? And the answer is—the way the stereo camera sees. Because it sees just as our eyes do—with two lenses—it sees the shapes and contours of objects and hence actually views everything in three dimensions. This added dimension of depth not seen by single-lens cameras is what gives stereo slides their very special true-to-life quality—a quality that's particularly important for certain types of subjects.

Scenic views and home interiors usually owe a large measure of their natural charm to depth or perspective—and this makes them fine subjects for stereo and its 3-D effect.

NO MATTER WHAT subject you select, however, you'll appreciate the greater freedom in composition that stereo permits. Gone forever are your worries about troublesome background details like telephone poles or lamp shades—they'll stay in the background where they belong.

And you can shoot your pictures with any lighting you choose—for again you get just what you see.

IF YOU'RE ONLY an average shutterbug but would sincerely like to come up with better snapshots, then a small but extremely intelligent little book just published called "Photography" (Simon and Schuster, paper $1, cloth $1.95) is what you're looking for. It is authored by Herbert S. Zim and R. Will Burnett—with a great many black and white and full color photos—and it is aptly subtitled "An Amateur's Guide to Better Pictures" because it is loaded with such easy-to-follow chapters on such subjects as how to light your subject, type of films to use, exposure, taking color photos, different makes and models of cameras, darkroom magic and home movies.

LONG BEACH Camera Guild will hold a Slide-of-the-Year contest and Print-of-the-Year contest at 8 p. m. Wednesday in Municipal Art Center, 2300 E. Ocean Blvd. Any color slide or black and white print that has been in competition in the club during the past year may be entered for judging. Trophies will be awarded. There will also be election of officers.

SCHOOL OF THE WOODS

merous field trips will be taken. This course gives two units of college credit.

THOSE INTERESTED in plant and animal life will find the course in field natural history of value. Geology and astronomy are also included in this two-week study. The course carries two units of college credit. This study commences July 9 and terminates July 20.

Another course offering is the one-credit outdoor workshop, which begins July 23 and ends on July 27. This workshop is concerned with general outdoor lore, campcraft and the identification of the more common plants and animals.

The course which has proven to be the most popular of those offered by the Idyllwild School of Conservation and Natural Science is the wilderness workshop. One credit may be earned in this workshop, which runs from July 29 through Aug. 4.

CONSERVATION PROJECTS are built by the students under the direction of experienced guides and instructors. Horses take the camping gear and other equipment into the back country.

The faculty for the summer session has had a varied background and experience. The director is Dr. Donald D. Shipley, who will be assisted by Dr. Charles Burch, both of the Long Beach State College biology staff. These instructors will be assisted by Ernie Maxwell, an editor and cartoonist of note and a man who knows as much about the San Jacinto mountains as anyone alive. As a sideline Maxwell edits the Town Crier, a publication that serves as Idyllwild's newspaper. Edward F. Dolder, chief of conservative education for the California Department of Natural Resources, and Herbert D. Gwinn, a consultant in secondary education of the California Department of Education, will be among the visiting faculty.

IN RECENT YEARS Southern California has witnessed a remarkable development in outdoor education. A number of camps have been established at which sixth grade pupils in the public schools spend a week in the mountains. For city-reared children this is a memorable experience. A major portion of this program is concerned with conservation, resource-use, and outdoor education. For some 36 weeks during the school year, some 2,500 children receive such training on the campus of the Idyllwild Arts Foundation. Many of these youngsters are from Long Beach schools.

Students at the Idyllwild School of Conservation and Natural Science may secure room and board on the campus of the Idyllwild Arts Foundation. Others may wish to camp out. Facilities for camping are available at both the State Park and also the Riverside County Park. These camping sites are located only a short distance from the school. Camp grounds are also located at a number of spots in the San Bernardino National Forest. A varied activity program is offered on the Idyllwild campus. These are of interest to the whole family. These activities include music, dancing, crafts and other arts. Guest lectures and special evening features are offered. A limited number of scholarships are available for outstanding applicants. Information concerning these should be addressed to the Director of the Conservation School. Additional information concerning the Idyllwild School of Conservation and Natural Science may be obtained by writing to the Director of the Summer School, Long Beach State College.

Sports Cars

cluded in the Southern California Sports Car Council may accumulate championship points on the rally.

Founded in February 1950 by a "radical" bunch of 12 TC owners (the only model then available), the club grew steadily. Founding members still active include Dan Dickinson (president 1950), Caz Bartlett (president 1951), Sam Caldwell, John DeFriest, Dale Halliday, Dr. Paul Winters, Clarence Covert and James Easton.

In those early days, the foreign car was regarded as a thing of wonder. Enthusiasts were stared at and talked about. But the dauntless few who originally gathered to share their common interests, spent pleasant and memorable evenings bench racing and planning the organization that materialized as the Long Beach MG Club.

FIRST RALLY covered 50 miles, had two check points (counting the finish and ended at Inspiration Point overlooking Lake Elsinore. It was a major project to coax 10 cars out to an event in those days. Now a rally, gymkhana or road trial is held each month and participants total around 100. Incorporation came in 1952, followed by affiliation with the MG Car Club of England.

Present officers are Ron Teters, president; Jack Thompson, vice president; Sam Kreidel, treasurer; Harry McKinney, executive secretary, and Jim Honeter, recording secretary. The board of governors includes the officers plus Max Briney, Bill Rice, Chuck Marshall, C. J. Neal and George Johnston.

meet your host

—Caricature by Dick Arnold

PETER G. STATHIS
It's Called Bisque

WHEN IS A soup not a soup?

When it's served at the Sea Food Grotto, that's when. If this sounds like double-talk, the explanation is quite simple.

The Grotto, 701 E. Ocean Blvd., gives its soup the French name of "bisque." Which is no more than right because such a rich, creamy concoction certainly deserves a better descriptive term than the plain old word soup. The Grotto's specialty is lobster bisque, served in a shining abalone shell, and it must be tasted to be appreciated.

Peter G. Stathis, host at the restaurant, sees to it that his guests are offered their choice of the bisque or clam chowder on both the dinner and luncheon menus.

The luncheons at the Grotto are immensely enjoyable and include more than generous amounts of fine food. Served daily from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m., the luncheons provide bisque or chowder, salad, vegetables, bread and butter, choice of beverage and choice of dessert. Entrees include halibut, breaded fillet of sole, barracuda or porpoise, all $1.25. Meat dishes are available also, changing from day to day, and including such items as Yankee pot roast, $1.35, or shortribs and turkey a la king, both $1.25.

RIGHT IN SEASON now are the Grotto's handsome crab, lobster and shrimp Louis salads. They're served on platters decorated with romaine and other lettuces, sliced carrots, onions and green bell peppers. The crowning effect, of course, is the smooth Louis dressing.

With its large, well-lighted dining room, snowy tablecloths and comfortable booths, the Grotto is a pleasant place to dine. Its dinners served from 3 to 11:30 p. m., are extremely extensive, and include such ocean delicacies as Monterey abalone, Louisiana frog legs, deviled crabmeat, grilled swordfish, Catalina sand dabs, Columbia river salmon, broiled lobster and jumbo shrimps. Prices for complete dinners start at $1.60. The Grotto is closed Wednesdays.

- Dimensions: 14" long x 14" wide x 9 3/4" high.
- Carrying Weight: 25 lbs.
- Record Level "Eye"—provides a "visual" of the full range of recording volume. Record level can be pre-set as "EYE" functions without tape being in motion.
- Two Speeds for Recording and Playback—7.50 i.p.s. for greatest sound fidelity; 3.75 i.p.s. for "long play" and tape economy.
- Two Speakers—for maximum fidelity reproduction. Full width baffle mounts a 5" x 7" "woofer" with high magnetic gap energy Alnico-5 magnet for bass and middle-frequency range, 3" "tweeter" with Alnico-5 permanent magnet for high frequencies.
- Tone Control—dual action, single knob.
- Safety-Lock Button—prevents accidental erasures.
- On-Off Volume Control—starts recorder and varies volume in both RECORD and PLAY.
- Easy Action Tape Transport Lever—for sure, quick operation of the tape transport mechanism.
- Fast Rewind—120 inches per second.
- Fast Forward Button—useful for "skipping" forward on the tape to the section desired. Button control allows for exact, positive editing.
- "Pause" and "Foot Control" Lever—allows extreme flexibility of operation of instrument in either "RECORD" or "PLAY." Stops tape travel immediately. Very useful for office dictation, correcting sections of "live" recordings, eliminating radio or TV commercials.

PHOTO BY LLOYD SHEARER

Twelve years after D-Day, I still remember . . .

That first soldier I met in Normandy

by GEN. MAXWELL D. TAYLOR
CHIEF OF STAFF, U. S. ARMY

At about 11 p.m. on the eve of D-Day in Normandy—June 6, 1944—the parachute elements of the 101st Airborne Division took off from English airfields in more than 400 C-47s. General Eisenhower saw us off, which in itself would have convinced us that we were doing something a little out of the ordinary. In fact, our division was to spearhead the greatest military operation in history—the allied invasion of Fortress Europe.

Our planes were in tight formation, a huge V of V's with wing tips almost touching. This was required so that, at the drop zone, our men would jump together and land in comparatively compact groupings for combat. But as we headed across the Channel and approached the Norman coast, a gray wall rose in the distance: fog. We entered it, and every pilot, through natural fear of collision, began veering right or left. By the time moonlight broke through, my plane seemed to be entirely alone.

Suddenly we were in the battle area. Our earlier pathfinder planes had alerted the enemy, and from all sides ground fire was boiling upward. As we approached the drop zones of my division, the battlefield seemed illuminated by antiaircraft fire and the light from airplanes already hit and aflame.

Then we were jumping . . .

Thanks to a last-minute gust of wind—that swung my chute away from the others, I landed alone in the high grass of a moonlit pasture. Quickly I struggled to my feet, pistol in hand. Although there was small-arms fire nearby, the only visible sign of life was a circle of curious Norman cows that stood chewing their cud and gazing at this unexpected disturber. I got busy on my parachute, tightly strapped to my body and legs. The morning dews had saturated my clothes, making release difficult. Clutching the pistol in one hand, and working the straps with the other, I soon realized I was getting no place. So I put down my pistol and cut my way out with a knife—fully expecting a German to appear at any moment. I must say that was an anxious and thoroughly undignified interlude.

Once out of the chute, the next problem was to find my troops. Where was this division which I had brought to Normandy? I should explain that in anticipation of the difficulties of a night assembly, we of the 101st had equipped ourselves with a toy-like mechanical cricket by which we could make a cricketing sound to identify one another in the darkness.

Now, cricket in one hand and gun in the other, I set out to find my soldiers. I was in newly dug earthworks—which suggested that a German garrison might be nearby. As I stumbled over each new bank of earth, I expected a challenge or a shot. This prowling through the German positions lasted some 20 minutes. They seemed like 20 years.

Then, slipping along in the dark shadows of a hedgerow, I heard someone moving on the other side. Both of us were approaching the end of the hedge, which was just ahead. Pistol cocked, I moved forward slowly, slowly. The other person obviously was doing the same. Just as I was wondering whether to rush around the corner and fire, I heard a sound—one that I will never forget—the sound of the 101st Airborne Division's cricket.

And There He Stood . . .

I "cricketed" back and jumped around the hedgerow. There in the moonlight was a bare-headed parachute infantryman, M-1 rifle in hand, bayonet fixed, the bright look of adventure in his eye. That young parachutist was the most welcome sight I ever saw in the whole war. We fell in each other's arms and gave that fraternal embrace which men can exchange only in moments of high action.

From that moment on, so far as I was concerned, the battle was won. Normandy was conquered. Fortress Europe had had it. ■

In the news parade

VANITY proved one culprit's undoing.

A Good Samaritan in Ames, Iowa, helped out the driver of a stalled car by pushing him, subsequently was fined for pushing right through a red light.

* * *

A Cincinnati jail escapee was recaptured by police when he paused to admire his "Wanted" picture on a post-office wall.

* * *

In Juarez, Mexico, two pickpockets lifted the wallet of a kneeling man, were promptly arrested by a policeman kneeling directly behind them.

A Columbus, Ohio, man called to complain that two police cars were loitering in his neighborhood. Police checked his name, ordered one of the cars to pick him up on an old armed-robbery charge.

* * *

An Amherst College, Mass., professor requested that a stop sign be placed near his office. Shortly after its erection, he was fined for not stopping at it.

* * *

In Indianapolis, a prospective father waited all afternoon and evening at the Methodist Hospital for news from the delivery room. Finally he remembered that he had taken his wife to another hospital.

* * *

A Cape Girardeau, Mo., doctor, arrested for driving through a stop sign, followed the police car to the station and paid his fine. Then he swore out a complaint against the police sergeant for speeding.

* * *

A San Antonio Tex., weather forecaster predicted local storms, went to the top of the weather station to check his instruments and was floored by a bolt of lightning.

* * *

A Stanford, Ky., official regularly asked a local drugstore for a "cup of mud." One day the exasperated fountain attendant served him just that.

* * *

A London, England, postal clerk, chosen to attend special classes so he could detect forged money orders, returned to his office and forged one for $263.

* * *

Two Georgia convicts were assigned to train bloodhounds. Later they tried to escape, were tracked down by two of their pupils.

Backfires

by FRANCES RODMAN

While a thief was being sentenced in a Hartford, Conn., court, someone stole his overcoat.

An absent-minded Los Angeles policeman wrote out a parking ticket, slid it under a car's windshield wiper, later discovered that the vehicle was his own.

* * *

A Peoria murder trial stopped abruptly when the judge learned that one juror was the defendant's mother.

* * *

A Seattle woman phoned the sheriff's office that she heard prowlers outside her home. Investigating deputies found her husband and brother-in-law sneaking off on a fishing excursion.

PRINCE GARDNER REGISTRAR

1 Resists wear...and tear!

Your Registrar literally resists getting shabby, actually grows handsomer and handsomer with use. It's a craftsman's work, protected by an "Invisible Stitch"® — it can't rip, won't tear, the Registrar stands up handsomely to wear.

More place to put things!

There's almost no limit to what the Registrar will hold, and keep its shape. The leather-covered removable pass case carries 8 photos and cards. Add windows for 8 more with a snap of the Add-A-Pass bar.

3 Fine, Fine leather!

Polished cowhide, and only the choice, unmarred, more expensive center sections of the hide are selected. You can tell it's finer by the glow of it, the feel of it. The Registrar is made for men who love fine leather. Rich colors. Only $5.00 plus tax at better stores everywhere.

Chances are the woman next to you uses it—

WHY DON'T YOU?

That's the wonderful thing about Tampax—no one but you knows you're wearing it! Because it's worn internally, there's never even a possibility of odor . . . of bumps or ridges that could betray you!

And Tampax saves you from so much bother. No hot, cumbersome belt-pin-pad harness. No chafing or irritation; when Tampax is in place, the wearer doesn't even feel it. No disposal problems. And a month's supply tucks right into your purse!

In fact, there isn't a single solitary reason why any normal woman shouldn't use Tampax. It was invented by a doctor. Millions of women have used billions of Tampax—and enjoyed unparalleled freedom every minute of the time. Isn't it high time you joined them? Get Tampax at drug or notion counters everywhere. Three absorbencies—Regular, Super, Junior. Tampax Incorporated, Palmer, Mass.

Here's a big step away from the 'snake pit' ideas that surround emotional illness

by ROBERT P. GOLDMAN and SID ROSS

GROUP THERAPY finds social worker (second from right) encouraging patients to discuss problems frankly.

FOR SEVERAL months, a young, smartly dressed woman walked into Boston Psychopathic Hospital, a mental institution here, at 8:30 every morning. At 5:30 p.m. she would leave to go home.

Miss L. was suffering from a serious mental illness — and so, between morning and early evening, she received full treatment at the hospital. This included drugs, to help her achieve peace of mind; work and group therapy, to reawaken her interests and skills; and counseling to help her over the rough spots of daily living.

Then, on her own initiative, Miss L. went out to look for a job. Soon she landed one in a local department store. Today she is fully recovered. Neither her customers nor her boss dream that she was once a mental patient.

Such cases are not unusual, for Miss L. is one of a growing army of ex-patients who have benefited from a revolutionary idea now spreading through the nation's mental hospitals: part-time mental care on a day- or night-only basis.

Already, this bold, money- and time-saving idea has produced astonishing results. Its implications are even more exciting when you consider these facts:

There are about 750,000 patients in mental hospitals now. An added 9,250,000 Americans suffer from some form of mental disease. One out of four families is affected. Of this staggering total, experts say, a great many can be helped by part-time care.

You Could Be Affected

That means you, a member of your family or a friend could one day be helped by the new "open-door" therapy, which costs about one-third as much as full-time hospitalization and promises to take much of the fear and shame out of mental illness.

Open-door care will permit more and more people to regain their mental health with shorter hospital stays — or without ever having to be admitted as full-time in-hospital patients.

Thus far, day-care and night-care programs have sprung up around the U.S. — in Boston, Omaha, Des Moines,

Washington, D.C.; Topeka, Kans.; Lafayette, La. New York City will embark on a part-time-care plan soon. Within the next three years, part-time care will spread to three or four times the present number of hospitals.

One authority told PARADE: "We visualize this approach as the next great step forward in treatment of the mentally ill. In the future, with day and night care, a large proportion of the individuals now hospitalized will never have to see a hospital bed or be cooped up within four walls..."

Six types of patient already are being helped by part-time care:

1) Once-hospitalized patients who are ready for discharge. They total more than 150,000 each year. Many of these people need an "emotional bridge" between the hospital and the world outside. Without it, 50 per cent or more may suffer relapses and be rehospitalized. Day care with its varied treatment services — drugs, counseling, friendly socializing, group and physical therapy, electric shock, occupational therapy — often can provide that "in-between" bridge.

2) Mentally sick people who do not need full-time hospitalization. Often, these people refuse to seek help in a hospital because they fear being "put away" forever. Psychiatrists estimate the number of these potential patients at more than 1,000,000.

Miss F. was such a case. A 52-year-old spinster, she became depressed and suspicious when her mother died. Reluctant at first to seek help, Miss F. finally went to the Menninger Foundation Hospital in Topeka.

Doctors there decided that she would do much better on day care than as a full-time hospitalized patient. In a few months, Miss F. was so improved that she returned to her job and has been well ever since.

Another Menninger patient, a 19-year-old college student, continued right on with his college courses while he was on limited day care.

3) Hospitalized patients who actually don't belong in hospitals. They would do much better on a part-time basis. As more such programs develop, more patients will be switched to them.

4) Mentally disturbed people who can hold down full-time jobs, but require the treatment and security of a mental hospital — overnight.

G.W. is a night-only patient at Boston Psychopathic. He works every day and returns to the hospital at dinner time. "I've got no family," he explains, "and I feel better here until they say I'm ready for final discharge. Working days helps me break the ice. But I know that if I lose the job I'll still not be out in the cold..."

Night care is especially valuable where families are nervous about the patient living at home — even if the hospital is prepared to discharge him.

5) Relatives of discharged patients.

Mrs. T., a 42-year-old housewife, was about to be discharged from the Menninger day-care program. But doctors felt that before she could lead a happy home life, her husband should learn of the problems which had contributed to his wife's illness.

So he reported to the hospital daily for a short period. As he participated in Mrs. T.'s treatment program, he began to understand the sources of her trouble. When she was discharged, her husband was equipped to meet his wife's emotional needs.

6) Children and the aging.

Today there are few part-time facilities for these two groups. One day-care center for children is located in Omaha at the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute. There, troubled children report at 9 a.m. They receive treatment and go to special school classes if they are able to. Parents call for the children at 4 p.m.

In addition, the Institute is hoping to set up an experimental day center for the aging. One of the biggest problems of this group is loneliness. Day care could do much to end that problem.

How does part-time care function?

The patient reports either in the morning or the evening. (At Montreal General Hospital, one of the pioneers in day and night care, they call it the "hotel" system of treatment.)

The day patient may start by chatting with the social worker or psychiatrist. He may then go to a group-therapy session — directed by a hospital staff member — where patients openly discuss their problems. PARADE sat in on such a session at Boston Psychopathic.

From patients came statements like: "I get confused when I leave the hospital and get back among all those people." ... "Most of us are strapped for money, but that's secondary ... First we want to get well." ... "A couple of days ago, I just walked around in a panic." ... "This treatment has helped me. At least now, I can get out of bed in the morning and come down here."

Later, the day patient may do some work. At Boston Psychopathic, patients man the coffee shop, do wall painting, repair work and other chores.

In addition, the patient may build something. He may paint a picture, which comes under the heading of occupational therapy. Somewhere along the way he may be given a "tranquillizing" drug, such as reserpine or chlorpromazine.

These drugs, used widely in mental hospitals only within the past three years, have revolutionized mental care. Since their introduction, hospital discharges have soared as much as 19 per cent, thus intensifying the need for part-time care.

Night patients go to the hospital straight from work. They receive treatment similar to that of their daytime counterparts. They dine about 8:30.

MENTAL CARE

CONTINUED

FRIENDLY chat between social worker (left) and day patient reflects relaxed atmosphere of Boston
Psychopathic Hospital.

How open-door care pays off

Patients are in bed by 10:30 or 11 and leave for work or home after breakfast.

Montreal General is so enthusiastic about its program that it has written letters to big local businesses telling of the available service. The response has been great—and varied. As a result,
"We can offer treatment 24 hours a day for every stage of mental illness," says Dr. A. E. Moll, head of the hospital's psychiatric program. He adds:

"I want to emphasize that there are no locked doors here—and we have some very sick patients indeed."

That statement reflects perhaps the most important aspect of part-time mental care. Says a psychiatrist in the New York State Department of Mental Hygiene: "Open-door mental hospitals, with no bars or shackles, will do much to break down the 'jail' aspect of mental care."

In addition, when more people are entering and leaving mental hospitals freely, many more cases will be detected early—when treatment results are best.

Dr. J. Sanbourne Bockoven, in charge of Boston Psychopathic's day and night care, goes even farther:

"This approach places the emphasis where it belongs—not on buildings and beds. Building more hospitals and getting more doctors isn't the solution.

Many full-time patients become stagnating vegetables and lose both humanity and hope...

"With part-time care, however, I think we can keep thousands of sufferers from mental illness out of hospitals and also shorten the stays of many who have to be committed. Part-time care is becoming the dominant trend in the mental-health field..."

For patients like Mrs. R. B., a middle-aged woman with sorrow etched deep in her face, Dr. Bockoven's statements are as important as life itself.

Recently, after months of emotional turmoil, Mrs. B. volunteered for care at Boston Psychopathic. Under the impression that once you entered a mental hospital, you never got out, Mrs. B. was pleasantly surprised when she was put on day care.

"Tell me," she asked PARADE's reporters, "do you know of other people they've helped here? I'm a little scared."

When she got an affirmative answer, her face brightened. And later, when Mrs. B. sat in group-therapy session, the deep, sad lines in her face began to give way to a little smile.

STAFF CONFERENCE: Open-door treatment includes daily meetings to discuss each patient's progress. These replace the traditional, bed-to-bed "morning rounds."

COY LOOK characterizes role of Sakini as played by Marlon Brando (above) in MGM's The Teahouse of the August Moon. Movie is being shot in Japan.

She's waiting for Brando

Will Josanne Mariani become Mrs. Marlon? by LLOYD SHEARER

HOLLYWOOD.

"It's so 'ard," Josanne Mariani sighed, "to be engaged to Marlon Brando.

"All the time newspapers are asking: 'When are you and Marlon getting married? Why don't you wear your engagement ring? 'Asn't Marlon changed 'is mind about marrying you?'"

"Honest," continued this wan, black-eyed French girl (see cover), "it's terrible, terrible. After all, we are not Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis. We do not say our most intimate problems to the public. Also it's not fair.

"Marlon is in Japan filming Teahouse of the August Moon and nobody bothers 'im with such questions. 'E will not answer them anyway."

We were sitting in Josanne's apartment, a sparsely furnished one-bedroom flat (rent: $80 a month) located atop a garage, where I was listening sympathetically to the soft-spoken woes of the girl slated to become Mrs. Marlon Brando.

Three years ago, Josanne explained, she had been an unknown New York governess brought over from France by Dr. Daniel Schneider, a psychiatrist, to teach French to his two children. Then she met the fascinating and unconventional Brando at a party, became engaged to him, and life hasn't been the same since.

Fan-magazine writers and gossip columnists demanded to be told how her fiancé kissed, how he made love. Was it true that Brando was an impossible eccentric, that he had no real marital intentions, that she'd been used as a publicity device and then abandoned?

Josanne declared that these interrogations had shocked and bewildered her. After trying to be obliging and polite, she made up her mind not to answer such personal inquiries.

When Josanne arrived here late last year, some observers predicted a quick Las Vegas elopement. Instead, Brando organized his own production company and took off for location work in Japan. His fiancée signed up with a little-theater group and now attends drama classes two days a week, looking for acting jobs between times. In six months she obtained only one job, a feature role in a daytime TV show.

Casting directors say the girl has talent but that the roles she can play are limited by her Latin features and French accent. "Another important point," an agent told me, "is that if Josie is going to marry Brando she doesn't need the work. The casting directors feel they would rather give the job to a girl who really needs the dough."

"I'm a Lucky Girl"

Although lack of work periodically depresses her, Josanne says she is "really one of the luckiest girls in the world." Here's why she thinks so:

She was born in Marseilles on May 31, 1935, where her Corsican father, Charles Mariani, was a taxi driver. Her parents separated when she was an infant, and she was raised in the Mediterranean coastal village of Bandol by a nana named Madame Michel, while her mother worked as a waitress in seaside cafes.

Josanne was only 4 at the outbreak of World War II. She was evacuated to Romans, an Alpine village. She remembers bombing attacks nearby and a visit once from her father, who was killed in the resistance.

Her own life began producing excitement when she was 15 and started posing for Moses Kisling, a Bandol artist. Through Kisling she met Dr. Schneider, who later sent for her as a teacher-companion to his children.

She arrived in New York on March 5, 1953, a gawking newcomer. When she soon showed an interest in dramatics, Dr. Schneider was encouraging. When the family moved away for the summer, Dr. Schneider got her a job as apprentice at the Westhampton (L.I.) summer theater.

"I did everything," says Josanne, "prop girl, sign painter, 'anging posters, everything. When the summer was over, Dr. Schneider asked me if I still wanted to act. I said, 'Yes, more than ever.'"

Josanne enrolled in Stella Adler's drama school. In November, Marlon

Brando, an alumnus, showed up at a school party.

"E was so wonderful," she fondly remembers. "We began going together. What a lovely man. We went to the theater mostly. I met 'is friends, Wally Cox, Maureen Stapleton, and then 'is father and 'is sister. But I do not talk about Marlon. It is too personal."

In 1954 Brando invited his young lady friend to come to Hollywood as his guest and watch him play the role of Napoleon in Désirée. This visit led to their secret engagement. Josanne flew back to France to tell her folks the good news. Brando arrived a few days later, rolling into town on a hired scooter.

With her engagement announced to Hollywood's famous bachelor, the fisherman's stepdaughter (her mother had remarried) became an international celebrity. Newsmen descended on tiny Bandol in droves, interviewing and photographing the young couple from every angle. Josanne became a figure of note. Brando became a figure of rage. "I can't stand this persecution any longer!" he shouted. "Isn't there any place we can have a little privacy?" In desperation he took off for Rome, leaving his fiancée behind to cope with newsmen as best she could.

Reporters pursued her in Paris and New York with relentless questioning. There were also radio and TV offers. The only one Josanne accepted was from a big variety show; she flew out to Hollywood and for $1,000 mumbled a few sentences while 30,000,000 video viewers gaped. She then returned to New York to resume her studies.

HAPPY TIMES are reflected in this snapshot of Marlon and Josanne during courtship.

While Josanne worked diligently on her dramatics and diction, Brando labored on Guys and Dolls in Hollywood. When the movie was completed, Josanne joined her fiancé in the film colony and has been here ever since.

Whether or not she succeeds as an actress, whether or not she eventually becomes Mrs. Marlon Brando, Josanne, just past her 21st birthday, still considers herself one of the world's most fortunate young women.

"Whenever I am depressed out 'ere," she confesses, "I think of all the wonderful things that 'ave 'appened to me since I was 15. Then my 'eart dances a little dance of joy."

You Can Help Send the U.S. Olympic Team to Australia- and to Victory!

An Opportunity for All Patriotic Americans to Help

During this, our 150th Anniversary Year, we of Colgate-Palmolive feel particularly fortunate in joining with you—the American public—in doing our bit to help send the U. S. Olympic Team to Australia to participate in the 1956 Olympic Games.

Remember, there is no subsidy or other financial assistance available from any branch of government. America relies entirely on each citizen's contributions and self-sacrifice... because that's the way a democracy works.

The U. S. Olympic Committee must select, organize and equip our best amateur athletes. All items of direct expense must be covered, including expenses of the tryouts—plus transportation to and from the Olympic Games of all participants, coaches, managers, trainers and officials. Housing and feeding of these individuals at the site of the Games and a thousand and one other necessary expenses must be paid for by sports-loving American citizens.

Every generous-hearted American who desires to see the Olympic Games tradition perpetuated will want to help. That is why, with the sanction and co-operation of the U. S. Olympic Committee, we invite you to participate in this unique and personally rewarding fund-raising effort.

VACATION IN

Texas helicopter family

A Texas gas-station attendant was minding his business the other day when he heard an engine overhead. Glancing up, he was amazed to see a helicopter settle down on the station's concrete parking strip. He was even more amazed when the pilot—a pleasant-faced man in a business suit, accompanied by a pretty woman and four squirming children—leaned out to ask matter-of-factly: "Mister, you happen to have any high-octane?"

The attendant nodded. "Okay," the pilot said. "Fill her up."

Such visitations are routine for Joe Mashman, helicopter pilot-salesman of Dallas, who combines business with pleasure by taking his wife, Ernie, and youngsters on some of America's most fascinating vacation jaunts. The Mashmans may not be the nation's most widely traveled family, but they go farther, faster, than probably any similar group you know.

They fly to picnics. They fly on holiday week ends. They take cross-country trips to California or, in the other direction, to Grandma Mashman's house outside Chicago. Pictures here show the Mashmans on one of their typical "whirlybird safaris." As a family they've logged hundreds of hours of flying time.

The 40-year-old Joe, a crack test pilot by profession, is now assistant sales manager for the helicopter division of the Bell Aircraft Corp. Known as "Helicopter Joe," he is famous as a 'copter pilot-demonstrator in both civilian and military circles.

Because Joe has spent so much of his time in his helicopter, his youngsters practically cut their teeth on the instrument panel. As he says: "They flew before they walked." Mrs. Mashman herself is a competent 'copter pilot, although she has not yet obtained her license.

And because they are so continuously on the aerial go, the Mashmans have devised their own flight map, which is studded with colored markers. A red marker indicates a roadside gas station that sells high-octane gas. A red marker with a black cross means the station has clean rest rooms. Green markers locate good restaurants with adjacent areas where a 'copter can come to roost. Black markers mean good motels, and so on.

Out on the "open road," the Mashmans have adventures like any other tourists. Once, on a week-end trip, daughter Barbara developed a severe sore throat. Because polio was rampant at the time, the worried Mashmans landed at a gas station outside a small town.

A mechanic directed Joe to the nearest doctor. Hedgehopping a couple of miles, Joe brought his 'copter down in the country medico's front yard. The M.D. diagnosed Barbara's ailment as common sore throat and swabbed it to give her relief. Joe then took the 71-year-old doctor for a ride in the 'copter, simultaneously writing off the bill and creating a potential helicopter buyer.

On another trip the Mashmans landed at a restaurant on the outskirts of a town. A local cop tagged the 'copter for being parked too near a fire hydrant. Later an air-minded judge (whom Joe had taken up for a ride) ruled that parking near fire hydrants applied only to horse-drawn vehicles and automobiles.

The prize adventure happened on a visit to Grandma Mashman. Ernie was at the controls. Joe, weary from demonstration flights, was asleep at her side. Suddenly Ernie ran into a violent storm, with zero visibility.

Ernie didn't dare go on — and didn't want to awaken Joe. Resorting to a favorite 'copter-pilot trick, she located a tall, bushy tree that reared up out of the ground fog. Jockeying carefully, she landed the 'copter safely in the foliage, and there rode out the storm.

When the weather cleared, the Mashmans looked and gasped in surprise. The tree in which they were roosting was in Grandma Mashman's back yard. ■

TAKING OFF from spot where he landed family for a picnic, Joe Mashman looks back as wife and children wave goodbye. He'll go to his office, and rejoin them later.

BRISK* FLUORIDE TOOTHPASTE

Contains the ONLY FLUORIDE proved in 10 years of clinical tests

HARDENS TOOTH ENAMEL, MAKES TEETH STRONGER starts working instantly TO DEFEAT DECAY

Scientists proved this Fluoride

Brisk's Fluoride is the only Fluoride proved in 10 year clinical tests. This Fluoride has been used successfully in water supplies and by dentists to reduce tooth decay — is widely approved by public health authorities.

Benefits both adults and children

Brisk's Fluoride/85 helps protect all permanent teeth in adults or children over six. Brisk's Fluoride works instantly on contact as you brush your teeth...strengthens teeth as no other decay-preventive ever could!

Works even while you eat, drink or sleep

Fluoride/85 is wonder-working Fluoride plus another tested decay-fighter that starts to work instantly...works all day against formation of decay acids. Unless you get Brisk, you cannot get the benefits of Fluoride/85.

Only BRISK has

gives extra protection Fluoride alone can't give—works best where you need it most! Brisk's Fluoride concentrates in weak or "soft" spots where decay usually starts — combines with and becomes part of the tooth enamel — thus protects as no other decay-fighter can. And Brisk's stay-active decay-fighter reaches into crevices between teeth — starts working instantly to defeat decay.

WONDERFUL FLAVOR!

Helps keep breath fresh all day! And there's no "tinny" after-taste with new Brisk! Your mouth tastes sparkling cool and sweet! Brings out all the natural whiteness of teeth!

2 make-ahead desserts

For June parties, luscious cake and ice-cream sandwiches can be made, frozen and stored until needed

EVERYONE will applaud this beautiful cake (which will serve 12), and teenagers especially will enjoy the easy-to-eat ice-cream sandwiches.

KITCHEN HINT

Set cake to be frosted on a one-tier Lazy Susan. Revolve the Susan as you frost (center picture, above).

PARTY CAKE

- |  |                              |
|--|------------------------------|
| 1 6-oz. pkg. (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces | 1/4 cup sugar                |
| 1 small can (3/4 cup) evaporated milk            | 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped |
| 2 eggs, separated                                | 1 10" angel food cake        |
|  | Walnut halves                |

Place semi-sweet chocolate, milk and egg yolks in top of double boiler. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until chocolate melts and mixture thickens slightly. Remove from heat; chill just until mixture is cold. Beat egg whites stiff, but not dry. Gradually add sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold into chocolate mixture; fold in whipped cream. Place cake on foil-covered paperboard square. Cut cake into three layers; fill and frost cake. Border edge with walnut halves. Freeze until firm. Wrap-seal in moisture-proof plastic film. Overwrap with heavy foil if desired. Store in freezer. Remove from freezer 1 1/2 to 2 hours before serving.

TO MAKE today's Party Cake, prepare your favorite angel food or use a packaged mix. Bake it, let it cool, then cut it into three layers (above) with a serrated knife blade.

WHILE cake is cooling, make chocolate frosting. Put cake on paperboard square. Spread frosting between layers (above), and on top and sides of cake. Garnish with walnut meats.

PLACE unwrapped cake in freezer compartment or freezer until firm. Then wrap, paperboard and all, in moisture-proof plastic film (above). Heat-seal and store in freezer until needed.

EASY ICE-CREAM SANDWICHES

- |  |                                |
|--|--------------------------------|
| 1 6-oz. pkg. (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces | 2 cups ready-to-eat oat cereal |
| 2 tablespoons shortening                         | 2 pint pkgs. ice cream         |
- Line bottom of two 9"x-11" pans with aluminum foil. Melt semi-sweet chocolate and shortening over hot (not boiling) water. Remove from heat; stir in cereal. Divide mixture evenly between the two pans, spreading evenly with tines of fork. Chill 30 minutes. To make sandwiches, carefully peel off foil, then slip chocolate back into pan. Cut in half lengthwise, then three times crosswise. Cut pre-packaged ice cream of any desired flavor into 8 slices; put sandwiches together. Wrap each with heavy foil; store in freezer. Makes eight ice-cream sandwiches.

For Sun and Sand

New suits are form-fitting or full-skirted; pants go to all lengths

It's the last call for getting beach togs ready—the Fourth of July's firecrackers will be going off in another month. Here, therefore, are some hot suggestions for a cool week end by the sea.

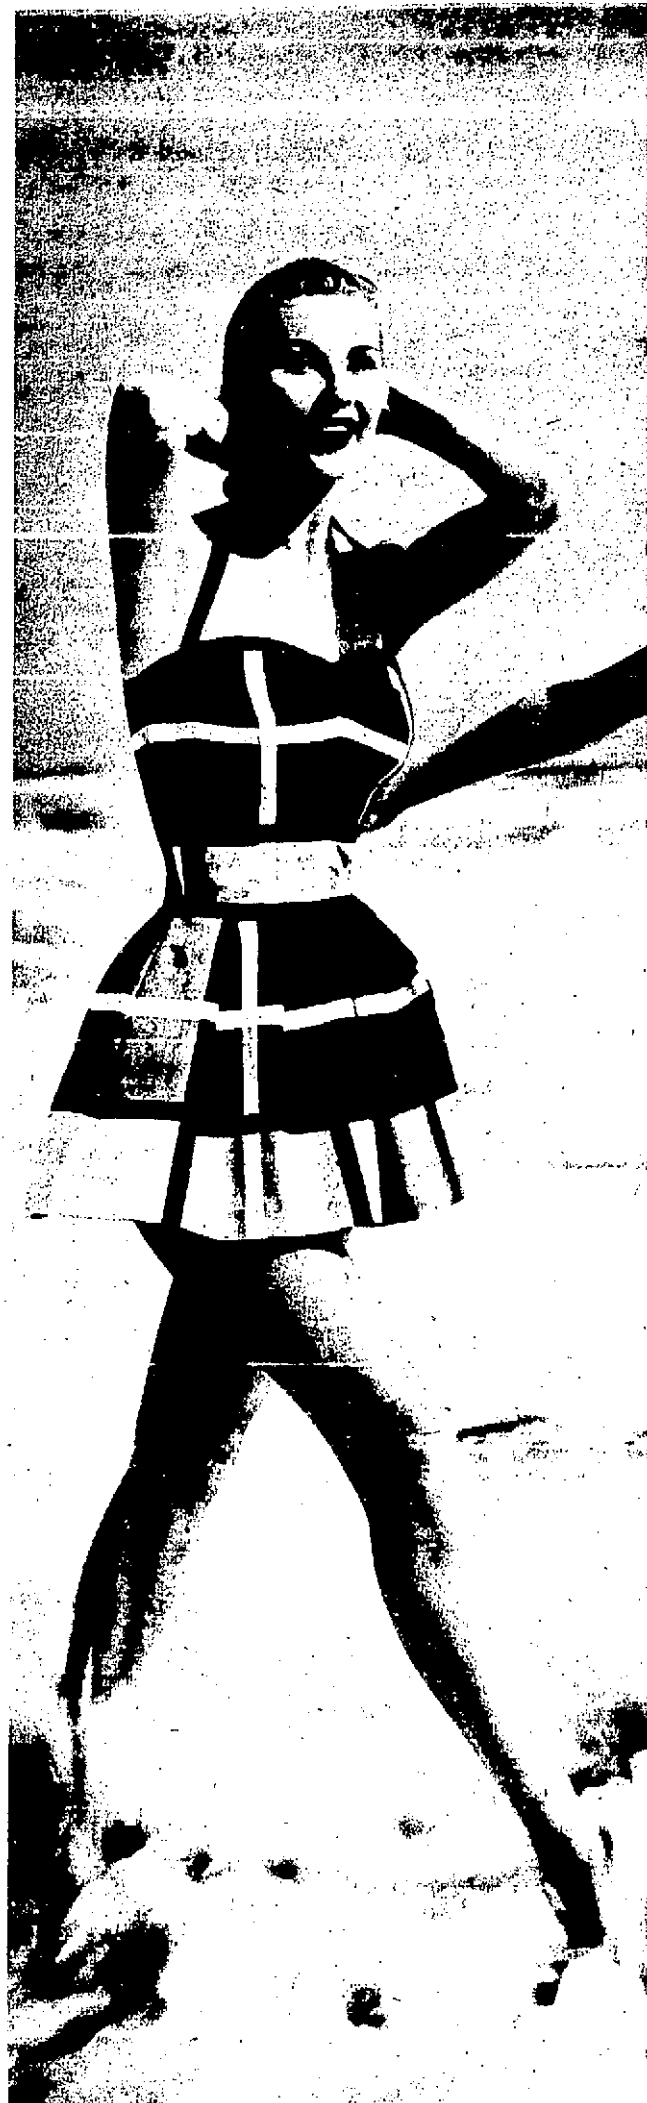

The expert swimmer should consider a functional one-piece suit. The girl with a good figure might like to show it off in the form-hugging elasticized type. If she wants to control her curves, let her consider the sarong suit. For the siren who wants to look pretty on the beach, barely touching her toes to the waves, there's the cotton with pleated pantie skirt. The dry-off is a grand little number for play on the beach after a dip in the water.

When it comes to pants, any length goes. All have international endorsement. It's up to the gal to choose.

▲ SEASIDE SIREN of elasticized cotton is in a fashionable paisley print. The colors are Persian blue, lavender and white. About $10. A smart Jantzen swim suit.

"PESCADORES" — Mexican fisherman's pants (left) — are ankle-length. Red-and-white checked cotton. Red draw-string cotton shirt. Pants about $6.50; shirt, about $6.50. Loomtogs... Capri short shorts (center) of marine-navy Ducklyn cotton are worn with striped cotton knit shirt. Shorts about $4; shirt, $4. Sacony... Riviera shorts (right) in dungaree-navy denim are topped by a shirt of bandanna-red cotton. Narrow matching red belt. Shorts about $4; shirt, about $3. Both from Korday.

SARONG SUIT has an inner sarong construction for figure control. Of Celaperm lastex. It comes in a wide range of colors with contrast piping. About $13. From Sea Nymph.

DRY-OFF one-piece is for after-swim play. Checked pink and white cotton knit (Alamac), ribbed collar and waist. About $12. By Pembroke Squires for Market.

1910 STRIPES make news in a figure-revealing 1956 swim suit. Ocean-green and white striped wool knit. Made with a half-skirt front. About $17. From Sacony.

How do you rate as a fan?

Try these questions, based on those given in a special college course in California

by JOE WIMER

RIVERSIDE, CALIF.

Think you know a lot about sports? Maybe you do — and you can find out by taking the test on these pages devised with the help of college professors — but look to your laurels if your wife starts boning up on sports. Reason: During the past two years some 700 boys and girls have studied sports intensively in a unique “Sports Appreciation” course at the University of California branch here — and in the final exams the girls fared as well as or better than the boys.

The coeds outsmarted the boys at their own games because of necessity, believes Dr. Jack E. Hewitt, head of the physical-education department and founder of the course. “The girls didn’t have as much background as the boys,” he points out, “and thus had to study more.”

The course, said to be the only one of its kind, gives students the history, tactics and rules of all major sports. “We teach the understanding of fine arts and music in colleges,” says Dr. Hewitt, “so why not sports? Also, in the years ahead Americans will have more leisure time. To help them use it profitably, we concentrate on sports like tennis, golf and swimming, ones the students can participate in after leaving school.”

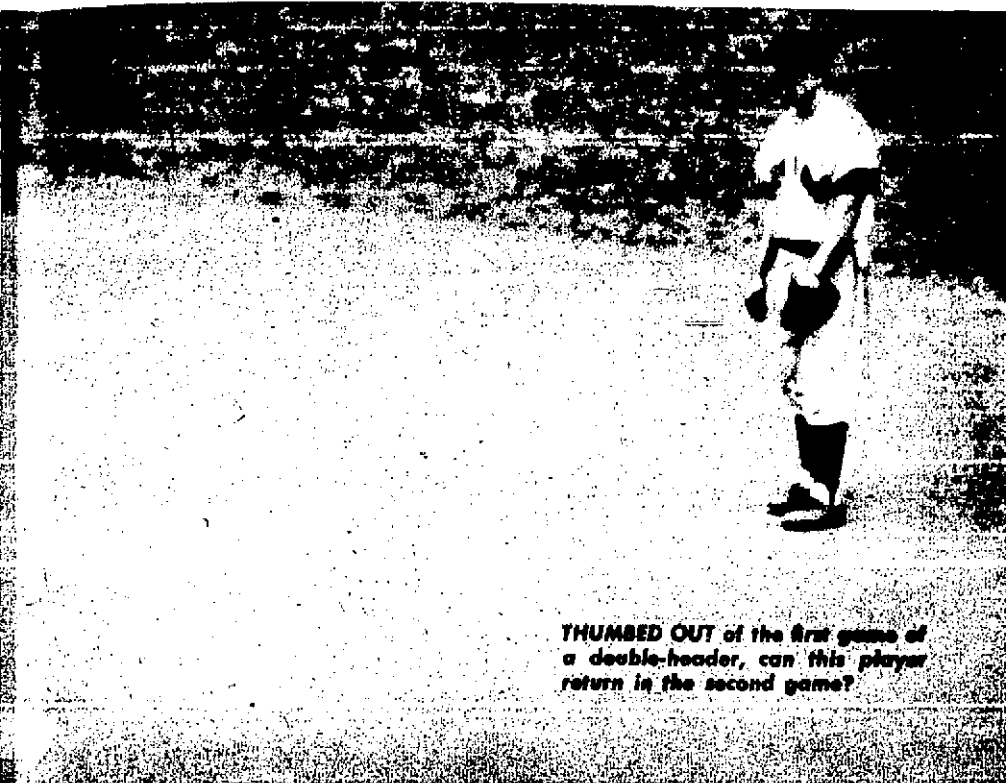

Results sometimes have come astonishingly fast. One coed, a campus beauty queen, became so intrigued by fishing during the course that she and a girl friend, neither of whom had even held a net before, darted off to the High Sierras for a week of trout fishing.

Starting at the top of the next column are 20 questions designed to test your knowledge of sports. All are based on the ones given in the final exams of the Sports Appreciation course here. After scoring yourself, let your wife try. You may get a surprise.

QUESTIONS

- 1 If a batter hits a fly ball to the outfield and a runner scores after the catch, is the batter given credit for a time at bat?
- 2 Would a lightweight fighter weigh more than 150 pounds?
- 3 In track, a runner races a half mile in one minute and 58 seconds. Would his time be within 15 seconds of the world record?
- 4 Can a center, playing his normal position, receive a forward pass in football?
- 5 If a tennis player drives his serve into the net, it is called: a) deuce; b) fault; c) love; d) volley.
- 6 With the bases loaded and nobody out, a batter hits into a double play, the runner from third scoring. Is the batter given credit for a run batted in?
- 7 Last summer the whole racing world had its eyes on a match race between Nashua and Swaps. Which horse was the winner?
- 8 In football, Notre Dame scores a touchdown, a safety and a field goal. How many points do the Fighting Irish have: a) 13; b) 11; c) 12; d) 9?
- 9 In which of the following sports have looping and slanting become commonplace: a) football; b) basketball; c) swimming; d) baseball?
- 10 Do the total number of strokes determine the winner of a match-play tournament in golf?

THUMBED OUT of the first game of a double-header, can this player return in the second game?

11 A batter slams a drive off the left-field wall but is tagged out when he overruns second base. Is he credited with a two-base hit?

12 The 1956 summer Olympic Games will be held in Melbourne, Australia. Where were the 1952 summer Games held?

13 In golf, when Dr. Cary Middlecoff complains of a slice, a) his handicap has been cut; b) his shot curved to his left; c) the shot curved to his right; d) the shot had excessive backspin.

14 Which college this year set a new all-time consecutive winning streak in basketball?

15 In football, can four defensive players tackle the ball carrier at the same time without suffering a penalty for unnecessary roughness?

16 The offensive team in college basketball has to advance the ball to the front court within 10 seconds. True or false?

17 After a player is ejected from the first game of a double-header for disputing a play with an umpire, can he return to play the second game?

18 College basketball players must shoot within 24 seconds or lose possession of the ball. True or false?

19 If a runner attempting to advance a base on a fly ball leaves the bag before the ball is caught, the umpire should call an automatic out. True or false?

20 What football team won in the Rose Bowl on January 2 of this year?

ANSWERS

1) No. 2) No; limit is 135. 3) Yes; official record is 1:48.6. 4) No. 5) Fault. 6) No. 7) Nashua. 8) 11. 9) Football. 10) No; match play is by holes won, medal play by strokes. 11) Yes. 12) Helsinki. 13) Shot curved to right. 14) University of San Francisco. 15) Yes. 16) True. 17) Yes. 18) False. 19) False; defensive team must tag the base, then "appeal" to umpire. 20) Michigan State, beating UCLA, 17-14.

HOW YOU RATE

Eighteen or more correct answers qualifies you to teach the professors a few things. A score of 16 or 17 puts you at the head of the class. From 11 to 15 correct answers indicates you're an average, well-informed sports fan. A score of 10 or less? Better do some homework on the sports pages.

NEWSPAPERBOY AT EXETER

Special scholarship helps Ohio boy

EXETER, N.H.

Here in the hills of New Hampshire, 755 boys are bustling through the busy days that precede a preparatory-school graduation. Among these students at Phillips Exeter Academy are 29 who never dreamed of graduating from one of the nation's oldest and most honored prep schools. Typical of them is Jon Mikal Townsley, 18, of Cedarville, Ohio (pop. 1,600).

Mike Townsley was transplanted from Cedarville to Exeter because he is an ex-newspaperboy for the Dayton (Ohio) Daily News. He and the other 28 were awarded scholarships by Exeter (top value: $1,600) through a program of the International Circulation Manager's Association.

These scholarships are just one way the ICMA helps newspaperboys from average families become the leaders of tomorrow. America's newspapers now award more than a quarter-million dollars a year in prep-school and college scholarships. Some newspapers offer as many as 50. The amounts range from $100 to the full college bill of tuition, books, board and room. Winners are chosen for sales records, school grades and future promise.

Mike was grateful for the lift, although he found prep school a big step. He has worked hard: "The courses were the same" — mathematics, English, French, history and physical sciences — "but at Exeter there was more of everything." However, this hard work has paid off with high honors.

Not all he learned was in the classroom. There were Exeter's special slang, social customs — and contacts. But Mike, with plans to attend Harvard or Ohio State in the fall, took little time for social life. For an ex-newspaperboy from an average family, Exeter was an opportunity not to be wasted.

HUNGRY Mike (r.) enjoys evening snack of chocolate milk and cookies with dormitory friends. Ohio boy's roommate is the son of a Maine bank president.

Teen-age Topics

Here are some recent questions on graduation and the parties that accompany it.

Q. Is it all right to take out a girl of my own age for my graduation from grammar school? If so, where would I take her? — R.D., Union City, N.J.

A. If there are no graduation parties to go to, perhaps you could take her to a restaurant for dinner and then to the movies or the theater. A nicer idea would be to have your parents give a small dinner party at home for you and another couple or so — this really is a night for a party rather than a solo date.

Q. I have invited a boy from another school to a Fresh-Soph dance. How can I let him know what color corsage I would like? Who should provide the transportation? — F.G., Eatontown, N.J.

A. I believe his florist will advise him to send white or pale pink, both of which will go with practically everything. If it is practical, his parents should provide the transportation.

Q. I am 13 and my brother is 17. He doesn't think I should attend the parties he gives. What do you think? — E.J., Chicago.

A. Try to put yourself in your brother's place; it is his party and to him you are a kid sister. When you are older, he may be more willing to include you.

Q. I am a 15-year-old girl and a sophomore. My parents approve of the people I go around with but they won't allow me to go out in their cars to get to and from a dance. It's not that the fellows are hot-rodgers; most of them are careful drivers. I hope you can help me. — R.L., Scranton, Pa.

A. The clue here is your own phrase, "most of them are careful drivers." Your mother and father are perfectly right to be so cautious in this matter.

Q. I am a boy of 14 and have been going steady with a girl of 16. Do you think this is advisable? Is it proper for me to ask another girl to a party when she is away on vacation? — S.B., New York, N.Y.

A. By all means ask another girl. And 14 is too young to be going steady, especially with a girl older than yourself.

Demo Rivals Swing Into Home Stretch

Kefauver, Stevenson
Both Confident of Tuesday Outcome

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee appeared locked today in a close battle for California's critical 68 Democratic presidential nominating votes.

In a campaign sharpened with bitterness, the two rivals left almost no part of sprawling California unvisited in their quest for votes in the last and most important of the nation's presidential primaries here next Tuesday.

But there were signs that the candidates themselves were much more concerned about the outcome than the average California voter. Streetcorner and supermarket crowds were generally small. The apathy spelled out the prospect of a relatively light turnout among the state's 3,039,873 registered Democrats.

BY AND LARGE, Stevenson's crowds were bigger than those which came out to hear Kefauver, particularly after Stevenson's victory in the Florida primary last Tuesday. Kefauver's backers attributed this to better organization work than they could provide for their catch-as-catch-can campaign.

Both candidates expressed confidence about the outcome.

Stevenson, campaigning in the San Joaquin Valley, said he thinks he knows "what the outcome will be" when the voters answer what he called "personal attacks" against him by Kefauver.

Billy Rose Weds Berle's Former Wife

NEW YORK (AP) — Millionaire Broadway producer Billy Rose and former showgirl Joyce Mathews, who was named the "other woman" when swimmer Eleanor Holm divorced him two years ago, were married Saturday in a brief civil ceremony.

Rose, whose first wife was the late comedienne Fanny Brice, and Miss Mathews, who has been television comedian Milton Berle's wife twice, were married by New York State Supreme Court Justice Samuel Gold in the Central Park West apartment of Abe Burrows, a producer and comedian.

Among the 21 guests was William Zeckendorf Sr., president of Webb & Knapp, one of the nation's largest real estate firms, of which Rose is a vice president. The company owns the Chrysler building, the world's second tallest skyscraper, and has huge projects across the country.

Along with Zeckendorf's wife were his son, William Jr., and daughter-in-law, the former Gail Lie, whose father, Trygve Lie, formerly was United Nations secretary general.

The best man for the 36-year-old, pint-sized Rose was writer Ben Hecht. Miss Mathews' matron of honor was Mrs. Charles Beagle.

Recommendations

The sample ballot received by voters is different for the various Assembly districts. The size of the ballot is confusing to many voters. It would be equally confusing if newspapers attempted to print all the various ballots with recommendations. For that reason we are offering our suggestions by columns as shown on the sample ballot. First—voters will find at the top of the ballot a box in which they will place their X for the presidential candidate they prefer. Democratic ballots will give a choice of Stevenson or Kefauver. Republican ballots will have a box for President Eisenhower only. For other offices and propositions we offer our suggestions as follows:

Column 1—Congressional—will show various candidates for United States Senate. We recommend a vote for Thomas Kuchel, our present U. S. Senator. He has

ONE OF WEST'S LARGEST

Giant Pipe Organ to Boom Out Here

Long Beach and add to the spirit of worship.

THE INSTRUMENT will have 4,074 individual pipes—nearly three times the number in the church's original organ installed 40 years ago.

The pipes range from the size of a pencil to an 875-pound giant more than three stories high.

The smallest pipe, Dr. Magin explains, sounds a high C above the piano keyboard while the largest will sound a low C below the piano keyboard.

The mighty organ will be installed by technicians from the factory. Another $60,000 was spent to prepare the case housing the instrument and to renovate the sanctuary. This case, so important to tonal reproduction, was modeled after the one in famed St. Mary's Church in Ludwigsfelde, Holland.

The organ has four keyboards and one pedal board. It has 120 stops—96 as draw knobs and 24 as lifting tablets. Of the total, 1,403 will be exposed, functional pipes.

"THE INSTRUMENT" has been designed as a classic organ using the arrangement of stops to produce a type of tone which has been used and loved for centuries in the great churches of Europe," Dr. Magin said.

"These classic tones have been heard for many years in Europe but rarely in this country."

Atom Dust Detected

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese government survey ship reported Saturday it has discovered radioactive dust approximately 1,400 miles from the U.S. Bikini hydrogen bomb testing area.

The vessel Shunkotsu Maru radioed that it had detected the dust in the area of the Mariana Islands, northwest of the mid-Pacific test grounds.

Rivers Rise in Columbia Basin, 3 Die

PORTLAND, Ore. —The first deaths in the widespread Columbia Basin floods came Saturday as the peak of the annual snow-melt period neared.

Two deaths were reported in Idaho, another in British Columbia.

THE NEXT THREE DAYS will be the critical ones. Elmer Fisher, river forecaster, said he expects the Columbia to climb to 27 feet in this metropolitan area by Tuesday, then begin a slow fall.

Two youths were caught when a dam burst in southeastern Idaho early Saturday. The body of one, George Dennis Whitworth, 13, was recovered. His cousin, Gerald Whitworth, also 13, still was missing.

AT CRESTON, B.C., the flooding Kootenay River indirectly was responsible for the death of a 6-year-old boy. The boy, Barry James Holmes, drowned in an auto court septic tank after his family was forced to evacuate its home.

Railman Rescues Baby Put in Front of Train by Dad

NEW YORK (AP)—A father placed his 3-month-old son on the tracks in front of an approaching train Saturday, police reported, but a watchman rescued the infant.

The father, John Birk, 33, an Estonian refugee, then pummeled the watchman, Henry Davis, 35, officers said. Onlookers at the New York Central yards summoned police who subdued Birk and arrested him on charges of endangering the life and limb of a minor.

Police said the episode followed a fight between Birk, who had been drinking, and his wife.

Chotiner Out as Campaign Aid, Says Hall

Los Angeles Lawyer and Ace GOP Staff Man Won't Be Used

WASHINGTON (AP) — GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall announced Saturday the Republican National Committee will not use political strategist Murray M. Chotiner in this year's presidential election campaign.

Chotiner, Vice President Richard M. Nixon's campaign manager in 1952 and ace GOP lecturer on how to defeat the opposition, is under fire from the Senate investigating subcommittee. The subcommittee wants to know whether he tried to use government contacts in carrying on his law practice.

Chotiner also has been a political worker for Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) and former Gov. Earl Warren of California, now Chief Justice of the United States.

HALL SAID that Chotiner, "because of his experience, has been called upon to perform numerous campaign services" but that "the national committee is now staffed by experienced personnel sufficient to meet the campaign staff problems of both the presidential and vice presidential nominees."

Hall made his disclosure in a letter to Edward W. O'Brien, chief of the Washington bureau of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. O'Brien had asked him: "Can you tell us if Mr. Mur-

Two Actresses Lose Lives in Kansas Smashup

MEADE, Kan. (AP)—Two Hollywood actresses were killed in a highway accident Saturday while on their way to new acting jobs in the East.

They were Miss Lola D'Annunzio and Mrs. Phyllis Palumbo, both 26. A 4-year-old son of Mrs. Palumbo, John Paul Palumbo, escaped with minor injuries.

Highway patrolmen said the driver apparently went to sleep and the car overturned twice on U. S. 54.

Papers in the car indicated Miss D'Annunzio was going to a job in Summer Playhouse at New Hope, Pa., and Mrs. Palumbo was to take a television job in New York.

Jazz-Loving Senator Says Be-Bop Convinces Europe U.S. Is Barbarian

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Allen J. Ellender said Saturday that sending be-bop bandman Dizzy Gillespie abroad was the best way to convince opera-loving Europeans that Americans are barbarians.

Ellender, a Dixieland addict from Dixie, said it might be all right for the State Department to send "great" jazz musicians like Benny Goodman or Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong overseas to demonstrate U. S. culture.

But he drew the line at be-bop which he heard Gillespie play at the White House correspondents' dinner last week.

"Noise, pure noise," said the Louisiana Democrat.

"Imagine that being sent to Paris—and it was."

"Anybody listening to it will be convinced that we are barbarians. A lot of tom-toms, and horns blaring!"

LIKE & GIFT HORSE

President Eisenhower nuzzles a quarter horse at his farm in Gettysburg, Pa., Saturday. The horse is the gift of Lester Goodson of Magnolia, Texas. The President also received another horse for his grandson David.—(AP Wirephoto)

President Given Horse Named Doodle De Do

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower, who used to ride "55 horses on $15 saddles when I was a kid," Saturday welcomed to his farm a western quarter horse complete with hand-tooled leather saddle.

The 7-year-old sorrel mare, named Doodle De Do, was presented to the President by Lester Goodson, president of the American Quarterhorse Association, as a gift from the association.

Goodson also brought along a 2-year-old light bay named Sporty Miss, a gift of his own to the President's 8-year-old grandson, David.

A QUARTER HORSE is a sprinter and is featured in short races in many sections of the west.

Asked if he had ever ridden a quarter horse, Eisenhower grinned and said he had not. "I rode 55 horses on $15 saddles when I was a kid," he added.

Although he hasn't ridden in several years because of his right knee injury from West Point football, Mr. Eisenhower indicated he intends to saddle up, Doodle De Do soon.

"It would be fun to train her," he said. "I used to do a little horse training in Panama years ago."

Goodson told Eisenhower that Doodle De Do "has a nice easy gait—you'll enjoy riding her."

Eisenhower asked Charles "Bubba" Casco, a cowboy who accompanied Goodson on the trip, to ride Doodle De Do. He did and the President was one of the most admiring watchers.

DAY-LONG rain washed out Eisenhower's hopes for a round of golf.

Man Alters Story, Tells Suicide Try

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 25-year-old sailor who first told deputies that he had been shot by a man from whom he hitchhiked a ride admitted Saturday the wound was self-inflicted.

Jacob Joseph Orre, stationed with the Navy at Orange, Tex., told detectives that he shot himself because of despondency over orders that he was being sent overseas.

Orre, who came to Los Angeles to visit his mother, was found lying near a canyon road with a gunshot wound near the heart.

It was then he told deputies he was picked up by a motorist who shot him and robbed him of $350.

He was taken to General Hospital here where his condition was described as fair. At the hospital he told officers that he killed his mother good-bye, took a bus to the Newhall area, hitchhiked into the hills and shot himself.

Recommendations

shown himself to be non-partisan in his voting record. His seniority is of great value to the state. He deserves the vote of both party voters.

Below the U. S. Senate list of candidates will be found Representative in Congress. Congressman Craig Hosmer of the 18th District deserves the same vote of confidence as we suggest for Sen. Kuchel. Hosmer has four years of seniority and an enviable record of non-partisan voting in Congress.

Under Legislative in the first column are candidates for the State Assembly. Voters in the 44th District will find the name of our present Assemblyman Herbert Klocksiem. Republican. In the 68th District they will find Vincent Thomas, Democrat; in the 69th District Carley Porter, Democrat, and in the 70th District Assemblyman W. S. Grant, Republican. Each of these men have outstanding records which deserve a vote of confidence by members of both parties.

Column 2 is different in each district and is for members to serve on the Democratic or Republican Central Committees. Since this is strictly a partisan matter we make no recommendation.

Columns 3, 4 and 5 are for election of 28 Superior Court judges. Since there is no contest in 25 of these offices we refer only to those where there are contests. In office No. 2, incumbent Judge Henry M. Willis is opposed by Attorney Edward H. Blixt. We recommend reelection of Justice Willis. In office No. 27, Superior Court Judge Odemar is opposed by Municipal Judge Ralph C. Dilla. We recommend reelection of incumbent Justice Odemar. In office No. 28 there is no incumbent judge standing for reelection. Seven candidates are seeking this office. The Bar Association has given almost equal support to former Superior Court Judge Fletcher Bowron who later served as Mayor of Los Angeles for 15 years, and Otho G. Lord, a Superior Court Commissioner. Although he is 68 years of age, we feel Bowron is deserving of election because of his many years of honorable public service.

Column 6 is of great importance. It is for election of our County District Attorney and member of the Board of Supervisors for the 4th District. District Attorney Roll has no opposition so he will be elected in the primaries. However, of greater importance to Long Beach is the reelection of Burton Chace, supervisor for the greater portion of Long Beach. Chace has one of the finest public records in the state. He is a long time resident of Long Beach. He deserves an overwhelming vote by the people of this district.

The last column is also of great importance. Proposition C is the Long Beach School District proposition to allow an increase in the maximum tax rate. It is essential if our schools are to continue taking care of the ever increasing school population. It should have the approval of all who realize the importance of keeping up with our growing population in the schools.

Proposition W is another vital issue deserving a heavy YES vote. It provides for the Metropolitan Water District issuing bonds to increase the water supply from the Colorado River. The bond costs will be paid by new districts using the water and therefore will not be an added burden to Long Beach and other areas already in the district.

To our readers who may be interested in these recommendations we suggest they take their sample ballot and mark it accordingly. They can then take the marked ballot with them to the polls. But above all we urge each of our readers to vote in Tuesday's election. It is not so important how you vote as it is that you vote whatever your choice may be.—L.A.C.

Democratic Rivals Seen in Close Race

fauber that he said "hurt the Democratic Party."

KEFAUVER SAID, "I think I'm doing all right," in what obviously is his do-or-die effort to demonstrate to the forthcoming Democratic National Convention that he is the choice of the average voter.

F. Joseph Donohue, Kefauver's national campaign manager, called the contest "a horse race," but said he thinks the Tennessee Senator will nose out his opponent.

James Finnegan, Stevenson's manager, was "cautiously optimistic." But Paul Ziffren, Democratic National Committeeman, predicted a 100,000-vote margin for Stevenson, whom he is supporting.

As the candidates boiled down the home stretch, both were bidding desperately for support of Negro and old-age-pension voters who make up two of the largest blocs among the Democrats.

Kefauver accused Stevenson of "civil rights equivocation," contending that in Florida his rival was presented as a "moderate" on the school-integration issue while in California he was being pictured as a "crusader" for civil rights.

Stevenson, continuing to campaign as though he were certain of winning the nomination, assailed the Eisenhower administration for permitting what he called a "serious farm depression in many parts of the country."

WITH A VICTORY here, Stevenson could all but force Kefauver out of serious contention for the nomination. A California win for him would puncture the Kefauver claim—already tarnished by recent losses to his rival in Oregon and Florida—that he is the choice of rank-and-file voters.

With big city leaders against him, Kefauver seemingly can win the nomination only by making himself such a champion of the rank and file that top place cannot be denied to him.

$300,000 Jury's Award to Boy, 8

CLEVELAND, O. (AP) — A common pleas court jury Saturday awarded an eight-year-old boy $300,000 in damages as a result of crippling injuries.

Nine women and three men deliberated less than three hours before finding against De-Witt Motors, Inc., of Akron. A former De-Witt salesman, Gene Dengg, drove the car which struck Carl (Butchie) Berry in the driveway of his home in the Cleveland suburb of Valley View last June 24.

FORMER GRID STAR TACKLES LOOSE MONK

OAKLAND (AP) — Policeman James McPartland Saturday exercised the talent that made him one of the great names in St. Mary's football history to catch a monkey that had been loose for 24 hours.

McPartland grabbed the monkey, fumbled it and then threw a flying tackle for another first down.

The policeman bundled his catch into his patrol car and returned it to the Joseph R. Knowland State Park and Arboretum where it belonged.

Plane Hits Car at Compton, 2 Hurt

Two fliers were seriously injured Saturday when a single-engine plane sheared off a power pole, hit an automobile and crashed at Compton airport.

The injured men were identified as the pilot, Donald Kerns, 30, and his passenger, Wayne L. Lee, 33, both of Los Angeles. The accident occurred when Kern apparently tried to glide-land, the plane when its engine failed shortly after takeoff, officers said.

Occupants of the automobile struck by the plane were not injured.

THEY MARCHED WITH IKE'S ...

Note for D-Day

(Editor's Note: Twelve years ago next Wednesday the Allies invaded Normandy on D-Day. I, P-T reader H. F. Duarte, 154 1/2 Pomona Ave., has sent in a timely reminder of the anniversary—his copy of a letter sent by Dwight Eisenhower, then commander of the invaders, to all members of the force that made the successful landing of June 6. The letter follows.)

"Supreme headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force. "Soldiers, sailors and airmen of the Allied Expeditionary Force:

"You are about to embark upon the Great Crusade, toward which we have striven these many months. The eyes of the world are upon you. The hopes and prayers of liberty-loving people everywhere march with you. In company with our brave allies and brothers-in-arms on other fronts, you will bring about the destruction of the German war machine, the elimination of Nazi tyranny over the oppressed peoples of Europe, and security for ourselves in a free world.

"Your task will not be an easy one. Your enemy is well trained, well equipped and battle hardened. He will fight savagely.

"But this is the year 1944! Much has happened since the Nazi triumphs of 1940-41. The United Nations have inflicted upon the Germans great defeats, in open battle, man-to-man. Our air offensive has seriously reduced their strength in the air and their capacity to wage war on the ground. Our home fronts have given us an overwhelming superiority in weapons and munitions of war, and placed at our disposal great reserves of trained fighting men. The tide has turned. The free men of the world are marching together to Victory!

"I have full confidence in your courage, devotion to duty and skill in battle. We will accept nothing less than full Victory.

"Good Luck! And let us all beseech the blessing of Almighty God upon this great and noble undertaking.

"Dwight D. Eisenhower."

2 French Divisions Snap Trap

ALGIERS (AP) — Two French divisions snapped shut a deadly trap Saturday on five Algerian rebel groups under turbaned General Si Amrouche, killing nearly 300.

French authorities called it "the biggest battle of the year." They said French troops also captured more than 150 in three days of fighting in the wild Petite Kabylie Mountains, 35 miles south of Bougie.

Several hundred rebels were reported reeling today under constant hammering by field artillery and war planes.

THE REBELS under self-styled General Si Amrouche were said to be regrouping, apparently for a desperate attempt to break out of the triangle trap near Lafayette.

For four months, the rebels ruled the area between Akbou in the north, Bordj Bou Arreridj in the south and Lafayette in the east.

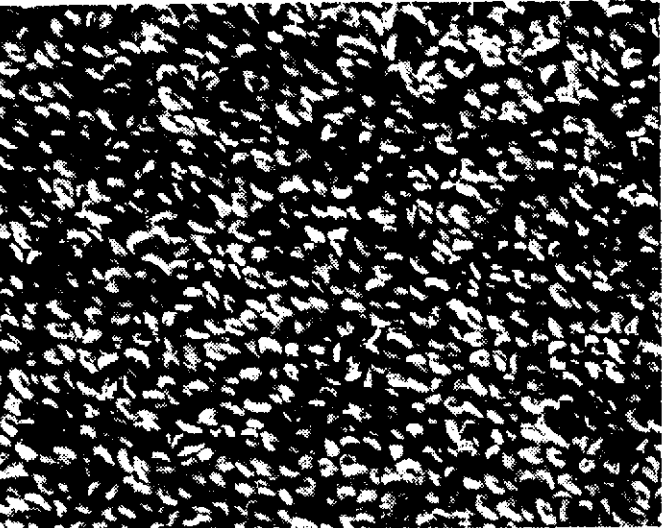

French troops drove toward the center of the craggy, cave-studded area today. They used knives, bayonets and gun butts in scattered close fighting.

Passe Gestures Hit by Toastmistresses

By BEN ZINSER

Accustomed as they are to public speaking, a delegation of the International Toastmistress Clubs offered a few pointers on speechmaking here Saturday.

A spokesman for the women, 550 of whom are attending a two-day regional conference in Wilton Hotel, put old-fashioned elocution and television's Ed Sullivan in the same class.

"Sullivan does everything you shouldn't do when he emcees his 'show,'" remarked Mrs. Donald McBride, South Gate, southwest regional supervisor for the toastmistress group.

"His gestures, I mean," she said. "They're all wrong."

"One is the old 'modesty' gesture from elocution days. We call it the 'fig-leaf'—you know, where he holds his hand in front. The 'fig-leaf' is taboo in present-day speaking."

MRS. VIRGINIA EVANS, of the Hollywood Toastmistress Club, elaborated on the gestures topic. She headed a panel on

"Develop Those Gestures" Saturday afternoon.

"Any gesture that makes you look relaxed is all right," she said. "We have no objection to Edward R. Murrow lighting up a cigarette, for example. He goes about it naturally."

Some types of gestures she said, include indication (pointing), enumeration (counting on fingers for emphasis) and detection (in the sense of feeling).

"But when you point, you do it with the entire hand—not just one finger," Mrs. Evans said. "You illustrate detection by rubbing the thumb across the first three fingers."

IT'S IMPORTANT how you use the hands when gesturing, she said.

"The back of the hand, for instance, exemplifies the spiritual or the mystic," she explained. "When a minister raises his hands, he does so with his palms down."

Adoration, she continued, is expressed by raising the hands with the palms up.

Joy and exaltation are shown by raising the hands with the thumbs free—never with the thumb against the palm or index finger.

Then there is the "molding" gesture to depict outline or shape. When correctly done, the fingers are free—not closed or pressed tightly together.

Rejection is indicated, she added, with the palms down.

"The gesture begins from the torso, with the arms sweeping out and back. You could call it a 'dogpaddle' motion," she said.

Resting the hands on a table—but do it lightly—can be a gesture of emphasis, she said. Never lean on the table, though.

"And when you're not gesturing," Mrs. Evans said, "let your arms hang relaxed at your sides."

The Toastmistress slogan, incidentally, is "to love our language and to use it with grace and facility."

MANY NEWCOMERS to the organization soon learn it's no easy job to make a speech.

One new member, starting to deliver her first speech, known as the "icebreaker," fainted on the podium.

"It happened in our South Gate club," Mrs. McBride, the regional supervisor, recalled. "This woman got out the first sentence and then passed out from fright."

"A lot of the new members suffer loss of memory," commented Mrs. Sue Johnson, of the Newport Harbor Club.

"I remember one in our group who couldn't utter a word. She finally sat down. Now she's one of the club's outstanding speakers."

The toastmistresses discourage distracting apparel such as large earrings and floppy hats. They don't like to see someone using notes. But you'll never guess the group's pet peeve.

"A lot of women don't speak up so you can hear them," Mrs. McBride disclosed.

SAVED FROM DROWNING

Narrowly escaping death while swimming off the foot of Linden Ave. Saturday afternoon, A. Henry Cawood, 54, Artesia merchant, is carried to a waiting ambulance. Quick action by city lifeguards in administering artificial respiration is credited with saving Cawood's life after an unidentified swimmer pulled him to shore. Cawood was visiting here at 635 E. ## Baby, Small Boy and 11 Others Hurt in Saturday Accidents

Thirteen persons, including two small boys, were injured in three traffic accidents here Saturday.

Joseph Middel III, 4-year-old son of Mrs. Valerie Lee Middel, 30, of 6002 Wardlow Rd., suffered a head injury when he fell from his mother's car on Rutgers St. just north of Kildee Ave. He was admitted to Community Hospital.

A 20-month-old baby boy suffered a severe head laceration requiring 25 stitches in a collision at Ocean Blvd. and Granada Ave.

Ronald Robert Lemieux, of 1051 Holly Pl., Covina, was treated at Community Hospital after a car driven by Ina Catherine Griffin, 21, of Arcadia, collided with one driven by Janet Shelton, 16, of 10337 Virginia Ave., South Gate.

Four others suffered minor injuries. They were: the Shelton girl, knee abrasions; Jacqueline Lemieux, 21, of the Covina address, head cuts; David A. Hill, 14, of South Gate, head cuts, and Mary Gale Dell, 12, of South Gate, right ankle laceration.

In a third accident at Spring St. near Snowden Ave., two women passengers were hurt when cars driven by Richard A. Murphy, 41, of 2780 Clark St. and Nell C. Cook, 65, of 16832 Balsa Chica, Huntington Beach, collided.

Treated at Community Hospital were Katherine Murphy, 36, of the Clark St. address, for possible rib, pelvis and abdomen injuries, and Nora M. Thivridge, 71, of 3621 Cerritos Ave., for a head laceration.

Services for 5-year-old Larry R. Roberts, who died Saturday from injuries suffered in a Memorial Day traffic accident, will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Gal-laughier & de Young Bellflower Mortuary. Interment will be in Sunnyside Memorial Park.

YOUNG LARRY Roberts became the city's 12th traffic fatality for 1956, compared to 11 at this time last year.

Larry is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Roberts, 2732 Eckleson Ave.; two brothers, Donald and Gary; a sister, Gayle, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hopper.

In other accidents early Saturday:

Dr. Robert W. McClain Jr., 30, of 50 El Parque, suffered cuts on his head, face and hands requiring 68 stitches when his car plunged over an embankment on Pacific Coast Hwy. at Colorado St.

Edgard E. Matthews, 28, E. 231st St., suffered minor injuries when his motorcycle collided with a car driven by Josephine Schauf, 23, of 2655 Van Buren St., Dominguez, at Willow St. and Santa Fe Ave. She escaped injury, although her car overturned.

L.B. State Religious Rites Set

Baccalaureate services for 874 graduates of Long Beach State College will be conducted at 4 p.m. today in the First Christian Church, 5th St. and Locust Ave.

Reuben L. Anderson, minister of the host church, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. His address will be on the topic "Are You the Right Size?"

THE INVOCATION will be presented by Dr. Joseph Bachman, pastor of Calvary Presbyterian Church.

In addition to the graduates, 180 faculty members will join in the procession. Of the 874 graduates, 646 are candidates for bachelor's degrees and 228 are candidates for master's degrees.

DR. P. VICTOR PETERSON, college president, will extend greetings. Sacred music will be presented by the college choir, directed by Dr. Lawrence Peterson. The choir also will sing "Arioso O Jerusalem," original composition by Dr. Leon Dallin, college music staff member, who also will conduct the selection.

Baccalaureate services for Long Beach City College and high schools will be conducted a week from today.

CC Faculty Awards Scholarships to Eight

Eight scholarship awards totaling $650 for outstanding graduates of Poly, Wilson, Jordan, Downey, Bellflower and Excelsior High Schools were announced Saturday by the Long Beach City College Faculty Club.

Highest award, the $150 Faculty Honors Award, will go to Betty Jean Norris of Jordan High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Norris of 5600 Lemon Ave. Miss Norris had an "A" average in all academic subjects.

Other winners are Allan Gregg, Anderson of Wilson, Vance Stephens of Poly and Dennis Woodson of Bellflower, all of whom will receive $100 scholarships, and Roger C. Hagmann and Valerie Ann Bandy of Excelsior, who will receive $50 scholarships.

Council Member to Direct 'Mrs. Navy' Contest

City Councilman John F. Baker was named Saturday as executive director of the worldwide "Mrs. U. S. Navy" contest being staged by the Fleet Reserve Assn.

The announcement was made by William F. Hickey, national president of the association with headquarters at the Wilton Hotel. Final date for receiving applications in the contest is July 15, with the judging to be Sept. 15 in Long Beach.

Other appointments by Hickey include Terry Hines, Wilton Hotel staff member, as a member of the public relations staff; and Max Harris and Walter Powell as members of the staff's headquarters contest.

Painter, Hurt in Fall, Dies

A 66-year-old painter died Friday night from a brain concussion suffered when he fell from the roof of a house at 2432 E. 1st St., hitting his head on the sidewalk.

He is survived by his wife, Clara B. Liens.

The body was removed to the Rose Hills Mortuary Whittier, where services will be held Tuesday at 11:30 a.m.

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Margaret Dickled, 17, Berkeley High School senior, was announced Saturday as the top winner in a national United Nations high school contest conducted by the American Association for the United Nations.

Crash Kills Housewife, 2 Badly Hurt

FULLERTON—A middle-aged Whittier housewife was killed instantly in a head-on car collision Saturday afternoon on Chapman Ave. just west of Cypress St.

Dead is Ethel Free, of 534 Howard St.

Police said she was a passenger in an auto driven by her husband, Edwin, 58.

Driver of the second car was Daniel R. Hernandez, 17, of 228 1/2 Walnut St., Placentia.

Free and Martin J. Herrera, 17, of 525 E. Russell St., who was riding with Hernandez, were badly hurt and their condition was said to be serious by attendants at St. Joseph hospital in Orange. Hernandez' condition was said to be critical.

Police said no other cars were in the vicinity of the mishap and that the point of impact occurred five feet inside the eastbound lane in which the elder couple were traveling.

Last Anti-Rabies Shots at Reduced Rates This Week

The last in the series of clinics for anti-rabies inoculation of dogs, sponsored by the City Health Dept., is scheduled for this week.

Immunization at the reduced rate of $1.50 will be offered Monday night at Silverado and Houghton Parks, Wednesday at Pan-American Park and at the City Animal Shelter and Friday at Bixby and Recreation Parks. The hours in each instance are from 7 to 9 p.m.

Dogs which have not been immunized within the past year with the new avianized vaccine, effective for two years, should be inoculated again, according to Dr. J. D. Litwack, city health officer.

During the first week's clinics 1,221 dogs were immunized.

Signal Hill Legion Post Elects Woman Commander

Mrs. Eunice Monroe has been elected as the first woman commander of Signal Hill Post 490, American Legion, and will be installed at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Signal Hill City Hall. The post is composed of both men and women.

Mrs. Monroe, of 1960 Cherry Ave., is a secretary for a construction company.

Mrs. Millie Prytz will be installed president of Post 490 Auxiliary at the meeting.

DICTIONARY FOR 'NEW NATIVES'

Hoosier Eyes Southland

By BOB HOUSER

Visitors to a foreign land find pocket dictionaries invaluable in small trafficking with the natives.

You wouldn't think much of a language barrier existed between various sections of our own nation. And yet, the visitor to California or the newly established resident here is likely to encounter strange and unfamiliar terms—at least unfamiliar in their local connotations.

In consideration of this fact, herewith are just an assortment of words and terms you new "California natives" may run across in your perusal of the newspapers or in conversation with the grocer.

The most frequently heard term by the newcomer is likely to be:

UNUSUAL WEATHER—Roughly 90 per cent of the year's 365 days. Or any day short of perfection either by slight overcast, chill morning, fog, smog, sprinkle of rain, temperature above 90 or, yes, even by being too sunny.

TYPICAL WEATHER—Any day of the year a stranger says, "This is certainly a beautiful day."

TIDELANDS—A loosely used expression which might more correctly be called "tide and submerged lands." The controversy over title actually involves every conceivable definition of water area or former water area along the coasts and navigable waters of the United States. Tidelands includes the area of marginal seas out at least three miles from the coastline and in many instances to and beyond continental islands such as Catalina.

ROQUE—A word arbitrarily formed by taking the first and last letters from the word "croquet," a game which it resembles. Roque is a popular sport in Lincoln Park. Players use 3½ inch balls, playing them through arches 3½ inches wide, except for the cage or center arch, which is 3½ inches wide.

BAJA CALIFORNIA—This is not a city in California named Baja. It is the Mexican peninsula extending south from the state of California.

ASSEMBLY—The State Legislature's lower branch.

EXTENDED SERVICE—A type of telephone service—explained fully in the General Telephone Co. directory—enabling the user to dial certain areas outside Long Beach at no extra charge.

TRAFFIC CIRCLE... Test of Gamesmanship

FAULT—A fault is a fracture in the earth's crust. Shippage between sides of the fracture—maybe 10 miles below the earth's surface—starts the shock wave known as an earthquake. The Pacific coastal area is a noted seismic region and the faults have been charted and given fancy names, i.e., San Andreas fault, Santa Ynez fault, White Wolf fault.

EARTHQUAKE—A story of only passing mention in seismic regions, unless it's really a big one. But just the mention of the word sets up a personal tremor in the heart of the stranger.

STORM—A few piddling drops of rain—anything over one-tenth of an inch—is considered a storm out here. It would be a simple statistic "back home" but here news photographers illustrate their "storm" by taking pictures of small boys sailing boats in some diminutive trickle along a curb. There's a good reason, however. Water drainage is poor here, comparatively; a little water thus looks like a lot to natives.

SUBSIDENCE—The sinking of coast land caused by the underearth vacancy created by years of pumping out oil. Science is working on remedies, already being tried with some success, such as pumping water and gas into the earth to fill the voids.

THE FLOOD CONTROL—Natives will give you directions... "It's just west of the Flood Control, etc." They refer to the Los Angeles River Flood Control Channel, a concrete channel, usually dry, running north and south, about nine blocks west of the main street of the City of Long Beach.

OUTFALL—This is a sewage dumping point out in the ocean.

MARINA—This is a harbor for small craft.

TRACT—Homes known as "project homes" or "housing developments" in other sections of the nation are called "tract homes" here.

THE CIRCLE—A vehicular carousel located about 42 blocks east of the city at the juncture of Pacific Coast Highway and Lakewood Blvd. This is a real test of gamesmanship for the driver, a dizzying, self-contained, capsule freeway to separate the kids from the goats.

THE DIAGONAL—This refers to Los Coyotes Diagonal, a thoroughfare branching off northeast from the Traffic Circle.

ESCROW—A legal instrument or paper of agreement between two parties, and held by a third party (usually a bank) until fulfillment of certain conditions by the parties. This term is popularly used in house buying transactions: the seller puts the property in escrow and the buyer meets certain qualifications before title is passed on.

(Another Editor's Note: It was Will Rogers who invented the term, "Escrow Indiana.")

Inflation Believed Blunted

WASHINGTON (UP)—Government analysts Saturday expressed belief the "sharp edge" of inflation has been blunted.

This doesn't mean, one economist stressed, that any general decline in business and the economy is under way. Nor does it mean, he added, that the threat of inflation has entirely disappeared.

It does mean, he added, that inevitable adjustments are taking place that were to be expected after the booming business of 1953, which carried over into the early months of this year.

And, this economist said, there is no reason for pessimism over certain downward trends that may well prove to be temporary. Generally, he said, the outlook is for a continued high level economy but at rates in the immediate future below those of recent booming months. This may extend into the third quarter of the year but with a recovery anticipated in the last months of 1954.

ON THE BRIGHT side these factors were noted:

The continued high level of construction activity at a 42 billion dollar annual rate, especially in commercial and industrial lines;

Expected expenditures of 35 billion dollars or more this year by business in expanding its plants and equipment;

High personal income, at an annual rate of near 315 billion dollars;

High government spending, including the usual cleanup in payments as the fiscal year draws to a close June 30;

A rise in farm product prices to levels even with last year; a firming up in used car markets.

ON THE DOWNWARD side, analysts noticed especially the rise in manufacturers' inventories which had a book value of $48,200,000,000 at the end of April or about five billion higher than a year ago. One said this was disturbing because it could lead to a slowdown in production in some lines if the increase continued.

One analyst expressed belief that there may be a decline in steel orders. Many firms placed orders earlier in the year to assure themselves of materials and in advance of a possible steel price rise following the present wage talks.

Hawthorne Resident Killed in Wyoming

DR. GLASS IN LONG BEACH PRIDHAM DAVIS OFFICE

Those in Need of Eyesight Service in Long Beach Will Find Dr. Glass Both Friendly and Able, Says Pridham Davis

You can trust Dr. Ben E. Glass, Opt.D., to consider your eyesight needs first, and the money secondary, according to Dr. Pridham Davis, Opt.D.

"In all the years my Long Beach office has been established, I have never had an optometrist as well qualified as Dr. Glass," Dr. Davis said. "He has had over twenty years' experience. Most important, he has been with me for four years, enabling him to become thoroughly trained in my methods."

BACKGROUND OF DR. GLASS INTERESTING

Dr. Ben E. Glass, Opt.D., graduated from Los Angeles Polytechnic High School. After which, he graduated from the Los Angeles School of Optometry, obtaining the degree of Doctor of Optometry. Dr. Glass operated as an individual optometrist for many years previous to joining Pridham Davis.

An interesting sidelight in the career of Dr. Glass is his study in subjects other than optometry. He studied drama, music and make-up. His study of make-up ties in well with the science of fitting glasses to match facial characteristics.

WHY DR. GLASS DECIDED TO JOIN PRIDHAM DAVIS

"A man feels proud to operate his own professional practice," Dr. Glass said. "But I am better adapted to serve well with Pridham Davis. I am happy in my work, because I am usually busy, and a good income is assured. I am happy too that Pridham Davis has good principles professionally and insists on such a liberal attitude toward everyone we serve."

Optometrists Are Responsible for Better Vision

To start with, an optometrist examines your eyes. Without an accurate eye examination no one knows what you really need. An optometrist is more extensively educated in the science of vision measurement than any other profession.

After Eye Examination

Suppose your eye examination is completely accurate. Suppose the prescription written for lenses is exactly what you need for the most efficient sight. Then it's up to whoever fills the prescription to accurately follow through.

One of the main reasons why it's good to put your eyesight in the hands of an optometrist is that he is responsible for the grinding of your lenses, as well as the prescription itself. There's no chance of one service blaming the other in case you are not satisfied. One person, the optometrist, is responsible for everything from your eye examination to your completed glasses.

Styling and Fitting Frames

Style of frames may be more important than you think. You need a style both suited to your facial features and adaptable to your seeing needs. You need these fitted so that you are comfortable and not distracted by a fit that may be improper for the type of lens you have.

An optometrist is a specialist in both styling and fitting of glasses. He is solely responsible for a good result in these respects, as well as accurate eye examination and grinding of lenses. Every phase is handled by the optometrist and you can hold him solely responsible. You don't have to wonder whose fault it is in case you are not satisfied. Your optometrist backs up every process in the creation of corrected eyesight.

VISUAL TRAINING

"Eye exercises often correct muscular deficiencies not correctable by glasses," Dr. Davis said. "The optometrist not only offers all the services pertinent to getting glasses, but he offers visual training so that, if you need it, you may have added help."

Dr. Pridham Davis, Opt.D., Head of Service Bearing His Name
Dr. Ben E. Glass, Opt.D., in Charge of Long Beach Office

LONG BEACH OFFICE—38 Pine Ave., Corner 1st & Pine

Dr. Glass Stresses Importance of Good Guarantee

Dr. Glass' professional training qualifies him as an optometrist but an interesting side light is his attitude on dealing with people.

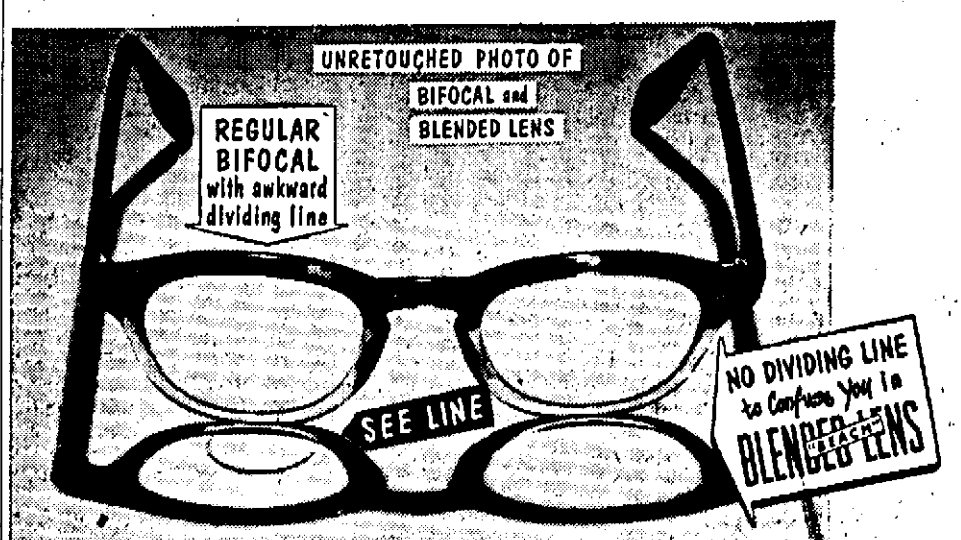

"I believe that, as a whole, people are honest," Dr. Glass said. "Very seldom has anyone tried to take advantage of me when I have done my best to solve their eyesight problem. Therefore, I welcome the opportunity of giving a money back guarantee. You trust me to give you eyesight entirely satisfactory to you, and I'll trust you to decide whether I keep your money or give it back to you.

GUARANTEE DARING IN VIEW OF CREDIT OFFER

"An unqualified guarantee is more daring when credit is involved," Dr. Glass said. "On our credit plan, payments are so small it may be quite a time after you wear your glasses, before your last payment is made. If you are not satisfied and have paid only a part of the cost of your glasses, I will cancel the balance you owe and return the money you have already paid."

HOW BLENDED LENSES WORK

You use Blended Lenses like bifocals or trifocals. The big difference is that you DON'T HAVE AN ABRUPT JUMP when you move your eyes. You have gradual changes from reading to arm's length and distance areas. Gradual changes are more acceptable to bodily functions than quick, abrupt shifts.

With bifocals, when you move your head and objects jump, beware of STUMBLING.

There is possible confusion of SEEING DOUBLE. When moving about or driving with Blended Lenses you are safe, because objects will not jump, and you will not see double through any part of lens.

EYE EXAMINATION

Examination of your eyes will indicate the type of lenses best for you. Whether these be Blended Lenses, or any other type, Pridham Davis is prepared to fit you for your needs.

1954 Median Family Income Was $4,173

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Census Bureau reported Saturday that median family income in 1954 was $4,173. This was $60 below the record reached in 1953, but $300 above 1952.

The bureau also found that in 1954, 13 million of the nation's 42 million families had annual incomes of at least $5,000. About eight million families had such incomes in 1948, it said.

(The Census Bureau uses the median or midpoint. This means that half the nation's families made more than $4,173 and half received less.)

The bureau said the "average purchasing power of non-farm families" in 1954 appears to have "regained the World War II level" for the first time.

This occurred, it said, because income, wages and salaries in particular, rose while the price level remained stable.

Nonfarm families in 1954 enjoyed a median income of $4,501. This was $71 below the year before.

The bureau said the average cash income of farm families dropped from $2,131 in 1953 to $1,973 in 1954.

More Jet Noise!

By ALLAN MERRITT

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The ear-splitting noise of the military jet airplane—the world's greatest maker of sustained noise—has given rise to a big question: How much the human ear can safely stand?

Scientists are trying to come up with an answer—one that must come soon. For the deafening sound waves already have reached the point where they cause physical pain to people at close range.

And the noise is becoming greater year by year with constant setups in jet engine power. A nuisance to residential areas adjacent to military airfields, it conceivably could be a threat to the hearing of men handling the planes on the line during ground warmups.

There's nothing in nature similar to the jet noise. That's why it's hard to accept. But it apparently will have to be accepted.

"It is just something we are going to have to live with," Gen. Nathan F. Twining, the Air Force chief of staff, told a jet age conference.

"The trouble we have had is nothing," he said, "compared to the trouble we could have, because aviation is tending toward more noise, not less."

THE NOISE of commercial jet airliners probably can be reduced to that of present propeller driven aircraft, through the use of silencers or mufflers, by the time they come into use in 1938 or 1939.

But military jets simply cannot afford to give up in flight the performance that would be lost through noise suppression.

Some measures have been taken to combat the noise.

The Air Force puts barriers around tailpipes of its noisier jets to coral and enclose sounds during engine warmups, and uses the most isolated parts of its airfields for this purpose.

McDonnell Aircraft Corp. of St. Louis, whose F101 Air Force Voodoo is one of the top noise-makers now coming off the production lines, is putting up three "hush houses" for testing engines.

The buildings will be designed to accommodate twin-engine jets with a power capacity twice that of the present Voodoo engines. Personnel can remain inside the testing operation but not with comfort.

Among those trying to determine whether jet noises constitute a danger to men such as line crewmen are scientists from St. Louis' Central Institute for the Deaf.

They are studying the effects on flight deck personnel aboard an aircraft carrier at sea. The research is under a contract with the Office of Naval Research.

"We felt this was the kind of problem which ought to be studied in the field," said S. Richard Silverman, director of the institute.

Research facilities are concentrated in a specially designed 40-foot soundproof trailer.

STUDIES SHOW the noise from a jet engine is not made inside but from 2 to 20 feet in back of the plane. Measured in power required to generate noise, a truck uses about 10 watts, a Diesel locomotive 100 watts, a propeller-driven aircraft perhaps 1,000, some present jets 10,000, and future jets possibly 100,000.

Members of the noise abatement panel in Washington said that when noise exceeds 140 decibels, pain is experienced and people become frightened and try to get away.

The noise of new jets coming into use exceeds 140 decibels. Authorities on sound tolerance have said in recent years the boundary line between noises which cause hearing losses and those which do not lies between 80 and 90 decibels or, for brief exposures, perhaps 100 or more.

Gen. Earle E. Partridge, commander in chief of the Air Force's Continental Air Defense Command, gave this yardstick on jet noise:

"Between 40 and 86 decibels, only a Rip Van Winkle can sleep; from 86 to 98, no man can yell loud enough over it to be heard; from 98 to 140, there is physical discomfort; and from there on it's painful to the ears."

The F86D North American Sabre Jet's noise is just two points short of the ear-painful decibel count.

The delta-winged F102 Convair, which soon will be added to the Air Force arsenal, goes one point over the ear-painful minimum for persons without ear plugs. It has to get up two miles to get out side the range where it interferes with speech.

AS YET, McDonnell Aircraft says, no official reading has been made on the noise of its F101 Voodoo.

"So far the public has objected to noise primarily because it is a nuisance, not a hazard," Gen. Twining said. "I believe we will be able to keep it from being hazardous."

But he warns that noise is something "we are going to have to live with."

The jet engines of today have 4,000 to 8,000 pounds of thrust. The jet noises of tomorrow will be generated by engines of 12,000 to 25,000 pounds of thrust.

"We ain't heard nothing yet!" the general says.

Ex-Treason Suspect Victim of Slugging

BALTIMORE (AP)—John David Provo, ex-GI who beat a World War II treason charge, reported to police Saturday that a strange man he invited to his apartment slugged and robbed him of $20.

Provo, who was treated for head cuts, told police the man attacked him with a beer bottle and then struck him with a chair before taking his wallet.

Provo said the stranger had asked to see his apartment after they met at a bus station. He said the attack occurred about 4 a.m. and described his assailant as about 20 years old, six feet tall, and weighing about 170 pounds.

Provo, a onetime San Francisco bank clerk, was charged with treason because of his activities while a prisoner of war of the Japanese. A federal judge in New York sentenced him to life imprisonment in 1953.

The U. S. Court of Appeals in New York reversed the conviction on Aug. 27, 1954, on grounds irrelevant testimony had been introduced at the trial regarding homosexuality and that the trial should have been held in Maryland where Provo was arrested.

The Appeals Court said questions about sex deviations injected into the trial by the prosecution were intended to degrade and humiliate Provo and increase the probability of his conviction.

Provo, who had knocked about the Far East, was an Army sergeant in the Philippines

Sec. Thomas Says Global Missile Near

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP)—The United States soon will have a guided missile "capable of hitting any target in the world," Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas said Friday night.

Thomas, speaking at a dinner given in his honor by the Monterey Peninsula Navy League, denied that this country was backward in its missile program.

Thomas predicted there would not be a nuclear war.

"I think we are going into a cold war and it will be a long and long drawn out one," he commented.

"With all this talk about nuclear weapons we are starting a renaissance of neutralism. The less said about nuclear war the better."

Thomas defended the Forrestal-type of airplane carrier as being the Navy's main offensive weapon.

"Some people tell you that it is vulnerable," he said. "It is not. It has a speed of more than 40 miles an hour. Its bombers can neutralize an area 1,000 miles away. If attacked by submarines it has 1,200 watertight compartments to prevent sinking."

UAW Starts Anniversary Fete Today

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union today kicks off an eight-day nationwide celebration of its 20th anniversary.

Walter P. Reuther, president of the UAW (CIO-AFL) will throw out the first ball at the Yankee-Tiger doubleheader at Yankee Stadium in New York.

At the University of Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., a banquet will be held to commemorate the founding convention of the union April 27, 1918, at South Bend.

In the June issue of the "United Automobile Worker" the UAW reviews its entire 20-year history.

Throughout the history runs the theme of the conflict between the union and the automakers.

Woolson Out of 'Tent'

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Albert Woolson, 109, last surviving union veteran of the Civil War, was removed from an oxygen tent at St. Luke's Hospital here Saturday, but still was receiving oxygen. He is being treated for recurrent lung congestion.

New Book Says Hitler Tried to Move Pope to Germany

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A book just published says Pope Pius XII resisted efforts of Adolf Hitler to move him from the Vatican to Germany during the war.

"This is my place. I will not move from this place," the Pope is reported to have replied to German pressure.

The revelation was made in the book, "Vita Contro Morte"—Life Against Death—published Saturday. It is the work of Catholic writer Igino Giordani, formerly editor of Il Quotidiano, official organ of Italian Catholic Action.

A first copy of the book was presented Friday by the author to the pontiff in honor of the anniversary of his namesake, St. Eugene. The book was praised by L'Observatore Romano as a work that fills a long-felt need. It details especially the Pope's efforts to aid people during the war.

Saturday Giordani said press was first put on the Pope in 1943 to leave the Vatican. The Pope refused.

"Then," said Giordani, "the Germans put considerable pressure on the Pope through the German embassy in Rome in 1944."

AF Thunderbird Stunters to Use Faster Jet Craft

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force's famous Thunderbird aerial demonstration team is speeding up its act.

The Thunderbirds, led by Maj. Jackson Broughton, Rochester, N. Y., are switching from 650-miles-an-hour F84F Thunderstreak jets to F100 Super Sabre jets. The record speed for a Super Sabre is 822,135 mph, well over the speed of sound.

The Thunderbirds will use the supersonic jets in their next demonstration, scheduled at Homestead Air Force Base, Florida, June 23.

Broughton said the team would use the same precision flying techniques in the faster planes that it has used in demonstrations throughout the United States and in 12 Latin American countries.

Pay Raise for State Employees

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The State Personnel Board Saturday granted wage increases totaling $19,930,000 a year to 61,000 state employees.

Money for the raises was appropriated by the 1956 Legislature at the urging of Gov. Knight. The Legislature included enough money to give increases to University of California employees too, but their wages are not set by the Personnel Board.

ALMOST ALL state employees will get at least a 5-per-cent hike in pay July 1. About 27,600 will get an increase of 10 per cent. About two thirds of the latter are in the minimum pay classifications—$300 a month or less.

Some 1,200 craft employees in a special category got a 5- or 10-per cent adjustment retroactive to Jan. 1 and an additional 5 per cent effective July 1.

The higher pay scales raise the minimum state hiring rate from $210 to $231 a month.

Presbyterians Vote to Allow Women Elders

MONTREAT, N.C. (AP)—The 96th General Assembly of the U.S. Presbyterian Church of the U.S. voted Saturday to allow women to hold office as elders and deacons.

The question now will go to the 85 presbyteries in the 16 states comprising the Presbyterian Church South.

The question of marriage and divorce is slated to come up in sessions Monday.

Also on the agenda for next week is the segregation issue.

Boy, Mauled by Zoo Lions, Put in Iron Lung

LONDON (AP)—Doctors used an iron lung Saturday in a desperate effort to save the life of nine-year-old Tony Murphy who lost both arms when he was mauled by a lion.

The boy's condition improved Friday but he went into a coma during the night and was placed in the iron lung.

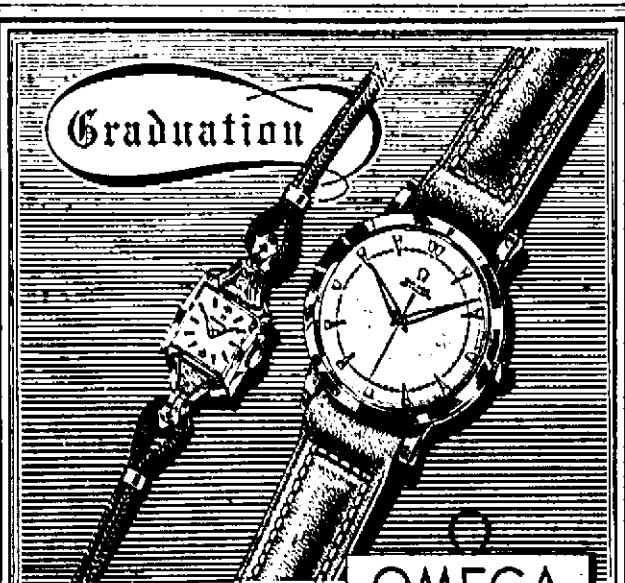

A lion seized Tony when the boy climbed a guard fence and started teasing the caged beast at the London zoo Thursday. His scoutmaster, Father Ronald Aylward, beat the lion with an iron bar and snatched the boy free.

Molotov Welcomes Tito

MOSCOW (AP)—Yugoslav Marshal Tito arrived in Moscow Saturday to receive a hero's welcome and a handshake from V. M. Molotov.

Molotov's successor, Pravda Editor Dmitri Shepilov, also was in the top-level welcoming party that greeted Tito as a "dear comrade" on his first visit to the Soviet capital in 10 years.

He was met by Molotov, who prefaced the Yugoslav leaders' 18-day friendship visit by signing as foreign minister Friday night. It was Molotov who signed Stalin's 1948 declaration expelling Tito from the now defunct Cominform.

Molotov's successor, Pravda Editor Dmitri Shepilov, also was in the top-level welcoming party that greeted Tito as a "dear comrade" on his first visit to the Soviet capital in 10 years.

A THROG of Russians cheered. A brass band blared, and a Red Army honor guard stood at stiff attention as the Yugoslav president resplendent in his marshal's uniform, descended from his special train at the Kiev station.

Tito warmly shook hands with the Soviet leaders. He then set out to put the final seal on the healing of the seven-year-split with Russia which began when Tito refused to accept Stalin's dictation on Yugoslav internal affairs.

At least 31 couples were married in the two Academy chapels Friday and today and weddings will continue through next Saturday.

College Fires Prof Who Defies Quiz

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—Dr. Laurent R. Lavalie, Dickinson College economics instructor suspended March 19 after invoking the Fifth Amendment before a congressional subcommittee, was fired last night by the college's board of trustees.

The board said it did not consider Lavalie "competent to be a member of the faculty of Dickinson College." It said he had failed to disclose important information about his past associations in interviews with President William W. Edel and other college authorities and had maintained an "evasive attitude" during the April 20 hearing before the board's executive committee.

Shipwrecked Sailor Saved by Seagulls

FLEETWOOD, England (AP)—A shipwrecked yachtman was saved from drowning Saturday by a flock of seagulls.

The gulls circled, screaming, over the capsized yacht of Norman C. Brown off this Irish seaport, and directed the Fleetwood lifeboat to the spot.

In a plain-spoken statement, the Yugoslav leader said:

"The common struggle of our people from the beginning to the end of the war against the common foe testifies to the great truth that our fates are inseparable and that there is much for which we can value and esteem each other."

IN A REFERENCE to the Soviet-Yugoslav split under Stalin, Tito added:

"However, dear friends, something unheard of and tragic nevertheless took place and neither the peoples of Yugoslavia nor the peoples of the Soviet Union were responsible for this. We were greatly pained but we believed that the time would come when everything separating us would be overcome and when our friendship would receive a new and still more firm foundation."

More than 60 attractive girls are expected to compete in the Miss Lakewood Contest, according to Peter Nitri, general chairman of the Greater Lakewood Chamber of Commerce committee sponsoring the event.

Preliminary judging will be at 7 p.m. June 14 and 15 in the auditorium of the Lakewood May Co. Final selection will be during a program at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, May 16, in the auditorium, with entertainer Rush Adams serving as master of ceremonies.

Life for Woman Who Slew Baby to Please Lover

ILLOIS, France (AP)—A French jury Saturday night sentenced to life a mother accused of drowning her 2-year-old daughter to prove her love for an artillery lieutenant.

The lieutenant was given 20 years.

The peasant jury admitted extenuating circumstances in sentencing Denise Labbe, 30, and her lover, Lt. Jacques Agarron, 26.

The prosecution had asked the court to send Miss Labbe to the guillotine and sentence Agarron to life.

WASHINGTON—The Kefauver-Stevenson battle for the Democratic nomination is getting to be not only politically but also personally bitter. There was a time when politicians here thought the most likely eventual Democratic ticket would be Stevenson for president, Kefauver for vice-president. Not any more. Adlai is said to be deeply resentful of Kefauver's charges against Stevenson on the social security issue—charges which are completely distorted, says Stevenson—and his rumored Stevenson has mixed Kefauver as a possible running-mate. Of course, before he can choose a running-mate, Stevenson still must win his party's nomination—a tough task at best.

Speaking of Stevenson, the former Illinois governor has a habit of making jokes about himself. Typical is the story he told during his recent Florida campaign. He said he'd met an elderly lady who told him she was going to vote for him because she owned a doll named Adlai. "Surely there must be other reasons why you're going to vote for me," Stevenson said. To which she replied flatly: "No, there aren't." The joke gets a good laugh from the audience. But many of Adlai's top political advisers question the wisdom of self-deprecation. It's alright, to make jokes, they argue, but not about yourself. They reason the public will instinctively say: "Well, if he can't take himself seriously, why should we?" Thus far, Adlai has not heeded their advice.

It wasn't generally recalled in

Wife Booked in Jealousy Stab Death

NORWALK—A Bell Gardens woman was booked on suspicion of murder here early Saturday after she admittedly stabbed her husband to death for comparing her unfavorably with his former wife.

The victim, Loyal F. Hawks, 48, of 5818 E. Gotham St., died at Carohl Hospital at 4:18 a.m. Deputies said Mrs. Sally Jane Hawks, 38, said she stabbed her husband during a quarrel which started when he compared her unfavorably to his former wife, now dead.

The incident occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, 13323 Markdale Ave., friends of the couple.

The Millers told officers that the Hawks family, including two children, Richard, 1, and Cindy, 3, called for a visit Friday evening.

the biographies written about him this past week, but Fred Seaton, new Secretary of the Interior, got his national political start as campaign manager in Nebraska for Harold E. Stassen's 1948 presidential try. Seaton, then a Cornhusker newspaper publisher, carried the state for Stassen in the primary and came to the convention in Philadelphia that year as Stassen's press secretary. They didn't win the nomination, but apparently Seaton learned a lot. Four years later, he turned up as a kind of general adviser on the Eisenhower campaign train. In the uproar which enveloped the Eisenhower entourage over the Nixon case, Seaton was credited with having kept his head when all about were losing theirs and he urged Eisenhower not to take any hasty action. As this advice ran parallel to Eisenhower's instinctive thinking, Seaton was placed on the new President's list and came to Washington as presidential assistant shortly after inauguration day.

Hottest political prospect in Washington right now is Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, who is regarded as a likely Democratic compromise presidential choice. He is or shortly will be profiled in four national magazines and is now being assiduously cultivated by every lobbyist in town. Masterminding the Symington campaign is Harry Truman's former general counsel, Clark Clifford, a Missourian himself. Said to be getting on the Symington bandwagon is former Defense Secretary Louis Johnson. The strange part about the latter is that Symington resigned as Secretary of the Air Force when Johnson was defense chief. Symington thought Johnson was cutting the Air Force too much. But apparently the two men have reconciled their differences.

Nike Nests Ring Southland

Rocket Circle to Guard Vital Areas of Defense

By SPENCER CRUMP

A ring of Southland anti-atomic defense posts which would do credit to a science fiction thriller is nearing completion, with the Long Beach area as a key point in the super-secret project.

The science magic is Nike, hush-hush electronic missile which seeks out its target and, like a bullet chasing a character in a movie cartoon, refuses to be deflected by elusive maneuvers.

A Nike installation at the Long Beach Municipal Airport will be completed this month, while work is being pushed on a

Water Plan 'Yes' Asked by Leaders

Long Beach government and civic leaders today joined in a final appeal for approval by the voters of Proposition W, the water proposal, on Tuesday's ballot.

Proposition W would authorize the Metropolitan Water District to borrow $50 million on short term loans to expand the aqueduct facilities from the Colorado River to their planned capacity within six years.

District spokesmen say no tax increase is necessary, to repay the loans because the district has due and payable to it $170 million over the next 30 years from areas which recently joined the district.

Local leaders commented as follows:

MAYOR GEORGE M. VERMILION—"Water is our city's life blood. We need it to live and grow. Passage of Proposition W is a must."

VIRGIL B. GILLESPIE, president, Chamber of Commerce—"Nothing is more vital to our continued industrial growth and prosperity than an adequate water supply."

FRANK S. SANDEMAN, chief, fire department—"Good fire protection requires a dependable and sufficient water supply. Proposition W will assure an adequate supply for years to come and will help maintain the present low fire insurance rate."

MORRIS HOMQUIST, president, Board of Realtors—"Without ample water for an expanding population, property values in Long Beach would be in danger. Proposition W will help preserve the sound property values Long Beach has achieved."

BRENNAN S. THOMAS, general manager, water department—"Long Beach now gets 45 per cent of its water from the Colorado River through the Metropolitan Water District aqueduct facilities. We will need more water in the future. Proposition W insures that the water will be available."

JOHN MANSELL, city auditor—"Proposition W will provide more water. The Metropolitan Water District will be able to build additional facilities now by borrowing against a guaranteed future income of $170 million from new members of the district."

BILL BARBER, Long Beach chairman, Southland Water Committee—"The Metropolitan Water District already has substantial demands for more water than the present aqueduct system can provide. Southern California needs more water now and can get it by approving Proposition W."

Plan Bases in West Australia and Kenya

LONDON (AP)—Construction of two new naval bases on Africa's eastern seaboard and on Australia's west coast is reported under consideration today to bolster British Commonwealth Far Eastern defense lines.

Authorized informants reported a high level reappraisal of Commonwealth defense strategy in the Middle and Far East is now far advanced. It has been supervised personally by Admiral Mountbatten, Britain's First Sea Lord, who toured the country's main naval installations in the Pacific and Indian Ocean areas two months ago.

Mountbatten's mission was to check the needs and the strategy of Britain's navy against the changing political background of the Middle and Far East.

The urgency of Mountbatten's task has been underscored by events in Ceylon, where a new Nationalist premier, Solomon Bandaranaike has said his Commonwealth government will demand Britain's withdrawal from her naval and air installations at Trincomalee.

Favored setting now for a new East African Royal Naval base is Kenya's deepwater port of Mombasa. Its Kilindini Harbor was big enough to shelter the whole of the British East Indies Fleet in World War II.

Site of the projected West Australian Base would be at Cockburn Sound, 12 miles south of Fremantle.

Linda Darnell Is Recovering

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Linda Darnell Saturday was recovering from a virus infection that forced her to withdraw from a new film role.

Producer Hal Bartlett said Miss Darnell, who recently returned to her film career after divorcing wealthy New York brewer Philip Liebmann, would be replaced in "Drango" because the picture could not be delayed.

Forum Speaker

State College Professor Will Address Forum

James H-F Noguera, assistant professor of foreign languages at Long Beach State College, will be guest speaker at the Chamber of Commerce Breakfast Forum Wednesday morning. It was announced Saturday by George Baumgardner, chairman.

Noguera was born in Barcelona, Spain, of French parents. He attended the University of Barcelona and the University of Besancon in France and received his master's degree from USC.

He was an instructor in the languages and literature of France and Spain at Pepperdine College for six years before coming to State College.

The forum meets at 7:15 a.m. in Wilton Hotel.

Compromise Seen on Plans to Divide $25 Billion Road Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional sources predicted Saturday that House-Senate conferees will approve a "logical" compromise for dividing $25 billion in proposed super highway funds among the states.

The conference committee starts ironing out differences in the Senate and House highway bill next week. The formula for passing out federal funds to construct a 40,000-mile interstate road system is the major issue in dispute.

Sources representing both House and Senate thinking said the conferees would probably agree on a compromise along these lines:

The Senate plan for distributing the money on a legal formula would be used initially while a new study is made of total needs of each state to build the interstate system based on actual construction cost.

The House bill now would allocate the money on a basis of "need" estimated by the states themselves. The Senate last Tuesday turned down this plan by a substantial vote and approved a formula to divide the money on a basis of state population, area and rural road mileage.

Each contends the other's plan is unrealistic.

The interstate system, which will take 15 years to construct, is the central part of both the House and Senate versions of the bill. But both measures would step up sharply present federal aid to the states for primary, secondary and urban roads.

Total cost of the Senate bill is placed at about $37 billion against $51.5 billion for the House bill. The House figure results from projection of spending over a longer period.

Both bills also call for a hike in highway use tax which will amount to almost $15 billion over a 16-year period. The increases will be in federal gasoline, tire, truck, bus and trailer taxes.

Dentures FIRST, money LATER, at Dr. Campbell's for over 20 years

Difficult cases invited with NO MONEY DOWN

Putting service first and money later has been at Dr. Campbell's for over 20 years, but never more than right now. Even difficult cases are welcomed on Dr. Campbell's no money down credit plan. You get your new dentures, but may wait 45 days before paying anything. Dr. Campbell carries his own credit, with no outside financing, so he is not regulated by ordinary credit standards.

"I prefer that you get your dentures on credit," Dr. Campbell said. "We want to serve you first, and the money is secondary. Take as long as you need to pay on my easy-credit plan."

Why Dr. Campbell says pay NO MONEY DOWN

"I don't have to worry about paying my expenses as a dentist if I am interested first in giving service," Dr. Campbell said. "I have found through trial and error that every one of my offices must give a lot of credit to be prosperous. In the past, when one of my offices curtailed credit, this office became less prosperous. People are glad to pay for good service when you are thinking of them before the money. My records prove that insisting on immediate cash, even in small amounts, hurts my dental practice. No money down helps my dental practice."

LOW PRICES BRING BIG DENTURE SAVINGS

Dr. Campbell's twelve offices make a lot of dentures. The story of volume production is well known to everyone. We have many things we could not have if it were not for volume production. If it costs Dr. Campbell less to make dentures in volume, it stands to reason it costs you less.

"My low prices and no money down credit plan enable me to hold prices down despite rises in salaries and materials," Dr. Campbell said. "By not taking advantage of the trend to increase prices, make more dentures and still make a profit at a no increase in price. Living costs have gone up a lot, but my prices are the same as they were years ago."

SEE YOUR SAVINGS—no doubt about these prices

When you go in to buy something at a department store you see the article tagged with a price. That way you know it's not a bargaining proposition. You don't have to be a good bargainer to get a good price.

"I am doing this in dentistry," Dr. Campbell said. "I want you to know that the price of the denture you select is the best I can make, and that no one can bargain for less, making others pay the difference in higher prices. Each sample denture, which you choose from, has a price permanently molded into the denture. You see the denture, you see the price, you take your choice."

Translucent Dentures

Translucent DENTURE MATERIAL and translucent TEETH are recognized by dentists as the FINEST available for making dentures.

Even if these materials were expensive, they would be economical in the long run. But my price for my finest denture is so low that there is no need to accept less.

Immediate Restoration

New dentures may be put in the SAME DAY the last of your teeth are extracted. If your case permits it, and you desire it, impression is taken BEFORE teeth are extracted. Dentures are started immediately and finished the same day.

Europe Likes Harry's 'Cracker Barrel' Wit

By GENE PATTERSON

LONDON (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman is being viewed by Europeans as one of the snappiest cracker barrel wits to hit this continent since the era of the country boy.

The former President arrived in Le Havre on May 16, went on to Paris, Rome and all the way points in Italy. He is now in Salzburg, Austria, for several days of relaxation.

The first day in Paris, Mr. Truman pointed to a rose in his buttonhole and announced: "The madame bought it for me to remind me we're having a good time."

Mr. Truman is moseying around the old world with the comfortably determined look of a Missourian who won't be awed.

WHEN THE Italians showed him the statue of Romulus and Remus in Rome he commented that he had "read about that."

They asked him why he was going to Venice and he said, "I was informed by my daughter that the streets of Venice are flooded and I want to see this for myself."

He's forever popping up in such places as a Paris cafe or on the Naples waterfront craning for the view of the ordinary tourist.

He doesn't take the reporters and photographers too seriously. When cameramen tried to arrange him in front of some Roman ruins he announced, "I'm not here to please the photographers. I'm here to see this damned place."

HE WHIZZED through Paris traffic behind a motorcycle escort and observed, "We only got cussed at once."

The fancy menus didn't subdue him either. "Did you have spaghetti for dinner?" they asked him in Rome. "We had something like spaghetti," he said, "only it doesn't have holes in it."

He cut the Italian weather down to size in Naples. "I think Italy is a little like Texas," he said, "Down in Texas they say any man who tries to predict the weather is either a fool or a newcomer."

Rome struck him as "the most beautiful city to visit, but independence is a better place for an old man like me to live."

HE SAW the Italian election posters and commented they made him feel "just like home. Everybody is trying to get elected."

The affair of the "squirrel-headed generals" cooled his relations with reporters only briefly.

The day after the big rumpus, he and they took off on a train ride from Naples to Rome. He surveyed the reporters in his railroad car, cocked a leg on the table in front of his Pullman seat, and observed philosophically:

"It's a hell of a world."

Blind Youths Cross Grand Canyon

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Six students at the state school for the blind here have accomplished a feat most outdoorsmen would give their eye teeth for—hiking across the treacherous Grand Canyon.

Led by their hiking coach and guide, Charles A. Thornton of Tucson, the boys felt their way into the canyon at dawn last Sunday.

At places on the trail, a single misstep might have resulted in a plunge of 2,000 feet or more.

Two members of the group are totally blind: Richard Ferguson, 17, and Raymond Munger, 19, both of Tucson. The others, John Toole, 18, a Navajo Indian from St. Michaels; Evans Honkolnewa, 18, a Hopi from Second Mesa; Ennis Sumpter, 16, of Phoenix; and Jerry Fields, 16, of Tucson, are almost completely blind.

They are believed to be the first blind persons to hike across the canyon.

Going down the trail, they kept a hand on the shoulder of the man ahead. Thornton headed the line.

On the way up, Thornton fastened a rope around his waist and looped it back on both sides. The boys lined up between the ropes, like horses in a trace. They grabbed the ropes with both hands and responded to Thornton's movements.

Boy Must Give Up One of His Two Best Friends

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—A little boy faces a big decision this weekend: He must decide which of his two dogs he will keep.

It was a year ago that 9-year-old Andy Bailey's dog, Wimpy, disappeared. So his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bailey, gave him a collie pup for Christmas.

Andy named his new pal, Laddie, and they became great buddies. Then it happened—Wimpy came home Friday, limping on sore feet but otherwise all right.

But the Baileys think two dogs are too many. They gave Andy the week end to make a choice—Wimpy or Laddie.

Mansfield Urges More India Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) Saturday night suggested more economic help to India lest Red China dominate Asia and present a "dangerous" new threat to this country.

Mansfield, as chairman of a Senate foreign relations subcommittee, made public a study of the economic development race between India and China. He said:

"A dispassionate review of the relative progress of India and Communist China today raises a serious question as to whether India's rate of development is fast enough to serve free world interests."

"It seems to me that Congress, the administration, and the American people might well reconsider our assistance to India from the point of view of whether it is, in fact, of sufficient magnitude to accomplish its objectives."

Ike, Dulles to Meet Host of Foreign Aides

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles are heading into a grueling round of international meetings which have assumed new importance in the wake of the change of foreign policy leadership in Moscow.

Within the next five weeks, Washington will be host to Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal

$1,197 in Tools Stolen at Store

Twelve electric power shop kits valued at $1,197, were stolen from McMahan's Furniture Store, 317 American Ave., in broad daylight, Manager William J. Schneider, of 416 W. 35th St., reported to police Saturday.

The kits are believed to have been carried out the rear door while employees were occupied at the front of the store.

Nehru, German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, and Canadian Foreign Minister Lester B. Pearson. All of them visited Moscow within the last year.

Ike to Study New Disarming Strategy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration is re-examining its strategy for disarmament negotiations with Russia. It hopes to avoid a new deadlock due to flat Soviet rejection of President Eisenhower's "open skies" approach to arms control.

President Eisenhower and his special assistant on disarmament, Harold E. Stassen, are reported to believe that the Soviet government also may be trying to find ways to keep disarmament talks fluid. They hope that Russia will move toward an eventual agreement.

Dulles will return to Washington Tuesday from a 10-day vacation at his Lake Ontario retreat. He will immediately analyze the possible implications for the West of Vyacheslav M. Molotov's "resignation" as Russia's foreign minister and the appointment of Dmitri Shepilov as his successor.

DURING THE forthcoming high-level diplomatic conferences, President Eisenhower and Dulles are sure to be put under heavy pressure by their visitors to agree to new big four meetings with Russia to test Soviet policy on Germany and other key issues, now that Molotov has been dumped.

The White House declined comment Saturday on the Kremlin switch. The State Department had no official comment, pending Dulles' return, but diplomatic experts privately forecast no radical change in Soviet foreign policy.

Diplomats believe the Shepilov-Molotov shift will result only in a more vigorous waging of current Soviet foreign policies based on peaceful "competitive co-existence" with the West. The United States and its allies already have found this softer Soviet effort to expand its influence more difficult to deal with in many ways than the old tough Stalinist line.

Shepilov may now be freer than before to press for more international "peace" conferences with the west to increase the exchange of visitors on a global scale, and to step up Soviet economic-political penetration of the middle east.

Foreign-Aid Restoration Solon's Aim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.) served notice Saturday that he will fight to restore part of the billion-dollar slash in President Eisenhower's foreign military aid program voted by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

George is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which may begin work on the aid bill next week.

The democratic foreign policy leader said "some cut may be justified" in Eisenhower's $3.1 billion military aid budget but it ought not be too deep. He voiced hope that the House, which is scheduled to act on the aid bill Wednesday or Thursday, will "partially" restore the committee's cut.

IF NOT, GEORGE made clear, he will lead a drive in the Senate for a military aid authorization somewhere between the sum approved by the House committee and the sum sought by the President.

Urge Loaning of Warships

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department, ever mindful of Red Chinese war threats in the Far East, had asked Congress to authorize loan of more U.S. warships to friendly Asian nations. It was learned Saturday.

Congressional sources said the Navy sent up a proposed bill a month ago. It would increase from 25 to 50 the number of vessels that could be loaned.

Politics Endangers Foreign Aid Money

By WALTER RIDDER
Of the I.P.T. Capital Bureau

WASHINGTON—The administration is going to face very real difficulties in getting Congress to restore the large cuts it recently made in requested foreign aid funds.

The House of Representatives recently slashed overseas aid programs by $1 billion for military items and $109 million on nonmilitary spending. These cuts amounted to 33½ and 10 per cent respectively of the sums asked for by the administration. Similar cuts have been made in the past and have been largely restored—for the most part through effective bi-partisan support. The Eisenhower team will have considerable trouble getting the help of those Democrats who in the past have thrown their influence behind the foreign aid proposals.

A LEADER of what might be called the "internationalist Democratic wing" put the case this way: "Every year when the program comes up to Capitol Hill, it is labelled bi-partisan and we are requested to work our hearts out trying to get it through. Then when it's finally passed—usually only due to Democratic support—it is named an Eisenhower program and bi-partisanship is suddenly forgotten. If the administration wants its own program passed, why doesn't it get Republicans to vote for it, Republicans like Sen. Knowland or Sen. Bridges, (NH), or Sen. Bricker (Ohio)?"

In essence, the Democrats feel that the administration has depended upon Democratic support but has not given them credit for it. Then too they feel that the administration is not making the all-out effort that it should to persuade Republicans of the necessity for foreign aid. "They think they can get the bill through because we Democrats will come to their rescue," another legislator declared. "Well, this year we won't." He estimated that some 75 members of the House who have been supporting foreign aid will vote to uphold the cuts this year.

SIMILAR COMPLAINTS have come in past years, but with 1956 an election year, the Democrats are not likely to rush enthusiastically to the support of the Eisenhower team.

State Department sources confirmed the extent of Democratic insurgency and are palpably worried lest the money slashed be retained. It is normal for Congress to cut executive department requests, but the deepness of the current reductions and the current mood of the Democrats are posing major problems for Eisenhower program strategists.

Bogus Teacher Proves to Angry Board He Knows a Trick of Law

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A teacher who has some unusual ideas about what constitutes a college education, has the board of education in a dither today. The board fired Henry Fordham of Hamilton, Ohio, after it was learned that the college credits he presented from Westminster College, Cochransville, Pa., came from a non-existent college.

The puzzler came when the board started investigating as to whether it could sue Fordham for the salary he had drawn during that time. The state attorney general's office advised that since Fordham had actually been on the job, it might be difficult to make a case.

Then, there was Fordham's claim that according to Webster's dictionary definition of a college he is, too, a college man. The definition is that college is "a collection, body or society of persons engaged in common pursuits."

Fordham says that he, his wife and 12-year-old son make up such a collection.

He also points to another Webster's definition which says a college is a "body of clergy living in common." Then he notes that he and his wife are clergymen. They are Seventh-Day Adventists, he said.

School officials said Fordham obtained a state teaching certificate, showing eight years of previous experience by taking a post office box in Cochransville and listing it in his own name and Westminster College.

Dear Boss, We Couldn't Tell Wine's Origin After 9 Drinks

(Editor's Note: Robert E. Lee of The Independent Press-Telegram Washington Bureau normally covers events in the nation's capital. Saturday he received an assignment above and beyond the usual call of duty.)

By ROBERT E. LEE

NEW YORK—Dear Boss: Came all the way up here for a wine-tasting — darndest thing you ever saw.

Big promotion stunt for premium wine growers of California, who claim can't tell difference their wine and French stuff. Can't, after a while. Can't taste anything.

Six thirsty Washington newsmen in drinking bout (orderly) with six New York writing types at Overseas Press Club. To help California growers' press agents prove "average palate can't distinguish between the two kinds."

Press agents say idea to create confusion. They do. Washington team out-distinguished New Yorkers by country mile, but still pretty confused.

TEAM USHERED to small room with three tables, one set up as bar. New York already on hand, taking batting practice. New York team looks over-fed. Woman on New York team. Why?

Press agent announces four types coming up: White Burgundy, Rose, Claret, Champagne.

Three glasses each to distinguish from. Glasses lettered A, B, C. Question: which French, which California? Press agent passes out scorecards.

Instructions: Mark preference, guess origin. Wine served by French waitress named Fifi. Press agent says no significance. Three-ounce slugs in each glass.

Fifi serves Burgundy. Nice taste. Second glass Burgundy good, too. Third too sweet. Unlike high class wine-tasting, don't spit wine on floor after tasting. Swallow. Guess A and B from California (this California party).

Fifi serves cheese and French bread. Press agent says no significance. Tasters getting thirsty again. New York team talking French with Brooklyn accents. Impressive. Seem to know wines, at least how to pronounce names.

ROSE COMING UP. Better than Burgundy. Men gulp. Woman on New York team slips. Rose goes fast. Request another round Rose. No go.

Fifi serves Claret. Heady after Rose. Need plenty cheese between tastes. Dip bread in Claret. Better that way. Can't finish Claret. Nell MacNeil of United Press, Washington captain and wine connoisseur, lishes off.

Getting headache. Unloosen necktie, open collar. Press agent types coming up: White Burgundy, Rose, Claret, Champagne.

Fifi serves champagne. Glasses

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Madame Chiang Kai-shek heads a drive for funds to build 4,000 houses on Formosa for the neediest families of Nationalist servicemen. Each unit will have two rooms, bathroom and kitchen. Reports from Quemoy and other Nationalist offshore islands say the project has greatly boosted the troops' morale.

Press agent makes speech. California "premium" wines only four per cent of all produced in state. Price compares favorably with French, often cheaper. Assistant press agent announces results guessing game: airport.

New Concrete Piles Tested Here Hailed as Boon to World's Ports

By LEE CRAIG
Marine Editor

A series of pioneering tests which will aid port construction all over the world has just been completed by Long Beach Harbor Department engineers.

Since the turn of the century, port builders have turned in increasing numbers to use of concrete piling in construction of piers.

Wooden pilings, though cheaper initially, last only about 20 years before they deteriorate under the attack of voracious termite-like marine life and the normal effect of long exposure to the sea.

Steel-reinforced concrete pilings, however, can be counted on usually for about 50 years service during which they are impervious to the water's action. But when the piles are first driven, occasionally the force of the pile driver has caused hair-line cracks, almost imperceptible in the concrete. These cracks widen through the years, allowing the water to enter and act on the reinforcing steel and shorten the life of the piling.

IN CO-OPERATION with the Navy's Civil Engineering Research and Evaluation Laboratory, harbor engineers have been conducting tests here which may remove that danger.

Three 80-foot piles, especially cast with 17 strain gauges imbedded in each, were driven into the channel floor on the east side of Pier B.

Electrical leads from the gauges were plugged into a Navy oscillograph, providing a continuous photographic record of the piling's reaction to each blow of the pile driver.

The driver's hammer, deliv-

Filipino Dollar Reserves Better

MANILA (AP)—The Philippine Central Bank reports an improvement in the Philippines' shaky dollar reserves. Bank Gov. Miguel Cuaderno said reserves had increased from 209 million dollars at the beginning of 1935 to 233 million dollars. He attributed the improvement to restrictions on nonessential imports.

Japan to Pay Off

TOKYO (AP)—Japan is starting this month to pay 10 million dollars to The Netherlands for suffering of Dutch nationals interned by the Japanese in the East Indies (Indonesia) in World War II. Payments will be spread over five years.

test, one of the gauge-equipped piles was gradually subjected to a 100-ton test load to reveal internal dynamic strains in the undamaged sections.

Now, engineers must await Navy technicians' evaluation of their machine's readings before the full results of the test can be known.

Mainly, they want to know what strains are induced in the concrete during handling of the piling after it is cast and what happens inside the piling during driving.

Of the two, engineers suspect the former causes greater strain on the piling.

Even without information supplied by the machines, however, the test proved worthwhile in verifying rules of thumb developed here through years of experience, according to Ray Berbow, harbor department structural design engineer, in charge of the testing.

One such rule, for example, is that a pile must be driven without halting, Berbow said.

"You build up a lot of inertia with a 13½-ton piling," he said.

Also, a delay gives the soil a chance to settle and become compact, stiffening its resistance to penetration.

PILING SHATTERS UNDER POUNDING

Diver Charles Smale hands over chunk of concrete, broken off piling, to C. L. Vickers Jr., of Harbor Department, during piling tests on Pier B.

John Brown Students to Hold Picnic

Nearly 3,000 members of the four John Brown Schools of California and John Brown University of Siloam Springs, Ark., will gather next Saturday for an all-day picnic at Bixby Park. Students, faculty and alumni from Southern California Military Academy here, Brown Military Academy of San Diego, Brown Day School of Beverly Hills and Brown School for Girls of Glendora will join the university representatives here.

A MEETING of the California alumni of Brown University will be held at 2 p. m.

The program, which runs from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., will feature music by the bands of Brown Military Academy and Southern California Military Academy, the Brown University Ladies' Trio and Male Quartet, and Dr. Peter Slack, staff organist for station KGER here.

Dr. John E. Brown, chairman of the board, will speak briefly.

Cancer Kills Movie Favorite Hersholt

HOLLYWOOD UP — Actor Jean Hersholt, the kindly Dr. Christian of movies and radio, died of cancer Saturday after a year-long siege of operations and illnesses.

Had he lived until July 12, he would have been 70.

The onetime Danish immigrant, 50 years an actor, had received in his lifetime such honors as knighthood from his native land; two special movie Oscars, honorary degrees from four American colleges and, only last month, one of the biggest civic testimonials in Hollywood history.

He died in the nearby Beverly Hills home where he had lived for more than 30 years. With him at death was his wife, Via, to whom he had been married 42 years.

DR. MAYNARD BRANSMAN said death was caused by progressive cancer of the pancreas. Hersholt's philanthropies earned him the love and respect of the film industry.

Hersholt served four years as president of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. From the academy he received two special Oscars, in 1939 and 1941, for his activities on behalf of his fellow actors.

Hersholt was a founder of the motion picture country day home and, for 18 years, headed the relief fund which took care of needy actors in their old age.

VETERAN ACTOR Charles Coburn said:

"Jean had a glorious knack of making actors who were broke feel they were not accepting charity — just the comfortable retirement that their work through the years had earned them."

The world, in recent years, had known Hersholt only as the beloved Dr. Christian. But his success as the villain with Miss Pickford in "Tess of the Storm Country" made him one of the most sought-after heavies of the silent movies.

After he had done Dr. Christian for several years, he tried to play a heavy again but his fans wouldn't go for it.

"The complaints poured in," he recalled. "Even when I appeared in a beer ad, I got a flood of protests. People are very sensitive about Dr. Christian."

HERSHOLT was born to the theater. His father and mother were leading players in a Copenhagen stock company when he was born in 1886.

In 1906, he pioneered in Danish movies in a short comedy about an old man who sat on a painted bench. His pay was 10 kroner or about $1.40 a day in today's exchange.

His first American film role in 1913 was for $15 a week. Appearing in 453 movies, he became one of the screen's most distinguished character actors.

His better known films included "Able's Irish Rose," "Greed," "Stella Dallas," "Grand Hotel" and "The Country Doctor."

In the latter, he played the part of Dr. Alan Dufoe, who delivered the famed Dionne quintuplets.

FROM THAT characterization evolved the Dr. Christian series which Hersholt performed for 18 years on radio, 52 weeks a year, for the same sponsor—a radio record.

Hersholt's cultural interests included literature and music. He was one of the world's foremost authorities on the works of Hans Christian Andersen. He completed a monumental 10-year task of translating all of the famed Danish storyteller's 168 tales into English.

For this, he was awarded honorary degrees in literature or the humanities from the University of California, Illinois Wesleyan, Bowdoin College and Rollins College.

Hosmer Offers Water Plan 'Compromise'

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Rep. Hosmer (R-Calif.) Saturday advanced what he termed a "compromise solution" to the controversy over the San Luis water project in California.

Bills to authorize this project as a Reclamation Bureau work are being opposed by Southern California interests on the ground that such a course might jeopardize their future water supply.

At hearings several weeks ago, Mayor Norris Poulson of Los Angeles proposed that the San Luis be built as a part of the state of California's projected one and one-half billion dollar Feather River project, rather than as a unit of the Reclamation Bureau's Central Valley project.

Hosmer's compromise, on which he said he has requested statewide comments and suggestions, would authorize the Secretary of Interior to negotiate a contract with the state of California, under which the state would immediately acquire the site for a reservoir. The state would then be required to construct the project "expeditiously," with the help of federal loans and grants amounting to what the government would have spent on the federal project.

If the state failed to proceed "expeditiously," the interior secretary would be directed to build the project for state operation when completed. Title to the project works would pass to the state after repayment of government costs.

Under either alternative, the project would be designed as a unit of the state's overall Feather River development which is intended to bring Northern California waters into Central and Southern California.

Principal features would include the San Luis Reservoir and canals for initial water service to portions of Kings, Merced and Fresno counties, and later extension for water diversions to the south.

Hosmer said that Southern Californians fear that if the project is constructed as a unit of the Central Valley project, then the big Feather River development will never be carried forward and "the Southland can only look forward to growth-paralyzing water shortages."

British Host of Eisenhower Dies

MAYBOLE, Scotland (U.P.) — The Marquis of Ailes, who kept a suite of rooms always ready for President Eisenhower, died Friday night after long illness.

In 1945 the marquis gave Mr. Eisenhower, then commander of U. S. Forces in Europe, a suite in his ancestral home at Culzean Castle. He said they would always be ready for a visit by Mr. Eisenhower in recognition of his services during the war.

Australia Coast Rich in Minerals

CANBERRA, Australia (U.P.) — National Development Minister William H. Spooner reported that the lonely east coast of Australia contains some of the world's richest deposits of minerals.

Spooner said survey showed sleepy burglar. Authorities said that the beaches hold rich deposits of rutile and zircon. Australia now is the world's leading 32 pillows.

producer of rutile and zircon concentrates.

32 Pillows Stolen

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (U.P.) — Police here are seeking a mighty Rest Easy Bedding Co. and stole tralla now is the world's leading 32 pillows.

Find Trio Chopped to Death

ROCKWOOD, Tenn. (U.P.) — The mutilated bodies of two women and a man were found partly buried in underbrush near a tenant farm Saturday and police issued a murder warrant for the half-brother of the victims.

Officers said the three had been hacked to death about four days ago, apparently with a blood-stained ax found nearby. Human hair was found on the ax.

THE VICTIMS were identified as Willie Mae Davis; her daughter, Florence Walker, and Lawrence Walker, husband of Florence. The Walkers were parents of three small children, ages 2, 6 and 8.

All three lived in the tenant house on the William Brown farm in the small rural community of Eureka, about four miles from this east Tennessee city of about 5,000 population.

Highway patrol headquarters at Knoxville, about 40 miles east of here, said a murder warrant was issued for David Franklin Simpson, about 50, who lived with the three victims. He is Mrs. Davis' half-brother.

Grads Draw Blanks for Diplomas

RENO, Nev. (U.P.) — The 200 graduating seniors at the University of Nevada's 66th annual commencement next Monday will be given blank pieces of paper wrapped with ribbon instead of the traditional sheepskin diplomas.

This doesn't mean, however, that the university feels the graduates are a bunch of nitwits.

It's the result of a mistake in printing the official diplomas which was not discovered until late Friday night as they were being signed by university officials.

The chagrined deans discovered the diplomas they were signing for the graduating seniors were actually intended for graduate students.

To solve the dilemma, university officials decided to give the graduating seniors rolled up pieces of blank white paper tied with a ribbon. Inside will be a form asking each graduate to list the address to which his or her official sheepskin should be sent when they become available.

Neighbors All Out, Help Bank Bandit

FERGUS FALLS, Minn. (U.P.) — Neighbors from miles around rolled their tractors to the farm of confessed bank robber Vernon Richter Saturday to help plow his soybean and corn fields.

Overwhelmed with gratitude, Richter, the father of six children, said he "couldn't understand why they are willing to help me after the mistake I made."

Fourteen tractors, operated by friends who refused to turn their backs on the 31-year-old farmer, worked the 135-acre tract.

At the Richter home, the farmers' wives served a potluck lunch for the volunteer crew. After the plowing and disking, Richter's neighbors helped him seed his crops.

SHERIFF RUSSELL Bromberg said Richter admitted robbing the Northwestern State Bank at Ulen, Minn., of $1,158 two weeks ago because his bills were piling up and he was desperate for money.

Richter is free on $10,000 bail posted by his parents and his wife's parents. Neighbors offered to furnish the bond if the family couldn't.

"We're trying our best to give him a helping hand," said Harold Haarstad, Richter's nearest neighbor. "He's a nice fellow and a good worker."

LET'S KEEP GOOD SCHOOLS FOR OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

Say Tens of Thousands of Members of 305 Organizations

Tuesday is the day of decision for this and future generations of youth in Long Beach, Lakewood, Signal Hill and Avalon. We must increase the size of our classrooms and accept less capable teachers for our boys and girls or provide additional funds for the operation of our schools. The present limit on the school operating levy was established during the depression years of the 1930's. Depression funds just aren't enough to continue to provide good schools today.

These Candidates, Measures Deserve Support of Voters

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER has no opponent in California's June 5 Republican presidential primary. But we hope that will not make GOP voters apathetic about the election. They should turn out to give Ike the resounding vote of confidence he deserves, and to cast ballots in the other important contests.

Aside from the presidential primaries, two contests of national as well as local interest await a decision by voters of this community. These are the contests for U. S. Senate and 18th District Congressman.

Congressman Craig Hosmer and Sen. Thomas Kuchel have done superior service for this district and this state and deserve to be re-elected. Their ability to serve effectively will be further increased through the additional seniority obtained by re-election. Kuchel should get a vote of thanks here for standing with Hosmer and Long Beach in the recent tidelands controversy.

"Eisenhower Democrats" do have a course of action open to them. While they won't find Ike's name on their primary ballot, they will find the crossfired names of Hosmer and Kuchel, who are staunch supporters of the President. Voters who want to back Ike should back these two men.

WE RECOMMEND also re-election of 44th District Assemblyman Herbert R. Klockslam and 70th District Assemblyman William S. Grant. These men were at the fore of the fight to protect Long Beach tidelands oil revenue from a state grab. The settlement of that affair is due in great part to their tireless efforts. Their performance in general has been of a high calibre. They are due the reward of continued public confidence.

Just as we urge bipartisan support for Republican Assemblymen Grant and Klockslam, we urge it for two Democratic Assemblymen running in neighboring areas. They are Carley Porter of the 69th District and Vincent Thomas of the 68th. In the tidelands controversy, which was region-wide in its impact, they showed themselves men of principle. They have on the whole outstanding records. Like Klockslam and Grant, these two men have crossfired, as state law permits, offering themselves for the decision of Republican and Democratic voters alike.

ON THE COUNTY LEVEL, Burton W. Chace seeks re-election as 4th District Supervisor. The former Long Beach Mayor has done a distinguished job as Supervisor. He is a friend of this community and should again receive this community's vote.

District Attorney S. Ernest Roll is running without opposition. But voters should not overlook the opportunity to offer another good public servant a vote of confidence.

TWENTY-FIVE of the 28 Superior Court Judgeships are uncontested. Votes of confidence are recommended for the incumbents. With regard to the contested positions, we go along with the Los Angeles Bar Assn. plebiscite, through which qualified attorneys have signified their opinions of judicial candidates. The nod goes to Henry M. Willis, candidate for Position 2; Walter H. Odemar, Position 27, and Otho G. Lord, Position 28.

TWO VITAL MEASURES appear on the local ballot.

Proposition C is a measure to raise the school tax limit. This would provide funds with which to operate local schools at decent standards. A "Yes" vote is urged for the boys and girls of this school district.

Proposition W provides for expanding the distribution system of the Metropolitan Water District. MWD, to which this community belongs, operates a lifeline that brings water to the arid Southland from the Colorado River. A "Yes" vote on W will help protect and improve the area's water supply.

THE ABOVE CANDIDATES and measures are recommended after searching thought and with regard for what we consider the best interests of this community.

As will be noted, the candidates we have suggested include both Democrats and Republicans. Obviously, partisanship isn't the criterion. They are offered because they are good public servants and outstanding leaders. Regardless of party, they are worthy of your vote.

When Your Child Is Ill

SOME OF OUR Democratic readers have written us to ask whether we favor Sen. Kefauver over Adlai Stevenson as the Democratic candidate. These newspapers believe in the re-election of President Eisenhower, and the amount of space we have devoted to both Democratic candidates is due to our feeling that we should be fair to everyone. Actually, we think that Sen. Kefauver's position is the weaker.

When your child is ill, your immediate reaction is to call the best professional assistance that you can get from your own physician or the nearest hospital. It seems to us that almost everyone relies on the best professionally trained people available, not only in emergencies but at all times. This is why Sen. Kefauver's plaintive cry that a lot of "professional politicians" are supporting Adlai Stevenson seems a very desperate sort of argument.

AFTER ALL "professional politicians" are merely citizens who have been in the public service over a period of years or have been actively associated with a political party. By this measure, Long Beach Mayor George Vermillion, a Democrat, is a "professional" Democratic politician, and California's Republican Gov. Goodwin Knight is a "professional" Republican politician. For that matter, Sen. Kefauver is a "professional" himself.

There is some merit in criticizing political machines such as Tammany Hall in New York City. But is there a voter so inexperienced as to believe that if Sen. Kefauver is nominated, he will immediately engage in a political duel with the big city Democratic organizations whose help he vitally needs if he is to have any chance of election? We don't see much chance of Sen. Kefauver as a successful candidate when he accuses his own party of bossism.

If there is bossism in the existing Democratic party, the best way to eliminate it is to vote Republican since improperly managed political machines do not readily survive defeat.

Sham of Red 'Peaceful Coexistence' Shown by Korea Armistice Violation

WASHINGTON—The sham of "peaceful co-existence" has been revealed.

The Korean armistice agreement has been torn to shreds by the Communists.

Yet Moscow, which supplies ammunition and aircraft to the Communist armies in North Korea, still hopes to deceive the free world with the idea that the Kremlin has only peaceful intentions toward the other members of the United Nations.

A FORMAL announcement, made by the United Nations command at Panmunjom, has just been given out here at the Department of State. It says that, although the armistice agreement has been in effect for three years, there has been a "notable and persistent failure" of the armistice arrangements.

Specifically, the announcement, made on behalf of the 16 nations which fought the aggressors in Korea, states that inspections have been frustrated and airfields have been built in North Korea in violation of the armistice. The statement says:

"The failure of your side to report introductions of combat aircraft is particularly conspicuous, since your side now maintains in North Korea between 400 and 500 such aircraft, more than half of which are jet fighters or bombers, whereas you had none in that area at the time the armistice was signed."

THIS IS BUT one of many infractions of the armistice. The whole spirit and letter of the agreement has been disregarded by the Communists because they do not allow the neutral inspection teams to operate in the north while the U.N. has permitted the Communist teams to go anywhere in South Korea.

"This is a striking example of bad faith. It is a demonstration of how little credence can be put into even the written word of the Kremlin and its allies, to say nothing of the many oral pronouncements of piety and peacefulness that come through the radio and the press almost daily.

"The U.N. announcement deals unequivocally with a disturbing situation. The President has yielded to the pleas of some of the 'peaceful co-existence' advocates by letting Gen. Twining, Chief of Staff of the U. S. Air Force, go to Moscow for the air show there. The whole purpose on the part of the Soviets is to build respectability.

Reuben Robertson, Deputy Secretary of Defense, who has just returned here from a 25-day inspection trip to the Far East and who visited Korea recently, says:

"The build-up of weapons and air strikes by the Communists in North Korea is very disturbing. It is in violation of the armistice. There is need for a different situation than now exists. It must be solved within the next year."

American troops stand guard in Korea. They can be attacked at any moment if the Communists choose to provoke an engagement and blame it on the other side. It is a delicate situation that will not be solved by further appeasement of the Communists, either in Peking or in Moscow.

Brownell Gets Civil Rights Grilling

WASHINGTON — It got lost in the rush of Capitol Hill, but Ike's top legal adviser, Herb Brownell, was recently subjected to one of the most acid cross-examinations ever given an Attorney General of the United States by the Senate Judiciary Committee. The question at issue was civil rights.

The grilling Brownell got, however, came not from southern critics of the Negro but from such Democratic champions of the Negro's civil rights as Sen. Tom Hennings of Missouri and Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming.

They pointed out that for almost four years Brownell had ducked, procrastinated, and stalled about a civil-rights program. Time after time, they pointed out, Brownell had declined invitations to testify before the Judiciary Committee.

"You have come up with no program during your four years, until last month, I believe, April 1," Sen. Hennings challenged.

"Let me say that might lead to a very misleading answer," Brownell countered. "I know you don't mean to do so."

He then detailed various civil-rights projects he said he had worked on, from restaurant segregation to discrimination in armed forces contracts.

BUT HENNINGS was quick to point out:

"You know these were initiated in the preceding administration."

"A great many of them, yes," Brownell admitted. The cross-examination continued:

Hennings: "We welcome your suggestion that there be a commission on civil rights in the Department of Justice. At my request on March 22, 1955, this letter was addressed to you."

He then read a letter to Brownell, one year old, asking his views on four bills proposing a commission on civil rights in the executive branch of the government.

Hennings: There was no reply in our records of the subcommittee, no reply from you whatever over a year ago relating to the establishment of a commission or a division. We have no record of your ever having replied to that request.

Brownell: I discussed the matter with the then chairman of the committee. He was unable to get together on a hearing on the subject.

Local Races to Test Whether Double Nomination Era Gone

A CLOSE FOLLOWER of local politics said the other day that if there's not at least one double nomination at Tuesday's primary election here, you can put it down that the day of the double nomination is definitely over.

His view was that the three crossfired Republican candidates—Rep. Craig Hosmer and Assemblymen Herbert Klockslam and W. S. Grant—are in situations that would certainly indicate double nominations under the rules that prevailed for decades in California politics.

If at least one of them doesn't make it, it can be concluded that those rules have been permanently repealed, according to this observer.

Here's the picture: The three Republican candidates are multiple-term incumbents, who have never been "in trouble" in their positions. They have been popular with the voters of both parties in past elections, and they have scored well in duty in the current term.

NONE OF THE THREE is opposed by a candidate in his own party. No Democrat has crossedfired here, so these men haven't had to campaign for Republican votes, getting the Democratic nomination is all they have to worry about.

In the cases of both Klockslam and Grant, the Democratic opposition is split by two Democratic candidates. In Klockslam's 44th District, Richard Nussell and Coy Sanders will vie with the Republican for Democratic votes. Dan T. Brice and Paul Strader will divide Democratic votes with Republican Grant. So neither Klockslam nor Grant need have a majority to get the Democrat nomination—all each needs is more votes than either of his Democratic opponents.

Hosmer faces just one Democrat, Raymond C. Simpson. But there has been some indication of defection from Simpson in Democratic ranks, as indicated by Democrat Harry Wade's recent switch. Moreover, in 1952 when Hosmer crossedfired against Simpson, Hosmer got more Democratic votes than Simpson by a sizable margin, though he didn't get enough to win the Democratic nomination. The top Democratic vote went to Grant, who was running for Congress instead of Assembly that year. Yet the fact that in 1952 two Republicans got more Democratic votes for Congress than Simpson shows that Simpson must have come a long way in Democratic popularity if he is to threaten Hosmer this year.

THESE ARE THE FACTORS favorable to double nominations as they can be seen by any objective observer, without any wishful Republican thinking. What about the other side of the story?

The big question mark about double nominations is supplied by the fact that party affiliations of candidates are now shown on the ballot.

In 1954, there were no double nominations here, and few in the state. In that year, for the first time, the candidates' affiliations were shown. This was widely attributed as the cause of the falloff in double nominations.

This year, the affiliations are on the ballot again. This is a presidential election year, when partisan influences are likely to be more sharply in evidence. This may tend to keep many Democrats from voting for candidates with "Republican" by their names, even though they may have favorable opinions of such candidates, or may know little about any candidates.

BY A SYSTEM of endorsements by the voluntary Democratic councils (a matter that is somewhat controversial itself) and in other ways, Democratic leaders have worked hard to make Democrats party-conscious, fighting the threat of the double nomination. They think they have it licked. Some others think otherwise.

That about sizes it up.

TOWN MEETING

'Ominous Threat' to Freedom

TO THE EDITOR:

Recently I read two headlines that seem to indicate an ominous threat to one of our constitutionally guaranteed freedoms—the right of free speech.

The first: "Truman Sorry for Remark."

The second: "Ike Aid Apologizes for Jobless Remark."

I'm not defending the statements. They are beside the point I would like to make.

The point is that they are opinions and American citizens, under our laws, are free to state their opinions without fear or prejudice.

Was it Patrick Henry, or Paine who said, "I don't agree with a word you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it."

(Editor's Note: It was Voltaire.)

The headlines featured the fact that these men, who stated their opinions, were forced through fear of persecution to retract their admittedly unfortunate remarks.

Am I right in assuming that our right to free speech has gone by the board along with many others?

JESSIE R. TURNER.

11 Bolsa, Seal Beach.

(Editor's Note: No. It is a wrong assumption. If the right of free speech no longer existed, letters such as these would not be written or printed. In our opinion, the two men featured in the headlines discovered they'd put foot in mouth, and had the courage to say so.)

How to Cure Quarreling

TO THE EDITOR:

I read recently in Malcolm Epley's Beachcombing a recipe for a quarreling cure.

I have a much better and effective medicine for curing the quarreling sickness in a person, be it a woman or a man. I won a first prize with my recipe many years ago in a New York magazine and it is just as effective today as it was then. Here it is:

If anyone's husband or wife is afflicted with the quarreling sickness, and starts bickering about this or that, don't answer him or her. Don't pay attention whatsoever.

Well, it takes two to make a fight. No one can quarrel or fight alone.

Try the recipe and find out.

MRS. EVI LEINO.

Wants Law Banning Bikes

TO THE EDITOR:

I've been glad that children could ride on the sidewalks because they are safer and because I love children.

However, recently my nearest neighbor was knocked down by a boy only 6½ years old. My friend suffered a broken arm—one fracture above and one below her elbow.

I was also nearly hit by a boy riding up behind me very fast and without sounding any alarm.

Can't there be a law, strictly enforced, that all bicyclists shall be required to have something on their bikes to sound a signal?

Lots of older people don't see or hear as well as we used to, but we still love life and want a chance to continue to enjoy it.

Yours for bikes with bells.

MRS. M. D.

Three-Lane Roads 'Insane, Unsafe'

TO THE EDITOR:

A recent story described a head-on collision on E. Seventh St. at Studebaker Rd. In which one person was killed and others injured, one critically.

This collision could have been prevented if it weren't for some half-brained jackasses who think it's a good idea to save time and money by stopping construction on a road when three lanes are completed. This practice is insane and unsafe, to say the least.

When two cars going in opposite directions decide to pass a car at the same time, you're bound to have a head-on collision, and I don't feel you can call them accidents.

I think steps should be taken to get rid of all three-lane highways at once in order to make our roads at least partially safer, and to prevent a repetition of what happened at E. Seventh St. and Studebaker Rd.

JOHN SEYMOUR.

857 W. 4th St.

CHICAGO (U.P.)—The Chicago Cubs swept a doubleheader from the Brooklyn Dodgers Saturday, 8-1, behind the two-hit pitching of bonus right-hander Don Kiser in his first major league start, and 5-4 with only two runs batted in against Don Newcombe in the nightcap before 20,751 fans.

Newcombe suffered his fourth defeat against seven wins. Cub Harry Chitt singled in the third, advanced on Bob Rush's single and scored when Eddie Miksis grounded into a double play.

In the fifth, Walt Moryn tripled and scored on Jim Gilliam's wild throw to third, while Dee Fondy scored in the sixth on a single, a stolen base, Roy Campanella's throwing error and a wild pitch.

Miksis singled to open the eighth, advanced on Gene Baker's sacrifice and scored on

Baseball to Adopt New Draft Plan?

ST. LOUIS (U.P.)—The Sporting News reported Saturday organized baseball may adopt the "free agent draft plan" now used by both pro football and basketball in an effort to solve the critical minor league problem.

The basketball weekly, in a dispatch from New York by Dan Daniel, said such a plan would help restore the balance of power by giving the talent clubs a chance to land good young players.

"In fact, it would be a share-the-wealth program in which the major leagues not only would give their little brethren of the minors a chance to gather some of the golden talent, but it also would tend toward more equitable distribution of wealth within the majors themselves," Daniel wrote.

Under the system all college, high school, American Legion junior and sandlot players would be tossed into a pool each year. Then they would be drafted, first by the major league clubs and then by the minors. In the inverse order of the previous season's finish.

Each major league club would draft three players and the other prospects would go to the minors.

The open classification Pacific Coast League clubs and the triple-A clubs would be permitted four selections each, AA and A clubs five each, and B, C and D clubs six or more.

Spartans' Morrill Signs With 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (U.P.)—The San Francisco 49ers announced the signing Saturday night of Earl Morrill, All-America quarterback of the Michigan State Rose Bowl team.

Morrill was San Francisco's first choice in the National Football League draft. He was signed personally by Frankie Albert, head coach of the 49ers, after a meeting at the player's home in Lansing, Mich.

Cotchonis Loses in Thriller

By JERRY WYNN

Jerry Steelsmith whipped Pinky Stevenson, 6 and 5, and Bob Reed outlasted Gene Cotchonis in a thrilling 38-hole birdie battle in Long Beach City Golf Championship semi-finals at Recreation Park Saturday.

Steelsmith, the Southern California Amateur champion from Oakmont CC, and Reed the veteran Clock CC star, will meet today in 36-hole finals starting at 9 a.m. Seldom has the 32-year-old tournament had finer title aspirants.

The 20-year-old Steelsmith didn't have to be at his best Saturday to beat his 17-year-old Long Beach opponent, but when faced with Stevenson's one hold challenge, he was more than equal to the occasion.

That came when Pinky fought back from an early four hole deficit to come within one going into the 18th. Steelsmith then retaliated by birdying the 18th and the first and second holes of the afternoon round.

THE 37-YEAR-OLD Reed boldly withstood challenge after challenge from the unheralded Cotchonis whose string of pressure putts brought cheers from a gallery of 500. However, it was a missed 3½-foot putt on the second extra hole for a bogey that ended Cotchonis' bid. Both players were five under par.

It was just not Stevenson's day. The spunky youth tried hard but his iron lacked the customary precision and his chipping was poor. Steelsmith played his usual fine game off the greens but had a terrible time with his putting, particularly in the morning round.

Before the match was an hour old, Pinky was three down, all on bad chip shots which resulted in bogies. Steelsmith birdied the seventh on a 35-foot chip shot to go four ahead. Stevenson got his first bird on a 10-foot putt on the ninth but missed a four-footer to bogey and lose the 10th.

THEN IT WAS Steelsmith's turn to go sour and see his big advantage dwindle. He was putted to bogey the 11th, hit out-of-bounds on the 13th (which Pinky birdied anyway), and hit a poor approach to bogey and lose the 14th.

Hope in the Stevenson camp now soared. Both birdied the 15th on short putts and parred in to the 18th which Steelsmith took on an 8-iron to the green and five-foot birdie putt.

But in the afternoon round—just as in the morning—Pinky was set back on his heels in a hurry.

Steelsmith birdied the first two holes on putts of five and six feet and Stevenson bogied the third on another poor chip. Five ahead, Steelsmith played sound par golf the rest of the way and was never threatened. He was one over par for morning round and three under in the afternoon. Stevenson was two and one over respectively.

WHEREAS the gallery started on the heels of Stevenson and Steelsmith, they soon switched allegiance when news of the torrid Reed-Cotchonis duel became known.

If ever there was a hero in defeat it was Cotchonis, a straight-A philosophy major at UCLA who delivers newspapers from 4 to 6 a.m. in order to make golfing money. He played like a tiger and putted like a demon. Reed was his usual glit-edged precision self.

Cotchonis, two down after eight, birdied the ninth on a 30-foot putt from the edge of the green, won the 10th on a par, the 14th on an eight-foot birdie putt and the 15th on a three-foot eagle putt—after a spoon to the green—to go two up. Reed birdied the 16th on an eight-

Angels Fight Off Seals, 7-4

SAN FRANCISCO (U.P.)—The Los Angeles Angels assaulted three San Francisco pitchers for 12 hits and a 7-4 victory Saturday that evened their series at a game each before a crowd of 3,531 fans.

The Angels had to put down a three-run last inning rally by the Seals to preserve the victory.

The Angels scored two in the second inning on singles by Steve Bilko and Bob Speake and a triple by Jim Bolger. They added three in the fifth when Gale Wade doubled and Bilko, Speake and Bolger followed with singles; the third run coming in when Seal centerfielder Tom Umphlett juggled Bolger's hit.

THE FINAL TWO Angel runs were doubled in by Elvin Tappe in the eighth.

San Francisco got its first run in the seventh when pinchhitter Joe Tanner singled home Ken Aspromonte from second.

Catcher Eddie Sadowski started off the Seals' ninth inning rally by cracking his third home run of the season. Aspromonte then doubled and Jim Mahoney walked.

AT THIS POINT John Briggs was lifted for Bob Anderson, the Angels' 20-year-old relief artist who was making his 27th appearance of the year. Anderson walked Sal Taormina to load the bases and wild pitched one run home. The final Seal run scored as Umphlett grounded out.

Briggs (1-1) was the winner and Russ Kemmerer (3-5) the loser.

LARRY JANSEN He's Still 'Fast'

Jansen Tips Stars in Hurry

HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—Seattle's wily right-hander, Larry Jansen, required only an hour and 37 minutes to dispose of the Hollywood Stars, 4-1, Saturday in the fastest game of the year at Gilmore Field.

A sparse crowd of 1,910 turned out for the contest.

Nicked for only five hits, Jansen allowed just one runner to advance past first base, and he couldn't do much about that as second baseman Bill Mazeroski homered over the left field boards in the second inning.

Only two southpaws have subdued Seattle this season, and Hollywood's Fred Green isn't one of them. He was beaten before the first inning was over.

After retiring the first two batters, Green was bombed for three runs. Art Schult and Vern Stephens singled, after which Joe Taylor and Bobby Halcena banged two-baggers.

Seattle tallied its final run in the fourth inning on singles by Leo Righetti and Jansen with a walk to Dick Aylward in between.

'Rather Face Mantle Than Yogi'

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Give Tom Brewer his choice and he'll face Mickey Mantle in the clutch any time rather than deal with Yogi Berra.

What's more, the Boston Red Sox' brilliant 24-year-old pitcher believes "most pitchers in the American League would agree with me," even if Mantle is slugging at a pace that would rewrite the record book.

"Mantle's tremendous, make no mistake about it," Brewer explained when the Red Sox were in New York this week. "You can strike him out three straight times and he'll knock you out of the park on his fourth try. But I feel — and I think most pitchers feel — they can pitch to Mickey better than they can to Berra."

Brewer, who has a 7-1 record to head the Red Sox' staff this year, pointed out that he has enjoyed better than average success with Mantle.

"If you got Mickey two strikes, you can make him swing at a bad, breaking pitch and you've got a swell chance to get him out," he said. "Yogi does swing at bad balls sometimes but he'll look 'em over. What you can strike him out three straight times and he'll knock you out of the park on his fourth try. But I feel — and I think most pitchers feel — they can pitch to Mickey better than they can to Berra."

Brewer, who hails from Wadsworth, N. C., and was discovered by former relief pitcher star Mace Brown, a Red Sox scout, said that experience and a tip from Coach Daye Ferriss were key factors in his improvement.

"You learn your trade when you hit a rough spell like that," he said. "Maybe you could say you stop being a boy and become a man."

Ferriss, a war-time pitching great for the Red Sox, suggested last spring that Brewer should slow down his motion and Tom said that represented a real turning point in his career.

Sabbath soliloquy
BOOSTER—San Diego State College's rather dim view of Long Beach State College and the California Collegiate Athletic Association is not shared by Fresno State College, Don Muchmore, the former LBSC tub-thumper wants everybody to know.

He has found that Fresno State College, a mighty fine athletic power in its own class, thinks highly of the CCAA and the future of the local state institution.

At the spring meeting of the CCAA in Santa Monica, Muchmore heard Arnold E. Joyal, president of Fresno State, say these optimistic words:

"I believe our interests and natural rivalries are with the CCAA schools. As far as competition is concerned, I believe schools such as Long Beach and Los Angeles State Colleges, with enrollments of perhaps 7,000 to 8,000 within three or four years, will be on equal strength with us in the near future."

Within a short time, the CCAA may become a happy little family in which Long Beach State will be an important factor, no matter what they think down San Diego way. The Aztecs haven't always had easy sailing, either. Water seeks its own level.

HERB SCORE
Hurts First Shutout

13 Whiffs, 3-Hitter by Score

WASHINGTON (UP)—Southpaw Herb Score pitched his first shutout of the season and his batterymate, Jim Hegan, hit a grand slam home run as the Cleveland Indians walloped the Washington Senators, 15-0, Saturday night to take over second place in the American League.

Score allowed only three singles, two to Eddie Yost, in posting his first whitewash job since last July. He struck out 13 batters, running his total for the season to 86 in 76 innings. The Senators hit only four balls out of the infield.

Hegan's grand-slammer came in the eighth inning after the Indians had fashioned a 10-0 lead. It was his first home run of the season.

Vic Wertz, Rocky Colavito and Sam Rice also homered for the Indians, who collected 14 hits off three Washington pitchers. Dean Stone, the Senators' starting pitcher, battled Score through three scoreless innings before being reached for six runs in the fourth.

Score's shutout was the first posted by a Cleveland pitcher this season and also the first suffered by Washington in 43 games.

JOHNNY GROTH
Ignites A's Rally

2-Bagger by Groth Snaps Tie

BOSTON (UP)—Johnny Groth's two-out double in the seventh inning scored two runs to break up a 3-3 tie and then the Kansas City Athletics added five more runs in the ninth to snap a four-game losing streak and take an 11-3 victory from the Boston Red Sox Saturday.

Vic Power opened the seventh with a single, was sacrificed to second by Hector Lopez and scored when Enos Slaughter doubled to left center. After Al Simpson rolled out and Jim Finigan drew the second of Frank Sullivan's two walks Groth doubled to deep center scoring both runners.

ACHILLES HEEL—National League opponents of the St. Louis Cardinals have found a weakness in the pitching habits of Vinegar Bend Mizell. They're working Card catchers overtime.

It has been whispered about the circuit that Mizell has trouble keeping a runner on first base. While Mays of the New York Giants stole four bases on him in one game this season. Other N. L. speed demons are taking liberties, too.

The Cards, with Freddie Hutchinson, an old pitcher-turned-manager as the school teacher, are frantically trying to cure Mizell of this fault before it costs the Redbirds too many games!

ECHO—In this space last Monday Vern Stephens, player-coach of the Seattle Rainiers, warned of an impending surge toward the top by the young San Francisco Seals. Now comes verification from no less an authority than Clay Hopper, the skipper of the Hollywood Stars.

"I managed a lot of young ball clubs when I was working for Brooklyn," Clay recalls, "and I won a lot of pennants. If I was fourth, fifth or sixth at mid-season, without being too far behind the first place club, I was satisfied."

"You get a bunch of young players like the Seals and they're always better the second half of the season. I've never seen it fail."

"We might be pretty good later on ourselves, and for the same reason. This is a feel young club I have this year, but the pitching's pretty good. All we need is a little power to bring the runs in."

Hear that, Angels?

BAILEY, LANDY IN REMATCH

VANCOUVER, B. C. (UP)—Australia's two "miracle" millers have been scheduled for a rematch.

Sponsors announced Saturday that John Landy, the world record holder, and Jim Bailey of the University of Oregon will meet in the feature event of the annual Vancouver police sports day July 2.

Bailey beat Landy in 3:58.4 in a major upset May 3 at Los Angeles in the first mile race ever run under four minutes in the United States.

Kono Upset by Warner

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Clemens Warner of Bethpage, N.Y., upset world champion Tommy Kono of Hawaii Saturday in winning the middleweight crown in the National AAU weightlifting championships.

Warner became the first entrant in this year's tournament to make eight straight successful lifts.

Warner pressed 270 pounds, snatched 250 and hoisted 315 in the clean and jerk for a total of 835 pounds. Kono scored 290 in the press and 280 in the snatch, but was uncredited when he failed to lift 365 pounds in the clean and jerk.

Isaac Berger of York, Pa., retained his lightweight title with 235, 210, 275 for a 720 total. Clyde Emrich won the middle-heavyweight title with 300, 280, 375 for 955.

Eulberg's Net 65 Wins Virginia Golf

Frank Eulberg won the Virginia Men's Club Saturday golf sweepstakes with a card of 75-10—65. Tied for second place at 68 were Alton Beck, 76-8; Roy Spawr, 74-6; Milt McGrew, 79-11; and Dr. William Woodard, 83-15.

Blind bogey (76) victors were Fred Hageberg, C. T. Gules, C. F. Van De Water, L. D. Lawson, Sr., Dr. N. G. Hickey, Dr. Vernon Brickey, Cy Young and Hugh Davies.

Redlegs Explode in 8th, 5-2

CINCINNATI (UP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs, held to four hits through the first seven innings, scored four times in the eighth Saturday off Ruben Gomez to win a 5-2 decision over the New York Giants.

Gomez' first sign of weakness came in the seventh when a double by Ray Jablonski and a single by Ed Bailey accounted for the first Cincinnati run.

Then in the eighth singles by Johnny Temple and Frank Robinson and an intentional walk to Ted Kluszewski loaded the bases with one out.

Wally Post singled Temple home and Robinson also scored when Daryl Spencer let the relay get away from him as he tried to throw.

After Jablonski fouled out, Bailey was walked intentionally to load the bases again and Roy McMillan singled to drive in the next two runs.

Hershel Freeman, third of the Redleg pitchers, got credit for the victory.

REGRET—Pacific Coast Conference track and field coaches to the man are sorry the PCC isn't meeting the Big Ten in their annual inter-conference dual meet this season. Because it's Olympic year, the annual frolic has not been scheduled.

Coast coaches think the PCC could make the Big Ten weep in agony in a dual meet. The way the Troys, Bruins, Cats, Stanfords, Orecons and so on have figured out, the Big Ten would be lucky to collect more than one first place.

The one conceded to the Western Conference is the broad jump, where Greg Bell of Indiana has a mark of 23-11 1/2. Otherwise, PCC coaches feel their athletes are superior in all events.

Michigan won the Big Ten trackfest this year, with Iowa a close second. As one PCC coach aptly put it last week:

"They're down in track this season, except in a few individual instances. This would have been a good time to right some Rose Bowl wrongs!"

Crocker Still Leads

PITTSBURGH (UP)—U. S. Women's Open champion Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, fighting off rain and a field of 20 other lady pros, retained a one-stroke lead Saturday in the third-round of the 72-hole, $7,500 Dodge Women's Invitational golf tournament.

Miss Crocker slugged through a three-over par 39 on the front nine to temporarily lose her lead to Marlene Bauer, of Sarasota, Fla., who made the turn with a 36.

But the snap-swinging South American holed out at the end of the day's medal play with a 76 while Marlene finished with a 75 after starting the third round three strokes behind.

RISKS TITLE TUESDAY

Moore 2 1/2-1 Over Pompey

LONDON (UP)—In boxing a good big man generally beats a good little man so the British public made Archie Moore a 2 1/2-1 favorite to retain his world light-heavyweight crown when he meets Yolande Pompey of the West Indies Tuesday night.

Moore, now a natural heavy-weight, is completing three weeks of intensive training to squeeze himself down to 175 pounds for the weigh-in Tuesday afternoon. Pompey stopped training for a couple of days last week because his handlers were unable to keep his weight above 169 pounds.

Britain had a diverting time reading the weight bulletins from the Moore camp in the shadow of the Royal Castle of Windsor. The champion shook everybody by arriving here 22 pounds overweight but by Friday was only three pounds from the limit.

Jr. Grid Board Meets

DeVincenzo Ties Littler for Lead

DALLAS (UP)—Gene Littler curled in a 12-foot pressure putt for a birdie on the 18th hole Saturday to scramble into a tie for the halfway mark lead of the $70,000 Texas Centennial Open tournament with Roberto De Vincenzo of Mexico City at 10-under par 130.

Littler, the former National Amateur champion from San Diego, was the only one of the three first day leaders able to come through under the tense Saturday to catch the red hot Argentine-born De Vincenzo, who has posted his second straight five-under-par 65 early in the day.

The California ex-saltor fought back from two apparently disastrous bogies on the 14th and 15th holes to birdie the 16th and 18th and pull into the tie with a 32-34—66, one stroke ahead of Cary Middlecoff, the Tennessee dentist, who was tied with him at 64 Friday.

MIDDLECOFF rammed home a downhill 18-foot birdie putt on the 17th to finish with a three-under-par 35-32—67 for a 36-hole total of 131.

De Vincenzo missed eight-foot putts for eagles on two of the six birdie holes—the first and 12th, but dropped eight-footers on the fourth and seventh and a three-footer on the 11th for his 33-32—65.

LITTLE had three bogies, all on the usually easy back nine—the 10th where he overdrove the green, the 14th where he was short on his second shot and the 15th where he three-putted. He had birdie putts of one foot, 20, 4, 6, 2, 10 and 12 feet to keep him in the running for the $14,000 first prize being served up here Monday.

Middlecoff had a couple of bogies and was in four sand traps, but two long, downhill putts—the 17th and a 12-footer on the second hole—and three others of less than four feet for birdies kept him in close contention.

RACING ROUNDUP

Speedie Edie in Milady Triumph

HOLLYWOOD PARK — Another name was added to the already lengthy list of horses which have developed swiftly at Hollywood Park Saturday when Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith's Speedie Edie held on in the stretch to score a head victory in the $29,750 Milady Handicap.

Picked up through the claiming box here last year for $3,000, Speedie Edie earned more than three times her purchase price in 1.10 flat when she collected top money of $17,450. Before arriving at Hollywood, the quick My Host miss also won the Portola Handicap at Tanforan.

RICHIE ASHBURN
Clutch Double Wins It

Speedie Edie was given little chance Saturday, but the chestnut, filly had plenty of courage in the final sixteenth to hold off the favored Solid Miss and return her supporters with a $30.80, $11.70 and $6.60 across the board mutuel.

THE RACE WAS full of tough luck for the better-backed entries. Solid Miss was taken up for over a sixteenth of a mile for want of racing room in the stretch. Once free, "Bill" Shoemaker drove her hard after the game Speedie Edie but she failed by the small margin. The third horse, Monaghan Farm's Island Queen, who was another length away, also had a rough trip.

The early pace was a swift one with Real Tope, Jet Girl, Baby Alice, Slater Liz, Vicki Blue and Wine and Dine all battling for the top. Only Baby Alice had enough left to offer a bid in the stretch but she faltered to finish fourth.

IN THE COMPANION feature, the $12,000 Anita Peabody Handicap, another ex-claimer turned in an excellent effort to defeat many leading contenders for next week's $50,000 Argonaut Handicap. Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Kerr's Lover Boy, who once ran with $9,000 claimers, turned loose a tremendous stretch spurt to nip Helbush Farm's Poonia II and Sunnyside Stable's Beau Busher in a driving finish.

Lover Boy was given a great ride by Rogelio Trejos, covered the mile and one-sixteenth in 1:41 4/5 and returned $10.50.

KINGMAKER, second to Fabius in the Jersey Stakes last week, held on in the stretch to win the $32,000 Kent Stakes at Delaware Park. Head Man was second, a head behind Kingmaker and a neck in front of Lucius Beebe. Time for the mile and one-sixteenth was 1:45 2/5.

LONGSHOT Jazz Age flew down the stretch at muddy Belmont Park to cop the Peter Pan Handicap. Jazz Age was three-quarters of a length ahead of Lawless. Oh Johnny was third. Time for the mile and one-eighth was 1:48 2/5.

PRINCESS TURIA bested stablemate Beyond by four and one-half lengths to run away with the Black Eyed Susan Stakes at Pimlico in Baltimore. Princess Turia covered the mile and one-sixteenth in 1:45 3/5.

All-Army Track Meet at Compton

Track and field stars of the United States Army will be facing their biggest test of the season Tuesday and Wednesday when they compete in the All-Army meet at Ramsau Stadium in Compton.

The Olympic hopefuls were selected to participate in the All-Army contest on the basis of their performances in elimination meets.

Two top track figures scheduled to appear at Compton are Pts. Charlie Pratt and Tom Courtney. Pratt, former Manhattan flash, bettered two Army standards when he sped to a 9.6 hundred and skinned over the 120-yard high hurdles in the first of 14 flat in the First Army tryouts at West Point last week.

COURTNEY, competing in the same record breaking meet with Pratt, smashed two inter-service marks when he won the 880 in 1:48.5 and returned a day later to earn a blue ribbon in the 440 in 46.8.

Another top Olympic hurdle prospect is Dickie Howard, former Stiffest competition may well lie in the shorter dashes with such sprint stars as Pts. Alex Burl, Dean Smith, Ira Murchison and Larry McBride competing along with Pratt. Burl, former Skyline Conference champion from Colorado A&M, sped to a 10.4 clocking in the 100 meters and won the 200 meters in 21.7 around a curve.

Murchison, former Iowa and Western Michigan sprint star, has two 9.5 hundred yard dash times and a world record tying 10.2 100 meters to his credit. McBride is the holder of a 9.3 century clocking with a 5.3 mph wind while at the University of Houston.

Smith, a fourth place finisher in the 100 meters at the 1952 Olympics, was also a member of the victorious U.S. 400-meter relay team at Helsinki.

First day opening ceremonies are slated for 1:30 p.m., with actual competition beginning at 2 o'clock each day. Admission to the meet is free.

Fishin' Around

By DONNELL CULPEPPER

Youngsters of Long Beach and its surrounding area will have one of the greatest fishing summers in history. Within a month the Tackle Buster Clubs will start activities and, this year, there will be a traveling instructor for the groups.

These Tackle Buster Clubs will have handicraft programs embracing such subjects as rod-making, leaders and hooks, fishing techniques, conservation, in addition to movies about angling. Any boy or girl is eligible for one of the clubs.

Beginning July 2 and ending Aug. 24, here is the schedule for the Tackle Busters:

Mondays, 7 to 9 p. m., Houghton Park, 6301 Myrtle Ave.

Tuesdays, 3 to 5 p. m., El Dorado Park, 2800 Studebaker Rd.

Wednesdays, 3 to 5 p. m., Silverado Park, 31st and Santa Fe. Also 7 to 9 p. m., Pan American Park, 5157 Centralia.

Thursdays, 7 to 9 p. m., Wardlow Park, 2457 Standbridge.

Fridays, 7 to 9 p. m., MacArthur Park, 1340 Warren.

Parents are encouraged to attend with their children if they wish. Jack Minar, head of the Recreation Department's special activities group, advises all children to attend the meeting nearest their own homes.

Donald Hansted, an excellent fisherman and also an enthusiast in skin-diving, will be the traveling instructor.

Fishing excursions are planned for July 14 and 28; Aug. 4, 11 and 18. The summer TBC sessions will be climaxed on Thursday, Aug. 23, with the all-city fishing rodeo on Belmont Pier. That event last year attracted hundreds of boys and girls.

MEMORIAL DAY brought hundreds of inland residents to Long Beach for fishing excursions, but the angling didn't improve anywhere, except possibly at some choice surf-fishing spots. Deep-sea skippers tried hard to make it a big day, but the fish didn't cooperate.

Good catches of kelp and bull bass came from San Clemente Island. A few barracuda were caught around Catalina, but offshore banks yielded practically nothing except the usual assortment of bottom fish, good for the table, but not much for sport.

The boat Nelen, again skippered by Art Shankman, is making half-day runs from Seal Beach Pier at 8 a. m. and 1 p. m., according to Art Lescher and Merle Stockton, operators of the landing.

The Red Rocket will be put into service about June 15 and will make daily runs to Catalina Island. Skipper will be Bob (Freckles) Baggett.

Late reports from Ensenada showed barracuda fishing picking up considerably. Gordo's Bait House said its fleet was averaging 200 to 300 per day. However, there were a few blank days mixed in with the others. Only an occasional yellowtail was reported.

At San Diego, yellowtail fishing broke wide open Friday for the fishoff in the first period of the yellowtail derby. All boats reported the best catches of the year.

JUST IN CASE you missed the roundup of deer seasons in a recent edition of The Press-Telegram, here is the schedule:

Coastal—Aug. 4 through Sept. 16.

Inyo-Mono (with certain western areas excepted)—Sept. 15 through Oct. 28.

Inyo-Mono (western portions)—Sept. 15 through Oct. 14.

Balance of state—Sept. 22 through Oct. 28.

Bag limit is two bucks in the same areas as 1955 and one buck elsewhere. The coastal area boundaries are not changed from 1955. And for the last three days of the coastal season (Sept. 14, 15 and 16) a deer of either sex may be shot—but ONLY ONE per hunter. Same applies to the inland, or Sierra, season.

If you are in doubt about boundaries and regulations, the Department of Fish and Game will have its hunting booklet in the hands of license dealers well in advance of the first opening date. It would be wise to peruse it carefully.

Other hunting seasons: Pheasants—Nov. 17 to Dec. 2, inclusive. Daily bag limit is two birds and 10 for the season. One hen may be included in the up-state bag of 10. In Southern California 10 birds of either sex may be included.

Quail (north and coastal areas)—Oct. 27-Dec. 31. (North-eastern, including Plumas County)—Nov. 17 to Dec. 15. (Rest of state)—Nov. 17 to Dec. 31. Bag and possession limit remains at eight birds.

A special mountain quail season has been set for Oct. 6 to 14 for the same areas as in 1955.

Chukar partridge—Nov. 17 to Dec. 15 in Inyo and Mono counties; Nov. 17 to Dec. 31 in San Bernardino, Riverside, Imperial, San Diego, Orange, Los Angeles, Ventura and those portions of San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara counties east of U. S. 101, and in the same portions of Fresno, Kern and Kings counties open in 1955. Bag and possession limits remain at four birds.

A FRIEND at Lac La Ronge, jumping-off place for my memorable Saskatchewan aerial junket two years ago, writes that La Ronge has opened its 1956 season, with the usual number of prizes for different species.

Americans seem to cop most of those awards. There are $25 top prizes for northern pike, lake trout, rainbow trout, brook trout, Loch Leven, pickerel, perch, grayling and the famed goldeneye.

Largest fish ever recorded in a Lac La Ronge derby was the 41-pound lake trout caught in 1953. But lakies and northerners weighing 20 to 30 pounds are quite common in that gigantic lake, which marks the end of the road for all automobiles. From there, transportation is by plane and canoe, or, if you care to wait for winter—snowshoes.

All-New Aud Mat Bill Opens Thursday

Professional wrestling at Long Beach Municipal Auditorium has had its face lifted, but completely!

Everything is new, from the promoter on down.

First, the night has been changed from Tuesday to Thursday and the time from 8:30 to 8 p.m.

Second, the new promoter is Jean Armand, commander of the Cinema-TV American Legion Post in Hollywood.

Third, the new matchmaker is John J. Doyle, confidante of the nation's top grapplers for a quarter of a century.

Fourth, and most important, the Armand-Doyle combo is importing a carload of top wrestlers from other major western waypoints, such as Las Vegas, Salt Lake City and Ogden, Utah.

PROFESSOR ROY Shire, unbeaten in 157 consecutive matches, is typical.

Shire, an arrogant, disdainful sort who makes Gorgeous George seem downright sociable by comparison, will toe the mark with a young ex-collegiate football hero, Guy Brunetti, in Thursday night's main event, first under the new regime.

This match will be supported by two others, either of which might be the main event in any other week.

Brunetti's tag team partner, Joe Tangaro, another one-time football hero, will tangle with Bob Ford of Canton, O., in the semi-windup, and the Mexican father-son tag team of Chico and Reyes Gracio will meet Hardy Kruskamp and Black Jack Dillon in the curtain-opener.

The show will be televised over KCOP (13).

BULLFIGHTS SLATED TODAY

Mexico's leading matador, Jaime Bravo, will be featured today in the second bullfight program of the season at Tijuana.

Others on the program are Pepe Luis Cazquez and Andres Blando. The matadors go up against six La Punta bulls.

PLAY UMPIRES

Cuties Nine Plays Here

The California Cuties, softball's answer to the Harlem Globetrotters, come to Recreation Park Sunday night, June 17, to meet a talented team of Long Beach City League umpires.

The Cuties, a men's softball team dressed in ladies garments, originated in Compton and are managed by Trino Palacios. Palacios also doubles as a pitcher named Liza Jane.

Other Cuties include Main Street Sally, Beulah, Grandma and Vampira, the star pitcher. Beulah is a 36-inch midge who plays shortstop, pitches and also sings and dances.

Hollerder MVP

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Don Hollender of Webster, N. Y., Army's controversial quarterback of the 1955 football season, was given the Hughes Award Saturday as the most valuable member of the Cadet eleven last fall.

Sprints Featured in NAIA Weekend Meet

SAN DIEGO—At least nine records are in serious danger in the fourth annual NAIA track and field championships, to be staged in Balboa Stadium here next Friday and Saturday nights.

The NAIA is composed of 450 members of the "small college" class.

The sprints are the feature attraction and the crack field of dashmen is headed by one of the top candidates for the American Olympic team—Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian.

Morrow, who has a 9.4 century to his credit with a wind at his back and an official 9.5, will meet Ken Kave of Morgan State, who has a 9.3 "wind" race along with such other stars as Abe Butler of Baldwin-Wallace (9.5), Larry Lewis of Sam Houston (9.5) and Bill Woodhouse, also of Abilene Christian.

In all, 20 sprinters who have run 9.7 or better will go in the 100.

The 220 also has an all-star group of dashmen, three of whom have bettered 21 flat—Morrow, Bruce Lenoir of Louisiana Tech and Clyde Harris of East Texas.

HERB WASHINGTON of Morgan State, with a 46.6 relay lap to his credit, will head the 440, while the half-mile and mile fields are featured by Billy Tidwell of Kansas State Teachers at Emporia. Tidwell has run a 1:47.4 half-mile relay lap and has registered a 4:10.9 mile.

Lee Calhoun of North Carolina State, a 13.8 and 23.4 hurdler, is another outstanding performer slated to appear.

The field events will be featured by the high jump which will bring out two 6-8 leapers in Bob Barkdale of Morgan State and Charles McCollough of North Carolina State along with five others over 6-6.

Other top field event performers will be Oxy's Bob Gutowski, a 15-foot pole vaulter, and Jim Gamble and Cal White of Prairie View, both of whom are 24-foot broad jumpers.

The new Bel Air Convertible with Body by Fisher—one of 20 sassy-styled new Chevrolets.

Want to take the wheel of one of America's few great road cars?
Want to send pleasant little tingles up and down your spine? Want to drive the new car that politely murmurs "Move over, big boy" to the high-priced jobs? Then hustle on in and try out a new Chevrolet V8!

Now showing—the happiest "double feature" of the year! One part is bold, new Motoramic styling. The other is record-breaking V8 action. Hollywood has a heap of words that describe it: colossal, stupendous, magnificent. We'll settle for just the name—Chevrolet.

Because once you've driven this sweet-handling showboat, the adjectives will take care of themselves. Once you've sampled Chevy's hair-trigger reflexes and nailed-down stability, you'll see why it's one of the few great road cars built today. It's a beautiful thing to handle!

Horsepower that ranges up to 225 makes hills flatter and saves precious seconds for safer passing. And the way this Chevrolet wheels around tight turns would gladden the heart of a dyed-in-the-wool sports car fan.

Stop in sometime soon and highway-test this new Chevrolet. We've got one ready and waiting for you.

Burmese Voting for Long Period

RANGOON (AP)—Burma has started voting in a three-month-long national election. It is being held in nine stages on 221 candidates representing 11 parties standing for 86 seats in the House of Nationalities, the upper chamber of Parliament. Burma has a widely diverse tribal population and many tongues.

Balsa Falsies Give Eyes a Lift, Offer 'Speakeasy' Beach Shield

Balsa wood falsies for the eyes may soon be the craze among TV viewers and sunbathers.

Long Beach inventor Fredrick T. Saunders has built and patented a boxy little device designed to give a third dimension to television programs. With interchangeable parts it also provides for restful reading or for a kind of "speakeasy" sun shield on the beach.

The device is called "Natural Specs." Its principle is "tunnel vision." A balsa shield, built over a regular spectacle frame, and with binocular-type channels projecting from each eye-piece, cuts out all vision except the TV screen.

Round apertures are installed at the outer end of the viewing channel. These apertures can be adjusted to individual requirements until they blend into one round opening which admits your TV screen and nothing else.

THE SINGLE VISION—channeled through Natural Specs—produces a mental, rather than an optical illusion of depth in the flat TV picture. With no distraction from your natural wide-angle vision, your living room reference points vanish and there's only one place left for you to be, and that is right in the TV picture, Saunders contends.

He thinks enough of the principle to have spent some 20 years in its development. Some 20 years ago Saunders marketed a spectacle device called "Concentrators." The principle—reported in the publication Scientific American at that time—is the same. It cuts out your indirect vision and gives you what

Ohioan to Head Taxation Group

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers was elected president of the National Association of Tax Administrators at its meeting here Friday.

Bowers succeeds New Jersey taxation director Aaron K. Neeld. Otis W. Livingston, chairman of the South Carolina Tax Commission was elected vice president and Vice Chairman Martin Lauterbach of the Iowa Tax Commission was elected secretary.

you what is technically called away.

However, the chances of your being recognized by an acquaintance on the beach is remote while you're wearing "Natural Specs." And you yourself are likely to emerge with the feeling "I Am a Camera."

THE THIRD and most novel application of the balsa package Saunders has made is the sunbathing spectacle. It, of course, uses the same frame as the two other applications. But now, Saunders simply slips in two balsa panels which cut out all light.

For sunning, you simply close the windows, lie back and soak up the sun. Then, if a friend stops by and wants to chat, you simply slip aside the sliding "speakeasy" panel and chat may be the answer.

Saunders has applied for patents for his device but does not intend to build it for sale immediately. He intends rather to sell the set of simple plans through national advertising. He says his drawings with numbered parts would enable the amateur do-it-yourself fan to build a set of "Natural Specs" in a couple of days' spare time.

Parts required are a spectacle frame (or one with your prescription lenses if needed), about 30 cents worth of balsa wood, a few small screws or brads and a dab of black stain or paint.

So, if you're inclined to tunnel-building escapism—right into your TV set, "Natural Specs" may be the answer.

Mitchell to Attend Retailer Ceremony

Long Beach Retailers Association will install its 1956-57 officers Thursday at the Lafayette Hotel, with Don Spring of McCrery's being seated as new president.

Other officers to be installed by Lawrence A. Collins, installing officer, editorial columnist for the Independent Press-Telegram, are: Vernon Fay of J. C. Penney Co., vice president; Harold Lewis of C. C. Lewis Jewelry Co., secretary, and Ken Walker of Farmers & Merchants Bank, treasurer.

THOMAS MITCHELL, movie and television character actor, will be principal speaker at the installation banquet. Mitchell will also speak to the Long Beach State College drama group at 11 a. m., Thursday and at Poly High School at 1 p. m.

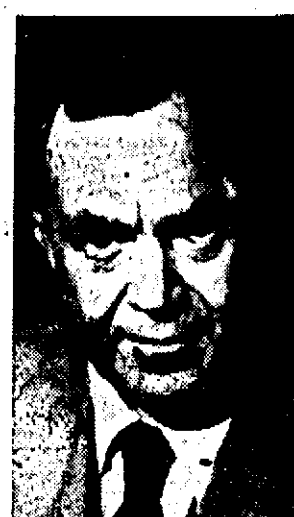

Music for the LBRA banquet will be provided by Jerl Pack.

Mayor George Vermillion will present the keys to the city to veteran actor Mitchell.

Mitchell himself is "Mayor of the Town" in a current TV series of that title. He won the Television Academy Award in 1952 as outstanding actor of the year.

MITCHELL HAS received awards and acclaim throughout the world for his characterizations, including an "Oscar" for his alcoholic doctor's role in the movie "Stagecoach."

A 12-year stint in Hollywood began for Mitchell when he came West for a role in "Lost Horizon." During his stay he played in 43 pictures including "Gone With the Wind," "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," "High Noon," "The Hurricane" and "Stagecoach."

Most recent in Broadway success for Mitchell was "Death of a Salesman."

'God's Hand' Saves Priest in Jet Bailout

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A Catholic Air Force chaplain who bailed out of a crashing jet plane said Saturday the "hand of God" pulled the ripcord of his parachute and carried him to safety.

The Rev. Cornelius F. McLaughlin, 39, of Philadelphia, who is stationed at the Sioux City, Iowa, Air Force Base, was hitchhiking a ride aboard a T33 jet trainer to Philadelphia to perform the marriage ceremony of a cousin.

Over Pine Bush, N. Y., Friday night the plane ran out of fuel and cracked up in a hayfield. Father McLaughlin and the pilot, Lt. Charles B. Henk, formerly of Trenton, N. J., both pushed the automatic controls which ejected them from the doomed plane.

FATHER McLAUGHLIN described it this way:

"I can read the instruments and I could see we were running out of gas. We had only about five gallons left. There was a low ceiling and I knew we couldn't land.

"I knew it was time for me to go, so I pushed the button to eject myself from the plane.

"I started to fall and the wind was so great that it pushed my helmet back over my head.

"Then I found I couldn't release the parachute ring—the ring you pull to pull the ripcord. I was falling head first.

"I KNEW THIS might be it. I said my prayers.

"I was pulling on this ring and I said 'Lord, don't let me die, I've got too much yet to do for thee.'

"With that, the hand of God must have pulled that ripcord. The parachute was immediately released.

"I don't know how much further I fell but I landed in a pretty tall tree in some marsh-land."

Father McLaughlin had with him a hunting knife lent him by a fellow officer and managed to cut himself free of the parachute and drop to the ground. Then he tramped through the woods to a farmhouse and telephoned to his home and to police that he was "okay."

HE ARRIVED in Philadelphia 45 minutes late for the wedding. It had already started but he was present for the ceremony.

The priest was first reported killed in the crash. When no body was found in the plane, a search was begun. Lt. Henk, who parachuted to safety without difficulty, had said he believed the priest had left the plane before he did.

Bedridden Mom Sees Graduation Via Movie Film

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis. (AP)—A bedridden mother will get to see her midshipman son graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy after all, thanks to intervention by President Eisenhower.

The mother, Mrs. Carmen Shafer, was too ill to travel to Annapolis, Md., to see her son, Richard, graduate, so the President arranged for Shafer's part in the commencement program to be filmed.

The films will be flown here so Mrs. Shafer can look at them at her bedside.

Denmark King's Library Too Small

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—King Frederik IX needs more library space. Librarians counted more than 100,000 volumes in the Christiansborg castle library and weeded out 1,000 duplicates. These will be sold at a Copenhagen second-hand bookshop at their market value.

CAMPUS chatter:

At the annual "Black and White Banquet" of Long Beach State College, several of the honorees were given for able and conscientious work on the various campus publications.

When they got around to the staff of the college yearbook, the Prospector, several of the honorees were missing. The names of Jim Moore, John Chillington, Gloria McCann, Barbara Rippenhagen and Sue Brooks were called, but none of these worthy young folks walked up to receive awards.

The reason: They were too busy that night, getting out the year book, to attend the banquet.

SOME strange requests are received at Long Beach City College, and one of the strangest of recent date came from a fellow named Wayne O'Neal of 829 West D St., Ontario.

He said he had met a student named Anthony at Victoria Beach, liked him very much, but forgot to get his full name or address.

"Would it be possible," he wrote to City College, "for you to send me the last names and addresses of all male students named Anthony?"

If the Anthony who was at Victoria Beach happens to read this, he might get in touch with O'Neal, and the college authorities, and save somebody a lot of work.

PAUL STRADER JR., who is making his first try for public office in the 70th Assembly district race next Tuesday, won't be here to find out how he fared in the voting. He'll have to get the news by telegram from associates.

Strader is leaving late on election day with his wife, the former Gilberte Muller, for Troyes, France, where Mrs. Strader will visit her mother. The Straders met and married while he was serving with the Judge Advocate General's Department in France during the war.

THIS department has been asked by Mrs. Dorothy Waller to pass along a good word for a couple of employees of the City Public Services Dept.

Mrs. Waller, a matron at the girls' gym at Rogers Junior High, lost her purse at Second and Covina, when she got out of her car. The public service men, working on a city job at the corner there, found the purse, took it across town to her home, and refused to take anything for a reward. Their names, she learned, were Comstock and Erickson.

Another purse-finding story comes from Henry Sausser, an elderly North Dakotan who spent the winter here and returned to his home a week or two ago.

Shortly before he left, Sausser lost his purse on the floor of a local restaurant. He had about given up hope of finding it when a letter arrived from the woman who had found it—Mrs. E. Ralph Collins, 207 La Verne Ave. Sausser is now back in North Dakota, singing the praises of Long Beach and the honest people who live here.

A RECENT item in our Ten Years ago column told how 800 pounds of butter a day was being received at the Long Beach post office.

This brought a flood of memories of the war days of rationing shortages, when midwestern relatives of local folks saved the day for them by mailing foods they couldn't buy on the local market.

No butter comes through the post office any more, according to Postmaster George McMillin.

"We don't even get any baby chicks any more," he said. "I used to be in the spring, we got cheeping chicks sent here from Texas or elsewhere. I haven't heard a cheep this year."

Outside of an occasional cake or box of cookies for service-men stationed here, the post office just isn't handling much incoming food. McMillin recalls that they used to get maple sugar and maple syrup in season from Vermont or thereabouts, but it's all right with him that that has stopped, too.

Every now and then the containers would break and free-running maple syrup can make a mess in the mail.

Dull Campaign Chugs Toward Close

50-Pct. Vote Seen; No Republican Race

By MALCOLM EPLEY

The 1956 primary campaign rattled around the turn for home today, still begging for public interest and not getting much.

From 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday, about half of the Long Beach area's 184,349 registered voters are expected to go to the polls in an election in which the only local partisan contests are for Democratic nominations.

Because of the lack of Republican contests here and the fact that President Eisenhower is unopposed for GOP presidential preference in the statewide balloting, Republican leaders were concerned about the danger of a smaller than usual Republican voter turnout.

On the Democratic side, the presidential preference contest between Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver had provoked the top interest in the primary campaign.

But even that appeared unlikely to produce enough voting to bring the total vote here up to more than about 50 per cent of the registration. In the 1954 primary, about 47½ per cent of the voters here went to the polls.

LOCALLY, PRIME interest centers around the chances of the three Republican incumbents to win double nominations.

Republican nominations are assured for Rep. Craig Hosmer in the 18th Congressional District, Assemblymen Herbert R. Klocksiem in the 44th Assembly District and Assemblyman W. S. Grant in the 70th Assembly District. These Republicans have no opposition on the GOP ballot, but they have crossed the Democratic side.

There, Hosmer will battle with Democrat Raymond C. Simpson for the Democratic Congressional nomination in the only local contest that has produced any fireworks in the campaign.

In the 44th Assembly District, Democrats will choose among Republican Klocksiem and Democrats Coy Sanders and Richard Nussell for the Democratic nomination. A three-way contest for the Democratic nomination in the 70th Assembly District finds Republican Grant and Democrats Dan T. Brice and Paul D. Strader as the candidates.

Simpson, Sanders and Brice have the endorsement of the volunteer Democratic Councils in their respective districts, and the primary may prove to be a test of the potency of this method of pre-primary endorsement. Nussell, in the 44th District, claims endorsement of the official party committees in the district and the county, and Strader has the endorsement of the 70th District Democratic County Central Committee.

The 44th and 70th Assembly Districts are divided generally along Orange Ave., with the 44th on the west. These two assembly districts constitute the 18th Congressional District, which comprises the Long Beach, Signal Hill and Lakewood areas.

LONG BEACH CITIZENS living on the west side of the city, which lies in the Fourth Supervisorial district, will mark their ballots in a contest between Supervisor Burton W. Chace, former Long Beach mayor, and Roy R. C. Sanderson of Redondo Beach. Chace is expected to get a heavy vote here in his bid for re-election.

The eastern boundary line of the Fourth Supervisorial District is the Pacific Ocean.

Navy Bride Found Dead in Her Home

June E. Wooten, 17, bride of a year, and a prospective mother, was found dead in her apartment by her husband, Lloyd B. Wooten, 20, of the USS Lucid, when he returned to his home, at 603 Truman Boyd Manor, Saturday, after being at sea for seven days.

Mrs. Wooten, reported to be subject to fainting spells, is believed by police to have broken her neck when she fell and struck her head against the wall of her bedroom early Saturday.

The body is at Dillard's Mortuary, pending coroner's examination.

Two friends of the deceased, Sylvia J. Ellis, 628 Truman Boyd Manor, and Willis D. Miller, 594 Truman Boyd Manor, told police that Mrs. Wooten had gone to a show with them Friday night, and they had left her at her apartment Saturday at 1:30 a.m., apparently in good health. Wooten said that his wife was being treated by a Navy doctor.

CONGRESS CANDIDATES

CRAG HOSMER

Hosmer, 41, is an attorney, a native of Brea, Calif., and grew up in Long Beach. He attended Wilson High, got his bachelor's degree at the University of California and his LL.B. degree at University of Southern California. He saw Navy service in World War II and attained the rank of commander. Hosmer entered politics as a candidate for Congress in 1950. He was first elected in 1952 and re-elected in 1954. A Republican, he has crossed-filled in the 1956 election. Hosmer generally supports the policies of President Eisenhower, but has differed with the Administration on some issues, notably the Upper Colorado water project. He is standing for re-election on the basis of his service to his district and the country and his established seniority in Congress.

RAYMOND C. SIMPSON

Simpson, 37, a Long Beach attorney, wants to go as congressman to Washington, D. C., his birthplace. He attended school in Long Beach and Pasadena, graduated in history at Pepperdine College, did graduate work in psychological warfare at the University of Hawaii, got his degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence at the University of Chicago. He has filed for Democratic nomination only in his second try for Congress. He states his basic economic philosophy proposes a program that will give to those who have an insufficiency, rather than giving more to those who already have a sufficiency. "I have campaigned on the basis of a practical, permanent peace program and equality in the civil rights field," said Simpson.

44TH ASSEMBLY DISTRICT ENTRIES

HERBERT R. KLOCKSIEM

Klocksiem, a former Long Beach City Councilman who went to the Legislature in 1950, is seeking his fourth term on the basis of the record which, he says, "is well known to all who are interested in the welfare of the community." He was born in Indiana, graduated from high school and went to business college there. He came to Long Beach 35 years ago and has engaged in business and home-building here. A Republican, he has crossed-filled in this year's primary. "I have worked constantly for good government, have represented this community vigorously, and have never missed a day of attendance at the Legislature since I was first elected," said Klocksiem. "I am asking for a vote of confidence that will elect me at the primary."

RICHARD J. NUSSSELL

Nussell, a senior coordinator-public relations engineer, has received the endorsement of the Democratic central committee in the county and his district. He ran in 1954, won the Democratic nomination, lost the election in the final. Nussell got his education at the University of Indiana, Bradley Tech, Roger Babson Institute and Long Beach City College. He feels that water development and settlement of the tidelands issue are prime issues. "I feel that a young, aggressive and highly qualified man should represent the 44th District, due to the fact that we're rapidly becoming an industrial district. That is why all organized labor as well as the Southern California Business Men's Assn. are backing me this election."

COY SANDERS

Sanders, a sales executive in the real estate business, filed for the Democratic nomination only after receiving endorsement of the 44th District Democratic Council. He is a graduate of Pomona College and the USC Delinquency Control Institute, and before entering real estate was engaged in juvenile work here. His civic work brought him selection as outstanding citizen in 1951 as a result of a poll of community leaders. Sanders has held no elective office, but sought the Assembly nomination in 1954. "A candidate's past experience," said Sanders, "is important only as it indicates the set of his mind. My community has given me much. I would like the privilege of repaying that debt."

70TH ASSEMBLY DISTRICT ENTRIES

W. S. GRANT

Grant, a retired oil company executive, with a long record of civic service in Long Beach, is seeking his fifth term in the Legislature. Grant is a native Californian, was educated in the state's public schools, and served eight years as overseas representative of the Union Oil Co. As a member of the tidelands interim committee at the last session of the Legislature, he carried the ball in bringing about the Long Beach tidelands settlement. Grant has filed for nomination by his own Republican Party and has crossed-filled for the Democratic nomination. He says that his service in the Legislature has been non-partisan in nature. "On the basis of faithful service and my knowledge of California's government, mental operations, I feel justified in asking for broad support in my bid for re-election," said Grant. "My record speaks for itself."

DAN T. BRICE

Brice, a union bricklayer who is making his first try for public office, got his education at the U. S. Maritime Academy at King's Point, Seton Hall University, Newark College of Engineering and Long Beach City College. He has been active in civic and political work in the community. Brice filed for the Democratic nomination after being endorsed by the 70th District Democratic Council. "I am for progress to keep pace with the vigor and growth of the state as a whole and the impact of the tremendous influx of young veterans and their families in the 70th Assembly District," said Brice. "I feel I am qualified to represent the district as a veteran aware of the problems of labor, and as a parent vitally concerned about school facilities and teacher shortages and the need for child care centers."

PAUL D. STRADER

Strader, a native of West Virginia, is a Long Beach attorney who was with the Judge Advocate General's Department in World War II and later served as a judge in a U. S. Occupation Court in Germany. He served for a time as deputy city prosecutor here. A Democrat, Strader filed for his own party nomination only after receiving endorsement of the district party central committee. His platform includes speeding up freeway work and using funds from the Long Beach tidelands for state office building in the Long Beach-Lakewood area. "My platform emphasizes the forward look," said Strader. "I'm looking ahead for the things that we need to improve our district. I feel I am qualified by age (39) and background to give the Long Beach-Lakewood area vigorous and aggressive representation."

COUNCIL PREPARES TO DO A NOAH WEBSTER

Legislators Study Group of Definitions for Zoning

By GEORGE WEEKS

City Council is about to take on a Noah Webster job.

After having sidestepped the assignment for two weeks, councilmen are scheduled to act Wednesday on a zoning dictionary—101 definitions prepared by the Planning Commission.

The new definitions are necessary for proper interpretation and administration of zoning regulations, according to Planning Director Werner Ruchti. Many definitions are completely lacking in the current Municipal Code. Ruchti asserted in a foreword to the proposed dictionary, Others are vague and meaningless and still others are contradictory.

And Noah Webster's standard masterpiece is not always helpful. Numerous definitions appearing there are not specific enough for application to zoning cases that come before the commission and the Council.

The planners propose that the Council order adoption of the revised language for inclusion in the Municipal Code.

Here are some typical definitions proposed by the commission for words in frequent use before official bodies—often with only a dim understanding as to what they mean:

Alley—Any public way 20 feet or less in width designed and intended to provide only a secondary means of access to any property abutting thereon.

Breeze-way—Any roofed structure which connects an accessory building with a main building. Such structure shall be of the same roof construction as the main building and shall not be less than 8 feet in width.

Building—Any structure having a single or common roof supported by columns or walls, for the housing, shelter or enclosure of persons, animals or property.

Court—Any open, unoccupied area, other than a yard, on the same lot with a building or buildings, and bounded on two or more sides by such building or buildings.

Frontage—All the property fronting on one side of a street between intersecting streets or between a street and right of way, waterway, park, beach, and of street or city boundary.

Hedge—Any type of plant material arranged as a barrier or boundary.

Lot—Land occupied or to be occupied by open uses, or by a building or buildings, including such open areas as are required by its ordinance, and having its frontage upon a street.

Motel or motor lodge—Any group of two or more detached or semi-detached buildings containing individual dwelling or sleeping units designed for or used by automobile tourists or

LIMPING TO L.B.

Dislocated Foot Bone Slows Candidate's Hike

By HARRY KARNIS

A dislocated foot bone slowed but did not halt Candidate Roy R. C. Sanderson Saturday in his 87-mile campaign walk through the 4th Supervisorial District.

Connie Anastassiou, Sanderson's special events co-ordinator, reported that the candidate treated the dislocation himself. "He's a chiropractor," she pointed out.

Saturday night found Sanderson limping through the San Pedro and Wilmington area.

And if all went well, said Miss Anastassiou, he would hit the road again early today and arrive at Long Beach's Lincoln Park about 11 a.m. End of the road will be Belmont Pier, at which Sanderson expects to arrive about 1 p.m.

THE LONG WALK started last Monday at Malibu Pier on the Ventura County line.

Sanderson strode briskly off with a campaign trunk following him. En route he halted to shake hands and make speeches on street corners. Before nightfall he had passed through Santa Monica and come to Beverly Hills, where a person afoot is always a rare specimen.

Tuesday he strode through Culver City and Venice. He took Memorial Day off and resumed the trek on Thursday, passing through Westchester and Manhattan Beach, Friday, Hermosa Beach and Redondo Beach.

Saturday in Torrance, asked how he felt, Sanderson said: "Great." Soon thereafter he limped to a halt with the bone dislocation. After some manipulation, he was able to proceed, however.

Said Miss Anastassiou who has campaign budget worries: "Thank heavens, he's a do-it-yourself candidate."

transients, with a garage attached or parking space on the same lot or site, including groups designated as automobile or auto court or tourist court.

Parcel of land—Any area of land which is not a lot as defined herein.

Rumpus or recreation room—A single room designed, used or intended to be used exclusively for recreational purposes by the occupants or guests of the occupants of the premises, however, no portion of such room shall be used as a kitchen.

Yard—Any open space, other than a court, adjacent in any lot line, unobstructed from the ground to the sky except for

REGIONAL POLITICS

Simpson Calls Report of Ships Transfers a Political Hokum

By The Lookout

A recent report of possible movement of Navy aircraft carriers to Long Beach became involved in political discussion Saturday as candidates in the congressional races at stake in Tuesday's election began mop-up operations in their campaigns.

Congressman Craig Hosmer's recent statement that possibly six aircraft carriers would be moved to Long Beach came under fire of his opponent, Raymond C. Simpson, who also took a shot at the local newspapers for printing the story.

But Hosmer said there was nothing wrong with the report, and that it is true that transfer of the carriers had been recommended by Vice Adm. A. M. Price, commander of the Pacific Fleet Air Forces, to Vice Adm. Felix B. Stump, commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet. Two carriers have already come here, he said. As to the others, he noted, the story made it clear that the movement was simply under consideration.

Simpson, addressing his campaign workers Saturday morning, claimed that the story and the way it was displayed in the newspaper appeared to represent a political conspiracy. He used such words as fraud, deception, concealment, hokum and political lies. He said that Los Angeles newspaper stories had refuted the report, but the refutation had not been printed in the Long Beach paper.

Hosmer commented that sometime ago he was asked by a member of the Press-Telegram staff about the possibilities of carrier transfers, after the reporter apparently heard about it on the "harbor beat" here. He said there was no conspiracy of any kind—just an attempt to get information on a matter of great interest in Long Beach. He made inquiries in Washington and learned of the recommendation, but again pointed out that no final action on six carriers had been announced. The headline over the story, it was noted, qualified the carrier movement strictly as a possibility, reading: "Navy May Move Six Carriers to L.B. Port."

Simpson said that the "exaggerated report" had led certain business men to negotiate costly leases for storerooms in which they propose to open businesses catering to Navy personnel.

POSTOFFICE ISSUE

"Simpson, Democratic candidate who is fighting Republican Hosmer's bid for a double nomination at Tuesday's voting, likewise took issue with publicity given reports of a new post office for Lakewood. He said he had investigated this matter and found it to be nothing but rumor.

Hosmer stated that the postmaster general has definitely reached a decision to establish a post office in Lakewood, and that the information printed on this matter is correct.

But Simpson said that a "prejudiced press is passionately pushing for the re-election of a do-nothing Congressman." He also complained that Hosmer has not identified himself as a Republican in campaign literature.

CLAIMS CONFLICT

In the other congressional race—that for U. S. Senator—there was news Saturday from the camps of Republican incumbent, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, and State Sen. Richard Richards, who is seeking the Democratic nomination.

Dan Kimball, chairman of Richards' committee, said Richards will win the Democratic nomination by a "convincing majority." Noting that Kuchel is trying for Democratic as well as the Republican nomination, he said "the cloak of non-partisanship with which he has sought

Richard Richards, Democrat, in the senatorial nomination contest, Richards, who has the endorsement of the California Democratic Council, has filed for Democratic nomination only.

IN THE NONPARTISAN department of the balloting, Los Angeles County voters will name 28 Superior Court judges Tuesday. There are contests in only three races and little interest has been shown in this situation here.

Also on the nonpartisan ballot is the district attorney election, with District Attorney S. Ernest Roll seeking re-election as the only filed candidate.

All local voters will find two measures on their ballots. One, Prop. C, would authorize an increase in the tax limitation for general operation of the Long Beach Unified School District. The other, Prop. AV, would permit the Metropolitan Water District to issue short-term notes to finance expansion of the system through which it distributes Colorado River water to 6,000,000 Southern Californians. There has been little controversy over either proposal.

In each Assembly district, party registrants will choose seven members of the County Central committees of both major parties in Tuesday's voting. This phase of the campaign has received a modicum of attention.

to surround himself will be ripped away for all to see."

But the Kuchel campaign committee announced Saturday that 40 of the state's top labor leaders "have given their blessing to U. S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel and will urge members of their unions to vote for him."

BRICE CAMPAIGN
Dan T. Brice, Democratic candidate for 70th District Assemblyman, tapered off his campaign over the weekend.

He concluded a series of house parties at the home of Carol and Lou Zukor, 3144 Stevely Ave., where he spoke in behalf of Propositions C and W on the Tuesday ballot.

MRS. SNYDER SPEAKS
Mrs. Elizabeth Snyder, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, will be guest speaker for the June meeting of the Long Beach Democratic Luncheon Club at noon Monday in the Empire Room of the Wilton Hotel.

The club usually meets on Tuesday, but is holding its luncheon on Monday "so members can get out and work to get people to exercise their right to vote on Tuesday," according to Joe Kennick, club president. Mrs. Snyder is the first woman to be elected to the Democratic party's top state post.

Monaco Mum on Grace's Expectations

MONTE CARLO UP—If Grace Kelly is going to have a baby, nobody in Monaco admits knowing anything about it.

The American actress is Her Highness Princess Grace of Monaco, since her marriage to Prince Rainier III in April.

The prince's personal chaplain, Father Francis Tucker, said Saturday when asked about rumors that the Prince and Grace were expecting: "I don't know anything about it."

Officials in the tiny principality on the Riviera coast also said they were completely in the dark as to whether the honeymooning couple are about to become parents.

Membership Up for Girls Scouts

NEW YORK (AP)—Girl Scout membership reached an all-time high of 2,642,616 last year, the Girl Scouts said Saturday in their annual report to Congress.

The report revealed that the organization is increasing by more than 850 members a day. "One out of eight girls of scout age (7-17) is a Girl Scout, according to the report.

Drink Less Milk, Heart Doctor Urges

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Dr. Irvine H. Page, president of the American Heart Association said Saturday that Americans should drink less milk to cut down their calorie intake.

Page, director of research at the Cleveland clinic and an internationally known heart specialist, spoke at the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Heart Assn.

JOURNALISM STUDENTS HONORED

The outstanding journalists at Long Beach State College and Long Beach City College received trophies last week from the Independent Press-Telegram unit of the Los Angeles Newspaper Guild. ## College Journalists Gain Guild Honors

James E. (Jim) Mangan, a senior at Long Beach State College, and Ben Cunningham, finishing his second year at Long Beach City College, have been chosen as the city's outstanding journalistic students for the 1955-56 college year.

Mangan and Cunningham received trophies last week from the Independent Press-Telegram unit of the Los Angeles Newspaper Guild at respective banquets of the colleges' publications organizations.

Runners-up at LBSC who received certificates of merit for outstanding journalistic work on campus publications were Elson E. Irwin, Ursula Delworth, Ronald Rodecker and Mrs. Dorothy Sawyer.

Those getting similar certificates at LBCC were Frank Goolsby, Holly Hill, Atlee Arnold, Miji Skare, Charles Jackson and Bob Crittendon. Jackson and Crittendon are students at the Business and Technology Division of LBCC and received their citations at a separate meeting.

JUDGING WAS DONE by a Guild committee composed of Donnell Culpepper, chairman, Fred Kraft and Ted Kree. Mangan, who is married and has six children, lives at 3521 Charlemagne Ave. He is a retired Navy chief. He served in World War II in a destroyer division. He entered LBSC in 1954 after his retirement and Cunningham, editor of The Viking, served in the Korean War with the Army. He is married and has one son. He and his family live at 3349 Gondar Ave.

Cunningham, who went to high school in Dayton, Ohio, plans to continue his studies at the University of Southern California next year. He will major in political science, with a minor in journalism.

Both men already have done some writing for this newspaper, particularly in the sports field.

Culpepper, speaking to the journalism students at both colleges, explained the purposes of the awards, namely to encourage more Long Beach students to study journalism, and to take up newspaper work as a career.

This is the fourth year that the awards have been presented. In addition to the cups, each college has a permanent plaque on which the names of the top winners are inscribed each year.

3 Seek Thompson's Water Post Tuesday

T. Mayne Thompson of Bellflower, incumbent director of Division 5 in the Central Basin Municipal Water District, will face competition from three Lakewood City residents in Tuesday's election.

Seeking Thompson's post are school teacher Wilson Bell of 4203 Maybank Ave., truck loading contractor Phillip Guy Patterson of 5619 Verdura Ave., and dairyman Joseph J. Covas of 4551 Lakewood Blvd.

All three Lakewood men have been active in Lakewood political life. Bell is a member and past chairman of the City Planning Commission. Patterson is a member and past chairman of the City Traffic and Safety Commission. Covas was an unsuccessful candidate for City Council at the time of incorporation two years ago.

The incumbent director, Thompson, resides at 947 Beach

Ave. He is active in Bellflower community affairs and is associated with Thompson's store. Division 5 includes Lakewood, Bellflower, Signal Hill, Paramount, Artesia, Hawaiian Gardens and Norwalk.

AN OPEN LETTER TO OUR FELLOW DEMOCRATS

DEMOCRATS FOR KUCHEL COMMITTEE

704 SOUTH SPRING ST. ROOM 402 • TRINITY 2457 • LOS ANGELES 14, CALIFORNIA
May 29, 1956

Fellow Democrats:

As Democrats, we have three choices for United States Senator on June 5. The first name on our ballot is that of our incumbent United States Senator, Thomas H. Kuchel, who has ably represented California in the United States Senate for the past 3 1/2 years and is now up for re-election.

Tom Kuchel has a background of 20 years of service to this State and nation as Assemblyman, State Senator, Navy veteran, State Controller and United States Senator, to which high post he was named by Governor Earl Warren in 1952 and elected by over 300,000 majority two years ago.

He has been a hard-working, efficient senator, serving the best interests of all the people. During his 3 1/2 years in the United States Senate, he has sponsored legislation to assure prevailing wage standards on Federal projects, to protect veterans against loss of their G.I. insurance, to increase old age assistance, to increase salaries of low-paid Postal employees and other Government workers, to provide stronger penalties against dope traffic, to provide Federal assistance in school building and to protect the rights of citizens before Senate investigating committees. The best evidence of his ability to get things done is the fact that 49 bills which he has sponsored have been voted into public law.

He has been strongly endorsed by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, The Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen, and many other organizations representing labor, industry and just plain people.

Neither of his opponents can match this record. In our opinion, they are by comparison sadly lacking in the experience, good judgment and proved ability of Senator Kuchel. California now enjoys a high level of prosperity for all the people. Now is no time to risk our jobs and our income by electing an untried and inexperienced United States Senator.

A record is better than a promise. After studying the records of these three candidates, we believe there can be but one choice. We urge you to join with us to re-elect United States Senator Tom Kuchel on June 5.

Yours for Good Government.

Forced air heating system has a summer cooling system. Aluminum casement windows are provided and there is Rockwool insulation in ceilings. The homes are built on lots large enough to have a swimming pool.

Front, side and rear lawns are completely landscaped and there is a 5-foot basket weave fence enclosing the back yard. The over-size garages have extra room.

From Long Beach drive east on Spring St., which becomes Cerritos Ave., and the homes are located on Cerritos between Magnolia and Gilbert Sts. They also may be reached by driving east on 7th St. (Garden Grove Blvd.) to Gilbert and turn left. Or go east on Carson (Lincoln Blvd.) to Gilbert and turn right.

IN CHAMPAGNE HOME

Here is one of the attractive Champagne Homes in Garden Grove which has easy terms for both vet and non-vet.

Like Carrousel Room in Champagne Homes

Designed for a regular merry-go-round of fun and at-home relaxation, day in and day out, the lively and gay "Carrousel Room" continues to attract throngs of visitors to Contracting Engineers' Champagne Homes at Magnolia and Chapman Ave. in suburban Garden Grove.

Designed by Smith and Williams, noted architects who captured the 1954 National Award of Merit for the most "livable" home design, and imaginatively decorated by C. Tony Pereira, world-famed color stylist and interior decorator, this highly versatile room was transformed, through design ingenuity, from an ordinary garage room to a colorful fun-room.

Appropriately, it utilizes informal Dutch doors, striped wooden valances, decor that is as clever as it is original, and unique fixture. Together they successfully convert its happy theme.

A VARIETY of floor plans are available, offering 3 and 4 bedrooms, plus the "Carrousel Room." Each has two big, bright baths, and an oversized two-car garage.

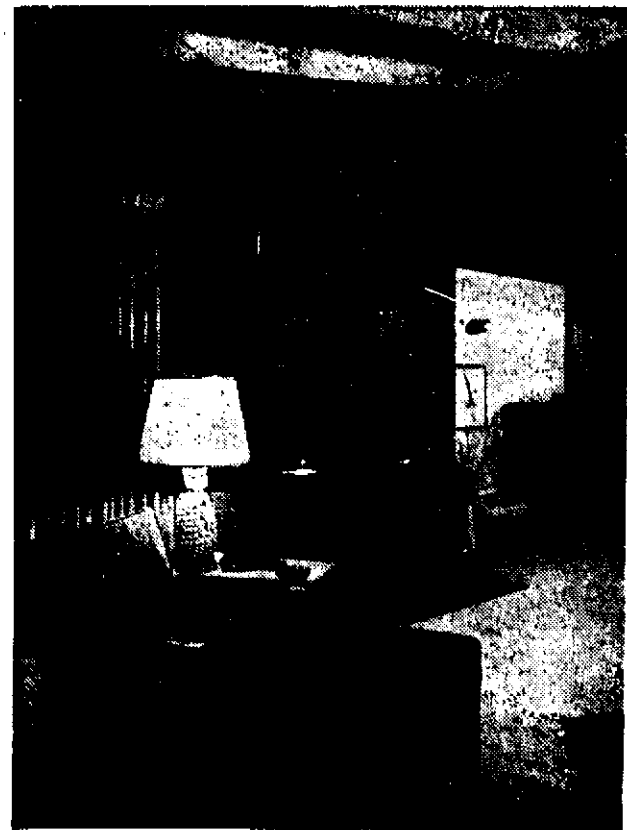

Typical is "Horizon House." It features a giant floor-to-ceiling fireplace, covered patio with built-in barbecue, and sumptuous master suite with its own private adjoining bathroom.

"Galaxy Home" is noteworthy for its lovely and authentic Swedish fireplace, comfortable family room, and unique interior masonry.

Frank Chandler of Pioneer Land Co., sales agent, explained that non-veterans may now move into one of these prestige residences for only $985.50 down.

Easier-than-rental purchase plans are also available to veterans, Chandler explained.

Champagne Homes are reached from Long Beach via 7th St. (Garden Grove Blvd.) to Magnolia; turn left and drive to model homes at Magnolia and Chapman in Garden Grove.

Ad Group Will Meet

The Long Beach Advertising Club joins the Advertising Club of Los Angeles in playing host to more than 1,000 advertising men and women from the 11 Western states who will meet in Los Angeles June 24 to 28, when the Advertising Association of the West holds its 1956 convention at the Statler Hotel.

Robert W. Sample, convention general chairman, said the 5-day meeting will be known as an "Ad-Orama," with many of the nation's outstanding advertising specialists participating.

Actress Arlene Dahl will serve as the Ad-Orama honorary hostess.

Sample said Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, Treasurer of the United States; Mayor Norris Poulson of Los Angeles; Norman Strouse, President of J. Walter Thompson, and William G. Werner, advertising manager, Procter and Gamble, will be speakers on the opening day.

Special convention events listed by Sample include a reception on Sunday, June 24, sponsored by the Los Angeles Newspaper Publishers Association, a dinner-dance at the Beverly Hilton Hotel, June 25, a tour of CBS color television facilities and dinner at the Moulin Rouge, June 26, President's Banquet, June 27, and a tour of Disneyland, June 28.

Kress Store Will Expand Sales Area

Work already is well under way on a vast remodeling program at the S. S. Kress Co. building, 5th and Pine Ave., and when completed it will make a decided change in the downtown appearance, store officials announced.

On the exterior a new veneer will be installed up to the third floor, blending with the new modern fronts on other stores in the area. The upper floors of the towering office structure will be painted to blend with the veneer.

Much of the half-million-dollar program will be done inside the Kress Store which occupies the main floor and basement.

Sales space of the store will be increased 25 per cent to make the store the largest in the Southland. New types of displays will be installed.

The ceiling of the main floor will be lowered and the entire store is to be air-conditioned. The lunch counter will be moved from the basement to the main floor. Escalators will be

Sees Great Future for Own-Your Owns

With Long Beach virtually filled as far as housing tracts are concerned, it now is becoming one of the leaders in the nation in own-your-own apartments, reports A. Charles Koerner, 219 Cedar, who has sold more than $2 million of the units.

"We started these own-your-owns in a big way here in Long Beach when in the sale of the 'stead of lifetime leases," said Koerner. "Now others are doing the same."

Koerner now has booked for selling the remainder of the year $1,138,000 worth of the units.

Soon ready for offering will be the Coronado Manor, 3130 E. 2nd St., 12 units built by Howard Latham of Howard's Jewelry Co.

UNIQUE IN THIS development will be the offering of a full basement garage with each apartment provided with a separate garage with front drive in.

In the units will be the new General Electric Dream kitchen with the hanging wall refrigerator. Stainless steel tops cover such accessories as dishwasher, washer and dryer. Push button controls are used in the operation.

Koerner also is listing the Twin Manor, 1242 E. 2nd St., 40 units which have singles, doubles and even 3-bedroom apartments with den and 2 baths.

"There now are over 5,000 units of own-your-owns in Long Beach and the popularity is spreading," said the real estate broker. "Because these apartments offer families fine homes with no lawn care, no maintenance problem and close-in living they are gaining in popularity daily," he added.

Von's New Lakewood Market Will Open for Preview Tuesday

Von's Lakewood Market, located at Carson St. and Woodruff Ave., will open this week, presenting the Lakewood-Long Beach area with the most modern store operated by the 56-year-old grocery company.

Tuesday and Wednesday will be "preview days" while the gala formal opening celebration is scheduled for Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Perc Reins, general manager of the big new market, announced that for the 4-day formal opening celebration there will be a big "Food Fair" sponsored by many of the major firms selling products in the store. This food show, which will see many samples and gifts given the public, will be held out of doors so the interior of the market will not be jammed.

"THIS WILL BE the 25th market in Von's chain and company officials said it will be one of their largest and their most modern.

Surrounded by acres of free parking, the store is of modern architecture to provide customer ease in shopping. Extremely wide aisles are used.

"This market is a virtual one-stop shopping center," explained Reins. "Patrons will find more than 6,000 items stocked on the easy-to-shop display racks.

"Besides the large grocery, meat and produce departments we will have separate departments such as drugs and sundries, liquor, big delicatessen, snack bar, Van de Kamp's Bakery and a large bulk cookie department.

"A GIANT DAIRY BOX is another feature and we will have a hand-packed ice cream department.

"Special services such as check cashing, utility paying desk and a speedway checking stand also will be provided."

The big market will open at 9 a. m. every morning and close at 9 p. m. except on Friday nights when it will remain open until 10 p. m.

License Examiner Really Can Preach

HUGO, Okla. (AP)—A 34-year-old drivers' license examiner with the Oklahoma Department of Public Safety has been busy since February combining his present job with newer duties as a minister.

R. J. Brown is looking forward to an even busier schedule as he prepares to further his education in the ministry. One of his problems was solved when a friend offered to pay his tuition for a session at Oklahoma Baptist University, Shawnee.

Active in church work since the age of 16, Brown was ordained as a minister last February and since has served as full-time pastor of Oak Grove Baptist Church.

Buena Park Mutual Homes Can Assure Early Move-in

Construction has begun on the first units of Buena Park Mutual Homes, promising buyers an early move-in date at the newest development by the builders of Lakewood Park. The developers are working several crews simultaneously to speed up completion of homes already sold as well as those for sale this weekend in the "Center of the Southland," Buena Park.

Months of planning have gone into making Buena Park Mutual Homes a complete community in which to live. A shopping center, which will be located across from the southwest corner of the unit will include a Sears, Roebuck and Co. store as well as specialty shops. Immediately west on Grand Ave., builders have scheduled construction of a 50-acre shopping center which will include a supermarket, bowling alley, department, drug and specialty stores.

An elementary school within walking distance of all homes in the development is scheduled to open next semester, and Buena Park Mutual Homes are surrounded by churches of all denominations.

EACH 3 OR 4-BEDROOM Buena Park Mutual Home is designed with custom features. These include hardwood paneling in living rooms, slumped stone or brick fireplaces, sliding glass doors opening onto large patios, marble counter tops with twin lavatories and medicine chests in master bathrooms, colored fixtures in both baths, attractive louvered, folding and paneled doors, built-in planters and decorator-planned interiors.

Buena Park Mutual Homes are built to be a sound lifetime investment. Concrete foundations raised 2 feet off the ground, hardwood floors, Rock Wool insulation, split shake cedar, colored rock or composition roofs, aluminum ash windows and sliding doors, and large lots on tree-lined safety-engineered streets are a few of the worthwhile features.

With a total of 30 different exteriors available in 10 basic floorplans, Buena Park Mutual Homes offer an architectural styling to fit every taste. Everything from Early American and Farmhouse to Contemporary models with colored rock roofs are available at Buena Park Mutual Homes, with each home situated on a wide lot with plenty of indoor-outdoor living space. Several two-story models are included in the wide selection.

WITH ALL THESE extra-value features, homeseekers are surprised to learn that Buena Park Mutual Homes are available to veterans and non-vets with down payments as low as $295.

The low cost, long-term financing is available to veterans who have used their GI benefits, no matter when or where they were used, and to all non-vets.

Buena Park Mutual Homes may be reached from Long Beach by driving east on Carson which becomes Lincoln Ave. Turn left on Grand Ave. (Highway 39) to the sales office at 7422 S. Grand Ave.

MODEL HOMES OPEN

Television stars Rosemary LaPlante and Harry Koplan relax in the furnished living room of a Buena Park Mutual Home. Home buyers are being welcomed to the development this weekend.

TOWERING SIGN

This 60-foot sign can be seen for many miles to direct homeseekers to the Merryville Estates which is having a grand opening today.

Tobin's Merryville Estates in Opening

"Look for the signs of the Tobin Companies, builders and beautiful Queen... she points the way to the grand opening of Tobin's new Merryville Estates this weekend in Buena Park." This advertising theme supports the program of the new 3 and 4-bedroom, 2-bath homes priced from $15,195 to $16,600.

Terms for vets are no money down and low monthly payments of $77.61. For non-vets the terms are only $2,500 down and low monthly payments of $94.22 including principal and interest. Prospective buyers who saw Merryville Estates last week during the preview showing were delighted with the home selections which consist of 8 furnished models and 19 new exteriors. It has been pointed out by those closely related to the building industry that these new homes are the first in the nation to include so many of the newest and latest conceptions in planning, design and construction.

HERBERT D. TOBIN of the signs literally cover the area. From Los Angeles take the Santa Ana Freeway to Grand (Highway 39), right to Lincoln—right to models. From the Long Beach area it is suggested you follow Lincoln or Carson east to Buena Park. Visitors will have little trouble locating Merryville because the "Queen" signs literally cover the area.

Orangewood Manor Reports Only Three Homes Remaining

There are only 3 homes remaining in Orangewood Manor reports Thomas Helt, spokesman for the McCarthy Company, sales agents for the Garden Grove development. These homes can be purchased by veterans with no down payment, Helt pointed out. Kitchens in Orangewood Manor have proven very popular with their beautiful Roper gas ranges in pastel colors that match the Columbia steel cabinets. The living rooms boast real fireplaces and walls of glass that offer popular indoor-outdoor living. Patios have built-in barbecues.

From Long Beach, visitors drive out 7th St. (Garden Grove Blvd.) and turn north on Magnolia. From Los Angeles, take the Santa Ana Freeway, turn south on Magnolia and continue 4 miles to Orangewood Manor.

ANAHEIM HOME

Typified are the seven 3 and 4-bedroom, 2-bath homes which remain in Wonderland Homes' first unit in Anaheim, at corner of Ball Rd. and Walnut St., off the Santa Ana Freeway. Available because early buyers failed to qualify, the homes are offered to vets at savings.

'Bargain-Priced' Homes Offered

Seven lucky home seekers may save $1,200 to $1,500 each today at Wonderland Homes in the Anaheim area, where 7 homes returned to the market because early buyers failed to qualify are to be sold at considerably below the current price of such 4-bedroom, 2-bath homes.

This was announced yesterday by a spokesman for the development, who said that although all homes of this quality will sell for much more money, the 7 homes which have returned to the market will be let go at their original prices of $12,485 to $13,825.

Terms of nothing down but costs and impositions are available to vets, with monthly payments actually lower than rent, it was stated.

"The 173 homes in our new unit will have higher prices and the monthly payments will have to be higher also because labor is higher now and all materials cost more," the official pointed out. "This means the first 7 buyers who show up on Sunday will get a real bargain in both total price and in terms."

Designed by Architect William M. Bray, A. I. A., Wonderland Homes are located on the southwest corner of Ball Rd. and Walnut St. in Anaheim, within easy reach of Long Beach.

Visitors, it is suggested, should follow Carson (Lincoln) to Euclid Ave., turning right on Euclid to Ball Rd. where a left turn leads to Walnut St. and the model homes.

Home features include lots with from 6 to 8 full-bearing orange trees, living rooms with a complete wall of glass and sliding glass doors, fixed floor-to-ceiling windows overlooking paved patios, forced air heating, hood and fan over kitchen range area, garbage disposers, ceramic tile in bathrooms.

Lincoln Park Homes Built to Offer Gracious Living

Gracious living is a reality in Lincoln Park, located at Lincoln and Brookhurst in Anaheim, salesmen point out.

Built by Centex Construction Co., the nation's largest residential builder, these homes feature outstanding quality of construction and expert planning, in keeping with the company policy of offering the discriminating home buyer "the most house for the money."

Typical of the workmanship and planning which have earned Centex the title of "First in the Nation" is the Grant, one of five furnished models now open for inspection. Planned with a central hall arrangement, this home has such noteworthy features as double fireplaces of used brick, wall of built-in bookcases and cabinets, natural ash cabinets in the kitchen, built-in range and oven of antique copper finish, separate dining area, large utility room just off the kitchen, sliding doors to spacious closets, two baths with colored bath fixtures, glass-enclosed shower stalls, and tiled pullman sections topped with double medicine cabinets.

The master bedroom has its own adjoining bath, and opening off the hall are two other bedrooms with ash-paneled doors, a large linen closet with pull-out tray for sorting and folding, and utility closet housing the water heater and forced-air furnace.

OAK HARDWOOD floors, laid over conventional foundations, add to the beauty and livability of the home, and the walls are lath and plastered, combining two of the features most sought in a home. Throughout the interior and exterior of the home, custom-styled color schemes featuring decorator wallpaper in the kitchen, baths, and bedrooms add a distinctive note.

Included in the sales price, ranging from $15,625 to $16,250, are a five-foot redwood fence, and complete lawns, plus a patio opening off the living room by sliding glass walls. All amenities are installed at the builder's expense; and the location, inside the city limits of Anaheim, offers easy access to freeways, a shopping centers, churches, schools, and recreation areas, plus regular bus service into Anaheim.

Available to both veteran and FHA purchasers, a few homes are now ready for occupancy, and more homes are being completed daily, according to Tom Price, sales manager.

Take Santa Ana freeway to La Palma, turn right then immediately left onto Brookhurst, one mile to Lincoln, where 5 models are open from 10 to 9 daily.

Air-Conditioned Castle Crest Homes in Anaheim Shown Today

Castle Crest Homes, fully air-conditioned homes within reach of the Junior executive, open today in Anaheim.

Large, luxurious, the homes are available to veterans for only $84.04 per month, and to non-vets on FHA terms at only $75 per month, according to Walker & Lee, sales agents. Both monthly payments include principal and interest.

The air conditioning — not merely air-cooling — is one of many luxury features in Castle Crest homes located on Broadway just east of Magnolia Blvd. A complete forced air heating system is also included.

In the homes on their unusually large lots are such quality items as Armstrong inlaid linoleum, acoustical ceilings, full insulation, lath and plaster walls and fine hardwood floors. All homes have 3 bedrooms, 2 baths and separate dining room.

Colorful bathrooms have separate electric heaters and three-dimensional mirrors over the pullman sinks.

The 2-car garages have extra access doors built in, and workshop areas provided.

To attend the preview opening of Castle Crest's models, drive out 7th St. which becomes Garden Grove Blvd. to Magnolia Blvd., turn left and proceed to signs indicating the Castle Crest entrance.

Hawaiian Village Given Setting of Private Park

A new high in privacy and individuality is achieved in Hawaiian Village. Ivan Wells, builder, said yesterday in describing his latest subdivision of hand-somely designed homes in a setting like a private park with its own entrance gate.

Rapidly and easily accessible to metropolitan Los Angeles via the Santa Ana Freeway or to Long Beach, Hawaiian Village homes are located at Houston St. and Brookhurst Ave. in Anaheim. A special open house is being held this weekend in the furnished models, Wells said.

Unique feature at Hawaiian Village is the radiant heat, floor heating system usually found only in homes of much higher price brackets. Home seekers are invited to ask salesmen more about this unusual feature that means much in comfortable living, Wells said. Popular with buyers are the attractively designed combination fireplace-barbecues.

Planned for practicability as well as beauty, Hawaiian Village homes offer a maximum of built-in equipment, listed by the builders as O'Keefe & Merritt gas ranges and ovens, General Electric automatic dishwashers, General Electric washer-dryers and disposals.

With spaciousness a double-plus feature, Hawaiian Village homes have 3 bedrooms and family room, or 4 bedrooms, all with 2 baths.

According to the builders, both VA and FHA terms are available in these new homes priced from $15,250 to $16,250. From Long Beach, drive out 7th St. (which becomes Garden Grove Blvd.). Turn left (or north) on Brookhurst Ave. Continue north on Brookhurst across the Santa Ana Freeway (at La Palma signals). Then continue on Brookhurst to Houston St. to Hawaiian Village models.

THIS VETERAN IS SORRY!

He qualified for a $14,025 house, so he bought it. Now he realizes an Award Home at $12,025 would have given him just as much. He had to move into his new home with his dingy old furniture. That $2,000 meant "No furniture!" His monthly payments are so high that his budget is straining at the seams. No fun for his family!

THIS VETERAN IS HAPPY!

He could have qualified for a $14,025 home, but he chose an Award Home for only $12,025. Now he finds that the size, construction, and luxury are at least equal to costlier houses. With the $2,000 he saved, he bought new furniture. His monthly payments are less than rent for his new Award Home—only $61.93. Plenty of money left over to enjoy life!

Lower Terms, Quick Occupancy Offered

Availability of some homes for immediate occupancy and terms of nothing down for vets and only $195 down for non-vets was credited yesterday with these 3-bedroom, 2-bath homes boosting sales at Candy Stick Lane Estates, new development offered for immediate occupancy at 11791 Medina Dr., Garden Grove.

"Vets may move in for nothing down but costs and impounds," a spokesman said, "and non-vets may buy one of these 3-bedroom, 2-bath homes for only $195 down. Some are Lane Estates, new development offered for immediate occupancy at 11791 Medina Dr., Garden Grove.

homes have such features as planter-view fireplaces, hardwood floors, 68-foot lots, covered patios, huge sliding glass doors, separate service porches, copperized range hoods with fans, garbage disposers, steel wardrobe doors, large lighted closets and spacious breakfast nooks. . . .

BUYERS HAVE been impressed, it was reported, by the location of the new community, which is rising in the center of a built-up luxury residential area in which many homes are valued at $30,000 and more.

It was noted also that sales have been stimulated by the ease with which both vets and non-vets may qualify for the unusually low terms.

"The income of wives, as well as husbands, is taken into consideration in figuring eligibility for home ownership of non-vets," a spokesman explained.

To reach the property, visitors from Long Beach are directed to follow 7th St., which becomes Garden Grove, to Euclid Ave. in Garden Grove. Euclid is then taken north to Chapman Ave., where a left turn leads to Medina Dr., just 4 short blocks west of Euclid.

Range Queen Will Appear at Beverly Gardens Unit

Donna Cole, "Queen of the Western Ranges," will be on hand today in the model homes at Beverly Gardens to demonstrate the new Western-Holly built-in de luxe double oven with rotisserie and range top. It was announced by George J. Heltzer, builder-developer of the community in the heart of Garden Grove.

The new appliance, an optional feature being shown for the first time in Southern California, can cook an entire meal in the upper oven while a "holiday-size" turkey or roast turns on the spit of the lower oven. Each oven is equipped with a round "look-through" window and automatic clock control.

QUALITY FEATURES offered in these 4 and 3-bedroom homes include hardwood floors, bath and plaster walls and ceilings, wood shingle roofs, real fireplaces, forced air heating and convenient separate service porches. It was pointed out, "This last feature," said

Heltzer, "is too frequently omitted in modern homes. Women want a separate utility porch to keep laundry dry out of the kitchen. Recent polls of women home-seekers consistently place this feature high on the must-have list."

Immediate possession is available to qualified buyers and veterans may still purchase Beverly Gardens homes for no money down except usual impounds and closing costs, according to spokesmen for Walker & Lee, Non-veterans pay $1700 down sales agents.

Prices range from $14,000 to $14,750. Monthly payments from $62.36 include principal and interest and conventional 4 1/2 per cent financing is available to any purchaser. It was emphasized, Unit No. 5 is nearly sold out.

Beverly Gardens is reached from the Long Beach area via 7th St. (Garden Grove Blvd.) to West St.; turn left on West and drive to Chapman Ave. and the model homes.

Laurel Homes' Coral Gardens Have Wealth of Extra Features

Home buyers' enthusiasm based on unusual "Islander" designs by Architect Richard L. Drucker, wood-burning natural fireplaces and popular all-electric kitchens has brought large crowds and heavy sales to Laurel Homes' Coral Gardens in Anaheim.

Available to nonvets on conventional financing as low as $990 down, and priced from $14,800 to $14,900, these homes may be reached by following the Santa Ana Freeway to Orange, (Thorpe Ave., turning east to Raymond ("E") St., driving south one street to Romneya and then turning left to Acacia St.

Thousands of visitors were reported at the furnished model home, with color co-ordination by "Marie" and decor by Modern Interior of California.

"BUYERS ENJOY the tropic interior colors, capturing the flavor of the South Pacific, and the wealth of special features," a spokesman said. "These include Panador sliding aluminum glass doors set in 12-foot walls of glass, sliding aluminum windows, Modernfold accordion-type doors between den and living room, blown acoustical type ceilings, solid oak hardwood floors on conventional foundations, huge wardrobe closets and enclosed service areas."

Also high on the list of favored features are breakfast nooks and dining alcoves, bath and plaster walls, 75,000 BTU forced air furnaces, Modernaire and—hold your breath—it's a custom hood and fan over range, Waste-King garbage disposers, beech hardwood kitchen cabinets, divided sinks, attached or detached over-size garages

Enchanted Homes Are Available to Both Veteran, Non-Veteran

Both veterans and non-veterans may purchase a unique Enchanted Home in Garden Grove. Pioneer Land Co., sales agents, said Saturday.

Because of the luxurious appearance of the highly-individualized Enchanted Homes, many viewers have thought them to be in a much higher price category.

The complete Enchanted Home, with its heavy shake, sweeping roofs and giant antique brick fireplaces are available from only $15,300 to $15,400 with low down payments on both VA and FHA terms.

Built in an unusual "south-of-France" style, the new Enchanted Homes have sparkling diamond-like windows, and a wide variety of exterior brick and wood panelling. They are exceptionally cool in summer with wide sun-sheltering eaves.

INSIDE EACH Enchanted Home are such welcome features as 3 unusually large bedrooms, 2 big and colorful bathrooms, and a completely separate powder room with its own shower, wide mirror and charming make-up table.

In the Enchanted Kitchen are fine built-in range and oven, life-time Formica-topped work surfaces, efficient garbage disposer and many natural birch cabinets.

Antique brick forms a high and wide fireplace with commodious hearth, and an attractive and durable family room provides a work and play center for the entire household at all hours.

All Enchanted Homes have hardwood floors with two-inch sub-floors, 75,000 BTU forced air heaters with summer cooling and finger-tip thermostat control, and 50-gallon water heaters. To reach Enchanted Homes from Los Angeles, take Santa Ana Freeway to Hwy. 39 in Buena Park; turn right to Orangewood, then left to models. From Long Beach, take 7th St. to Stanton, turn left to Orangewood and right to the furnished models color-coordinated by Dale Fahrney.

AN ENCHANTED HOME

Turned-wood posts, antique brick fireplace and sparkling diamond-like windows are individual features of Enchanted Homes in Garden Grove. Shown is a living room of one of these homes which are available to both vets and non-vets for low-down-payments on VA and FHA terms.

Big Kitchen Is Appealing in Town-Country Square

Step-saving Freedom Gas Kitchens in each new home are proving to be an outstanding attraction to home buyers at Town and Country Square in Buena Park, according to Larwin Co., builder-developers.

The Freedom Gas Kitchens carry out the quality-plus theme of the new homes. Kitchens feature built-in Western-Holly ovens and range with exhaust fan over cooking area; colorful ceramic tile drainboards and counter tops; Waste-King garbage pulverizer; spacious cabinets of either natural ash or knotty pine, and breakfast nooks or smart snack bars. An optional feature is a Servel Ice-Maker Refrigerator.

to be placed in the 1956 National "Hall of Fame" Exhibit in Washington, D. C.

Bedrooms vary according to the plan used in the design of the home, providing the buyer with plenty of leeway in making a selection according to the requirements of his family.

Three bedrooms and "Jack-and-Jill" room are provided for in plan "A." Three and den are included in plan "B," and plan "C" contains three and family room.

All homes contain 2 baths and a 2-car garage, and are priced from $14,315.

Spacious lots are completely landscaped with lawns on the front, side, and rear, a Parkway tree, fruit trees, and a variety of lovely shrubs.

Park 7 Homes Draw Huge Crowds Daily

Park 7 Homes, distinctive new community offering the relaxed comfort of country living yet located only 14 minutes from the center of Long Beach, has drawn as many as 1,000 visitors in a day. It was disclosed by Nathan Schneider, president of Parkside Construction Co., builders.

Located in the brand-new community of North Westminster, Park 7 Homes are situated on Garden Grove Blvd. west of Stanton. This is an extension of 7th St., a principal Long Beach artery.

QUALITY-BUILT, the new homes are priced from $14,700, with monthly payments as low as $74.19 including principal and interest. They are available on both VA and FHA loans.

Palmer & Krikel, A.I.A., twice winners of architectural awards in the past year, have designed the unique new homes.

Included in the features is an unusual "island" cooking center, and glass-walled living room. There are both 4 and 3-bedroom homes, with 2 baths.

In the efficient kitchen are Western-Holly built-in range and oven, Waste-King disposer, unusually abundant cabinets and lifetime ceramic tile throughout.

OAK HARDWOOD floors, Italian marble in the bathrooms and huge fireplaces, some constructed on the cantilever principle.

Only 25 Remain in Shamrock

Only 25 homes remain in Shamrock Park reports Frank Hart, general sales manager for Walker & Lee, Inc., sales agents for the Garden Grove development. "The past few weeks have been the best sales producers since we opened the development," Hart reported.

Hart pointed out that the financing arrangements at Shamrock Park permit veterans to buy for nothing down and has proven very attractive to buyers. Furthermore, purchasers have available such needed appliances as Westinghouse refrigerator, laundryman, and Gaffers & Satter's range without the necessity of making an additional down payment.

Very popular with Shamrock Park buyers are the large living rooms with walls of glass and real fireplaces, Hart pointed out. Adjoining the living rooms are spacious rear patios with barbecues which afford families real opportunity to enjoy Southern California's indoor-outdoor living.

Additional features found at Shamrock Park are: step-saving kitchens with gleaming ceramic tile and quietly efficient garbage disposals, family-size bathrooms with colored plumbing fixtures, large bedrooms with Woodall sliding wardrobe doors, forced air heating, cork and asphalt tile flooring, walls of genuine lath and plaster, dust-free mahogany slab doors, steel sash windows, Rockwool insulation, weatherstripping, TV jacks and outlets and large 2-car garages with ample space for storage and work areas.

Shamrock Park is reached from Los Angeles and northern points by taking the Santa Ana Freeway to Harbor and turning south. From Long Beach, take 7th St. (Garden Grove Blvd.) and turn south at Harbor to Shamrock Park model homes.

Homestead Gardens Terms Draw Vets, Non-Veterans

Stepped-up sales to both vets and non-vets were reported this past week at Homestead Gardens, Orange County community of 3- and 4-bedroom, 2-bath homes on Verano St., just north of Westminster Ave.

East of qualification plus chance to move in within 10 days has increased buyers' interest, according to Walker & Lee, Inc., sales agents. Vets' terms, they reported, are nothing down with only $35 needed to move in, while non-vets can buy for as little as 10 per cent down, with FHA terms offered. Vets' monthly payments, like those for non-vets, are much lower than rent.

Of special interest to home-seekers, it was noted, is a display of furnished model homes, with decor by Aaron Schultz, exemplifying the many added features of the new residences.

INCLUDED ARE such items as mahogany kitchen cabinets, large 7200-square-foot lots, thermostat-controlled heating, wardrobe closets, steel casement windows, fibre glass insulation acoustic ceilings, lath and plaster walls, stall showers with large glass doors and large garages with storage space.

Other features are Waste-

HERE'S THE REASON WHY second-home buyers prefer...

It takes a heap o' livin' to know the good points and drawbacks in a home. Folks who've owned homes before know what to look for. Experience has shown them that a home is more than four walls and a roof. They've found how accumulated furniture and a growing family can make a home that once seemed adequate—too small, too soon. They've discovered, too, how much easier it is to maintain a home that has been quality built—to last!

Practical experience is why so many second-home owners now live in KATELLA PARK. For here there is more room for living... greater convenience... easier accessibility to and from all sections of Greater Los Angeles... and a sounder investment in a community of fine homes on custom sized lots on gracefully curving tree-lined streets that assures a high resale value in the future.

Visit Katella Park today and choose your home of tomorrow. Immediate occupancy if you hurry.

COUNTING THE DOLLARS

Steve Birch, representing Title Insurance & Trust Co., assists program chairman, Helen Harris, in counting some of the silver dollars that will be awarded at Tuesday's breakfast forum meeting. President Holmquist looks on.

Silver Dollar Quiz at Realtor Meeting

Norman Woest, community relations director for Title Insurance and Trust Co., Los Angeles, will present his "Silver Dollar Quiz" at the Tuesday morning meeting of the Long Beach Board of Realtors, Helen Harris, president of the Pacific Coast Escrow Co., program chairman, announced.

Questions on California real estate law will be asked the members and for each correct answer, Quizmaster Woest will award silver dollars. A 23-year veteran with the Los Angeles title firm, Woest knows most of the answers for he spent many years as a title officer for his company prior to being assigned to the public relations division.

In addition to this program will be the regular monthly installation meeting of the following Association activity.

Community Service—A Family Responsibility

is a den mother. Brian, a member of the central Boys' Club, is the envy of Bruce, 4, who wishes he were a few years older. Page is Cubmaster, Cub Scout Pack 260.

NOT TO BE OUTDONE by the keyboard made by her brother, Willard, at a Cub Scout meeting, Penny Sudenga proudly displays the apron she made at her Bluebird meetings to their parents, Mr.

and Mrs. W. L. Sudenga. Her dad is on the Camp Fire Girls Council and chairman of that finance committee. Mrs. Sudenga impartially divides her time between Cubs and Bluebirds.

CARRYING ON A TRADITION of service to the community is Mrs. Charles E. Duggan (left) who now is serving her second year on the Community Chest budget committee, and also acts as secretary for the

Red Feather Agencies Gain Important Support Through Husband-Wife Teams

Family interest in the health, welfare and youth agencies of the United Neighbors Community Chest is evidenced by the work being done by the thousands of volunteers who are troop leaders, board members and committee-men and women.

A recent report compiled by the Community Welfare Council for the Chest revealed more than 18,000 people are volunteer workers in the 30 agencies, and many are members of the same families.

Sometimes parents become active in an agency because of the membership of their children in that organization, or are asked by friends and neighbors to assist in the various types of work being done.

In other cases husbands and wives find each other devoting much of their leisure time to the same agency as do Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mayer, board members of the Jewish Community Center, and Mr. and Mrs. Milton B. Smith, board members of the Camp Fire Girls.

More often, they divide their interests as in the case of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bailey, he, as president of Travelers Aid, and she, as a member of the Community Volunteer Office.

Dr. David L. Bryant has been chairman of the Community Welfare Council for the past year while his wife recently received a five-year pin in recognition of her work with the Girl Scouts.

Mrs. Vernon Fay is a member of the Salvation Army advisory board while her husband is a director of the Chest board.

The Catholic Welfare Board lists as directors, Howard Jones, Donnell Davis and Edward Sheridan. Mrs. Jones is a past president of Sandlarks, the Children's Home Society Auxiliary here; Mrs. Davis is a director of Family Service, and Mrs. Sheridan is a director of the Mental Hygiene board.

Also on the Mental Hygiene Clinic board are Mrs. Glenn Buss and Mayor Angelo Iacaboni of Lakewood. Buss is the newly appointed Chest budget committee chairman and Mrs. Iacaboni is currently a director of the Catholic Welfare Bureau board.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse S. Holton are directors of the Boy and Girl Scouts respectively. Other agency board members are: Mr. and Mrs. Ely Somerville, Family Service and Girl Scouts; Dr. and Mrs. Sidney Penn, Jewish Community Center president and Mental Hygiene Clinic; Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Marcus, Children's Clinic and Girl Scouts; Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. McClaughry, Chest vice president and YWCA; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Minor, Mental Hygiene Clinic and YWCA; Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Benson Bells, Family Service and Day Nurseries; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buffum, Boy Scouts and Day Nurseries.

Mrs. Roger T. Huffman, president of the Chest this year and former Girl Scout president, hears about the Boy Scout Council work from her husband who is a member.

George Hart, president of the Volunteers of America board, and his son George Jr., a member of the CVO board, are carrying on a family tradition of service to the community as are James G. Craig of the Boy Scout Council and his son, James G. Jr., who is a new member of the Chest board. Another father and son duo is Dr. W. G. Cheney of the Armed Services YMCA and Dr. William S. Cheney of the downtown YMCA boards.

The daughter of Mrs. William Casselberry, past president of the YWCA, Mrs. Charles Duggan, is secretary of the Family Service board. Mrs. Lynn Evans, a member of the Children's Clinic board is following in the footsteps of her father, Bruce Mason, who has served on the Armed Services Y and Mental Hygiene Clinic boards, and now is one of the YMCA directors.

Independent Press-Telegram Women

LONG BEACH (CALIF.), SUNDAY, JUNE 3, 1956 SECTION W

IT'S A RARE MOMENT when busy Mayor and Mrs. Angelo Iacaboni can relax with their boys and the family pets, for in addition to Lakewood City government affairs, the mayor is a member of the board of directors of the Mental Hygiene Clinic and his wife is a director of the Catholic Welfare Bureau. Mike (left) is a member of the Catholic Youth Organization while Stephen (center) and Anthony must wait a few years before joining any of the Red Feather youth services.

To Fete Patricia Weaver Bon Voyage Wishes Fly

Powder blue, favorite color of bride-elect Patricia Jean Weaver of San Pedro, will be effectively used in decorations this afternoon at a crystal shower and tea in the home of Mrs. Burton W. Chace, 4160 Country Club Dr.

Co-hostesses, Meses. Beach Vasey, Arthur Arnold, Francis McCrea, Roger Engel, Duane George, and William Woelflin, will wear dainty white net umbrellas at their shoulders. Similar umbrellas filled with dainty flowers will be given the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Harry George Weaver.

Layers of white net caught in swags at the side with clusters of forget-me-nots will give the tea table bridal beauty. Center of attention will be a bouquet of delphiniums in varying shades.

Fragrant magnolias will be used in other rooms of the home. In the garden, quartet tables will wear powder blue covers with an overlay of white organdy.

Asked to pour are Meses. Harry Tyler, George Hardy, Roy Becker, Gilbert Myers, Donald Earl, Joseph Fenton, Homer Martin, grandmother of the prospective bridegroom, and Eugene Chase, sister-in-law of the hostess.

Miss Weaver will become the bride June 9 of Lowell Martin Hill, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lowell R. Hill of Long Beach and Rolling Hills. The ceremony will take place in First Presbyterian Church, San Pedro.

Mr. and Mrs. William Harbert of Long Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Shupe of Compton, formerly of this city, received bon voyage wishes from scores of friends preceding their departure aboard the Lurline for a three weeks vacation in Hawaii. Among pre-travel fetes was a poolside party given for the Harberts by Dr. and Mrs. Cecil Ridgeway in their home, 3335 Lewis Ave. This affair served to "initiate" the Ridgeway's new pool as well as heighten trip anticipation for the honored guests. The Harberts and Shupes planned to stay at the Royal Hawaiian while in Honolulu.

Bridge Party Takes Theme From Hawaii

A corner of Hawaii found its way into Balboa Bay Club on Thursday when Mrs. James H. McGranahan of 393 Haines Ave. and Mrs. Walter Dabney of Huntington Beach, hosted a bridge luncheon for 40 guests.

Party theme was set by Mrs. Dabney's recent return from the Islands, and was completely Hawaiian even to bridge prizes purchased there. Elaborate tropical decor was used at individual tables-for-four as well as on the buffet table, and each guest was recipient of a vividly colored lei.

Betrothal News

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Agard, 6703 La Marimba, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Gaynor Marston, to Roy Don Milligan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Milligan of 5941 Rose Ave.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Wilson High School. Her fiancé was graduated from Jordan High School. They plan a November wedding.

Wild Waves

By IOLA MASTERSON

Some clubs install new officers with so much symbolic ritual it's hard to follow the script. In fact, without a program, you're apt to miss the main event—La Presidente plopping the final rose in place to complete the wheel or whatever.

Not so with the Virginia Country Club women's group of 18 hole golfers. When they install it's all good, clean fun. What's more, they get the job done just as securely as if hughes were blowing. Tuesday the plotting and the planning crew of the golf club changed hands with Naomi (Mrs. Byron) Wolfe stepping down from her job as chairman and handing the gavel (shaped like a mashie, of course) to Helen (Mrs. Langdon) Smith.

All in party spirit the women played a brisk nine hole tournament preceding a happy luncheon (they chased all the men out of the Grill and had it there). Awards, merriment and gifts to and fro intermingled with typical "golf gab" and the gradual installation of all incoming officers including Myrtle (Mrs. William) Harrower, vice chairman; Polly (Mrs. Melbourne) Marsh, secretary; Marjorie (Mrs. Robert) Sprague, treasurer; and Bess (Mrs. Lowell) Overlock as assistant treasurer. With two treasurers there's one thing certain, they may kid around about installation but they're dead serious when it comes to the money!

Others assuming this, that and the other post were VI (Mrs. Harold) West, Pat Collins Cameron, Betty (Mrs. Harrison) Leedy, Helen (Mrs. Charles) Foulks, Zelma Burson Schooling, Pat (Mrs. Charles) Van de Water, Kay (Mrs. Buford) Smith, Libby (Mrs. William) Spaw, Betty (Mrs. Alan) Hess, Florence (Mrs. John) Mead, Jo (Mrs. Joseph) Hayes and Emma (Mrs. Edwin) Brain.

Bon voyage parties are popping up like crocuses on a hot spring day for our peripatetic local residents. One of the finest for the whole summer is sure to be the coffee Betty (Mrs. Seth) Smith will have for sister Claire Hosson next Thursday. Betty will come down from her home in Van Nuys and entertain right here in the Hosson home.

Why the bon voyage? Claire, Lynn and the girls will be summertime Europe travelers. Assisting Betty keep party spirits high for the more than 100 guests bidden will be Jo Paap, Norma Traummel, Alma Decker, Dorothy Dunkin, Marjory Van Dyke, Dorothy Goodknight, Ellnor Ball, Margaret Hanson and Mildred Brayton.

Magazine cover perfection has been achieved by Kay and Bill Nesbitt in their new patio they've been a year planning and creating. Friday Kay initiated the pink and white confection of a place for an intimate group of close friends at a bridge luncheon. Previewing friends were Betty Spath, Flossie Rene, Trudi Dowds, Bette Barden, Lois Benwell, Lucille Garver and Virginia Faris.

That was no mystic ceremony the Crawford boys, Don and Jack, were performing the other day but plain common sense planning. You may have witnessed them with a little Porsche Speedster and a flock of suitcases, stacking them in the car this way and that; then painstakingly unpacking and restacking. The fellows were rehearsing for their European tour. They borrowed the car to see how much stuff they can take with them because they're buying just such a Porsche in which to tour. They fly to New York Friday and board the Andrea Doria June 12, bound for Naples. Then a flight to Stuttgart—the Porsche—and, with all that pre-travel packing experience they shouldn't have to jettison more than six or seven cases! Suitcase shortage or not, they won't come home till fall in time for Don to enter USC for his final year.

Whether they have a future Kentucky Derby contender or just another bridal path oat burner doesn't matter to Sue and Dr. Art Buell just so "Quentin," their new colt, is healthy and happy. If Quentin had been a filly instead of a colt (and for awhile there was some confusion about this) the little equine would now be known as Tehachapl. This prison-naming monomania has a reason. When Quentin's parents were still childless and without responsibility they escaped their corral and there followed an unprecedented spree of lawn nibbling and shrub guzzling until the long arm of the law ended their hender. For the mother-to-be it meant an inglorious, if unrepentant, night in jail before the Buells could bail out their hale lovers.

Kelly's here! Anybody here seen Kelly? If not better whip on over to "Bindy" and John Vosburg's and get acquainted with their new baby daughter. Kelly's two-year-old brother, Mike, is taking a very pre-emptory attitude about her but if you take grandparents Nancy and Myrl Ott or Mrs. Ella Lord along you may get by his guard long enough for a peek!

Barbara Powell and Carol Jerman's delightful mother, Mrs. Billie Luce, finally "got the word" or whatever other phenomena happens to dyed-in-the-wool Easterners who decide California is the only place to live after all and now she's a resident here! She started getting into the spirit the minute that plane left La Guardia and by the time she set foot on International Friday she was a real native! If she wavered in her western loyalty what she saw at the airport must have been the clincher. There were Barbara and George, Carol and John, Caroline and Sterling Blakeman and Bernice and "Gap" Powell and assorted children waving a banner 10 feet long by three feet wide that read, "Welcome Home Grandma, Billie." If she ever changes her mind after that, why, ma'am, that's apt to be some gunplay. Ma'am.

Speaking of Bernice and "Gap" Powell, they accommodated some Palm Springs motel-owning friends and looked after things while said friends took off for a few days. Handed out towels and checked in paying guests just like they were bona fide members of the brotherhood, we hear! Had plenty of opportunity in between time to sop up a native's share of ultraviolet, too.

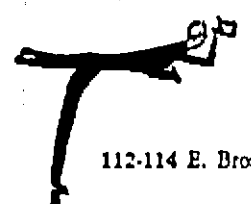

There were only three requites for surprise housewarming friends last night of Audrey and Arnold Romeyns. They had to bring something to eat, a swimming suit and best wishes to shout at the bamboozled Romeyns! Kay and Crofton Cooper and Virginia and Earl Milton were co-conspirators for the surprise and the gang gave the 1000 Bixby Rd. house a big lounge to grace the side of the indoor pool. In fact, that pool is the home's center with the rest of it built all around. Other eaters, swimmers and well wishers last night were Shirley and Bill Billis, Naomi and Chuck Chandler, Betty and Irving Dunn, Frances and Al Bonzer, Jean and Glenn Doody, Audrey and Art Haskel and Louis and Francis O'Bryan.

HONORED GUESTS

Among new provisionals greeted by Children's Benefit League members at the annual Introductory Tea given in the home of Mrs. Selbert C. Pearson, member of the original executive board, were (from left) Mmes. J. W. Elger, N. E. Conner, W. P. Sasse, Ralph Whittington, R. H. Hartt, J. L. Olson and J. P. Elliott.

Taylor's Feted

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor were guests of honor at a family gathering in the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Hegness of Van Nuys recently.

Mrs. Taylor is the former Jean Dalgleish, who spent last summer in this city as the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Willis Weber. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Robert Taylor, 5615 Naples Canal.

Introductory Tea Compliments New Provisionals of League

A year of outstanding accomplishment by members of Children's Benefit League was vividly highlighted by reports from officers and chairmen at the annual introductory tea for new members given recently in the spacious gardens of the Seibert C. Pearson home in Park Estates.

Receiving with League president, Mrs. E. Max Parkins, were the two co-chairmen of the event, Mmes. Arthur Doherty and Frederick W. Schafer, assisted by board members Mmes. A. A. Schlager, J. P. Wilson, Donald Penrose, Howard Lawson, Laban Brewer, Byron E. Morris, J. H. Jeffries Jr., E. O. Bernis, R. F. Cuyler, James Buckingham and Edward Goosman.

Twenty-five new provisional and five associate members were welcomed into this organization of limited membership and will join the others who, devoting their interest "for the aid to handicapped children," keep the needs of youngsters always uppermost in their plans.

Bringing the picture of achievement into sharp focus was the announcement that the concerted effort of the group has made it possible for the League to pledge $10,000 to build two rooms for children at Community Hospital this year in addition to the usual philanthropies.

Harmonizing with the decor and pastel colors used throughout Mrs. Pearson's home were decorations arranged by Mrs. L. W. Clarke and her committee, Mmes. W. T. Ezell, Walter Hauptman, Fred Menze and R. F. Trapp. Pink petaloniun in a gleaming silver and crystal epergne graced the lace covered tea table.

To identify new members, the committee devised clever name tags with butterflies perching daintly on petals of tiny Cecil Brunner roses. Little bees attached to name cards made known the provisional and tea committees, and board members wore name tags of hand drawn symbols depicting their offices.

Group 7, headed by Mrs. Frank J. Smith, with Mmes. F. B. Halley, Robert Gray, M. F. Palmer Jr., J. F. McCarthy, Arthur Doherty and R. W. Neumaier served. Presiding at the coffee and tea urns were the president, Mrs. Parkins, and Mmes. William Mohler and E. E. Adams, past presidents of the group.

Final Meet for Demo Study Club

Democratic Women's Study Club will have its final business meeting of this club year with reports of all committee chairmen and officers taking place at 10:30 Wednesday morning in the Pageant Room of Hotel Wilton.

Installation of officers for 1956-57 will be the important feature of the morning with Mrs. F. Glenn Agee serving as installation officer. The luncheon meeting, under the charge of Mrs. Ethel Hoagland, will honor new members who will be presented by Mrs. Frank Parker. The program, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Rene, will feature membership participation in lieu of a formal luncheon speaker.

Elected officers to serve the organization for the ensuing year will be Mmes. Lucian F. Remley, president; Edwin S. Luther, first vice president; David S. Thomas, second vice president; Frank Parker, third vice president; Harry Jones, fourth vice president; Russell Cocks, recording secretary; L. H. Jarnagin, corresponding secretary; Uarda Downs, financial secretary; Wallace Dressing, treasurer; John W. Tabor, historian; Lillian Cave, auditor; F. Glenn Agee, parliamentarian, and E. J. Theiss, chaplain.

Mrs. Remley will preside at the all-day session which is open to the public.

Benefit Luncheon

Woman's Benefit Association will meet at noon Tuesday for luncheon at Machinists Hall, 728 Elm Ave. Pioneer women will be hostesses. A business session is scheduled at 1 p.m., with a memorial service following. Ellice Dunbar will preside.

Pulitzer, Praise Go to Hacketts' 'Diary'

By ILKA CHASE

When the Pulitzer Prize for Drama went to Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett, Mr. and Mrs. that is, there was a spontaneous burst of applause from everyone who knew them.

I've known the Hacketts a long time and a warmer, cheerier pair you'll never meet. Being human they're happy about the award but they're happier about the state of their play, "The Diary of Anne Frank."

"Diary" opened Oct. 5, 1955, and when a play becomes an established hit one of the hardest things in the world is to keep it fresh, to keep the performances spontaneous and the actors from becoming blurred carbon copies of what they were on the opening night.

For the first few weeks it's no trick. The cast is exhilarated by success and with good actors the characterizations grow and deepen. They take on a richness impossible to achieve in rehearsal or in a couple of weeks of out of town tryouts. But the stage of natural development lasts only so long. After that, unless a sharp and authoritative eye is cocked at the luminaries, disintegration sets in.

When a play is in rehearsal actors fall in love with the director the way pregnant women are said to fall in love with their obstetricians but few mothers seek obstetrical opinion on the care of the growing babe; and actors, once the curtain is up and the critical returns in, tend to slough off the one who pulled them through the great crisis. Also it must be said the parting of the ways is often mutual. The director has given his all in preparation and during the rehearsal and tryout periods. So we've opened, we're a hit. On to the next one.

Garson Kanin who directed "Diary" is not like that in any event and about this work he has a special feeling. As he says to the cast, "Remember, these are real people you're portraying. They aren't invented characters. Otto Frank and his daughter Anne and the rest of the family and their friends existed."

Their own theory as to why they won the Pulitzer Prize is that it's because they once rented Emily Kimbrough's apartment in the remodeled old Pulitzer mansion in New York and it rubbed off on them.

Albert's splurge after the mantle of fame had fallen upon him was restricted. "I thought I'd try sugar in my coffee by way of a change, but it hasn't worked out."

They would have liked to stay in New York a while longer but they had to get back to the Coast on a specific date, because they'd promised Kenneth MacKenna, the head of MGM's story department, to sit on a platform with Christopher Isherwood and Bob Anderson and tell high school students how to read fast. Fast reading is a new thing all the literary lads are nuts about.

Albert sighed, "I don't know why Kenneth picked on me," he said. "I have to form the words with my lips and hold my finger at the place when I read." Illiterates arise, grab the Pulitzer Prize!

CRITICAL INSPECTION

Hawaii goes Californian with the Junior League's Aloha Lanai dinner dance Friday evening, 8 o'clock to 2 a. m., at Lafayette Hotel when members and guests will gather about the hotel's new pool and Lanai section. Inspection of South Sea table decor is made above by Mmes. Louis Hopkins, John M. Clarke, Don Raney and Lee Wiltse, left to right. Following dinner in the Supper Room, attendees will dance to music provided by Burrel Ubben's Orchestra.—(Staff)

Enchantment Ahead in Gay Club Events.

A sparkling pool, swaying palm trees and enchanting Hawaiian music will provide an atmosphere of island splendor for two major social events, one by the Junior League on Friday night and the other Saturday afternoon to be hosted by Nightingales.

Both festivities will center in the recently opened Lanai section of Lafayette Hotel, focal point of which is a spacious new swimming pool.

Junior Leaguers will be hostesses to an expected 500 persons Friday night at their Aloha Lanai dinner dance, 8 p. m. to 2 a. m. Early activities will take place poolside as an Hawaiian trio provides appropriate musical background during the cocktail hour and again for an impressive water ballet by prominent local swimming sisters, Mrs. Geary Bartell and Mrs. Merritt Adamson (Pat and Sharon Geary). Jack Brown will commentate.

Lovely summer gowns of varying styles and gay colors will dot the Supper Room where diners will be seated at tables appropriately decorated with lovely sea-shell arrangements. Chairman for the dance is Mrs. Thomas Rowan, assisted by Mmes. Bruce Mitchell and Louis Hopkins. In charge of decorations are Mmes. Jack Wooding, Ray Parker and Geary Bartell.

Dancing will follow to music provided by Burrel Ubben's orchestra.

With the theme "Hawaii Bound," members of Nightingales, junior organization of Auxiliary to Children's Memorial Hospital, will present a luncheon and fashion show in the Lafayette Lanai. Proceeds from the afternoon will go toward medical expenses and hospitalization at Seaside Hospital for local underprivileged children.

Eleven Long Beach merchants will display their summer fashions in the show by Wilma Hastings and her models. An imaginary flight to magical Hawaii will provide fitting commentary for the showing of summer travel styles for the entire family.

Nightingales responsible for the day's festivities include Mmes. Loether Buck, Wendell Gowdy, Kenneth Henry, Bruce Murray and John Sumner.

BEAUTY AT THE POOL

The fragrance of colorful flowers drifting lazily on the new pool at Lafayette Hotel will greet nearly 500 guests attending Friday's Aloha Lanai dinner dance sponsored by the Junior League of Long Beach. Above, from left, Mmes. Fred Wise, Fort Alcorn and Geary Bartell test the floating power of a few blossoms. A lovely water ballet by Mrs. Bartell and her sister, Mrs. Merritt Adamson, will highlight the evening's entertainment.—(Staff photo.)

SING ME A SONG OF HAWAII

"Hawaii Bound" is the theme chosen for Saturday's luncheon and fashion show hosted by Nightingales in the new Lanai section of Lafayette Hotel. Wilma Hastings and her models will take guests on an imaginary flight to the islands by presenting fashions for the entire family from 11 leading Long Beach style centers. Above, Lynne Henry strums a quick tune on her ukulele while modeling a cool cotton for Nightingale members, seated from left, Mmes. John J. Sumner, Laurence W. Bonzer, Norman A. Meaker and William H. ## Pre-Nuptial Courtesies Compliment Joyce Jacobs

Among many courtesies being extended to Miss Joyce Jacobs, who will become the bride of Joseph F. Hamula June 15, was a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Harold A. Hinkle, 812 E. 37th St., and her daughter, Miss Janice Hinkle.

The table was decorated with a pink net umbrella and individual favors were pink nut cups featuring metallic umbrellas.

Attending were Mrs. J. S. Jacobs, mother of the bride-elect; Miss Janet Jacobs, sister of the bride-elect; Mrs. Ambrose Hamula, Mrs. John Weber, mother and sister respectively of the bridegroom-elect; Misses Hugh Anderson, William Appleberry, Dean Barnes, David Beal, Gary Bingham, Parley Deem, H. Douglas, Carl Johnson, Brodie Jones, Frank Kearl, Owen Leavitt, Robert Morrow, James Norman, Walter Sant, Kenneth State, Rodney Swigart, Gordon Taylor, J. Walton, and Misses Margaret Beal, Shirley Deem, Diane Gray, Joyce Harrington, Marion Hartkopf, Virginia Rosenburg, Janet Rosenlot.

Mrs. Karl Ward and Mrs. Derrall Call entertained recently at a luncheon and kitchen shower at the Pacific Coast Club in honor of the bride-elect.

On this occasion, the table was attractively decorated with a centerpiece of white and pastel flowers and gold hearts. At each place was a tiny place card of spring flowers and miniature kitchen utensils. Miss Jacobs was presented with a white orchid.

Those attending were Mrs. J. S. Jacobs, Misses Hugh Anderson, Lavin Daniels, Howard Lamb, Walter Jones, Joseph Lindsey, Don Markham, William Price, Conrad Samuelson, Harold Snow and Miss Marilyn Snow of Beverly Hills.

On June 2, a party for Miss Jacobs and her fiancé was given by Miss Marilyn Snow and her fiancé, Dr. Thomas Jones, at her home, 1155 Angelo Dr., Beverly Hills. College friends from the University of Utah and University of Southern California bidden to the event were Messrs. and Misses Jack Hansen, Lyle Jacobson, Robert Seltzer, Neil Williams of Pasadena, Carter Broyles, Albuquerque, N. M., Richard Hobson, Miss Mary Martha Christensen, David Smith, Miss June McBride and David Wood, Los Angeles.

States Dinner

Burnett Woman's Christian Temperance Union will sponsor an all states dinner at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday at Atlantic Avenue Methodist Church. Tables representing each state will be provided, and special music is planned. The public is welcome.

Miss Kirk Takes Helm of Taoleons

A floral key of welcome and hospitality was presented Miss Freda Kirk as she became the new president of Taoleon Club in recent installation ceremonies at Chandelier Restaurant.

Assuming executive positions with Miss Kirk were Mrs. Albert W. Hood, Miss Marie Barber, Mrs. E. E. Christensen and Mrs. Donald Nicholson, vice presidents; Miss Marie Ragland, recording secretary; Mrs. Horace Whitaker, corresponding secretary; Miss Bertha Berge, financial secretary; Mrs. Forest Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Arnel

Miss Freda Kirk

J. Talbot, educational director; Mrs. Edward N. Cottrell, auditor, and Mrs. George W. Smith, historian.

Program entertainment was provided by the club trio, Misses Albert W. Hood, Arnel Talbot and Horace Whitaker, with Mrs. Lynn White as piano accompanist. Marion Darlington Pratt presented "Songs of the Bluebird" with Ruth Nichols as her accompanist, while guest artist George Griffith, tenor, sang several selections.

"Happiness Through Service," a playlet written and directed by Mrs. I. B. House, was presented by club members Miss Lucille Smith, Mrs. Harold E. Steward, Donna Jean Lowe, Gregory Bartlow and Mrs. Pratt.

Nuptial Rite to Link Names of Long Beach Families

Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Bellows, 360 Molino Ave., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Laureta Clare, to Joseph Perkins Gibbs of this city. Announcement was first made to the sorority sisters of the bride-elect. An August 5 wedding is planned.

Both young persons were educated in Long Beach city schools. She was graduated from Wilson High School and he from Poly High. The bride-elect, a fourth-generation Californian, attended Long Beach City College and will be graduated in June from Long Beach State College. She is a member of the Long Beach Philharmonic. Other affiliations include Entre Nous and Sigma Kappa sororities.

The benedict will receive his degree this June from the California Institute of Technology and will continue his studies there next year. He holds membership in the Society of American Engineers and the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Gibbs, 2469 Eucliptus Ave., Long Beach.

Pohl-Mott Marriage Solemnized

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Mott, 1020 Burlinghall Dr., have announced the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth June, to Charles Sterling Pohl, son of Mr. William Pohl and the late Mrs. Pohl of Detroit, Mich. The wedding was solemnized May 1 in Yuma, Ariz.

The bride, a senior at Polytechnic High School, is a member of Tajima Sorority. The bridegroom received his education in Detroit and served six years with the Armed Forces.

Pair to Wed in August

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. McDugald, 4421 Heather Rd., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Velma Lee, to John Lee Newman, son of Mr. C. B. Newman, Rockford, Ill.

The future bride attended Wilson High School, Long Beach City College and Whittier College where she took her degree. She now teaches in the Rivera School District.

Her fiancé attended schools in Illinois, including Northern Illinois State Teachers College, De Kalb. He is now serving in the Navy.

The wedding will be performed August 17.

Among Career Women

Jo Knoerr to Accept NSA Leadership; Manuela Nieto BPW Seats Yola Brazil

By ANNE GILCHRIST

According to an old adage, people are supposed to "crawl before they can walk." That belief, obviously, was formulated before Jo Maes Knoerr came along and started out, neither "crawling or walking," but at a full gallop, service-wise, at least, for National Secretaries!

Here's the explanation. When the first state association for the national secretarial organization was formed in California approximately four years ago, Mrs.

of her own club, Long Beach's Queen Beach Chapter, NSA, in installation ceremonies Tuesday night during a dinner meeting at the Petroleum Club.

Installation will be conducted by outgoing president Marie Wells. Mrs. Knoerr, secretary to N. R. Dumont of Dumont Aviation Associates, will be joined during her year as president by Wilma Conde, first vice president; Geraldine Horstman (Long Beach State College), second vice president; Ethel Dudley (Chrysler Corp.), corresponding secretary; Neva Blust (American Brass Co.), recording secretary; Dorothy Gahry (Douglas Oil Co.), treasurer; and Elma J. Brind (Coca-Cola Bottling Co.), public relations.

Manuela Nieto BPW

Using the theme, "Tree of Friendship," Manuela Nieto Butchness and Professional Women installed its new officers for 1956-57 recently in ceremonies conducted at the Woodruff Community Church.

Mrs. Yola Brazil assumed the duties of president and was inducted to office by Miss Kathleen Head, president of Sierra Mar District of BPW. Others installed with Mrs. Brazil were Mary Pierson, first vice president; Sadie Mielnick, second vice president; Opal Landey, recording secretary; Bernice Beazley, corresponding secretary; and Mabel McMahan, treasurer.

Margaret Nagel, program chairman of the evening, introduced Mrs. Kathryn Campbell, soprano, who provided the musical interlude. Alice Belknap, Charlotte McIntosh and Aleene Phillips were in charge of decorations and for the dessert buffet which followed installation was a lovely yellow and green decor.

Pat Freeman, outgoing president, conducted the present were: May Wnakatuki, now attending Long Beach State College working toward her elementary teacher's credentials; Rose Ann Wood of LBSC, who won first place in piano during the recent Long Beach Philharmonic auditions and whose goal is to become a music teacher in secondary schools; Bonnie Helz, now nearing completion of junior college work preparatory for elementary teaching; and Thelma Matthews, another LBSC student majoring in speech and whose objective, likewise, is a career in teaching.

Personnel Women

The Personnel Women's Group of Los Angeles has announced a personnel training conference to take place June 15 on the UCLA campus under direction of the UCLA Extension Dept. of Conferences. It has been developed primarily to provide an opportunity for women who are new in the field of personnel administration to obtain training in technique important to their jobs. It is also open to college students pursuing courses in this field.

Registration for the conference will begin at 9 a. m. June 15 in the Business Administration Bldg., the conference proper to begin at 9:30 a. m. Outstanding business executives and educators will be speakers.

Further information regarding attendance at the conference should be obtained from Miss Mildred Foreman, personnel officer at UCLA, or from Miss Sally Gray, president of the Personnel Women's Group, conference sponsors. Miss Gray is assistant to the personnel director of Carnation Company.

vention at Miami Beach in July.

President Eunice Snyder announced her selection of standing and special committee chairmen for the coming year.

Gladys McPike read an inspiring paper honoring Memorial Day which was prepared by Cornelia Pollard, hostess for the social hour was Ruth Bailey.

Quota Club

Quota members "went to school" at their meeting at the Lafayette Hotel last Monday night, and so interesting was the instruction given by Miss N. Evelyn Davis, director of audio-visual education in Long Beach, they wished their own school days had been like that.

As Quota International's principal project is aid to handicapped children, particularly the hard of hearing, the May meetings throughout the world were devoted to this type of program. So it was fitting that Miss Davis, with her background of twenty years as head of the audio-visual department, be the speaker.

Witty and delightful, she explained that her work is with all Long Beach students—from kindergarten to City College. She took pains to describe in particular how handicapped children are taught and showed the club members some of the "tools" used in instructing blind and deaf children as well as those blessed with normalcy.

Of interest to parents in particular was one observation of the speaker. She said that contrary to popular opinion, television and movie viewing by youngsters does not discourage reading but rather stimulates it.

Long Beach National BPW

Interesting, informative reports from the annual convention of the California Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at San Francisco was principal feature of the business and social meeting of Long Beach National BPW Club in the YWCA Monday by delegates Eunice Snyder and Hazel Gray. Of special interest was the report that Kathleen Head had been elected as a delegate to the Biennial Con-

Carnation Club

Carnation Club will meet Wednesday at the home of Ella Turner, 30 W. Pleasant St. Luncheon will be served at noon by the hostess and her committee with the business meeting to follow, Phoebe Nicodemus, president, conducting.

The club will also sponsor a public card party Monday in Mottell's Garden Room. Refreshments will be served at 12:30 p. m. Nellie Lloyd is chairman of this affair.

Lutheran Rite Read for Couple

In First Lutheran Church of Compton, Judith Ann Chalupnik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Chalupnik, 514 W. 38th St., Long Beach, became the bride of Larrie Dells Schnorr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Richardson of Compton.

Wearing a ballerina-length lace-over-satin gown, the bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She carried a white orchid and stephanotis resting on a pearl covered Bible, gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Richard Bratt and James Rettsatt attended the couple. Jack Blaser and Jack D. Lane ushered.

Among the 80 guests were Mrs. Irene Graham and her daughter, Ruth, who came from San Diego to attend the wedding, and Mrs. Melissa Nuckols and her daughter, Ruby, from Santa Monica.

The bride is a graduate of Polytechnic High School. Her husband was graduated from Compton High School. They will reside at 3481 Lemon Ave.

a revolutionary announcement

FOR BOTH MEN AND WOMEN—NOTHING IN THE WORLD QUITE LIKE IT . . . YOU ARE INVITED TO WATCH AN AMAZING DEMONSTRATION

For you who choose NOT to keep grey hair, Miss Audrey McAllister, Mr. Garton's personal representative, will be in our Cosmetic Dept. Monday through Thursday from 10 until 5 daily. See Miss McAllister put a colorless cream on a strand of grey taken from your own hair . . . then see invisible hair color appear in mere seconds . . . lasting, live color as near your pre-grey color (prior to turning grey) as is humanly possible to obtain.

If you have colored your hair, or even secretly contemplated doing so, you should know about the fabulous BON COIF . . . a scientific protected formula which has been thoroughly tested and approved . . . is formulated by one of America's foremost big-name cosmetic laboratories! Many have tried to obtain a vibrant, youthful appearance by the use of harsh aniline dyes—and have failed. No matter if you are tinting or dyeing your hair (providing you are attempting to match your pre-grey color) BON COIF is for you. Since we introduced this fabulous creation over five years ago, we have heard from a great many people who have had high praise for BON COIF. We have seen what this dramatic preparation accomplishes and it is truly amazing. Do come in and let Miss McAllister put a colorless cream on a strand of your grey hair and in seconds watch the grey turn to its natural-like color. We are just optimistic enough to believe that after you see this convincing demonstration of the now internationally-known BON COIF formula . . . (the French say "Bon Kwa!") . . . you, too, will share our enthusiasm.

Galbraith Scholarships to Aid Three Students

Three Lena Galbraith memorial scholarships to Long Beach City College will be awarded a trio of outstanding high school seniors by the Long Beach Council of Parents and Teachers Monday when the group meets in Hughes Junior High School auditorium at 9:30 a. m. for the last general assembly of the current school year.

Mrs. Galbraith, in whose memory the scholarships are named, was a past president of the council (1944-46) and an active worker in the First District.

Highlighting the program will be installation of officers by Mrs. R. L. Yankie, past council president, who will give oaths of office to President Mrs. George Gordon and her fellow executives. An honorary life membership will be presented to an outstanding person in the field of youth welfare, and Long Beach Mothersingers will sing several selections.

Mrs. Albin Larson will report on the recent national convention which took place recently in San Francisco.

New president Mrs. George Gordon has announced a meeting for all incoming presidents on Friday from 9:30 a. m. to noon at Burroughs School Auditorium, 1260 E. 33rd St.

Other roundtables for the instruction and aid of unit chairmen are as follows: Wednesday, Lincoln School Auditorium, program for elementary from 9:30 to 11 a. m.; secondary, 11 a. m. to noon, with Mrs. Walter V. Remer, director or organization, and Mrs. Donald J. Baker, program chairman, in charge. From 1 to 3 p. m. at Lincoln the financial officers will meet with Mrs. Stanley Domgaard, financial secretary; Mrs. W. F. George, treasurer, and Mrs. Ray

DONATE TIME, PROFITS TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Smith is president of the newly formed Hospital Guild, members of which will give their time and sales profits to the hospital for purchase of equipment and supplies. The shop will be open to the public from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. daily.—(Staff photo.)

New Board for Court St. Ann

Court St. Ann, Catholic Daughters of America, will install the following new officers Tuesday at 8 p. m. in St. Anthony's Catholic Center, 6th St. and Alamitos Ave.:

Jessie McGuire, grand regent; Laurette White, vice regent; Juanita Hahn, prophetess; Katharine Reed, financial secretary; Margaret Balough, historian; Frances Kennedy, treasurer; Mary Marquelling, lecturer; Bernice Brassie, monitor; Mary Hinkle, sentinel; Frances Davis, organist; and Ellen Cahill, Mary Pulsifer and Eleanor Ashby, trustees.

Mrs. Mary Liesman will be chairman for a tea to be given after the installation ceremony.

Hanks, finance and budget chairman.

Thursday, membership chairmen will meet at Burroughs school, elementary 9:30 to 11 and secondary, 11 to noon, with Mrs. Dow Mead, director of extension, and Mrs. John M. Rigby, membership chairman, in charge.

All publicity chairmen, outside or press, inside or newsletter, and record book are asked to meet at Burroughs school from 1 to 3 p. m. Thursday. Council chairmen in charge are Mrs. J. W. Dean, press; Mrs. Edward Seeley, assistant press; Mrs. R. A. West, councilor editor; Mrs. C. L. Davis, co-editor, and Mrs. Donald Bongers, record book.

Guild Forms, Operates New Hospital Gift Shop

Philanthropic-minded women have again banded together to aid worthy institutions, this time in the form of the newly organized Long Beach Osteopathic Hospital.

A hard-working committee headed by Mrs. Gerald Houts has been rushing plans to establish a gift shop at the new Osteopathic Hospital, Pacific Ave., which was dedicated May 25. The modern green and yellow decorated shop opened its doors to the public for a quick preview that day and again at the open house celebration May 27, but will not be operating officially until the hospital opens about June 11.

The gift shop, organized and completely manned by the Guild, is an entirely non-profit operation, group members donating their time each day between 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. Profits from sales of items ranging from baby clothes and toilet articles to aprons, men's goods and toys, will be turned over to the hospital for purchase of materials and equipment.

Committee women include Mmes. Lloyd G. Hallamore, Robert F. Dilday, Frederick Sturges, Laurence Houts, Charles Poitevin, R. T. Han-

stine, J. C. Molina, George Lancer, Walter Gunderman, Ward DeWitt, Geneva Peterson, Miss May Brittain and the president, Mrs. C. S. Smith.

On Tuesday afternoon, Guild women will meet in the home of Mrs. Rufus A. Davis, 4230 Pacific Ave., for a "Friendship Tea," their first social function. Sponsoring the event and assisting as hostesses are the Long Beach Osteopathic and Bay Harbor Auxiliaries under the direction of their presidents, Mrs. Willis F. Baughman and Mrs. Bryce Pizey, respectively. Mrs. Gus A. Lucking and Mrs. Elmer S. Clark are in charge of tea arrangements, and the committee on invitations includes Mmes. Forrest Pendergast, Dave Lawrence, Charles Posson and Lynn Albrecht. Serving as an advisory committee are Mmes. Joseph Madden, Lynn Bruce and A. A. Carrey.

Miss Sloan to Be Bride

Major and Mrs. Howard Sloan, 3745 Gaviota Ave., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Esther, to Donald G. Sather, son of Major and Mrs. Gilbert E. Sather of Whittier.

The bride-elect will be a June graduate of Polytechnic High School. Her fiancé, a graduate of Whittier High School, attends Fullerton Junior College.

The couple has named July 21 as their wedding date.

Mrs. Duane Harold Kuster

Kuster-Eaton Nuptials Read by Soft Candlelight

Tall candlelight cast a soft, flickering glow on the chancel of All Saints' Episcopal Church for Friday night's reverent nuptial service uniting in marriage Lucy Woodward Eaton and Duane Harold Kuster. Plain gold wedding bands, symbolic of their love, were exchanged by the young couple as Rev. Ansley Maxwell Carlton read the service before 350 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Reginald Orpin Eaton, 1861 Chatwin Ave., and the late Capt. Eaton. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Kuster, 1439 E. 56th St.

Delicate shades of pink against a background of white set the lovely color theme for the occasion, with banks of pink carnations and white stock gracing the altar and in the narthex large bouquets of pink gladioli and white stock.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were her attendants identically powdered in waltz-length pink slipper satin and carrying pink peony carnations interspersed with sprays of miniature ivy. Wreaths of ivy encircled their hair. Mrs. Kenneth J. Eaton served her sister-in-law as matron of honor, while bridesmaids were Mrs. Edward Crook and Miss Jeanette Coffin.

As she approached the altar with her brother, Kenneth J. Eaton of Chula Vista, the radiant bride wore a gown fashioned of white slipper satin. The fitted bodice featured a portrait neckline trimmed with a satin bow, and the full skirt swept back into a chapel-length train. A filmy tulle veil cascaded from a satin pillbox. Pearl earrings, a gift from the bridegroom, and a lace handkerchief presented by his mother, completed the bridal ensemble. White peonies mingled with English ivy to form the bride's bouquet.

Attending the bridegroom were his brother, Robert J. Kuster, as best man, and ushers Richard M. Hollar, Buckner N. Harris, Willis G. Linker and Donald P. Mahlborg.

The newlyweds greeted their guests in the parish hall of the church and were assisted by Mrs. Shelley Hartzell at the guest book and Mrs. Curtis Coffin, William Seal, Charles Orcutt and Herbert Forsberg. Louise and Carol Eaton, nieces of the bride distributed favors among the well-wishers.

A graduate of Villa Maria Academy in Erie, Pa., and Louisiana State University, the new Mrs. Kuster also attended the University of California. She received her Master's Degree from Long Beach State College and is presently teaching at Nettie L. Walte School in Norwalk. Among her affiliations are Symphony Juniors of Long Beach Auxiliary of Southern California Symphony Association and American Association of University Women.

The bridegroom, an alumnus of Wilson High School, attended UCLA where he was a member of Alpha Sigma Phi. He also obtained his Master's Degree from LBSC and now teaches at Stanford Junior High School.

Following a brief honeymoon, the couple will make their home at 2000 Chatwin Ave.

Club Hears Report of Desert Trip

Long Beach Cactus Club will meet June 17 in the home of Mr. M. J. Armstrong in Silverado Canyon and will enjoy a basket lunch and a varied program in the artistic rock garden.

Clarence B. Wright presided at the May meeting in the home of Mrs. A. A. Anderson, 1970 Main Ave. The group voted to add to their growing library and heard a resume of the recent trip of the Southern California Affiliated Cactus Clubs to the Joshua National Monument Park.

Others participating in the program were Jack Klenke and Homer B. Rush.

August Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Trout of 1515 Pine Ave. have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lorraine, to Jack A. Von Werner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Von Werner of 938 Chestnut. The bride-elect is a native daughter and was graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles. An August wedding is planned.

Busy Club Life, VIPs, Houseguests Are Noted on Military Social Scene

By VIRGINIA NEWTON

With a gay hearted summertime theme in mind and plans of centerpieces of pastel colored glads and pretty streamers, busy Wives of Navy Doctors Club will host a luncheon party Wednesday, June 13, at noontime in the Officers Club, Allen Center.

Mrs. James A. Johnson will be hostess for the afternoon. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Lewis Dorgan of 4200 Linden Ave. by noon of June 11.

Speaking of busy clubs, the active and popular Mine Force Officers Wives Club recently elected new officers at a coffee gathering in the Staff Mess at the Naval Base. Those now holding office are Mmes. R. D. Faulbion, president; A. C. Filatrault, vice president; F. A. Mitchell, secretary; T. B. Wilson, treasurer, and G. S. Whittaker, director chairmen.

A very cordial welcome was given visiting VIP Rear Adm. William Marshall, commander Destroyer Flotilla One, and his staff here from the Far East. The occasion was a welcoming reception at Allen Center given by the officers attached to the many destroyer units based here, and their ladies. Also present was Rear Adm. Campbell, commander Naval Base, and Mrs. Campbell.

Leaving about June 15 for new residence and duty in Newport, R. I., will be Comdr. and Mrs. Earl Leach and three children, Marilyn, Robert and Cheryl. Commander Leach, who was formerly attached to the USS Los Angeles, will attend Officers School in Rhode Island.

Recent houseguests of these retired Navy folks, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Craig, were their friends Capt. and Mrs. John McElroy of Washington, D. C., who were en route to new duty and residence in San Francisco.

The wives of officers attached to Destroyer Squadron Three recently enjoyed a coffee hour at Allen Center with the wives of officers attached to the USS Mason as hostesses.

Mrs. Ray H. Bradshaw and two children, Laura and Patty, left last Monday morning for Chicago.

day" to pretty Ann Rogers, daughter of Comdr. and Mrs. William Rogers, who celebrated her 11th birthday with a party last week attended by her school friends and neighbors.

Paid up members of the Nautical Club will be honored by the club at a "It's on the Club" luncheon party Wednesday at the Hawaiian Gardens. Those planning to attend should call their reservations to Mrs. C. A. Murray or Mrs. O. A. Ottosen. Members may bring guests to the event.

News from the NCO Wives Club out at the Long Beach Air Force Base includes mention of a Bake Sale by the members Wednesday at the NCO Club at 7 o'clock. The next meeting date of the club will be at 7:30 on June 14.

Club members recently toured Helms Bakery in Los Angeles and had as their civilian guests Mmes. Evelyn

Pair Enplanes for Island Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Wilkerson, 5454 Cerritos Ave., leave today by plane to vacation for a month in the Hawaiian Islands where they will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary.

The Wilkersons were recently honored by a surprise patio party given by Mmes. Carl McBride, Donald Wilkerson, Arthur Proctor and Keith Christopherson in the latter's home, 1414 E. Plymouth St.

More than 40 friends joined in the delightful evening, and showered the honored guests with gifts. Leis, music and Hawaiian food created an island atmosphere for the affair.

Your Baby & Mine

Father vs. Mother

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDER

If we expect that no two parents will deal with their children in the same way we have removed one big obstacle to good father-mother relationships. Of course, one parent will be more strict and stern than the other. It remains for the one who is not to uphold the stricter one and for the strict parent to be patient and understanding of the one who prefers other methods of discipline.

Children take advantage of parents only when the two disagree openly and uphold the other for his or her behavior.

Mrs. Mac writes, "I am in despair. My children are boys, nine and six, and for years I have had to be the disciplinarian as their father was on the road. Now he is home with us. He hates to chastise them and simply lectures them which makes no impression whatever."

"For instance, the two boys were out playing Friday night. Their father sent a note by another boy telling them it was late and time to come home. They ignored this. By 8 p.m., I was searching for them. I saw a group of boys, called their names, and all of them ran away. Their father went after them and found them and began to lecture them."

"When I got home from my search I spanked them both. I sent the older boy to bed without his favorite TV program and the younger without his bedtime story. But my husband went into the younger boy's room and read him a story."

"I am teaching the boys to cook. I make them write their own thank-you notes. I show them how to act in mannerly ways. This is all uphill work and they do these things because I insist, not voluntarily. I feel sometimes that I am hard on them, but I love them and want to enjoy their company."

Even adults have to be reminded of their obligations at times. Don't expect miracles of children.

If your husband could send a note to the older boy he could have followed it up immediately if it was ignored. Both of you were remiss in waiting until 8 p.m. to hunt for the boys. In whatever way you decided to discipline them the father should have stood behind you and supported you. He should not have gone in and read the story, not that night when you had forbidden it.

But the fact that he refuses to use physical punishment is an indication of his own personality for which he should not be criticized. If he takes an interest in the children, wants them to do the right things, explains and lectures them when necessary — you should be satisfied. If you consider other methods more effective then you can use them. Personally, years of listening to parents' problems have convinced me there is no great magic in spanking. Occasionally, yes, used regularly no.

If you would like our booklet "Obedience and Punishment," send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Elder in care of the Press-Telegram.

McCarlsons Announce Engagement of Daughter

An early August wedding is being planned by Miss Marie McCarlson and Martin Whitmore, whose engagement was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. McCarlson of 3315 E. 2nd St. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Whitmore of 9525 Firestone Blvd., Downey.

Miss McCarlson, a graduate of Polytechnic High School, studied last year at the Pacific Lutheran College in Parkland, Wash., and is now attending Long Beach State College.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Fullerton Junior College. He has just returned from two years service with the Army, having spent 16 months in Korea.

DRESS-UP AFFAIR

Worry Clinic

Prize Contests Rewarding Financially, as Family Fun

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-371: Dr. Arthur, aged 45, is a successful dentist.

"Dr. Crane, some years ago I read your advice about entering prize contests," he informed me when I was addressing his dental society.

"So I decided to try contesting as an interesting diversion. My wife and I made it our mutual hobby. It has been a great deal of fun and we have also won several cash prizes, including one for $1,000."

"I certainly can recommend it as a very stimulating family project to the husband and wife more closely together in their interests."

Mrs. Crane and I became contest addicts during our first year of marriage. We sent entries into dozens of contests. Some were of the limerick variety. Others asked for the solution of simple crossword puzzles. In the latter case, a 50-word or maybe 100-word letter was also required.

And we became fairly proficient. By that, I mean we averaged possibly maybe one prize out of every 8 to 10 entries. Oh, many of our prizes were of small value, such as $2 or $5 or $10, but we did rate two first prizes of $1,000 each in nationwide contests.

And to this day we still have a great urge to go back to contesting but we lack the time.

"When we retire," says Mrs. Crane, "then we can get back into contesting." And I certainly hope so, for prize contests are mentally stimulating. They teach you to look up items in dictionaries and history books and to delve into the encyclopedia.

Such mental exercise is well worth the effort, even if you never win a prize.

And when you get your relatives or friends into the hobby, you always have plenty to talk about. Conversation never lags. So start being a contest fan. Enter many contests, however, so you are not too downhearted when you failed to win anything on last month's entry.

"Well, I have 27 more entries in other contests to be announced later," you can then bolster your morale. Contests are fairly judged, so don't worry on that score. But write very plainly or type your entries.

Try to use practical, "horse sense" examples. Don't parrot back the trite advertising phrases of the product. Present your story in your own words.

And stay within the published word limit. If the rules list a maximum of 50 words, you can't possibly win if you have 51 words. And please remember that many people come up with the same rhyming word so try to be unique. "Nobody will ever think of this idea," Mrs. Crane and I have often decided about our entry, yet we have seen dozens exactly like it when we visited the newspaper offices where the entries were being judged.

If you are past 65 or semi-invalided, contesting is a boon to a healthy mental outlook. It peeps up your appetite. And it can offer at least some occasional cash awards.

Send for my booklet, "How to Write Salable Copy." It includes a section on "Prize Contesting." Thousands of you readers have reported winning prizes after using its suggestions, so more power to all of you.

Please enclose a long, 3c stamped self-addressed envelope and 20c in requesting a Dr. Crane Bulletin. Address: Dr. George W. Crane, in care of Hopkins Syndicate, Mel-lott, Ind.

Gamma Phis Will Meet

Mrs. H. W. Newman will open her home at 5573 Sorrento Dr. to alumnae of Gamma Phi Beta on Tuesday noon. Her co-hostesses at a luncheon will be Mrs. R. M. Spensley and Mrs. Fowler R. Yett.

Mrs. C. J. Weide, president, will call for annual reports from board members. Up for discussion will be approval of changes in the national by-laws and constitution to be proposed next month at the national convention in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Delphian Post

Newly elected officers of the Los Angeles District Assembly of Delphian Chapters will be feted at luncheon Friday at the Portuguese Bend Club by the retiring Board. Mrs. F. W. Van Oppen of Torrance is the new treasurer.

Oswald Jacoby Big Hands Need Care

Big hands come along rather seldom, but they account for most of the points you win or lose in the course of a session. Handle them carefully in order to get the most out of them.

South went at his big hand, shown today, like the proverbial bull at a gate. The outcome was pleasant only to his opponents.

West opened the king of diamonds, forcing out declarer's ace. South then took 10 minutes by the clock in the attempt to guess what to do next. Should he lead out two high trumps and then try to cash high hearts or high spades? If so, which suit should he try to run? Or should he enter dummy with a heart at the second trick and stake everything on an immediate trump finesse?

There was something to be said for each of these plans, but none of them would have worked. South went down one, ingloriously enough, avoiding a loss only because he had 100 honors.

There would have been a different story to tell if South had done his thinking during the bidding instead of during the play. There was no reason to jump to six clubs at once. If South had done some exploring he would have found a far better contract; and if nothing better turned up he could bid six clubs later.

At his second turn, South should bid three clubs. North might jump to for spades (a fine bid), but might bid only three spades. If South then bid four clubs, North would surely bid four spades. South then would bid six spades rather than six clubs.

Perhaps some delicate line of bidding would get South to seven no-trump or seven spades. Even seven hearts can be made. The point is that almost any other slam contract would have been better than South's bid of six clubs.

Graduation Gifts Should Suit Interests

By ANGELO PATRI

June is graduation month and graduation means gifts for the graduates. Flowers fade too soon. Jewelry is unsuitable for most. Try to think of something the young person wants, or which would help him on the next phase of his growth.

If the graduate is going on to the next higher school, he would like to have some bit of equipment he is going to need. Reference books that he can use are fine. A dictionary, even an encyclopedia, are gifts from heaven for the student, and they will last his lifetime. Get the standard works. They are unfailing.

A camera is one of the best gifts a graduate can have. Get the one suitable to his use for it. A beginner needs a beginner's camera, while the graduate of college grade needs a more scientific apparatus. There are cameras for every kind of use—for fun, for study, for work in various fields. Buy the one that fits the need.

Ever think of a trip abroad for a graduate? It is a wonderful gift that will give the recipient pleasure and profit for a lifetime. It's not too expensive if well planned, either.

And there is a gift that can open a door to the graduate's dream of higher education—a course at the Conservatory for the struggling young musician, a course in college or in some specialized school for medicine, science, business could make all the difference in life to your special graduate.

To the elderly friend or relative who has that money stowed away for his heirs, let me suggest that you give it to the graduate who needs the lift it could give him now. Later, after you have no further need of money, this young person, boy or girl, may have lost his chance for the course that might have opened the door to happiness and success. There is such a gift you can bestow that will keep alive a kindness through the next generation and the next, on down the years.

It is an opportunity to invest in youth. Don't miss it.

Barbara Ann Beaver Troth to Burdette Blumer Told

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. A. Beaver of 3822 Rose Ave., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Ann, to Lt. Burdette V. Blumer, son of Eugene Blumer of Beresford, S. D.

A late July wedding is being planned. The bride-elect was graduated from Wilson High School and attended Long Beach City College and the University of California at Berkeley. While attending LBCC she was affiliated with Mahabharata and while at UC was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta. She taught in Berkeley following her schooling, and currently is living in Carmel and teaching in Monterey.

Lt. Blumer was graduated from South Dakota State College where he received a degree in economics. He currently is stationed with the Army at Fort Ord.

Chef of the Week

This Chef Likes Plain Food and Fancy Horses

By MILDRED K. FLANARY

Independent Press-Telegram Home Economics Editor

Should you want to find him in a hurry would you know where to look? Ten-to-one, he'd be a sittin' atop a fence watching his colts. Chef of the Week Frank Vessels Sr. has about 60 head of horses on his 400-acre ranch which joins Vessels' Los Alamitos Race Track.

His fondness for horses comes quite naturally. He was born in St. John's, Ky., and spent his childhood in the land of the blue grass.

In 1922 he came to Long Beach. Taking advantage of the oil field boom, he ventured into the construction business, installing oil field boilers. This later developed into refineries, compression plant, pipeline and concrete construction. In the course of the past 30 years, he has added to his interests the Vessels Western Corral, Vessels Land and Development Co., and the Los Alamitos Race Track.

The impersonality of an oil well, however, never replaced his liking for the wide open spaces, nor for his four-footed friends. So, he bought a working ranch in Riverside, and shipped a carload of mares from Texas. This was in 1937, and proved to be the start of quarter horse racing in this area. "Clubber," his pride and joy, and foundation sire, was his first quarter horse.

Vessels' vocation and avocation rather overlap. A six-time past president of the Long Beach Mounted Police, he rides with the Al Malaikah Mounted Patrol, and is a member of that exclusive group, the Visitadores Rancheros of Santa Barbara. A past president of the Oil Field Service Assn., he is a Rotarian and a member of the Penroleum Club. Unless closely guarded, our "chef" has his clipping moments. At such times, no bush, shrub or tree is left unmaimed. He's had a wonderful time, though.

Not one for concoctions—he's strictly a steak 'n' potatoes man. Today, however, circumstances intervened, and he's settling for a pot of baked beans.

BEAN POT BUFFET
1 lb. dry navy beans
5 cups water
1/2 lb. diced salt pork
1/2 cup brown sugar (packed)
1 cup molasses
1 tbsp. dry mustard
1 clove garlic
1/2 tsp. red pepper
1 tbsp. catsup
Salt to taste
Soak beans in water 5 to 6 hours. Add salt pork. Bring to boil, skim off foam. Turn heat low, add garlic, salt and simmer beans until nearly done, about 30 minutes. Add additional hot water if needed. Turn beans and 1/2 cups cooking liquid into baking dish. Mix brown sugar, molasses, pepper, catsup and dry mustard. Pour over beans. Put some salt pork on top. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 1/2 to 2 hours.

Why Grow Old?

Slow Down---It Will Pay

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Try to take life in an easy stride, no matter what you are doing. This youth-prolonging habit will increase your energy and happiness. Why do we have to hurry all of the time?

Why not try saying to yourself many times each day, "Relax." "Don't feel hurried." "Slow up." You will get just as much done and probably more. You should also add more relaxing factors to your life. Music is wonderful for this. The theater is relaxing to most people, especially light theater.

Bridge is soothing if you do not stew over mistakes or bad luck.

Exercise is probably the most valuable of all the first aids for banishing tension. However your golf game will not relax you and you will not play a good game if you swing with tense muscles or become frustrated when your score is not up to standard. Swimming is probably the most relaxing of all sports. Dancing is wonderful exercise and is especially beneficial because it combines the soothing effect of music with the benefits of exercise. It is too bad that we must often indulge in this in a smoke-filled room and at the cost of loss of sleep.

Molly Mayfield

He Won't Be 'Woman's Prey'

DEAR MRS. MAYFIELD:

This poor old country has been bamboozled into accepting domination by the American female. I am a bachelor, and being one of the last bastions of "freedom from womenkind," I can truthfully and somewhat bitterly say that even my position is being threatened by the scheming creatures.

You'll probably say I'm just sour because the girls don't go for me. I wish they didn't. My problem is really how to keep them away. I have an excellent job, a good education and, if I do say so myself, am quite goodlooking.

But I don't intend to be trapped by one of these hypocritical, domineering females. They pretend to be sweet as sugar and once they've snared you, they turn sour as vinegar.

gar. Oh, I've seen it happen hundreds of times to poor friends of mine.

Nine-tenths of these gals aren't worth the minerals they're made of—and minerals ain't worth much on the current market! They can't cook, they can't raise kids properly, they can't keep their husbands or themselves content—and they think the world owes them a living. Now really!

The divorce rate is at an all-time high, with most divorces instituted by "them." Juvenile delinquency is at an all-time high, and most people in the know say it has its beginnings in the home where, incidentally, the child spends most of his time with his mother.

And yet, the foolish male spends more than half his time in trying to pacify these very birds of prey that feed on him. Not I!

I want to know what you think, Molly, honestly. Don't stick up for these mock birds of paradise just because you're one of them. Admit the truth. Dare you!—E.S.J.G.

Dinner Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Eagle and Mrs. Beatrice McCauley, all of Long Beach, were the recent dinner guests of Dr. M. B. Hagerdon at the Corona Navy Hospital.

DEAR E.S.J.G.:

I would love to answer you. It would be quite easy. All I'd have to say is that I hope you're never "snared" by some female beast of prey! I'd feel desperately sorry for her—if she found you on her hands.

However, I don't have to answer you. I have a letter right here from your secretary—and it's answer enough as far as I'm concerned. The letter follows.—M.M.

DEAR MRS. MAYFIELD:

Honestly, never have I witnessed such gross ignorance in my life. This may mean my job, being the secretary of the "genius" who dictated and asked me to transcribe the enclosed letter. But being a woman comes more natural with me than being a secretary, because I suppose, I was a woman before I became a secretary.

The "boss" is quite a character, to put it mildly. Does he ever have illusions of grandeur? I honestly believe that his sarcastic attitude about women comes from the fact that he has just recently been given the gate by someone who told him a few things some of us gals who work with him would like to.

His days at the university, HIS war career, HIS boyhood days in dear ole West Virginia are never comparable to anything anybody else every experienced—or anything related to his present mundane way of living.

Sports Cars Holiday Down Mexico Way

Sunday, June 3, 1956

By Vera Williams

MGS, JAGUARS, Austin Healys, Volkswagens, Porsches, Triumphs, Mercedes Benzes and the like will be on the road June 8 between Long Beach and Ensenada.

There will be something like 150 of these small cars, with a driver and a navigator aboard and maybe the small fry of the family tucked into the crevices.

They will leave Spring St. and Bellflower Blvd. at one minute intervals, starting at 6 a. m. and they will begin reaching Ensenada at dusk. A barbecue, tequila party, dinner dance and gymkhana later and they will be back in Long Beach June 10.

IT WILL BE THE second annual Great Western Rally, sponsored by Long Beach MG Club, the main event of the year for sports car owners and enthusiasts of this area.

"Long Beach MG Club takes in everyone who is interested," says Bill Rice, rally steward. "We have 230 members, both men and women. Ninety per cent of them have sports cars, and I suppose 70 per cent of those are foreign sports cars. . . . But a person can get in if he has a bicycle, or a pair of roller skates or owns no wheels at all, just as long as he is interested in sports cars."

ROUTES WILL BE given the Great Western rallyists about 5 minutes before they leave. The driver tries to maintain the required speed; the navigator tells him the route and keeps track of the speed. This is not a speeding event, MG owners are quick to explain. The idea is constancy and precision.

At various check points, the cars are checked for time. Often after 10 hours of driving, a car will have an "error" of less than a minute. Traffic laws are followed; anyone who gets a moving ticket is disqualified from the event.

The route will lie through the scenic "back country" to San Diego; then the coast to Ensenada.

THE RALLYISTS will have a barbecue at Tecate, shortly after they cross the border. At Ensenada they will be met by a Mexican orchestra, will have a tequila party and receive souvenirs from the Ensenada Chamber of Commerce.

Enthusiasm runs high when sports car drivers get together for friendly competition. Here's the start of a rally.

A gymkhana is slated for June 9. A gymkhana is a series of tests of driving skill — the crazier the better. Common tests include blindfold driving, parking, dragging a wooden block between two crooked lines, breaking balloons, acceleration and braking, changing tires and spark plugs, picking up objects from the ground from a moving car, driving two cars at a given distance with a string tied between them. A good many of these events are run simultaneously, to add to the fun.

BEFORE AND AFTER the gymkhana, the rallyists will swim, loaf and sight-see. A dinner-dance is slated for that night at Hotel de Pacifico. Trophies will be awarded for the gymkhana and for the best driving time on the run — the best driving time is not the fastest, but the most accurate.

Sunday morning June 10 all will return home, by a more direct route.

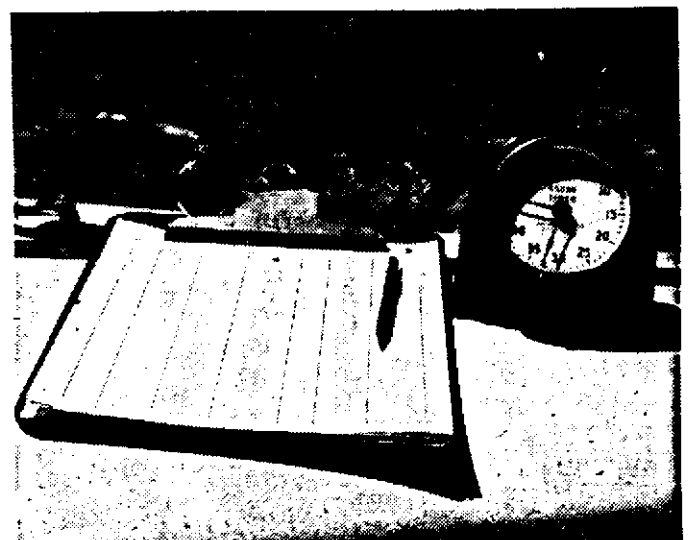

At the Great Western last year, the sports car enthusiasts drove to Yosemite. The year before they called it a Continental, and they "wandered around Southern California."

Rally stewards for the Great Western are Sam Kreidel and Bill Rice, with Jack Thompson as chief marshal and timekeeper. Other committee members are Phil Gruber, C. J. Neal, Jim Honeter, Chet Lancaster, Dan Deeble II and Ron Teters.

The Great Western is an open championship event.

ALTHOUGH ALL persons can participate, whether or not they are members of any sports club, those who are members of any of the 42 sports clubs in-

On forested slopes, in classrooms unhindered by walls, students learn of conservation and natural sciences in a novel school located at Idyllwild.

HIGH ON THE forested slopes of the San Jacinto mountains of Southern California is located a school that is unique in this corner of the United States. At the Idyllwild School of Conservation and Natural Sciences, students, teachers and other interested persons may attend classes that are not enclosed by walls. The classroom is as large as the out of doors itself. The atmosphere is pungent with the aroma of cedar and pine. Here the student can become familiar with plants and animals and the world that surrounds him. This educational program is sponsored by the Idyllwild Arts Foundation and Long Beach State College. Enrolled students can secure college credit from Long Beach State College.

Several years ago, Dr. Max Krone founded the Idyllwild Arts Foundation in mile-high Idyll-

wild. This institution was primarily concerned with fostering the arts in the Southland. As the program developed, Dr. Krone and others realized that the 250-acre wooded campus offered an exceptional place to teach "the wise use and enjoyment of the outdoors." The phenomenal population growth of the Los Angeles region and the intensive land use that is sweeping over Southland California highlighted the need for establishing a school of conservation. This summer will be the fourth year of activity for the Idyll-

Southern California's School of the Woods

wild School of Conservation and Natural Science.

THE SAN JACINTO mountain area offers a natural study area and laboratory that differs from any other found in this country. An interesting group of trees cover the mountain slopes. The range lies between the dry and barren Colorado desert and the greener coastal valleys. No mountain area has better preserved its original primitive character. The mountain folk intend to keep their wilderness environment in this condition as much as is humanly possible. The village of Idyllwild has a rural atmosphere. However, on many a summer weekend more than 10,000 visitors will be scattered over the wooded hills.

On its eastern slopes the San Jacintos drop 10,000 feet in some five airline miles — right into the heart of the desert resort of Palm Springs. Few steeper descents occur in the United States — it is a challenge to the best of mountain climbers. In the winter it is possible to drive over the Pines-to-Palms Highway from snow-shrouded Idyllwild to the warm desert in little more than an hour's driving time.

THE SAN JACINTOS are contained within the boundaries of the San Bernardino National Forest. This area of more than 247,000 acres is under the jurisdiction of the United States Forest Service. Water conservation and recreation are the essential functions of this forest. Sustained yield and multiple use is the operational philosophy of the Forest Service. Limited grazing, logging and mining are still practiced in the region. Greatest threats to the mountains are periodic floods and explosive forest fires.

Riverside County contains the only area in the California State Park system that has been set aside as a wilderness state park. Some 12,000 acres in the Mt. San Jacinto State Park have been preserved in their natural state. Included in the area are several of the highest peaks in Southern California. The summit is Mt. San Jacinto, 10,831 feet.

FOUR COURSES will be offered by the Idyllwild School of Conservation and Natural Science this summer. These will consist of both workshops and more formal classes. The philosophy of the school is "study nature, not books." Outdoor study, and the observation of good and bad conservation methods are stressed, supplemented by class lectures, films, slides, discussion and exhibit. Special lectures are given by representatives of the major state and federal agencies concerned with conservation. The visiting faculty also includes individuals connected with agriculture and industry.

A conservation workshop begins June 25 and runs through July 6. This course will deal with the wise use of natural resources, such as forests, water, soils, wildlife, conservation material and recreational areas. Nu-

She's Hip to the Hula

Polynesians say hula dancers tell a story with their hands—hips and feet are just incidental. Well, perhaps some people read the story when Julie Adams does the hula in "Away All Boats," U-I's dramatic story of Uncle Sam's Navy in World War II. Julie had to learn the hula, but proved hep with the hips, as pictures prove. Hers is a figure on which a grass skirt looks good—and her natural charm and acting talent aren't a handicap, either. Also starred in the film are Jeff Chandler, George Nader, Lex Barker and Richard Boone.

Hula student Julie checks in for her first dancing lesson. Charlotte Hunter provides the grass skirt.

Student and instructress strike pose, study Julie's progress in mirror—she's getting the swing of it.

The cameras grind and Julie grinds out the hula as George Nader plunks out accompaniment on ukelele.

Hands, hips and happy smile—here's Julie close up in the carefree dance of the exotic isles. She's the lone femme in large cast of the picture.

WHAT'S YOUR HOBBY?

She Buys the Whole Hide

By Betty Washlake

IT ALL STARTED when Mrs. W. D. Gooden, 67 E. 56th St., admired an expensive tooled leather handbag purchased in Mexico by a friend.

Knowing that her chances of getting South of the Border were practically nil, Mrs. Gooden made a sudden decision: She'd take the "cow by the hide" and make her own purse.

Now, after only a year and a half, she has cut, stamped, beveled and carved 30 large handbags, 15 belts, 40 wallets, 10 drawstring bags, many earrings, key cases, pixie boots, cigarette holders and appointment books.

MANY MEMBERS of the Long Beach Police Reserve, including her husband, wear their badges in leather holders she made.

But it all didn't come about so easily, as she put in many discouraging weeks. Her first day was spent in a leather shop and, when the roundup was over, she found she had purchased half a cowhide and numerous tools of the trade including such items as a bar grounder, beveler, seeder, resin mallet, marble slab and a swivel knife. With directions spinning in her brain, excitement in her veins and the bulky hide rolled under her arm, she went home with visions of that beautiful purse swinging by her side.

THEN EVERYTHING went wrong! The knife was awkward to hold and the bevel wouldn't flatten the leather, it just dug holes! Discouraged and with a hint of panic rising in her throat (as the money spent thus far was a tidy sum) she went back to the leather shop. This time, with more patience, she learned to hold the knife and bevel correctly. She sat and practiced on

The Old School Desk

By Bertha Blanchard

OLD SCHOOL DESKS are rapidly becoming Americana. As such they are being brought out of hiding from dusty school basements, deserted country schools and woodsheds, into the bright sunshine of fashion and favor, for the school desk of yesteryear has become an attractive garden accessory.

Photos by the Author

Wood parts painted blue, ironwork white, this desk serves for lunching in garden or a quiet place for letter writing. Desk, wrought iron chair team well.

Handicap Can't Stop Him

WHEN A FELLOW stands in the top part of his class after a tough examination, that's something. And when that top part represents the cream of the crop of approximately 4,000 college seniors scattered across the land, that's something again. But when a fellow has to conquer an almost insurmountable handicap to reach that lofty position—that's really something!

Meet Richard W. Binger.

By Jim Mangan

graduate social science student at Long Beach State College.

Binger, who is almost totally blind, recently passed the difficult U. S. government junior management assistant examination with a mark of 91 per cent, the highest mark ever recorded in the memory of the members of the board who conducted the examination.

The JMA program selects trainees for U. S. government administrative positions.

VICTIM OF AN EYE ailment at the age of 11, Binger's eyesight has deteriorated until his vision is now only 6/200. "That's my good eye," he says good-naturedly, "I don't talk about the other one."

Of the original 4,000 college seniors who took the examination, 80 per cent were washed out in the first stages. The 780

who remained were further reduced to 250 after a detailed oral examination and searching personal interview. These 250, including Binger, will take up administrative positions with the U. S. government in the near future. For Binger, however, there is one qualifying factor—his vision.

"THE TYPE OF WORK I can do is limited, naturally," says Binger, "but there are about 40 different positions which I can fill. I would like to work with the Bureau of the Budget or the U. S. Civil Service Commission, in public relations or employee relations."

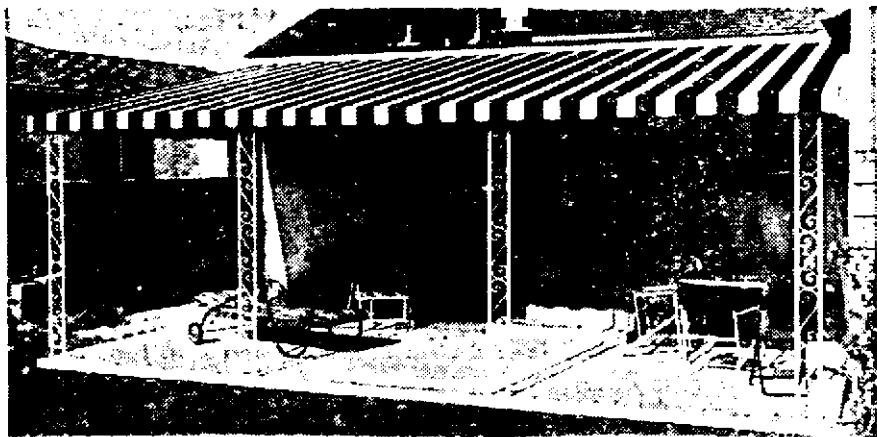

Binger, who attended Caltech and USC before coming to LBSC, depends on readers when he studies. Because of the resulting problems, he has trained himself to do almost all his learning in one reading of the text. Reviews are a special problem—there just aren't any. "It isn't that my readers won't help me review," explains Binger, "but they don't know what part of the subject I'm weak in, and I can't skim over the pages for a quick check on the main points. We were wasting so much time because neither of us knew what I wanted that I resolved to concentrate on the initial reading of the text. So now the first chance I get after something is read to me, I go over it quickly in my mind. Even when the stuff isn't clear

What's in a Name?

The Arrowhead Country of northern Minnesota — so named because it covers an expanse resembling the head of an arrow — is one of the nation's favorite recreation areas. It comprises 12 counties boasting 7,000 of Minnesota's 10,000 lakes, and an area of 22,000 miles. Fishing is tops, reports Northwest Orient Airlines, flying vacationists there.

Novelty at Nassau

By Bud Mulloy

SOMETHING NEW has been added at the staid and plush old British Colonial Hotel in Nassau, Bahamas — doormen in liveries reminiscent of Buckingham Palace or the ritziest of London hostels.

Visitors are deserting the famous Nassau police constables as camera subjects and are clicking their shutters at the doormen at every opportunity, and the amount of film exposed each day is fantastic.

AUTHENTIC as they can be and carrying the black and gold coat of arms colors of Sir Sidney Oakes, Bt., the uniforms come from the centuries-old tailoring shop of Simpson & Son, Ltd., London, which has supplied liveries to the royal family for many generations.

The silk top hat, with gold band, buckle and fringe, sports a black and orange silk cockade. The waistcoat is of old gold Valencia cloth, the black coat has an old gold collar, gilt ring buttons and slashed cuffs edged with gold lace and the black trouser seams are trimmed with a one-inch strip of gold. It was designed by Baroness von Hoyning-En-Huene (Nancy Oakes).

'Tis a pleasure, indeed, to be greeted now under the carriage canopy.

Britain for 28 cents. Your driving license costs 70 cents, and a seat at a small-town movie, 60 cents.

Many sights in London cost nothing. Admission is free to Changing the Guard at Buckingham Palace, the Lord Mayor's Show (early November).

The same holds true for admission to the permanent collection at the British Museum, the National Gallery, the Tate Gallery, and the Mint, source of the United Kingdom and Colonial currencies. For the latter, all that is necessary is a short letter to the Controller, Royal Mint, London. For free literature on London and all parts of Britain write the British Travel Association, 336 Madison Ave., New York 17, N. Y.

Stretching a Dollar

Worth seven shillings and a penny halfpenny, your dollar has a lot of buying power in Britain. Here are some examples of what it will do.

One dollar in London will buy two haircuts for a man, a round-trip boat ride on the Thames, a taxi ride from Piccadilly to St. Paul's and back, a good seat in a theater, or five leading magazines.

Britain is liberally dotted with inns where one can dine in solid comfort for a dollar. A railway ticket for this amount takes you from London to St. Albans, which boasts the country's oldest pub and a Roman amphitheater.

"We are two school teachers with time to go by bus in the British Isles. Are there any special customs or advice we should know?"

MIGHT KEEP IN MIND to reserve — "book" is the British way of saying it — EVERYTHING.

You book hotel rooms. The hotel may be half empty but the people are upset if you arrive cold. Book restaurant tables. Don't just drop in. If you want papers, book them with the head porter. The man with the crossed keys on his uniform lapel who hands out your room keys.

Tipping needs a little looking over. Recently some of the London hotels have been adding 15 per cent for service in the Continental style. But they tell you this does not absolve you (as it does on the Continent) from full scale tipping. Ask when you register about service charges and tipping. I'm not sure of this myself now but will find out this fall.

As on the Continent, all hands get tipped at the end of your stay.

Your tips will be for room maid, room waiter who brought your breakfasts if he did, hall porter (he shined the shoes you left outside your door each night). The head porter who handled your mail, keys and newspapers. This handy man also puts out the advice on shopping, gets theater tickets and is your best friend. Use him.

As to amounts: For two people, one week, country hotel. I would say 10 shillings ($1.40) for the maid; seven for the head porter. This is neither a minimum nor maximum and can be varied for how much each was used. Just something to work on.

You do not tip in pubs. But you do in tearooms and coffee houses, 15 per cent.

The man with the cart who carries your roast beef gets a shilling or two in addition to the waiter. And the wine steward is tipped separately.

Baggage to and from your room is not tipped separately. It is in your general hall porter's tip. If there is much baggage, consider that when you tip for the nightly shoe polishing.

GRAND FLORAL PARADE of the Portland Rose Festival, June 6-10, will have "Disneyland" as its theme. During this time, Portlanders and their visitors become citizens of the gay, mythical Kingdom of Rosaria, ruled by a high school girl queen and her royal court of princesses.

CLEAR LAKES, rivers and waterfalls await you in Oregon's many kinds of playlands. Below is one of the Anthony Lakes and Gussight Peak, a part of the scenic grandeur in the Whitman National Forest of Northeastern Oregon.

To Have Added Fun on your Oregon vacation, make use of the free publications offered in the coupon at lower right. Color pictures in the 24 pages of Oregon, Cool Green Vacationland will take you from ocean beaches to mountain playlands, from evergreen forests to open plateaus and to many "in between" places. Dates of hundreds of distinctive Oregon celebrations, pageants, etc., are listed in the Coming Events folder. A new map of Oregon's 55,000-mile system of highways shows you "how to get there". Historic markers, parks, facilities and camp sites are described in the Oregon Outdoor Guide.

Also available to you free are booklets on individual State Parks, most Oregon cities and resorts, travel accommodations, fishing, climates, geology and wildflowers. Let us know your needs—and plan to play in Oregon soon!

This picture, when unidentified, looked like visiting day on a submarine. And that's just what it proved to be—and a link with port history, too. Third man from right is J. M. Cage, who built the sub at Dodge Boat Works.

COINCIDENCE solved a mystery and uncovered an interesting story one recent Sunday afternoon at La Casa de Rancho Los Cerritos.

A picture of what seemed to be the top deck of a submarine on visiting day lay on my desk for identification.

It was one of a collection given the Rancho by Mrs. Stanley Houghton, and she had not been able to give any information about it as the pictures were among those her late husband had kept in his office.

But on this Sunday afternoon, Fred Hunter, 249 Maine Ave., visited the historic Los Cerritos Ranch House, 4600 Virginia Rd., and mentioned he had lived in Long Beach since 1904.

I showed him the picture, and so the story came out.

"IT IS A SUBMARINE," Hunter explained. "It was built at the Dodge Boat Works over in the harbor about 1915 or 1916. I'm not really sure, by John Millen Cage.

"It was launched sideways, like the ships were at the Craig Shipyards. When it slipped into the water it rolled over so far it took on water in the hold and settled to the bottom right there.

"Cage had the water pumped out and raised it up, however, and it was fitted and powered with two Buffalo engines.

"It made several dives and managed to go down and come up again without any accident or mechanical difficulties. My father, who used to caution us often on our boyish escapades, insisted on making a dive in it. We boys held this adventure over his head thereafter, when he disapproved of things we wanted to do.

"CAGE RAN OUT of money and was not successful at selling stock in his venture and finally had to abandon the whole project. The two Buffalo engines were removed and installed in a Catalina excursion boat."

This brought to an end the submarine industry in Long Beach, but Cage was on the right track and might have made a real contribution to national defense in World War I, had circumstances been more favorable.

That was a lucky day for me.

I was just that very day working on several of these old pictures, and I still have some I cannot identify. Maybe other visitors will help me out on some other afternoon.

THERE ARE TWO pictures of the interiors of rooms which I believe to be in the first Virginia Clubhouse when it was out where the Recreation Park golf course is now. There is also an exterior view, which I think is the clubhouse. Someday someone will visit the Rancho who remembers this building.

I have had many interesting visits with longtime residents and their conversations are recorded

Dome Jackpot

In their campaign to lure more travelers back to the rails, American railroads may have hit the jackpot in modern, glass-roofed passenger cars—"domes"—to the trade—that are fast revolutionizing old-fashioned concepts of rail travel, according to the May issue of Railway Progress.

Fourteen U. S. and Canadian roads today have more than 200 dome cars in service and all have found them a "tremendous attraction" to the traveling public, particularly vacationers, writes Edward A. Herron in an article whose title poses the question, "What's Different About Domes?"

"The answer," says Herron, "is simple—you see more. You enjoy a vista of mountains that's never blocked by a bald head. You absorb a wide expanse of picture blue sky that isn't squared off by a baggage rack and a tattered suitcase.

"You get right in the middle of the picture—the very spot the Hollywood people have been trying to put you for years. You have a sensation of gliding through space. You come as close to piloting the big diesels as the law allows—looking straight ahead to changing signals, easing on the brakes to red, pumping oil to the green. You're in the clear, almost out in the windstream, yet wrapped around in tinted glass, air conditioned comfort.

"It's a world apart from the rest of the train."

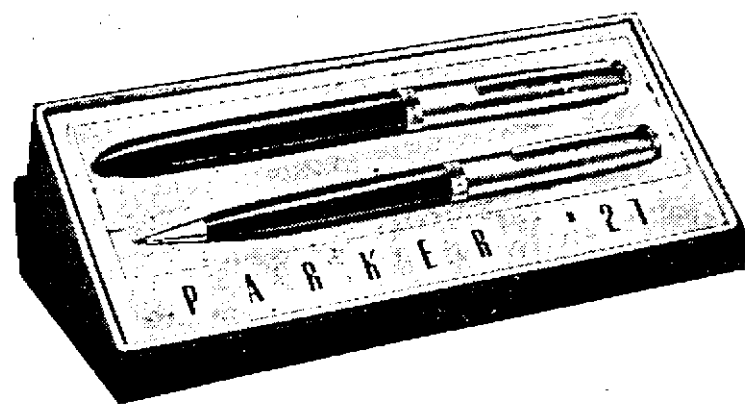

Domes, according to Herron, come in all shapes and sizes, but the typical dome coach offers 24 seats under glass in addition to 48 conventional seats. Some railroads advertise dome cars with "every seat under the sky."

There are even dome diners built on three levels, giving travelers the chance to dine and get an eyeful of scenery at the same time.

For camera fans, the author notes, domes are a major attraction.

a Mystery

In a book I keep for this purpose, I write it all down as soon as possible, and try to be as accurate as my immediate memory allows. This all becomes a part of the factual history and the folklore of this area and passing time makes every item constantly more valuable.

We want the Rancho to be a center of local history and we have already made a good beginning. The Rancho is open to the public, free of charge, from 1 to 5 p. m. Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays.

These Homemakers Are Hep

By Don Drury

ARE JOHNNY'S JEANS strong enough to stand the wear and tear of an active 6-year-old? Are the kitchen curtains dangerously inflammable? Will the new draperies hold their color?

At least one group of homemakers in Long Beach is now very well up on the answers to these and similar questions.

Taking part in a joint consumer-education program arranged by the School for Adults and the City College Business and Technology Division, more than 150 adult students from seven homemaking classes have toured the well equipped Materials Testing Laboratory on the BTD campus during the past two months.

They have learned exactly how the precision machines of an industrial testing center can determine such matters as the fadeability, washability, tensile strength, bursting strength and wear resistance of fabrics. They have also learned that many of these tests can be easily duplicated in the average household.

TAKE THE WASHABILITY test, which measures color-fastness, shrinkage and puckering of fabrics. The necessary ingredients, ready at hand in any home, are a mason jar, soap and water. A sample swatch of fabric is stapled to a strip of white cloth. It is placed in the jar with warm water, soap and some small weights (marbles do very nicely) to act as agitators. The covered jar is shaken for a few minutes.

The material is then removed from the jar and allowed to dry. Shrinkage can also be detected, along with any warping or puckering caused by the presence of two or more different fibers in the same cloth.

In the testing lab, of course, dozens of samples are inserted into separate jars, and the entire batch is agitated mechanically. Otherwise the processes are identical. A testing technician would be careful, of course, to use strips of non-shrinking white cloth exactly the same size as the samples.

ANOTHER TEST of considerable importance to most homemakers is fadeability. In the testing laboratory the job is done by a Fadeometer, a device which in 24 hours exposes samples to the equivalent of two weeks' normal sunlight. The home-grown, do-it-yourself fade-ometer takes longer, but works just as well. You begin with a piece of cardboard, about five by seven inches, cut out a "window" three or four inches square and then staple the cardboard to the fabric sample.

Dial readings tell Mrs. Lorraine Huebel the bursting strength of a sample fabric. Joe Pierce and his son, Mark, give practical demonstration of wear and tear.

Instead of the laboratory's battery of intensified lights, the home technician (assuming a condition of Smog Green) falls back on good old California sunshine. The sample is left exposed to sunlight (cardboard face up, tilted to the south) for about two weeks. At the end of this time, removal of the cardboard masking will reveal any significant fading of the sun-exposed portion.

Still another test easily performed at home is one for flammability. Certain fabrics used in curtains, lightweight blouses, children's Halloween or party costumes, some synthetic textiles and the like may be dangerously combustible.

FOR THIS TEST a kitchen match is lighted beneath a strip of the fabric sample. (Holding the other end between one's fingers is not recommended, incidentally.) According to typical test codes, the lighted match is held to the sample for one second. If the flame goes out when the match is removed, the material is acceptable. If, however, it continues burning briskly, the home tester may draw her own conclusions, with no prompting from the audience.

Still another part of the program in adult homemaking classes is instruction in how to read labels. The labels on clothing and many types of fabric are required by law to designate component materials, to indicate whether these materials are new or "reclaimed" and to indicate the presence and exact proportions of fiber in a composite material such as cotton-rayon-acetate. Such information, often overlooked by the purchaser, may be very important.

Certain tests performed in the testing laboratory require special machinery which obviously cannot be duplicated in the home. Among these are devices to measure abrasion or wear resistance (a factor in upholstery materials and clothing), tensile strength or wear resistance (a factor in upholstery materials and clothing), tensile strength, filler test (to detect amount of chalk, starch, etc., used to weight some materials) and identification of fibers by staining and microscopic examination.

MEMBERS OF WEAVING, upholstery, clothing and interior decoration classes took full advantage of the HTD testing center, naturally, to get samples of their current projects thoroughly examined for all these properties.

According to Mrs. Gheratine Pinniger of the School for Adults and instructor Ted Dunkle of the Business and Technology Division, many of these tests were genuine revelations to the homemaking students involved in the joint program. "If I'd only known that before!" was the typical reaction.

It is much easier on the housewife's happy frame of mind—and budget—to find out in advance whether those lovely new curtains will fade to a mournful, mottled mauve two months later, or whether Johnny's new T-shirt is going to turn the entire family wash a violent shade of orange the first time it's laundered.

COOKING

A Gourmet Treat: Chilled Soup

A SIMPLE SOUP and sandwich lunch can be made glamorous and colorful by varying the soup. Many folks have not experienced the pleasure of eating chilled soup. This pleasant first course has long been a favorite of gourmets, but it can be easily prepared at home.

When you have an informal get-together with some of your friends, for an afternoon of cards or sewing, a soup and sandwich menu can be adjusted without effort and become something special. During "Dairy Month," this month, you might like to try a chilled soup if you haven't already. Of course, these soups are made with milk; they are prepared in advance and refrigerated until serving time. There are many combinations you might try—vichyssoise, a combination of potatoes, onions and milk, is probably the best known. Summer garden soup uses fresh peas as the basic vegetable, and milk as the ingredient that not only adds creamy smoothness, but also the important food nutrients of milk which are so essential in the diet.

Chilled soup, made with milk, garnished and based in bowl of ice, can be delightful afternoon refreshment.

THE SOUP BOWLS and the soup should be chilled until the last moment. If you wish to add real glamour, set the soup bowl in a bed of ice and garnish the ice with vegetable relishes or olives. This makes a most attractive service and the sight of the cool food is refreshing on a warm summer day.

A broiled sandwich might follow the soup and it will give just the right contrast. Dessert should be simple and nothing could be more suitable than ice cream, plain or with fruit, and crisp butter cookies or brownies. Here are two menus which exemplify the chilled soup and sandwich idea.

Luncheon Menu

- Summer Garden Soup
- Crisp Crackers Butter
- Broiled Cheese-Tomato-Bacon Sandwich
- Relish Tray
- Strawberry Sundae Brownies
- Milk Hot Beverage, if desired

Summer Garden Soup

- 2 cups fresh or frozen peas
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 1/4 cup butter
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Few grains pepper

- 3 cups milk
- 1/2 cup cream
- 1/4 cup chopped fresh mint

Cook fresh peas in 1 cup boiling slightly salted water until tender. (If using frozen peas, cook according to directions, saving liquid in which they are cooked). Press peas with liquid through sieve. Sauté onion in butter until delicately brown, blend in flour and seasonings. Slowly add milk; cook stirring constantly until thickened. Add vegetable pulp and bring to a boil. Cool. Add cream and chill in refrigerator. Before serving, sprinkle with chopped mint. If soup thickens upon standing, thin with additional cold milk. Makes 4 servings.

Luncheon Menu

Cucumber Soup

- Melba Toast Butter
- Sliced Chicken on Toast with Cheese Sauce
- Watermelon Pickles Radishes
- Raspberry Sherbet
- Butter Cookies
- Milk Hot Beverage, if desired

Cucumber Soup

- 4 tablespoons butter
- 1 cup finely diced celery
- 1/2 cup diced onion
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 3 tablespoons minced parsley
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 4 cups milk
- 2 chicken bouillon cubes
- 2 cups finely diced, pared cucumber
- Melt butter, add celery and

onion; cook over low heat, until tender, but not brown. Add flour, seasonings, and Worcestershire sauce and blend. Gradually add milk, while stirring, and cook until smooth and thickened, stirring constantly. Dissolve bouillon cubes in a little of the hot liquid and stir in. Add diced cucumber and parsley. Heat, to blend, then chill. Garnish with cucumber slices or paprika. Makes 6 servings.

They Wanted Neptune as Neighbor

For two who enjoy wide vistas of the Pacific shore, sounds of surf and seabirds, the George Knorrs' home is ideal. This is their living room.

with a sea view. This they have found.

JUST THREE MONTHS ago their house at 10 55th Pl. was completed. Designed by the Knorrs (with Mrs. Knorr doing most of the floor-planning) the dwelling faces the ocean in such a way that most of the rooms give a view of the sea.

The rooms are large and the plan is essentially open, so that there is much latitude in its use. The dining and living area, for example, is actually one huge room. A feeling of division is established with the placement of a sofa with its back to the dining area. Then, when entertainment commitments demand a large space for entertaining, the simple rearrangement of furniture transforms the whole into a spacious party area.

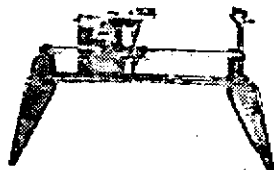

Another example of Mrs. Knorr's prowess at house planning is seen in the unique entry-den.

RATHER THAN set apart valuable floor space restricted to use as an entry, she allowed a few extra feet to permit the area to serve as an at-home office. The living room enjoys the privacy permitted by the inclusion of an entry, and the entry, itself, has become a meaningful attractive room.

In all, there are approximate-

miracle of science NIAGARA CYCLO-MASSAGE...

a new physical modality to help you look better, feel better,
and more fully enjoy life.

Two of mankind's healers... heat and massage... are now combined in a flat, comfortable cushion—the Niagara Thermo-Cyclopad. This fascinating new "aid-to-better-living" will encourage relaxation and help relieve the pain commonly associated with arthritis, bursitis or rheumatism.

The Thermo-Cyclopad is a result of Niagara's extensive research program conducted in hospitals, laboratories and colleges. It can be used on chair, couch or bed—lie on it, sit on it, use it behind back or on hands, feet, arms, legs. It is amazingly versatile... and effective.

- relieving many types of high or low back pains.
- relaxing nervous and emotional tensions and enhancing sleep.
- decreasing the over-all sense of fatigue and drowsiness of long hours of work.
- producing a feeling of relaxed well-being on the part of the user.
- increasing blood circulation.
- decreasing many types of pain as that commonly associated with medically-diagnosed chronic arthritis or bursitis.
- relieving pain associated with muscle spasm as in sprains and other injuries.
- decreasing muscle spasms of a variety of types.

The manufacturer of the famous Niagara Thermo-Cyclopad wants you to be convinced before you invest. Upon your request you can now use it in your own home or office without any cost or obligation to you.

Please deliver the Niagara Thermo-Cyclopad to my home for approval without any cost or obligation to me.

IT IS HARD to imagine any one—no matter how un-aesthetic he may be—whose soul can't be stirred by a magnificent view.

For some the most breathtaking is a twinkling, neon-lighted night-time view from a hill. Others find their particular beauty in the purple-to-sage stretches of desert wastelands.

And there are those who find peculiar magic in the sight, the sound, the salt spray—even the dipping of gulls—that go with the ocean.

Mr. and Mrs. George Knorr are numbered among the ocean-lovers. For years they lived in Belmont Shore, just a block or two from the beach. But they wanted to see the water from their living room, bedroom and kitchen. They wanted to be Neptune's neighbors, and so they began looking for a lot quilted scenic chintz in which rose is a predominant color. A grilled-door china cabinet stands against the south wall of the living room and is an attractive tie-in for the mahogany dining set it matches.

The oval dining table enjoys the company of chairs upholstered in parchment leather. Of empire style, the regal furniture is well able to "cope with" the panoramic view that is very much a part of the dining area.

A large open pass-through from dining room to kitchen enables Mrs. Knorr to enjoy the seascape visible through the dining room window. With this in mind, she planned for the pass-through to serve as a breakfast bar from the kitchen side, directly opposite the large window.

MRS. KNORR'S kitchen enjoys the new high-style color, pink. Pink spatter linoleum sets the pace for pale pink walls and sheer marquisette curtains. Countertops are of pale beige "marble" pattern.

ly 1,750 square feet in the house. Two bedrooms, two baths and an all-electric kitchen are part of the plan.

The exterior stucco of the dwelling is sunset coral topped with a roof of white rock. The living room's large corner windows of tinted glass orient to the southwest to enjoy a view of the beach that stretches beyond sight. The entry is located on the west side of the building, thereby utilizing none of the south exposure, virtually all of which is glass.

The entry-den is 10 by 15 feet. It has a scuff and sound resistant cork floor, walls wainscoted with mahogany, above which they are painted a cool turquoise.

A DESK IS located here as well as a spacious sliding-door wardrobe for the accommodation of guests' wraps as well as providing extra storage for the family.

The living room, to the right of the entry is completely paneled in oak finished in a driftwood tone. The vertical paneling carries the eye to the sloped ceiling with its heavy exposed beams.

At the west end of the room is a huge Ojai fieldstone fireplace with its chimney that rises to the ceiling. Its wide based hearth provides extra seating space close to its over-size, open firebox.

To the right of the fireplace is a cabinet, crafted, like the walls, of grayish oak. This is a cabinet for the storage of magazines, books and extra accessories needed by the hostess.

The entire area, 17x35 feet, has been carpeted in a soft sage carpet. Furnishings are traditional mahogany pieces that enjoy timeless good style.

NEAR THE FIREPLACE is a deep lounge chair in dark red leather. A light green Lawson style sofa stands opposite the fireplace about 20 feet distant, thereby defining the living from the dining area.

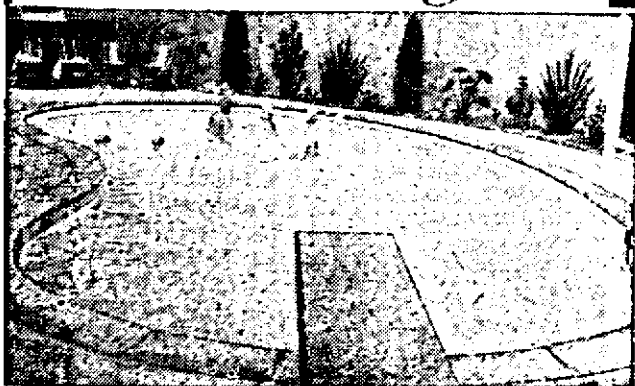

Other living room accessories include a pair of handsome occasional chairs upholstered in

She Fenced Her Way Into TV

By Spencer Crump

A REVIVAL of the age-old sport of fencing is centering in Long Beach as a man and woman practice for the 1956 U. S. Olympic team and a local girl is distinguishing herself as the most televised personality in the art.

This renaissance of skills that were developed when knights were bold comes from within the Long Beach Cavaliers Fencing Club, a group of men and women meeting from 1 to 3:30 p. m. Sundays at the downtown YMCA.

People ordinarily associate light-footed fencing with dancing and the movies.

"On the contrary, fencing is the most grueling and toughest of all sports," says John C. McKee, club director and one of the few fencing masters in America.

"However, neither height, weight or sex can beat sheer skill," he adds. "Fencing is like playing a life-sized game of chess."

McKee BELIEVES that when the public becomes better acquainted with the sport, fencing will take its place in this nation along with football and track. He thinks three fencers in the local club will help focus the spotlight on the sport.

They are Marjorie Hubbard, 31, of 109 Loreta Wk.; Trudy Wodgenske, 29, of Santa Monica and Werner Kirchner, 40, of Azusa.

Miss Hubbard, a clerical employee at the Douglas plant, has fenced during the past year on seven television programs, including the Bill Leyden, Gene Norman, Helen Parrish and George Wolf shows.

Miss Wodgenske, a secretary, and Kirchner, former national saber champion of Poland, will represent California at the national finals for the U. S. Olympic fencing team in May. They practice regularly at the Long Beach club.

THE LOCAL CLUB members usually use foils, a light sword, in preference to the other fencing weapons, the triangular shaped "epee" or flat sabre.

If the U. S. team wins, it will be the first time America has captured the Olympic medal for the sport.

"Americans have overlooked fencing," says McKee, initiated into the sport at the age of 12 when he found a foil in the basement of his parents' home in Mexico City. "In Europe, children learn the sport at junior high school age and every school has its fencing master."

THERE ARE ONLY 20 accredited fencing masters in America so people here have little chance to learn the sport, he says.

"Americans in world fencing competition are like a college in Spain trying to play football with Notre Dame," says McKee, who is employed as a statistical analyst at the Douglas plant.

He trained Maxine Mitchell of Los Angeles, a member of the 1952 Olympic fencing team. He has high hopes in repeating the performance this year by coaching Miss Wodgenske and Kirchner.

Mobile Clothes Hamper

THIS lightweight, well ventilated clothes hamper keeps the family's soiled clothing stored out of sight — and then on wash-day the hamper lifts easily out of its cabinet and glides on wheels to the washing machine. The housewife handles soiled clothes only once when she takes them from the hamper into her machine.

By using simple butt joints and adapting this hamper to the individual situation, the home handyman can make a valuable adjunct to utility furnishings. Casters or wheel-and-axle combinations available in many hardware stores will make the unit mobile.

A few coats of plain white enamel will suffice for finishing, or decorative transfer designs obtainable in hobby, hardware or home supply stores may be applied if desired.

Perforated hardboard on front and back of the hamper and the back of the cabinet yields light weight and a functional appearance. Perforations keep contents ventilated.

A few minutes' advance planning to size the hamper to the desired location will speed the operation of construction.

Handicap Can't Stop Him

to me, I still try to clarify it and fix it in my mind."

TEACHERS WHO have had Binger in their classes say that a highly developed memory is a significant feature of his academic excellence.

"You might say that Binger is a factor that keeps professors 'honest,'" remarked one instructor. "Days, weeks or months later, he draws forth information he has stored up—sometimes to the chagrin of an instructor who has altered the original presentation just a little bit."

OF COURSE, Binger doesn't spend all his time at his studies. He has a variety of outside interests. One of them is typically masculine: food. He likes to eat, especially in good restaurants.

Speaking of restaurants, Binger, who does all the cooking at home, mentioned what he chooses to call his main claim to fame. "I make the best chili in the world," he declares with confidence. "My friends tell me it's real good, and I like it myself."

The LBSC student, who terms himself "quite a chef," has a large collection of recipes—mostly filed mentally.

"I THINK MEN are better chefs than women because they have more sensitive palates. Nobody can cook just from a recipe. It's the taste that tells—and the gals just ain't got it!"

Before his failing eyesight put a limit on his activities, Binger was a pretty busy outdoor man. He liked hiking and mountain climbing, football and horse racing—"when I had the two dollars." In 1948, when his vision was still 50 per cent normal, he climbed Mt. Whitney. While at Caltech he went out for football, but a broken leg suffered on one of his mountain meanderings put a crimp in his gridiron career. Now his exercising is confined mainly to long walks which he usually takes alone because "the country has gone soft; nobody takes long walks any more." He likes traditional jazz and has a collection of several hundred records in the New Orleans style. Kid Ory is his favorite, and Binger makes a special effort to hear the Kid when he is playing close by.

BINGER ALSO SPENDS quite a bit of time listening to the radio. He depends on it for information as well as entertainment and, on the basis of many hours of listening, considers himself something of an authority on radio in the age of TV.

Binger lives alone. He keeps house without any help and does his own laundry and shopping. At Long Beach State College he is taking courses towards his master's degree, since his graduation last semester. While he awaits word on the status of his future with the government, Binger goes his own confident way, asking little in the way of special treatment. Says this courageous Long Beach State College student simply, "I get along OK!"

With a few basic tools and a bit of advance planning, a home handyman can make this wheeled clothes hamper.

U. S. Tree Champions

The American Forestry Association, in 1910, launched a campaign to locate the largest living specimens of each of about 845 trees native to the United States.

318 champion trees, each the largest known specimen of its species, have been found. They range in size from California's General Sherman Sequoia, which measures 101'-6" around its base; to Indiana's American Elder, with a girth of only 9"—but still the champion of its species.

40 champion trees have been found in California (5 in our own Angeles National Forest), 79 on the Pacific Coast and 91 in 11 Western states.

We hope to tell you more about these champion trees in our future ads.

Like skeet shooting with a turbojet pigeon is gun practice with new Navy target drone, shown above being slung under wing of a Douglas "Invader."

Navy Version of a Shooting Star

SOMETHING AKIN to a shoot-star is being groomed and tested as a possible successor to more conventional targets for sharpening the killer skills of the Navy's gun crews. It's the new Ryan-built XDA1 Firebee drone, an air-launched, remote-controlled, pilotless aircraft that will fly for 30 minutes at a speed of 500 miles per hour.

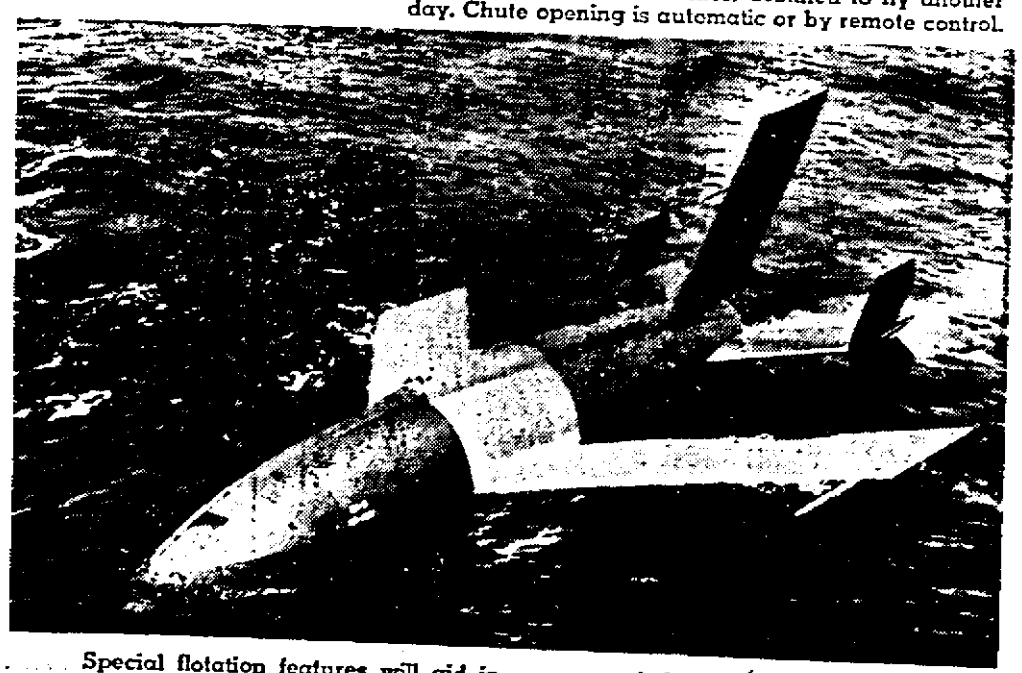

The Firebee is launched from a "mother" plane at 15,000 feet and can zoom up to an altitude of 30,000 feet. Upon termination of its flight, the Firebee can be recovered by a two-stage parachute system when flight is completed. This recovery for repeated use, coupled with initial low cost, makes the Firebee more economical than piloted aircraft converted to drone use. Also, its use as a target permits unrestricted angles of approach and fire, thereby offering more realistic missile and gunnery training.

The Firebee is 17 feet, 3 inches long; five feet, 10 inches high and has a wingspan of 11 feet, two inches. Power is a J44 turbojet engine. Reflectors sensitive to radar are installed to give gun crews an image similar to a larger craft on their radars.

Tests are being made at the Naval Air Material Test Center, Point Mugu.

Flight over, down she comes: destined to fly another day. Chute opening is automatic or by remote control.

Special flotation features will aid in recovery of the Firebee, which is destined to see wide use over water areas. Here is drone after descent.

Boot Hill cemetery of Calico, desert ghost town, has its quota of head-board epitaphs that are in the picturesque style of the early boom days.

Are Epitaphs Really Literature?

EPITAPHS, it is said, are the "literature of the masses."

And nowhere may more graphic epitaphs be read than those on the wooden, sunbeaten headboards on Boot Hill at Calico, ghost town near Barstow.

From these epitaphs one may glimpse into the lives of the 3,500 persons who lived and loved and died in the town's short existence.

Here are chronicled the lives of the common people ignored by historians yet preserved for a place in history. In the denunciatory, eulogistic and sometimes humor words on these headboards, the social pattern of the town and its generation is revealed.

PUNISHMENT for crime was swift as these lines written in 1881 testify:

Dan Crow

Killer-Outlaw

A no good cuss

We strung him up

Nearby is the undated headboard of a young victim of chance and circumstance:

Wes Wescott

Hung In His Youth

Twice a Sad Mistake

When we found the truth.

A grim warning to would-be claim jumpers is contained in these crudely carved letters:

Here lies

Blackie Scroggins

Hung May 1st, 1882.

Claim jumpers Take Note.

Calico attracted its share of the thousands of men who drifted through the vast and empty space of the west during the 19th century answering only to a nickname. To the memory of one such man this couplet reads:

We didn't know this gent's

name

A proper burying he got the same.

WAS FRANKNESS such a virtue in the 19th century that the deceased friends and relatives raised no objections to the vivid but sometimes uncomplimentary word pictures to be found in some of these inscriptions? Or was it perhaps a long suffering husband whose pent up feelings found expression in these words?

Beneath this Stone

A Lump of Clay

Lies Nora Young

Who on the 21st of May

Began to hold her tongue.

Ezekiel Potter's scribe tried hard to give an honest picture of him:

Ezekiel Potter,

An amiable man was he though somewhat frugal and miserly.

Sounds as though this next epitaph might have been authored by the deceased himself.

Joe Crabbe

When I'm dead and in my grave

No more whiskey will I crave

But On My Tombstone

Shall be wrote

There's many a jolt went down his throat.

Wonder if Calico's younger generation heeded the moral in this sad tale?

Slip McVey

He might be here today

But Bum whiskey and A bad gun put him Away.

THEY HAD SOME poor punsters in these days too:

1883

Here lies Ann Mann

She lived an old maid

And died an old Mann.

Symantle paid a high price for her fear of medical men as you can see:

1883.

Here lies Symantle Proctor

Who ketch'd a cold

And wouldn't doctor

She couldn't stay she had to go

Praise God from whom all blessings flow.

Judging from this next epitaph Miss Lottie Joy lived up to her name:

Lottie Joy, aged 25

A full life she lived well

Though short in years

It would be long if

Measured by tears.

Erected by her admirers

1881

COULD IT BE that a female bard was responsible for the following lines?

Sadie Arbuckle

Her demise was noted by many men

Her reputation can be quoted

by those who knew her well.

Daisy Dooley, 1887

She came to town one day

Wasn't long before she went astray

She leaves the town today

To A better place we pray.

There are still more epitaphs but I'll leave those for you to read on your next trip to Calico.

Secrets of the Indiscreet

PATRICK DENNIS
Confidant of the Indiscreet

COME WHAT MAY, the funniest book of the year is sure to be "Guestward Ho!" (Vanguard, $3.50). A collaboration, the volume is by Barbara Hooten as indiscreetly confided to Patrick Dennis, author of "Auntie Mame," published over a year ago and still high on the best seller list, first in this locality last week.

The book is filled with the doings of a lot of pleasant, interesting people; and for spice, a number of characters romp through these glad pages—one of those hippy blondes, for instance, who wastes no yardage, a poor man's Marilyn Monroe. Herein is life not only in motels and in the wide open spaces, in smart spots of Manhattan, but in a fascinating sort of home—a New Mexico guest ranch run by a charming and warm-hearted husband and wife. And Patrick Dennis was a guest. Something had to happen! What happened was the rib-tickling "Guestward Ho!"

If you can't afford a vacation, or if you can't get away from the tub or the salt mines, go "Guestward Ho!" for $3.50, the vacation of all good, merry vacations! You'll be so grateful you'll wish to send the Hootens a check — for their summer rates.—J.J.K.

FULL STORY — In D. H. Lawrence: Novelist, (Knopf, $1.75), British author-professor F. R. Leavis, makes a good case for Lawrence, and a good case against T. S. Eliot, Lawrence's critic. The author of this sound work says, "I live in hopes that Lawrence's recognition is at last to come—to come, after all, in my lifetime; I mean, his recognition for what I am convinced he is: the great creative genius of our age, and one of the greatest figures in English literature."

Lawrence emerges as a writer of stature, and Eliot as a carping critic who seems no match for Leavis.—J.J.K.

BULKY JACKIE GLEASON, who has been seen by millions of television viewers, is brought out of mothballs in a candid biography "The Golden Ham" (Simon and Schuster, $3.95). In it are found the actor's failures and his successes, his private and public life, his stage career, all told ably enough by Jim Bishop who has written half a dozen previous books including "The Day Lincoln Was Shot." But even in a candid biography Gleason is no more interesting than on TV. Give us back the mothballs, boys!—F.T.K.

IF YOU MUST take it without butter, just the trick to help your weight and your disposition is a copy of "Gourmet Cockery for a Low-Fat Diet" (Prentice-Hall, $2.95). Written by Elise Cavanna and James Welton — with an introduction by Stephen Longstreet, here is the last word in making fatless meals a gourmet's delight. Two hundred recipes tell you how.

"DINING OUT in Any Language" (Bantam, 35c) removes the mystery from foreign menus by translating into English more than 3,000 locally-named foods and drinks of France, Italy, Germany, Spain, Sweden, Portugal, Holland, Norway and Denmark. Arranged by countries, the book also describes foreign dining customs, lists both expensive and inexpensive restaurants, and advises who and how much to tip. Author is Myrna Waldo, food consultant of Pan American World Airways.

DEPRAVITY HAS ITS own fascination, and "A Walk on the Wild Side" by Nelson Algren (Farrar, Straus & Cudahy, $1.50) gives the author of "The Man With the Golden Arm" another opportunity to take readers into the limbo of society. The writing is superb, but even if this reader does have a measure of sophistication, there are times when he doesn't even know what Algren is writing about. Most of the novel is concerned with Perdido Street, in the old quarter of New Orleans. And the people on that street are all emotionally tough; they would have to be to survive as well as they do.

Dove Linkhorn might be dubbed the hero, and as he feels early in life; "Dove Linkhorn could not remember a time, a place nor a single person, house cat or hound dog had sought his affection." As a youth he comes to New Orleans, and it is in the middle of the depression. Dove comes up with some of the oddest ways of survival, but when he takes his place with the inhabitants of the wretched houses of prostitution, he seems to come into his own. Some of this copy is horrible, but the writing is such that the reader will go through experiences that would otherwise be denied him, which many a reader may feel would be just as well.—G. L.

DALE EVANS ROGERS' "Angel Unaware," the story of what the two-year-old child of the Roy Rogers, seriously handicapped in life, told God on her arrival in heaven, has sold half a million copies to date and is still going strong. The story of how "Angel Unaware" came to be written and how it was written now is told in "The Angel Spreads Her Wings" (Fleming H. Revel, $2). It is warm and inspirational reading because the author, Maxine Garrison, as assistant publicity director for the Roy Rogers Enterprises, watched the story unfold and was deeply impressed by what she saw.

DO-IT-YOURSELF and garage workshop addicts often learn to make handsome furniture, only to botch the job in the finishing process. "Complete Book on Wood Finishing" (McGraw-Hill, $1.50) will set them right on this phase of their projects, with its easy-to-follow instructions and illustrations. All kinds of finishes are discussed, including the various woods and the finishes each will best accept. Author Robert Scharff is a long-time expert in this field.

MUSIC, says Jacques Barzun, dean of the Graduate School of Columbia University, is interwoven with the texture of our lives from morning until night, resounding for, with and through everything. It is canned, broadcast, recorded and rebroadcast. In "Music in American Life" (Doubleday, $2.75) devoted music lover Barzun, like Walt Whitman 100 years ago, "hears America singing." He likes what he hears and his account of the making of music is a symphony in itself, a symphony that will give anyone who reads him a better and more appreciative ear for song.—F.T.K.

BASED ON THE experiences and observations of a career devoted to seafaring arts, "Small Boat Steamship," by Rear Adm. Louis B. Olson, U. S. Coast Guard, (D. Van Nostrand $7.50) brings help in a handy package for the novice boatman; and for the experienced hand, too, who wishes to check his procedure with this new manual. The author has kept his volume free of material essential only to the large, commercial vessel operator (which too often fills many pages of such books), keeping his sights on the needs of the small boat owner who is new to the field. He discusses selecting a boat, understanding water conditions, weather, tides, waterways, boat design, navigation, sailing and how to be happy and safe on the water. Illustrative drawings help in understanding the text. Excellent for the small boatman's library.

JOHN SEYMOUR went out from England to Africa when he was only twenty years old, and his "One Man's Africa" (Day, $4) is an account of his growing up in the confusing land and his various adventures while doing so. Many of his exploits as a youth have been done in flashbacks, for he returned after twenty years and writes of the new Africa, which is often not new at all but only slightly adjusted to modern times. This is a splendid and fascinating book which the reader will find enlightening in view of many and various other volumes which have reached the book stalls in recent times.

STORY OF THE globe-girdling experiences of a man and his wife, a photographer-friend and a dog, "The West in My Eyes," by Annie Van de Wiele (Dodd, Mead, $1), is a rollicking sea story with a woman's slant and male appeal. The book is aptly subtitled: "A Domestic Circumnavigation." It is the account of a two-year cruise aboard the Omoo, a 46-foot, steel-hulled gaff-rigged ketch, with an auxiliary engine that had a temperament of its own. Mrs. Van de Wiele is a woman with a keen observation and a ready—and occasionally spicy—wit. From Ostend, Belgium, around the world and back again, here is an adventure few lovers of the sea will care to miss. Here is an account of what it's like at sea and what it's like ashore in strange ports. The book is neatly illustrated with photographs by Fred Debel, the photographer-friend. Edward and Diana Young did the translation from the French version.

How to Get a Show Dog

By Eleanor Avery Price

THERE ARE TWO WAYS to try to obtain a show dog without simply paying a fabulous price for a champion—if you can get someone to sell one.

With luck or know-how, or both, you can buy a puppy or young dog that seems to have show prospects, as did Mrs. Riney Rinebarger of Long Beach, whose fine toy poodle pup appears with this article. Or you can breed for champion pups, as does Anton March of San Diego, with his unusual Brussels Griffons.

Do not buy a shy or diffident puppy, for no shy dog will make a good show dog no matter how nearly perfect he or she is on show points. An even temperament bespeaks a confidence that is desirable in the ring since it appeals to onlookers and judges alike.

SO BUY A PUPPY with precaution. Stand back from the pen and observe the pups at play. Then walk slowly closer and be alert to those that come up to be petted or talked to. A happy pup is a healthy pup, one that will adjust to new environment and not be overly cautious of the show ring later on.

Breeding to obtain a fine show dog has become a major sport not only with professional breeders but with one-dog or two-dog owners as well. However, most puppies become just good pets, for breeding of show dogs is not easy. It requires patience, perhaps for years, and it requires experience and a knowledge of canine eugenics which patience and study bring.

The dam (mother) and sire (father) should be chosen with meticulous care. Their ancestors should be known as well as their own temperments, personalities and body conformations.

THERE ARE FAULTS in every breed of dog, and it is up to you to depend on judicious mating to try to weed out any undesirable qualities. You wouldn't, for example, knowingly mate two animals with the same defects, for the offspring might easily inherit the faults.

Some authorities claim the temperament comes more from the dam while the physical qualities are derived more from the sire. Whether this is entirely true or not, it stands to reason that you would not breed a well formed female to a poor-appearing sire if you want the results to be show prospects. If possible, you would breed her to a champion.

THE BEST TIME to begin breeding a female is in her second period which is generally when she is around 15 to 18 months old. To be absolutely sure of the correct time for mating, the female may be left at an animal hospital that makes smear tests. If this is impossible, carefully guard your female from stray dogs, then insist on two matings two days in a row at the right time.

Let Your Garden Path Be Gay

Convolvulus mauritanicus bears heavy burden of flowers of soft blue color.

Verbena is hardy and gay, ideal for a garden path edger. It's long-blooming.

Chrysanthemum mawii is a wide-spreading, hardy edger that blooms all summer. Daisy-like flowers are white.

IN SPRING and summer all nature seems to conspire to add glory to Long Beach gardens. This is the period when one of the most rewarding pastimes for a gardener is to stroll down his own garden path and admire the progress and beauty

By Murtha Hurley

of plants he has set in himself. To bring color and beauty quickly and easily to garden paths, rim them with sturdy, low-growing perennials, those that have long blooming periods. Intermingle these with annuals and bulbs to furnish color highlights at various seasons.

Ask your nurseryman for Blue Morocco Creeper, (Convolvulus mauritanicus), Sun Roses, (Helianthemum nummularium), Chrysanthemum mawii, verbena and perennial pinks, for edging a sun-beaten path.

Each grows about six inches high and spreads widely. None are weedy. All do well in fairly dry, well-drained ground.

ONE PLANT of Convolvulus mauritanicus often spreads to three feet across, forming a dense mound of small, grayish evergreen leaves and covered with inch-wide lavender blue flowers.

Plants of Helianthemum, Sun Roses, are almost hidden by the countless dainty single or double flowers in pink, white, orange and yellow. They, too, spread to approximately three feet.

Chrysanthemum mawii plants form a dense woody base for rounding, finely massed foliage five to six inches high with flowering stems as tall as 15 inches bearing large 1½-inch flowering daisies with white rays and rosy-pink on the back.

Pinks have always been popular for borders. They send up their spiky, clove-scented single or double carnation-like flowers all spring and some varieties bloom into mid-summer from low-growing thick mats of tufted grayish green grass-like leaves. The plants are very hardy. List indefinitely if sheared back closely each fall. You can make new plants from the cuttings. Root them in sand.

ONE OF THE hardest of edgers is gay, long-flowering, long-lived verbena which has a spreading habit and tucks its roots along the ground in all directions. If you like pastel colors, try deep lavender blue verbena with coral pink. Or, if you prefer more vivid shades, one of the prettiest verbenas is a deep, cherry red. Verbenas grown from cuttings, rather than seedlings, make far sturdier plants.

Verbenas will light a sunny path with glorious masses of color for nearly nine months of the year, also provide long-lasting flowers. Cut back in fall.

Sturdy, fast-growing petunias frame a garden path with glorious color almost all year. Single varieties, "Rosy Morn" and "Heavenly Blue," as well as many of the new hybrids, such as "Ballerina," "Fire Chief" and "Prima Donna" make wide-spreading plants. Keep faded flowers snipped. Cut plants back heavily in the fall.

NEW TYPES of Alyssum, "Carpet of Snow" and "Royal

Carpet," a rich purple shade, edge a sunny path with fragrant flower heads yet do not grow sprawly as did earlier varieties.

Another gay border flower is Phlox Drummondii. Its color tones are extensive, from white to rosy red, pink, purple, lavender and coral. They need full sun and plenty of water.

For a shady path, plant fibrous rooted begonias. Both tall and low border types make bushy plants with lustrous green or bronze foliage with white, pink, rose or red flowers. Cut back before cold weather.

BELL-SHAPED campanulas also are ideal for a shady path. In blossom from June to fall, they are easy to grow, last for years, with little attention, other than division each second year.

Dainty deep blue, grape hyacinths, creamy white narcissus and yellow daffodils are hardy bulbs.

Tiny bulbs of native Brodiaea multiply rapidly. Each spring, they will pop up, sending one to two-inch grass-like leaves and loose clusters of azure-blue stars.

Low cost, too! One pound covers 2,000 square feet of fly feeding areas.

On all chemicals, read directions and cautions before use.

Water Deep in Summer

By Bob Gilmore

THIS IS a good time to plan your gardening chores for the warmer months of the year. The technique for raising ornamentals during the summer season is quite distinct from that recommended for spring, winter and fall.

Southern California is often described as a semi-desert region. Rainfall is frequently much less than what is anticipated. Moisture now stored in the soil is certainly less than that required for maximum growth. All of which means that from here on, watering will be of the utmost importance.

LIGHT SOILS should be watered more frequently than heavy ones but with less moisture at each application. Heavy soils, because they retain moisture for a longer period of time, require heavier irrigation but with the applications spaced further apart.

Force the water deep into the soil. Surface sprinkling does more harm than good. Plant roots remain near their source of water, keeping to the surface if that is where the water is. This is the strata that dries out first on warm or windy days. The roots are scorched by the hot, dry soil. Deeper down the soil is cooler and the roots less exposed to the drying effects of wind and heat.

Plants growing on slopes are especially susceptible to drying out in warm weather. Water will run down a hill, rather than sink into the ground. It is therefore advisable on hilly sites to erect a catch basin around each plant.

KEEPING THE SURFACE cultivated also pays dividends. This gardening technique breaks up the surface crust that inhibits moisture penetration. Friable soils absorb water readily, thus making it available for the roots below the surface.

Thinning out excessive leaf growth minimizes strain on plants during warm weather. All plants give off a tremendous amount of moisture through the stomata or openings on the leaves. In setting out transplants prune off some of the superfluous foliage growth. This lessens the shock of transplanting, makes it easier for individual specimens to catch on after being re-established.

ADDING HUMUS such as peat, leaf mold, manures, bean straw and comparable products increases the soil's capacity for moisture absorption. Mixing any of these products into the soil conserves moisture and makes for a better growing medium. In addition, a mulch of humus tends to reduce soil temperature and minimize evaporation at the surface.

Adequate pest control is also extremely important during warm weather. That's when the bugs are really on the march. This is the time of the year when insects, fungus and other garden pests wreak their greatest destruction.

Tips on Gardening

GARDENING TIPS for the week... An interesting ornamental for local growing conditions is brunfelsia, often referred to poetically as "yesterday, today and tomorrow." This subject is not nearly as well known as it should be. It is a compact growing shrub completely covered during the spring with blue and white flowers.

You need not be a millionaire to have orchids. The fact is you can grow them yourself in your own garden and outdoors at that. The cymbidium orchid is noted for its ease of culture. The flowers appear in huge sprays and are at their best during winter and spring. A shady and protected location is advisable.

African violets are rapidly becoming one of our most popular indoor plants. A clue to their successful culture is concerned with the method of watering: make certain that the temperature of the water is the same as that of the room in which the plants are growing.

Most people love birds and do not want to consider them in any way a pest. Still, birds do a great deal of damage to ripening fruit and in many instances, when you make a seed bed, they pull up your little green shoots as fast as they come through the ground.

There is a powder you can get from your nurseryman to dust the fruit and also the surface of the ground in your seed beds which will keep the birds away. It doesn't hurt them. They simply don't like to be near it and after they investigate a ripening strawberry and find it coated with this dust, they will not come back to the bed anymore. It is non-poisonous, does no injury to the plant and it leaves no residue on the fruit that can't be readily washed away when you wash your fruit to put it on the table. It has been a Godsend to gardeners all over the country.

HOW TO Repair and Protect Linoleum and Thus Add Years to Its Life

1. Stick Down seams where linoleum has loosened, using waterproof linoleum cement. Dirt and grit should be scraped away before you apply the cement to linoleum. With small roller, work in toward seam so surplus cement oozes out of crack, and roll the edges.

2. Apply Weight. If necessary, scrape the seam so the edges are flush. For large holes or damaged portions, cut matching patch first, using a sharp linoleum knife, a straight-edge and a smooth board for a cutting surface. On patterned material cut along straight lines of the design. Lay the patch over the damaged spot, scribe on outline of it and trim patch to fit. Cement and weight.

3. For Small Holes—Up to 3/8-inch in diameter—scrape thin shavings off waste linoleum of similar color and mix them with linoleum lacquer. Mixture should be the consistency of glazing compound and pressed into the break. You can repair chipped edges at seams the same way. When patch is dry, remove surplus above floor surface.

4. Protect Your linoleum from the sharp steel legs of chairs, stools and tables by covering ends with rubber crutch tips. Refrigerators can be kept off the floor by setting the feet on rubber bases, such as shoe heels, which also helps eliminate vibration and noise. Wax linoleum often to keep dirt and grit from wearing through finished surface.

5. Protect Floor by padding sharp edges around bottom of range. Leather, felt, or thick canvas lets range slide easily. Coat pads with glue that sticks to porcelain, glass and metal.

Stereo Makes Snapshots Exciting

Stereo slide viewing has come a long way since Victorian days in order to win interest of modern age.

By the Shutterbug

WHAT'S NEW about stereo?—nothing, if you are talking about the basic principle. It's as old as Euclid—and the viewing of stereo slides was a favorite indoor sport of the Victorian era. But a lot has happened to stereo since then—and we thought you should be brought up to date on it.

You take your own full-color stereo pictures with an easy-to-use camera—a privilege our grandmothers never had in their day of dependence on stock views of Niagara Falls and the Great Smokies. Today's stereo enables you to catch the pictures that are important to you personally—the ones that represent large and small milestones in your own individual family history.

WHAT THEN, you may ask, makes stereo pictures different from those snapped with ordinary cameras? And the answer is—the way the stereo camera sees. Because it sees just as our eyes do—with two lenses—it sees the shapes and contours of objects and hence actually views everything in three dimensions. This added dimension of depth not seen by single-lens cameras is what gives stereo slides their very special true-to-life quality—a quality that's particularly important for certain types of subjects.

Scenic views and home interiors usually owe a large measure of their natural charm to depth or perspective—and this makes them fine subjects for stereo and its 3-D effect.

NO MATTER WHAT subject you select, however, you'll appreciate the greater freedom in composition that stereo permits. Gone forever are your worries about troublesome background details like telephone poles or lamp shades—they'll stay in the background where they belong.

And you can shoot your pictures with any lighting you choose—for again you get just what you see.

IF YOU'RE ONLY an average shutterbug but would sincerely like to come up with better snapshots, then a small but extremely intelligent little book just published called "Photography" (Simon and Schuster, paper $1, cloth $1.95) is what you're looking for. It is authored by Herbert S. Zim and R. Will Burnett—with a great many black and white and full color photos—and it is aptly subtitled "An Amateur's Guide to Better Pictures" because it is loaded with such easy-to-follow chapters on such subjects as how to light your subject, type of films to use, exposure, taking color photos, different makes and models of cameras, darkroom magic and home movies.

LONG BEACH Camera Guild will hold a Slide-of-the-Year contest and Print-of-the-Year contest at 8 p. m. Wednesday in Municipal Art Center, 2300 E. Ocean Blvd. Any color slide or black and white print that has been in competition in the club during the past year may be entered for judging. Trophies will be awarded. There will also be election of officers.

Crossword puzzle grid with numbers 1 through 155.

SCHOOL OF THE WOODS

merous field trips will be taken. This course gives two units of college credit.

THOSE INTERESTED in plant and animal life will find the course in field natural history of value. Geology and astronomy are also included in this two-week study. The course carries two units of college credit. This study commences July 9 and terminates July 20.

Another course offering is the one-credit outdoor workshop, which begins July 23 and ends on July 27. This workshop is concerned with general outdoor lore, campcraft and the identification of the more common plants and animals.

The course which has proven to be the most popular of those offered by the Idyllwild School of Conservation and Natural Science is the wilderness workshop. One credit may be earned in this workshop, which runs from July 29 through Aug. 4.

CONSERVATION PROJECTS are built by the students under the direction of experienced guides and instructors. Horses take the camping gear and other equipment into the back country.

The faculty for the summer session has had a varied background and experience. The director is Dr. Donald D. Shipley, who will be assisted by Dr. Charles Burch, both of the Long Beach State College biology staff. These instructors will be assisted by Ernie Maxwell, an editor and cartoonist of note and a man who knows as much about the San Jacinto mountains as anyone alive. As a sideline Maxwell edits the Town Crier, a publication that serves as Idyllwild's newspaper. Edward F. Dolder, chief of conservative education for the California Department of Natural Resources, and Herbert D. Gwinn, a consultant in secondary education of the California Department of Education, will be among the visiting faculty.

IN RECENT YEARS Southern California has witnessed a remarkable development in outdoor education. A number of camps have been established at which sixth grade pupils in the public schools spend a week in the mountains. For city-reared children this is a memorable experience. A major portion of this program is concerned with conservation, resource-use, and outdoor education. For some 36 weeks during the school year, some 2,500 children receive such training on the campus of the Idyllwild Arts Foundation. Many of these youngsters are from Long Beach schools.

Students at the Idyllwild School of Conservation and Natural Science may secure room and board on the campus of the Idyllwild Arts Foundation. Others may wish to camp out. Facilities for camping are available at both the State Park and also the Riverside County Park. These camping sites are located only a short distance from the school. Camp grounds are also located at a number of spots in the San Bernardino National Forest. A varied activity program is offered on the Idyllwild campus. These are of interest to the whole family. These activities include music, dancing, crafts and other arts. Guest lectures and special evening features are offered. A limited number of scholarships are available for outstanding applicants. Information concerning these should be addressed to the Director of the Conservation School. Additional information concerning the Idyllwild School of Conservation and Natural Science may be obtained by writing to the Director of the Summer School, Long Beach State College.

Sports Cars

cluded in the Southern California Sports Car Council may accumulate championship points on the rally.

Founded in February 1950 by a "radical" bunch of 12 TC owners (the only model then available), the club grew steadily. Founding members still active include Dan Dickinson (president 1950), Caz Bartlett (president 1951), Sam Caldwell, John DeFriest, Dale Halliday, Dr. Paul Winters, Clarence Covert and James Easton.

In those early days, the foreign car was regarded as a thing of wonder. Enthusiasts were stared at and talked about. But the dauntless few who originally gathered to share their common interests, spent pleasant and memorable evenings bench racing and planning the organization that materialized as the Long Beach MG Club.

FIRST RALLY covered 50 miles, had two check points (counting the finish and ended at Inspiration Point overlooking Lake Elsinore. It was a major project to coax 10 cars out to an event in those days. Now a rally, gymkhana or road trial is held each month and participants total around 100.

Incorporation came in 1952, followed by affiliation with the MG Car Club of England.

Present officers are Ron Teters, president; Jack Thompson, vice president; Sam Kreidel, treasurer; Harry McKinney, executive secretary, and Jim Honeter, recording secretary. The board of governors includes the officers plus Max Brinay, Bill Rice, Chuck Marshall, C. J. Neal and George Johnston.

PETER G. STATHIS

It's Called Bisque

WHEN IS A soup not a soup?

When it's served at the Sea Food Grotto, that's when. If this sounds like double-talk, the explanation is quite simple.

The Grotto, 701 E. Ocean
Blvd., gives its soup the French name of "bisque." Which is no more than right because such a rich, creamy concoction certainly deserves a better descriptive term than the plain old word soup. The Grotto's specialty is lobster bisque, served in a shining abalone shell, and it must be tasted to be appreciated.

Peter G. Stathis, host at the restaurant, sees to it that his guests are offered their choice of the bisque or clam chowder on both the dinner and luncheon menus.

The luncheons at the Grotto are immensely enjoyable and include more than generous amounts of fine food. Served daily from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m., the luncheons provide bisque or chowder, salad, vegetables, bread and butter, choice of beverage and choice of dessert.
Entrees include halibut, breaded filet of sole, barracuda or porpoise, all $1.25. Meat dishes are available also, changing from day to day, and including such items as Yankee pot roast, $1.35, or shortribs and turkey a la king, both $1.25.

RIGHT IN SEASON now are the Grotto's handsome crab, lobster and shrimp Louis salads.
They're served on platters decorated with romaine and other lettuces, sliced carrots, onions and green bell peppers. The crowning effect, of course, is the smooth Louis dressing.

With its large, well-lighted dining room, snowy tablecloths and comfortable booths, the Grotto is a pleasant place to dine. Its dinners served from 3 to 11:30 p. m., are extremely extensive, and include such ocean delicacies as Monterey abalone, Louisiana frog legs, deviled crabmeat, grilled swordfish, Catalina sand dabs, Columbia river salmon, broiled lobster and jumbo shrimps. Prices for complete dinners start at $1.60.

The Grotto is closed Wednesdays.

LOOK AT THESE FEATURES:

- Dimensions: 14" long x 14" wide x 9 1/2" high.
- Carrying Weight: 25 lbs.
- Record Level "Eye"—provides a "visual" of the full range of recording volume. Record level can be pre-set as "EYE" functions, without tape being in motion.
- Two Speeds for Recording and Playback—7.50 i.p.s. for greatest sound fidelity; 3.75 i.p.s. for "long play" and tape economy.
- Two Speakers—for maximum fidelity reproduction. Full width baffle mounts a 5" x 7" "woofer" with high magnetic gap energy Alnico-5 magnet for bass and middle-frequency range, 3" "tweeter" with Alnico-5 permanent magnet for high frequencies.
- Tone Control—dual action, single knob.
- Safety-Lock Button—prevents accidental erasures.
- On-Off Volume Control—starts recorder and varies volume in both RECORD and PLAY.
- Easy Action Tape Transport Lever—for sure, quick operation of the tape transport mechanism.
- Fast Rewind—120 inches per second.
- Fast Forward Button—useful for "skipping" forward on the tape to the section desired. Button control allows for exact, positive editing.
- "Pause" and "Fast Control" Lever—allows extreme flexibility of operation of instrument in either "RECORD" or "PLAY." Stops tape travel immediately. Very useful for office dictation, correcting sections of "live" recordings, eliminating radio or TV commercials.

All you do is drop in the bread Bread lowers itself automatically — no levers to push. Toast raises itself automatically. No popping or banging.

$27<sup>50</sup>

You will scarcely believe your eyes when you see the sheer magic of this entirely new kind of silent automatic toaster by Sunbeam. It is actually easier and more effortless to make delicious toast with the new Sunbeam than it is to tell about it. And what toast — every slice alike from first to last, whether moist or dry, thick slices or thin. It's the toaster that has completely changed the public's conception of what an automatic toaster should do.

LONG BEACH

Twelve years after D-Day, I still remember . . .

That first soldier I met in Normandy

by GEN. MAXWELL D. TAYLOR
CHIEF OF STAFF, U. S. ARMY

At about 11 p.m. on the eve of D-Day in Normandy — June 6, 1944 — the parachute elements of the 101st Airborne Division took off from English airfields in more than 400 C-47s. General Eisenhower saw us off, which in itself would have convinced us that we were doing something a little out of the ordinary. In fact, our division was to spearhead the greatest military operation in history — the allied invasion of Fortress Europe.

Our planes were in tight formation, a huge V of V's with wing tips almost touching. This was required so that, at the drop zone, our men would jump together and land in comparatively compact groupings for combat. But as we headed across the Channel and approached the Norman coast, a gray wall rose in the distance: fog. We entered it, and every pilot, through natural fear of collision, began veering right or left. By the time moonlight broke through, my plane seemed to be entirely alone.

Suddenly we were in the battle area. Our earlier pathfinder planes had alerted the enemy, and from all sides ground fire was boiling upward. As we approached the drop zones of my division, the battlefield seemed illuminated by antiaircraft fire and the light from airplanes already hit and aflame.

Then we were jumping . . .

Thanks to a last-minute gust of wind that swung my chute away from the others, I landed alone in the high grass of a moonlit pasture. Quickly I struggled to my feet, pistol in hand. Although there was small-arms fire nearby, the only visible sign of life was a circle of curious Norman cows that stood chewing their cud and gazing at this unexpected disturber. I got busy on my parachute, tightly strapped to my body and legs. The morning dew had saturated my clothes, making release difficult. Clutching the pistol in one hand, and working the straps with the other, I soon realized I was getting no place. So I put down my pistol and cut my way out with a knife — fully expecting a German to appear at any moment. I must say that was an anxious and thoroughly undignified interlude.

Once out of the chute, the next problem was to find my troops. Where was this division which I had brought to Normandy? I should explain that in anticipation of the difficulties of a night assembly, we of the 101st had equipped ourselves with a toy-like mechanical cricket by which we could make a cricketing sound to identify one another in the darkness.

Now, cricket in one hand and gun in the other, I set out to find my soldiers. I was in newly dug earthworks — which suggested that a German garrison might be nearby. As I stumbled over each new bank of earth, I expected a challenge or a shot. This prowling through the German positions lasted some 20 minutes. They seemed like 20 years.

Then, slipping along in the dark shadows of a hedgerow, I heard someone moving on the other side. Both of us were approaching the end of the hedge, which was just ahead. Pistol cocked, I moved forward slowly, slowly. The other person obviously was doing the same. Just as I was wondering whether to rush around the corner and fire, I heard a sound — one that I will never forget — the sound of the 101st Airborne Division's cricket.

And There He Stood . . .

I "cricketed" back and jumped around the hedgerow. There in the moonlight was a bareheaded parachute infantryman, M-1 rifle in hand, bayonet fixed, the bright look of adventure in his eye. That young parachutist was the most welcome sight I ever saw in the whole war. We fell in each other's arms and gave that fraternal embrace which men can exchange only in moments of high action.

From that moment on, so far as I was concerned, the battle was won. Normandy was conquered. Fortress Europe had had it.

THE AUTHOR is shown against a backdrop of D-Day parachutists.

In Juarez, Mexico, two pickpockets lifted the wallet of a kneeling man, were promptly arrested by a policeman kneeling directly behind them.

A Columbus, Ohio, man called to complain that two police cars were loitering in his neighborhood. Police checked his name, ordered one of the cars to pick him up on an old armed-robbery charge.

An Amherst College, Mass., professor requested that a stop sign be placed near his office. Shortly after its erection, he was fined for not stopping at it.

In Indianapolis, a prospective father waited all afternoon and evening at the Methodist Hospital for news from the delivery room. Finally he remembered that he had taken his wife to another hospital.

A Cape Girardeau, Mo., doctor, arrested for driving through a stop sign, followed the police car to the station and paid his fine. Then he swore out a complaint against the police sergeant for speeding.

A San Antonio Tex., weather forecaster predicted local storms, went to the top of the weather station to check his instruments and was floored by a bolt of lightning.

A Stanford, Ky., official regularly asked a local drugstore for a "cup of mud." One day the exasperated fountain attendant served him just that.

PART-TIME MENTAL CARE

En route to recovery via work therapy, these day patients at Boston Psychopathic Hospital learn to type. Later, they will do hospital clerical chores.

Here's a big step away from the 'snake pit' ideas that surround emotional illness

by ROBERT P. GOLDMAN and SID ROSS

GROUP THERAPY finds social worker (second from right) encouraging patients to discuss problems frankly.

BOSTON, MASS.

FOR SEVERAL months, a young, smartly dressed woman walked into Boston Psychopathic Hospital, a mental institution here, at 8:30 every morning. At 5:30 p.m. she would leave to go home.

Miss L. was suffering from a serious mental illness — and so, between morning and early evening, she received full treatment at the hospital. This included drugs, to help her achieve peace of mind; work and group therapy, to reawaken her interests and skills; and counseling to help her over the rough spots of daily living.

Then, on her own initiative, Miss L. went out to look for a job. Soon she landed one in a local department store. Today she is fully recovered. Neither her customers nor her boss dream that she was once a mental patient.

Such cases are not unusual, for Miss L. is one of a growing army of ex-patients who have benefited from a revolutionary idea now spreading through the nation's mental hospitals: part-time mental care on a day- or night-only basis.

Already, this bold, money- and time-saving idea has produced astonishing results. Its implications are even more exciting when you consider these facts:

There are about 750,000 patients in mental hospitals now. An added 9,250,000 Americans suffer from some form of mental disease. One out of four families is affected. Of this staggering total, experts say, a great many can be helped by part-time care.

You Could Be Affected

That means you, a member of your family or a friend could one day be helped by the new "open-door" therapy, which costs about one-third as much as full-time hospitalization and promises to take much of the fear and shame out of mental illness.

Open-door care will permit more and more people to regain their mental health with shorter hospital stays — or without ever having to be admitted as full-time in-hospital patients.

Thus far, day-care and night-care programs have sprung up around the U.S. — in Boston, Omaha, Des Moines,

Washington, D.C.; Topeka, Kans.; Lafayette, La. New York City will embark on a part-time-care plan soon. Within the next three years, part-time care will spread to three or four times the present number of hospitals.

One authority told PARADE: "We visualize this approach as the next great step forward in treatment of the mentally ill. In the future, with day and night care, a large proportion of the individuals now hospitalized will never have to see a hospital bed or be cooped up within four walls..."

Six types of patient already are being helped by part-time care:

1) Once-hospitalized patients who are ready for discharge. They total more than 150,000 each year. Many of these people need an "emotional bridge" between the hospital and the world outside. Without it, 50 per cent or more may suffer relapses and be rehospitalized. Day care with its varied treatment services — drugs, counseling, friendly socializing, group and physical therapy, electric shock, occupational therapy — often can provide that "in-between" bridge.

2) Mentally sick people who do not need full-time hospitalization. Often, these people refuse to seek help in a hospital because they fear being "put away" forever. Psychiatrists estimate the number of these potential patients at more than 1,000,000.

Miss F. was such a case. A 52-year-old spinster, she became depressed and suspicious when her mother died. Reluctant at first to seek help, Miss F. finally went to the Menninger Foundation Hospital in Topeka.

Doctors there decided that she would do much better on day care than as a full-time hospitalized patient. In a few months, Miss F. was so improved that she returned to her job and has been well ever since.

Another Menninger patient, a 19-year-old college student, continued right on with his college courses while he was on limited day care.

3) Hospitalized patients who actually don't belong in hospitals. They would do much better on a part-time basis. As more such programs develop, more patients will be switched to them.

4) Mentally disturbed people who can hold down full-time jobs, but require the treatment and security of a mental hospital — overnight.

G.W. is a night-only patient at Boston Psychopathic. He works every day and returns to the hospital at dinner time. "I've got no family," he explains, "and I feel better here until they say I'm ready for final discharge. Working days helps me break the ice. But I know that if I lose the job I'll still not be out in the cold..."

Night care is especially valuable where families are nervous about the patient living at home — even if the hospital is prepared to discharge him.

5) Relatives of discharged patients.

Mrs. T., a 42-year-old housewife, was about to be discharged from the Menninger day-care program. But doctors felt that before she could lead a happy home life, her husband should learn of the problems which had contributed to his wife's illness.

PHYSICAL health of day patients is not overlooked. Here, one gets a massage.

So he reported to the hospital daily for a short period. As he participated in Mrs. T.'s treatment program, he began to understand the sources of her trouble. When she was discharged, her husband was equipped to meet his wife's emotional needs.

6) Children and the aging.

Today there are few part-time facilities for these two groups. One day-care center for children is located in Omaha at the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute. There, troubled children report at 9 a.m. They receive treatment and go to special school classes if they are able to. Parents call for the children at 4 p.m.

In addition, the Institute is hoping to set up an experimental day center for the aging. One of the biggest problems of this group is loneliness. Day care could do much to end that problem.

How does part-time care function?

The patient reports either in the morning or the evening. (At Montreal General Hospital, one of the pioneers in day and night care, they call it the "hotel" system of treatment.)

The day patient may start by chatting with the social worker or psychiatrist. He may then go to a group-therapy session — directed by a hospital staff member — where patients openly discuss their problems. PARADE sat in on such a session at Boston Psychopathic.

From patients came statements like: "I get confused when I leave the hospital and get back among all those people."... "Most of us are strapped for money, but that's secondary... First we want to get well."... "A couple of days ago, I just walked around in a panic."... "This treatment has helped me. At least now, I can get out of bed in the morning and come down here."

Later, the day patient may do some work. At Boston Psychopathic, patients man the coffee shop, do wall painting, repair work and other chores.

In addition, the patient may build something. He may paint a picture, which comes under the heading of occupational therapy. Somewhere along the way he may be given a "tranquilizing" drug, such as reserpine or chlorpromazine.

These drugs, used widely in mental hospitals only within the past three years, have revolutionized mental care. Since their introduction, hospital discharges have soared as much as 19 per cent, thus intensifying the need for part-time care.

Night patients go to the hospital straight from work. They receive treatment similar to that of their daytime counterparts. They dine about 8:30.

MENTAL CARE CONTINUED

How open-door care pays off

Patients are in bed by 10:30 or 11 and leave for work or home after breakfast.

Montreal General is so enthusiastic about its program that it has written letters to big local businesses telling of the available service. The response has been great—and varied. As a result, "We can offer treatment 24 hours a day for every stage of mental illness," says Dr. A. E. Moll, head of the hospital's psychiatric program. He adds:

"I want to emphasize that there are no locked doors here—and we have some very sick patients indeed."

That statement reflects perhaps the most important aspect of part-time mental care. Says a psychiatrist in the New York State Department of Mental Hygiene: "Open-door mental hospitals, with no bars or shackles, will do much to break down the 'jail' aspect of mental care."

In addition, when more people are entering and leaving mental hospitals freely, many more cases will be detected early—when treatment results are best.

Dr. J. Sanbourne Bockoven, in charge of Boston Psychopathic's day and night care, goes even farther:

"This approach places the emphasis where it belongs—not on buildings and beds. Building more hospitals and getting more doctors isn't the solution. Many full-time patients become stagnating vegetables and lose both humanity and hope...

"With part-time care, however, I think we can keep thousands of sufferers from mental illness out of hospitals and also shorten the stays of many who have to be committed. Part-time care is becoming the dominant trend in the mental-health field..."

For patients like Mrs. R. B., a middle-aged woman with sorrow etched deep in her face, Dr. Bockoven's statements are as important as life itself.

Recently, after months of emotional turmoil, Mrs. B. volunteered for care at Boston Psychopathic. Under the impression that once you entered a mental hospital, you never got out, Mrs. B. was pleasantly surprised when she was put on day care.

"Tell me," she asked PARADE's reporters, "do you know of other people they've helped here? I'm a little scared."

When she got an affirmative answer, her face brightened. And later, when Mrs. B. sat in group-therapy session, the deep, sad lines in her face began to give way to a little smile.

STAFF CONFERENCE: Open-door treatment includes daily meetings to discuss each patient's progress. These replace the traditional, bed-to-bed "morning rounds."

Will Josanne Mariani become Mrs. Marlon? by LLOYD SHEARER

HOLLYWOOD. "It's so 'ard," Josanne Mariani sighed, "to be engaged to Marlon Brando."

"All the time newspapers are asking: 'When are you and Marlon getting married? Why don't you wear your engagement ring? 'Asa't Marlon changed 'is mind about marrying you?'"

"Honest," continued this wan, black-eyed French girl (see cover), "it's terrible, terrible. After all, we are not Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis. We do not say our most intimate problems to the public. Also it's not fair."

"Marlon is in Japan filming Teahouse of the August Moon and nobody bothers 'im with such questions. 'E will not answer them anyway."

We were sitting in Josanne's apartment, a sparsely furnished one-bedroom flat (rent: $80 a month) located atop a garage, where I was listening sympathetically to the soft-spoken woes of the girl slated to become Mrs. Marlon Brando.

Three years ago, Josanne explained, she had been an unknown New York governess brought over from France by Dr. Daniel Schneider, a psychiatrist, to teach French to his two children. Then she met the fascinating and unconventional Brando at a party, became engaged to him, and life hasn't been the same since.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Fan-magazine writers and gossip columnists demanded to be told how her fiancé kissed, how he made love. Was it true that Brando was an impossible eccentric, that he had no real marital intentions, that she'd been used as a publicity device and then abandoned?

Josanne declared that these interrogations had shocked and bewildered her. After trying to be obliging and polite, she made up her mind not to answer such personal inquiries.

When Josanne arrived here late last year, some observers predicted a quick Las Vegas elopement. Instead, Brando organized his own production company and took off for location work in Japan. His fiancée signed up with a little-theater group and now attends drama classes two days a week, looking for acting jobs between times. In six months she obtained only one job, a feature role in a daytime TV show.

Casting directors say the girl has talent but that the roles she can play are limited by her Latin features and French accent. "Another important point," an agent told me, "is that if Josie is going to marry Brando she doesn't need the work. The casting directors feel they would rather give the job to a girl who really needs the dough."

"I'm a Lucky Girl"

Although lack of work periodically depresses her, Josanne says she is "really one of the luckiest girls in the world." Here's why she thinks so:

She was born in Marseilles on May 31, 1935, where her Corsican father, Charles Mariani, was a taxi driver. Her parents separated when she was an infant, and she was raised in the Mediterranean coastal village of Bandol by a nana named Madame Michel, while her mother worked as a waitress in seaside cafes.

Josanne was only 4 at the outbreak of World War II. She was evacuated to Romans, an Alpine village. She remembers bombing attacks nearby and a visit once from her father, who was killed in the resistance.

Her own life began producing excitement when she was 15 and started posing for Moses Kisling, a Bandol artist. Through Kisling she met Dr. Schneider, who later sent for her as a teacher-companion to his children.

She arrived in New York on March 5, 1953, a gawking newcomer. When she soon showed an interest in dramatics, Dr. Schneider was encouraging. When the family moved away for the summer, Dr. Schneider got her a job as apprentice at the Westhampton (L.I.) summer theater.

"I did everything," says Josanne, "prop girl, sign painter, hanging posters, everything. When the summer was over, Dr. Schneider asked me if I still wanted to act. I said, 'Yes, more than ever.'"

Josanne enrolled in Stella Adler's drama school. In November, Marlon

Brando, an alumnus, showed up at a school party.

"E was so wonderful," she fondly remembers. "We began going together. What a lovely man. We went to the theater mostly. I met 'is friends, Wally Cox, Maureen Stapleton, and then 'is father and 'is sister. But I do not talk about Marlon. It is too personal."

In 1954 Brando invited his young lady friend to come to Hollywood as his guest and watch him play the role of Napoleon in Désirée. This visit led to their secret engagement. Josanne flew back to France to tell her folks the good news. Brando arrived a few days later, rolling into town on a hired scooter.

With her engagement announced to Hollywood's famous bachelor, the fisherman's stepdaughter (her mother had remarried) became an international celebrity. Newsmen descended on tiny Bandol in droves, interviewing and photographing the young couple from every angle. Josanne became a figure of note. Brando became a figure of rage. "I can't stand this persecution any longer!" he shouted. "Isn't there any place we can have a little privacy?" In desperation he took off for Rome, leaving his fiancée behind to cope with newsmen as best she could.

Reporters pursued her in Paris and New York with relentless questioning. There were also radio and TV offers. The only one Josanne accepted was from a big variety show; she flew out to Hollywood and for $1,000 mumbled a few sentences while 30,000,000 video viewers gaped. She then returned to New York to resume her studies.

HAPPY TIMES are reflected in this snapshot of Marlon and Josanne during courtship.

While Josanne worked diligently on her dramatics and diction, Brando labored on Guys and Dolls in Hollywood. When the movie was completed, Josanne joined her fiancé in the film colony and has been here ever since.

Whether or not she succeeds as an actress, whether or not she eventually becomes Mrs. Marlon Brando, Josanne, just past her 21st birthday, still considers herself one of the world's most fortunate young women.

"Whenever I am depressed out 'ere," she confesses, "I think of all the wonderful things that 'ave 'appened to me since I was 15. Then my 'eart dances a little dance of joy."

You Can Help Send the U.S. Olympic Team to Australia- and to Victory!

An Opportunity for All Patriotic Americans to Help

During this, our 150th Anniversary Year, we of Colgate-Palmolive feel particularly fortunate in joining with you—the American public—in doing our bit to help send the U. S. Olympic Team to Australia to participate in the 1956 Olympic Games.

Remember, there is no subsidy or other financial assistance available from any branch of government. America relies entirely on each citizen's contributions and self-sacrifice... because that's the way a democracy works.

The U. S. Olympic Committee must select, organize and equip our best amateur athletes. All items of direct expense must be covered, including expenses of the tryouts—plus transportation to and from the Olympic Games of all participants, coaches, managers, trainers and officials. Housing and feeding of these individuals at the site of the Games and a thousand and one other necessary expenses must be paid for by sports-loving American citizens.

Every generous-hearted American who desires to see the Olympic Games tradition perpetuated will want to help. That is why, with the sanction and co-operation of the U. S. Olympic Committee, we invite you to participate in this unique and personally rewarding fund-raising effort.

PRESIDENT, COLGATE-PALMOLIVE COMPANY

Now! THE FIRST 1,000,000 BOX TOPS AND WRAPPERS from Colgate-Palmolive Soaps, Detergents and Toiletries WORTH 10¢ EACH TO OUR OLYMPIC TEAM!

Yes! The first million box tops and sets of wrappers from your purchases of Colgate-Palmolive products illustrated below—turned in between now and July 15, 1956—will directly benefit the U. S. Olympic Team. And—for this reason: The Colgate-Palmolive Company will pay the U. S. Olympic Committee ten cents in cash for each such box top or set of 3 soap wrappers which you turn in on or before July 15, 1956. The money will be used by the U. S. Olympic Committee to help defray the expenses of our Team.

Start Turning Them In NOW! HERE'S HOW!

Many dealers provide a special receptacle where you can deposit your Colgate-Palmolive box tops and wrappers in the required quantities as outlined below. Others will be glad to accept and turn over to a Colgate representative. Or, if you prefer, send direct to OLYMPIC FUND, P. O. Box 84-C, Mt. Vernon 10, N.Y.

But—whether or not you enter the Contest—the first million box tops and sets of wrappers from the following products will be redeemed at the rate of 10¢ each IN CASH and turned over to the Olympic Committee.

VACATION IN

Texas helicopter family

A Texas gas-station attendant was minding his business the other day when he heard an engine overhead. Glancing up, he was amazed to see a helicopter settle down on the station's concrete parking strip. He was even more amazed when the pilot—a pleasant-faced man in a business suit, accompanied by a pretty woman and four squirming children—leaned out to ask matter-of-factly: "Mister, you happen to have any high-octane?"

The attendant nodded. "Okay," the pilot said. "Fill her up."

Such visitations are routine for Joe Mashman, helicopter pilot-salesman of Dallas, who combines business with pleasure by taking his wife, Ernie, and youngsters on some of America's most fascinating vacation jaunts. The Mashmans may not be the nation's most widely traveled family, but they go farther, faster, than probably any similar group you know.

They fly to picnics. They fly on holiday week ends. They take cross-country trips to California or, in the other direction, to Grandma Mashman's house outside Chicago. Pictures here show the Mashmans on one of their typical "whirlybird safaris." As a family they've logged hundreds of hours of flying time.

The 40-year-old Joe, a crack test pilot by profession, is now assistant sales manager for the helicopter division of the Bell Aircraft Corp. Known as "Helicopter Joe," he is famous as a 'copter pilot-demonstrator in both civilian and military circles.

Because Joe has spent so much of his time in his helicopter, his youngsters practically cut their teeth on the instrument panel. As he says: "They flew before they walked." Mrs. Mashman herself is a competent 'copter pilot, although she has not yet obtained her license.

And because they are so continuously on the aerial go, the Mashmans have devised their own flight map, which is studded with colored markers. A red marker indicates a roadside gas station that sells high-octane gas. A red marker with a black cross means the station has clean rest rooms. Green markers locate good restaurants with adjacent areas where a 'copter can come to roost. Black markers mean good motels, and so on.

Out on the "open road," the Mashmans have adventures like any other tourists. Once, on a week-end trip, daughter Barbara developed a severe sore throat. Because polio was rampant at the time, the worried Mashmans landed at a gas station outside a small town.

A mechanic directed Joe to the nearest doctor. Hedgehopping a couple of miles, Joe brought his 'copter down in the country medico's front yard. The M.D. diagnosed Barbara's ailment as common sore throat and swabbed it to give her relief. Joe then took the 71-year-old doctor for a ride in the 'copter, simultaneously writing off the bill and creating a potential helicopter buyer.

On another trip the Mashmans landed at a restaurant on the outskirts of a town. A local cop tagged the 'copter for being parked too near a fire hydrant. Later an air-minded judge (whom Joe had taken up for a ride) ruled that parking near fire hydrants applied only to horse-drawn vehicles and automobiles.

The prize adventure happened on a visit to Grandma Mashman. Ernie was at the controls. Joe, weary from demonstration flights, was asleep at her side. Suddenly Ernie ran into a violent storm, with zero visibility.

Ernie didn't dare go on — and didn't want to awaken Joe. Resorting to a favorite 'copter-pilot trick, she located a tall, bushy tree that reared up out of the ground fog. Jockeying carefully, she landed the 'copter safely in the foliage, and there rode out the storm.

When the weather cleared, the Mashmans looked and gasped in surprise. The tree in which they were roosting was in Grandma Mashman's back yard. ■

TAKING OFF from spot where he landed family for a picnic, Joe Mashman looks back as wife and children wave goodbye. He'll go to his office, and rejoin them later.

HARDENS TOOTH ENAMEL, MAKES TEETH STRONGER starts working instantly TO DEFEAT DECAY

Scientists proved this Fluoride

Brisk's Fluoride is the only Fluoride proved in 10 year clinical tests. This Fluoride has been used successfully in water supplies and by dentists to reduce tooth decay — is widely approved by public health authorities.

Benefits both adults and children

Brisk's Fluoride/85 helps protect all permanent teeth in adults or children over six. Brisk's Fluoride works instantly on contact as you brush your teeth...strengthens teeth as no other decay-preventive ever could!

Works even while you eat, drink or sleep

Fluoride/85 is wonder-working Fluoride plus another tested decay-fighter that starts to work instantly...works all day against formation of decay acids. Unless you get Brisk, you cannot get the benefits of Fluoride/85.

Only BRISK has FLUORIDE/85,
gives extra protection Fluoride alone can't give—works best where you need it most. Brisk's Fluoride concentrates in weak or "soft" spots where decay usually starts — combines with and becomes part of the tooth enamel — thus protects as no other decay-fighter can. And Brisk's stay-active decay-fighter reaches into crevices between teeth — starts working instantly to defeat decay.

WONDERFUL FLAVOR!

Helps keep breath fresh all day! And there's no "tinny" after-taste with new Brisk! Your mouth tastes sparkling cool and sweet! Brings out all the natural whiteness of teeth!

2 make-ahead desserts

For June parties, luscious cake and ice-cream sandwiches can be made, frozen and stored until needed

EVERYONE will applaud this beautiful cake (which will serve 12), and teenagers especially will enjoy the easy-to-eat ice-cream sandwiches.

KITCHEN HINT

Set cake to be frosted on a one-tier Lazy Susan. Revolve the Susan as you frost (center picture, above).

TO MAKE today's Party Cake, prepare your favorite angel food or use a packaged mix. Bake it, let it cool, then cut it into three layers (above) with a serrated knife blade.

WHILE cake is cooling, make chocolate frosting. Put cake on paperboard square. Spread frosting between layers (above), and on top and sides of cake. Garnish with walnut meats.

PLACE unwrapped cake in freezer compartment or freezer until firm. Then wrap, paperboard and all, in moisture-proof plastic film (above). Heat-seal and store in freezer until needed.

- |  |                              |
|--|------------------------------|
| 1 6-oz. pkg. (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces | 1/2 cup sugar                |
| 1 small can (2 1/2 cup) evaporated milk          | 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped |
| 2 eggs, separated                                | 1 10" angel food cake        |
|  | Walnut halves                |
- Place semi-sweet chocolate, milk and egg yolks in top of double boiler. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until chocolate melts and mixture thickens slightly. Remove from heat; chill just until mixture is cold. Beat egg whites stiff, but not dry. Gradually add sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold into chocolate mixture; fold in whipped cream. Place cake on foil-covered paperboard square. Cut cake into three layers; fill and frost cake. Border edge with walnut halves. Freeze until firm. Wrap-seal in moisture-proof plastic film. Overwrap with heavy foil if desired. Store in freezer. Remove from freezer 1 1/2 to 2 hours before serving.

- |  |                                |
|--|--------------------------------|
| 1 6-oz. pkg. (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces | 2 cups ready-to-eat oat cereal |
| 2 tablespoons shortening                         | 2 pint pkgs. ice cream         |
- Line bottom of two 9"x11" pans with aluminum foil. Melt semi-sweet chocolate and shortening over hot (not boiling) water. Remove from heat; stir in cereal. Divide mixture evenly between the two pans, spreading evenly with tines of fork. Chill 30 minutes. To make sandwiches, carefully peel off foil, then slip chocolate back into pan. Cut in half lengthwise, then three times crosswise. Cut pre-packaged ice cream of any desired flavor into 8 slices; put sandwiches together. Wrap each with heavy foil; store in freezer. Makes eight ice-cream sandwiches.

New suits are form-fitting or full-skirted; pants go to all lengths

It's the last call for getting beach togs ready—the Fourth of July's firecrackers will be going off in another month. Here, therefore, are some hot suggestions for a cool week end by the sea.

The expert swimmer should consider a functional one-piece suit. The girl with a good figure might like to show it off in the form-hugging elasticized type. If she wants to control her curves, let her consider the sarong suit. For the siren who wants to look pretty on the beach, barely touching her toes to the waves, there's the cotton with pleated pantie skirt. The dry-off is a grand little number for play on the beach after a dip in the water.

When it comes to pants, any length goes. All have international endorsement. It's up to the gal to choose.

SEASIDE SIREN of elasticized cotton is in a fashionable paisley print. The colors are Persian blue, lavender and white. About $10. A smart Jantzen swim suit.

GIANT PLAID in granite red, white and navy cotton (Dan River) is eye-catching in a suit with a pleated pantie skirt. About $20. Brigance design for Sportsmaker.

"PESCADORES" — Mexican fisherman's pants (left) — are ankle-length. Red-and-white checked cotton. Red draw-string cotton shirt. Pants about $6.50; shirt, about $6.50. Loomtogs... Capri short shorts (center) of marine-navy Duck-lyn cotton are worn with striped cotton knit shirt. Shorts about $4; shirt, $4. Sacony... Riviera shorts (right) in dungaree-navy denim are topped by a shirt of bandanna-red cotton. Narrow matching red belt. Shorts about $4; shirt, about $3. Both from Korday.

SARONG SUIT has an inner sarong construction for figure control. Of Celaperm fastex, it comes in a wide range of colors with contrast piping. About $13. From Sea Nymph.

DRY-OFF one-piece is for after-swim play. Checked pink and white cotton knit (Alamac), ribbed collar and waist. About $12. By Pembroke Squires for Masket.

1910 STRIPES make news in a figure-revealing 1956 swim suit. Ocean-green and white striped wool knit. Made with a half-skirt front. About $17. From Sacony.

Think you know a lot about sports? Maybe you do — and you can find out by taking the test on these pages devised with the help of college professors — but look to your laurels if your wife starts boning up on sports. Reason: During the past two years some 700 boys and girls have studied sports intensively in a unique "Sports Appreciation" course at the University of California branch here — and in the final exams the girls fared as well as or better than the boys.

The coeds outsmarted the boys at their own games because of necessity, believes Dr. Jack E. Hewitt, head of the physical-education department and founder of the course. "The girls didn't have as much background as the boys," he points out, "and thus had to study more."

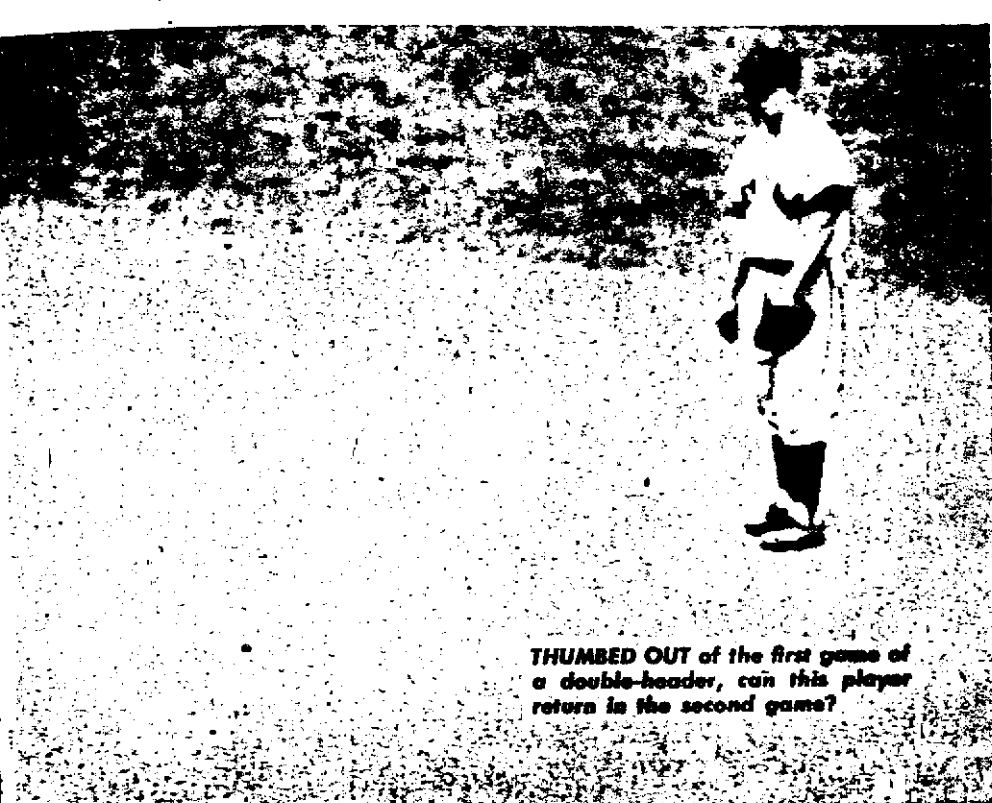

The course, said to be the only one of its kind, gives students the history, tactics and rules of all major sports. "We teach the understanding of fine arts and music in colleges," says Dr. Hewitt, "so why not sports? Also, in the years ahead Americans will have more leisure time. To help them use it profitably, we concentrate on sports like tennis, golf and swimming, ones the students can participate in after leaving school."

Results sometimes have come astonishingly fast. One coed, a campus beauty queen, became so intrigued by fishing during the course that she and a girl friend, neither of whom had even held a net before, darted off to the High Sierras for a week of trout fishing.

Starting at the top of the next column are 20 questions designed to test your knowledge of sports. All are based on the ones given in the final exams of the Sports Appreciation course here. After scoring yourself, let your wife try. You may get a surprise.

QUESTIONS

- 1 If a batter hits a fly ball to the outfield and a runner scores after the catch, is the batter given credit for a time at bat?
- 2 Would a lightweight fighter weigh more than 150 pounds?
- 3 In track, a runner races a half mile in one minute and 58 seconds. Would his time be within 15 seconds of the world record?
- 4 Can a center, playing his normal position, receive a forward pass in football?
- 5 If a tennis player drives his serve into the net, it is called: a) deuce; b) fault; c) love; d) volley.
- 6 With the bases loaded and nobody out, a batter hits into a double play, the runner from third scoring. Is the batter given credit for a run batted in?
- 7 Last summer the whole racing world had its eyes on a match race between Nashua and Swaps. Which horse was the winner?
- 8 In football, Notre Dame scores a touchdown, a safety and a field goal. How many points do the Fighting Irish have: a) 13; b) 11; c) 12; d) 9?
- 9 In which of the following sports have looping and slanting become commonplace: a) football; b) basketball; c) swimming; d) baseball?
- 10 Do the total number of strokes determine the winner of a match-play tournament in golf?

THUMBED OUT of the first game of a double-header, can this player return in the second game?

11 A batter slams a drive off the left-field wall but is tagged out when he overruns second base. Is he credited with a two-base hit?

12 The 1956 summer Olympic Games will be held in Melbourne, Australia. Where were the 1952 summer Games held?

13 In golf, when Dr. Cary Middlecoff complains of a slice, a) his handicap has been cut; b) his shot curved to his left; c) the shot curved to his right; d) the shot had excessive backspin.

14 Which college this year set a new all-time consecutive winning streak in basketball?

15 In football, can four defensive players tackle the ball carrier at the same time without suffering a penalty for unnecessary roughness?

16 The offensive team in college basketball has to advance the ball to the front court within 10 seconds. True or false?

17 After a player is ejected from the first game of a double-header for disputing a play with an umpire, can he return to play the second game?

18 College basketball players must shoot within 24 seconds or lose possession of the ball. True or false?

19 If a runner attempting to advance a base on a fly ball leaves the bag before the ball is caught, the umpire should call an automatic out. True or false?

20 What football team won in the Rose Bowl on January 2 of this year?

ANSWERS

1) No. 2) No; limit is 135. 3) Yes; official record is 1:48.6. 4) No. 5) Fault. 6) No. 7) Nashua. 8) 11. 9) Football. 10) No; match play is by holes won, medal play by strokes. 11) Yes. 12) Helsinki. 13) Shot curved to right. 14) University of San Francisco. 15) Yes. 16) True. 17) Yes. 18) False. 19) False; defensive team must tag the base, then "appeal" to umpire. 20) Michigan State, beating UCLA. 17-14.

HOW YOU RATE

Eighteen or more correct answers qualifies you to teach the professors a few things. A score of 16 or 17 puts you at the head of the class. From 11 to 15 correct answers indicates you're an average, well-informed sports fan. A score of 10 or less? Better do some homework on the sports pages.

LECTURE on swimming rules by Dr. Hewitt points out racer must keep heels flat until starter fires gun.

NEWSPAPERBOY AT EXETER

Special scholarship helps Ohio boy

EXETER, N.H.

Here in the hills of New Hampshire, 755 boys are bustling through the busy days that precede a preparatory-school graduation. Among these students at Phillips Exeter Academy are 29 who never dreamed of graduating from one of the nation's oldest and most honored prep schools. Typical of them is Jon Mikal Townsley, 18, of Cedarville, Ohio (pop. 1,600).

Mike Townsley was transplanted from Cedarville to Exeter because he is an ex-newspaperboy for the Dayton (Ohio) Daily News. He and the other 28 were awarded scholarships by Exeter (top value: $1,600) through a program of the International Circulation Manager's Association.

These scholarships are just one way the ICMA helps newspaperboys from average families become the leaders of tomorrow. America's newspapers now award more than a quarter-million dollars a year in prep-school and college scholarships. Some newspapers offer as many as 50. The amounts range from $100 to the full college bill of tuition, books, board and room. Winners are chosen for sales records, school grades and future promise.

Mike was grateful for the lift, although he found prep school a big step. He has worked hard: "The courses were the same" — mathematics, English, French, history and physical sciences — "but at Exeter there was more of everything." However, this hard work has paid off with high honors.

Not all he learned was in the classroom. There were Exeter's special slang, social customs — and contacts. But Mike, with plans to attend Harvard or Ohio State in the fall, took little time for social life. For an ex-newspaperboy from an average family, Exeter was an opportunity not to be wasted.

HUNGRY Mike (r.) enjoys evening snack of chocolate milk and cookies with dormitory friends. Ohio boy's roommate is the son of a Maine bank president.

Teen-age Topics

Here are some recent questions on graduation and the parties that accompany it.

Q. Is it all right to take out a girl of my own age for my graduation from grammar school? If so, where would I take her? — R.D., Union City, N.J.

A. If there are no graduation parties to go to, perhaps you could take her to a restaurant for dinner and then to the movies or the theater. A nicer idea would be to have your parents give a small dinner party at home for you and another couple or so — this really is a night for a party rather than a solo date.

Q. I have invited a boy from another school to a Fresh-Soph dance. How can I let him know what color corsage I would like? Who should provide the transportation? — F.G., Eatontown, N.J.

A. I believe his florist will advise him to send white or pale pink, both of which will go with practically everything. If it is practical, his parents should provide the transportation.

Q. I am 13 and my brother is 17. He doesn't think I should attend the parties he gives. What do you think? — E.J., Chicago.

A. Try to put yourself in your brother's place; it is his party and to him you are a kid sister. When you are older, he may be more willing to include you.

Q. I am a 15-year-old girl and a sophomore. My parents approve of the people I go around with but they won't allow me to go out in their cars to get to and from a dance. It's not that the fellows are hot-rodgers; most of them are careful drivers. I hope you can help me. — R.L., Scranton, Pa.

A. The clue here is your own phrase, "most of them are careful drivers." Your mother and father are perfectly right to be so cautious in this matter.

Q. I am a boy of 14 and have been going steady with a girl of 16. Do you think this is advisable? Is it proper for me to ask another girl to a party when she is away on vacation? — S.B., New York, N.Y.

A. By all means ask another girl. And 14 is too young to be going steady, especially with a girl older than yourself.

MINERALS AND AMINO ACID—Safe High Potency Nutritional Formula

25 proven ingredients—11 Vitamins (including blood-building B<sub>12</sub> and Folic Acid), 11 Minerals, Choline, Inositol, and Methionine

TO prove to you the remarkable advantages of the Vitasafer Plan... we will send you, without charge, a 30-day free supply of high-potency VITASAFE C. F. CAPSULES so you can discover for yourself how much healthier, happier and peppier you may feel after a few days' trial! Just one of these capsules each day supplies your body with over twice the minimum adult daily requirement of Vitamins A, C and D... five times the minimum adult daily requirement of Vitamin B-1 and the full concentration recommended by the National Research Council for the other four important vitamins! Each capsule contains the amazing Vitamin B-12—one of the most remarkably potent nutrients science has yet discovered—a vitamin that actually helps strengthen your blood and nourish your body organs by stimulating your bone marrow to produce more and more energy-bearing red corpuscles.

And note this! The normal retail price of similar vitamin capsules would be $5.00. Yet now you get this 30-day supply of VITASAFE C. F. CAPSULES without charge! And here's why!

Why We Make This Sensational Offer!

We offer you this 30-day free trial of VITASAFE C. F. CAPSULES for just one simple reason. So many persons have already tried VITASAFE C. F. CAPSULES with such astounding results... so many people have already written in telling us how much better they felt after only a short trial... that we are convinced you, too, may experience the same feeling of health and well-being after a similar trial.

In fact, we're so convinced that we're willing to back up our convictions with our own money. You don't spend a penny for the vitamins! You don't risk a thing! All the cost and all the risk are ours!

In other words, we're willing to give you a full 30-day supply of our VITASAFE C. F. CAPSULES for you to prove to your own satisfaction your body's need for a comprehensive nutritional formula.

Why YOU May Need These Safe High-Potency Capsules

another, absolutely indispensable for proper health... but some people actually need more than the average daily requirements established by the National Research Council. If you tire easily... if you work under pressure, or if you're over 40 or subject to the stress of travel, worry and other strains... then you may be one of the people who needs this extra supply of vitamins. In that case, VITASAFE C. F. CAPSULES may be "just what the doctor ordered"—because they contain the most frequently recommended food supplement formula for people in this category! These are safe high-potency capsules... and this nutritional formula has already helped thousands upon thousands of people who were run down, listless, and in need of just the help this formula can provide!

Potency and Purity GUARANTEED!

In the column on the right you can see for yourself the exact ingredients contained in high potency VITASAFE C. F. CAPSULES. Every one of these ingredients has been scientifically added to meet the requirements of people in need of a high-potency nutritional formula. And, as you probably know, the U. S. Government strictly controls each vitamin manufacturer and requires the exact quantity of each vitamin and mineral to be clearly stated on the label.

This means that the purity of each ingredient, and the sanitary conditions of manufacture are carefully controlled for your protection! And it means that when you use VITASAFE C. F. CAPSULES you can be sure you're getting exactly what the label states... and that you're getting pure ingredients whose beneficial effects have been proven time and time again!

WHEN A HULL BAND O' NO-COUNT APACHES AMBUSHED HIM AND SWIPED HIS HOSSES, BIG FALLON PROMPTLY DRAFTED LANCE AND BLAZE...AND, TOGETHER, THE THREE MEN TOOK UP THE CHASE.....

FROM THE UNSEEN DEPTHS OF THE GRAND CAÑON ECHO NEAR SOUNDS OF HORSES' HOOVES. "WE FOUND 'EM!—THEM'S MY HOSSES!" FALLON ROARS. "LET'S GO!"

LANCE CHECKS THE BIG MAN'S IMPULSIVENESS. "HOW YOU GOING TO GET 'EM BACK?—BY PLOWING LIKE A BUFFALO BULL INTO THE WHOLE APACHE BAND? THEY WON'T LEAVE ENOUGH OF YOU FOR THE ANTS TO CART AWAY!"

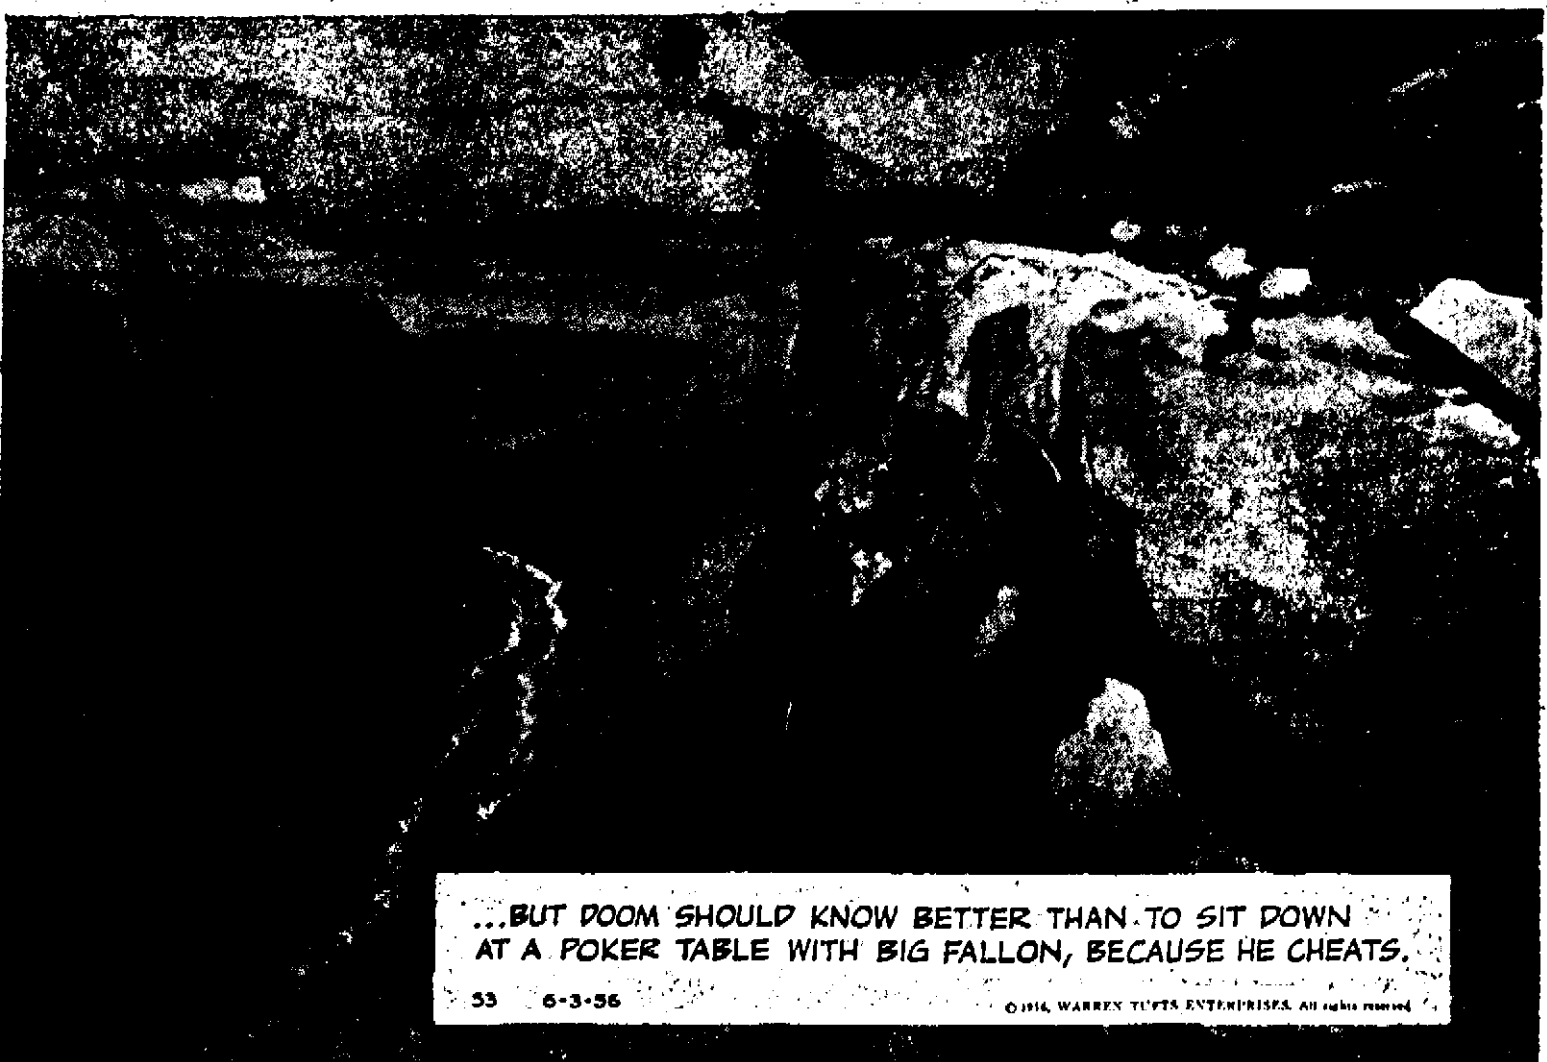

THE STUBBORN MOUNTAIN MAN GROWLS HIS CONTEMPT AND TEARS FREE.

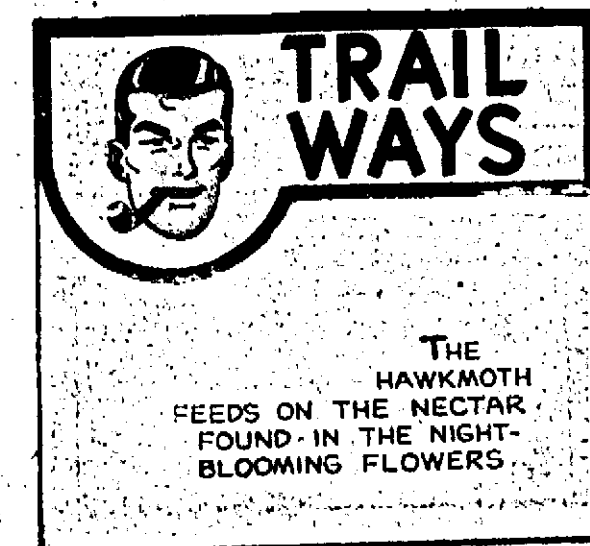

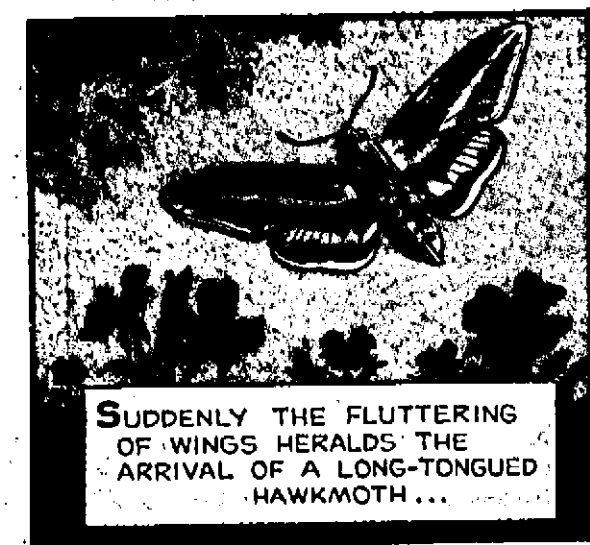

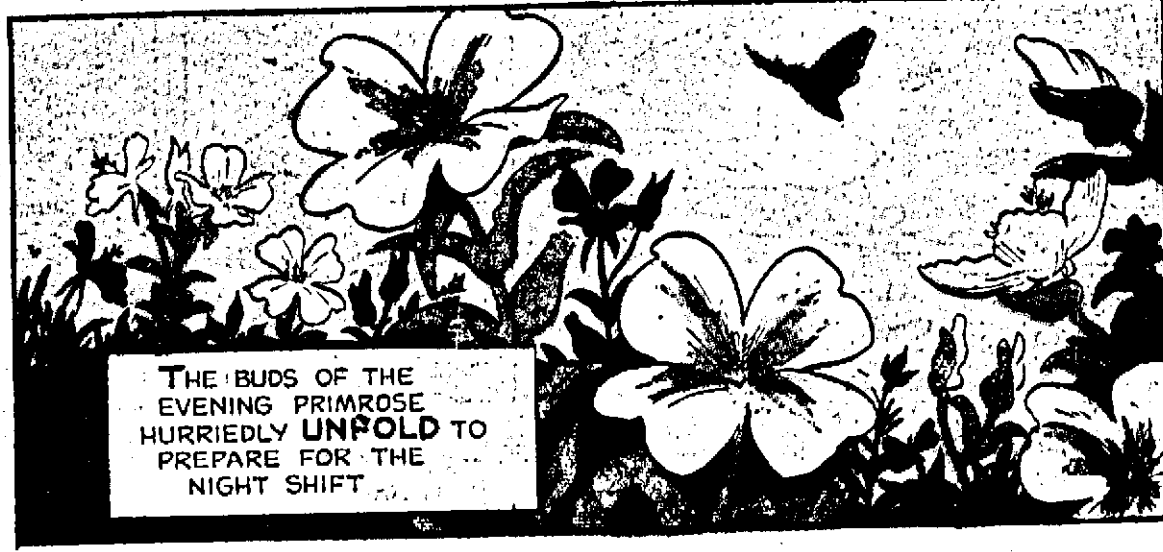

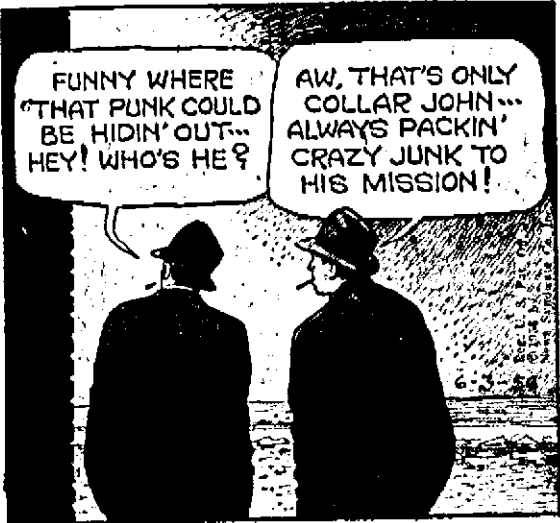

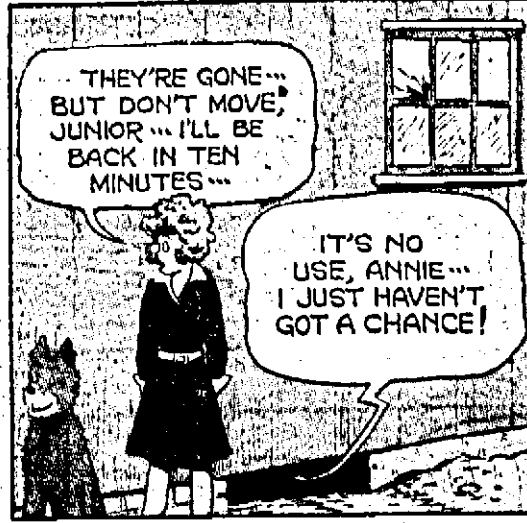

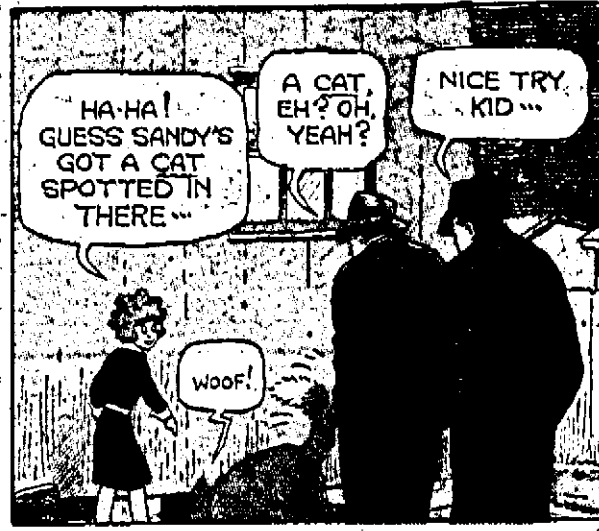

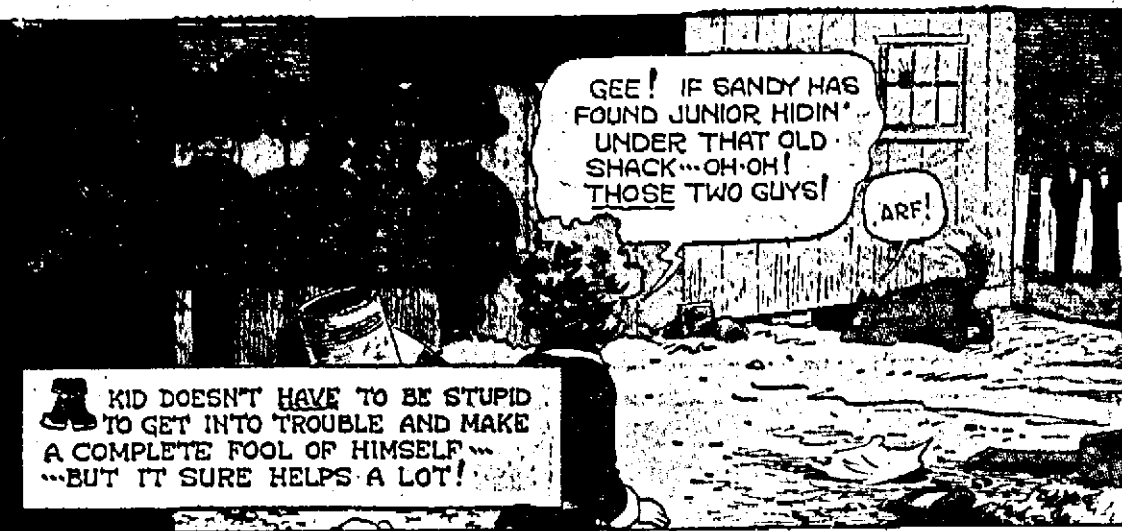

THERE ARE TWO WAYS OF DESCENDING THE MILE-HIGH CANYON WALL..... FALLON CLUMSILY TAKES THE HARD WAY!

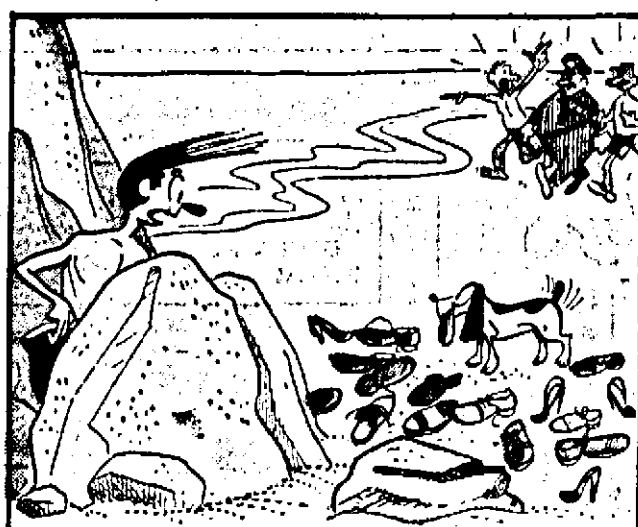

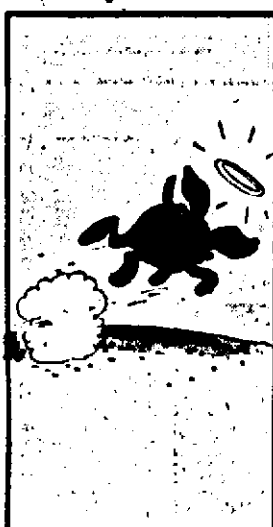

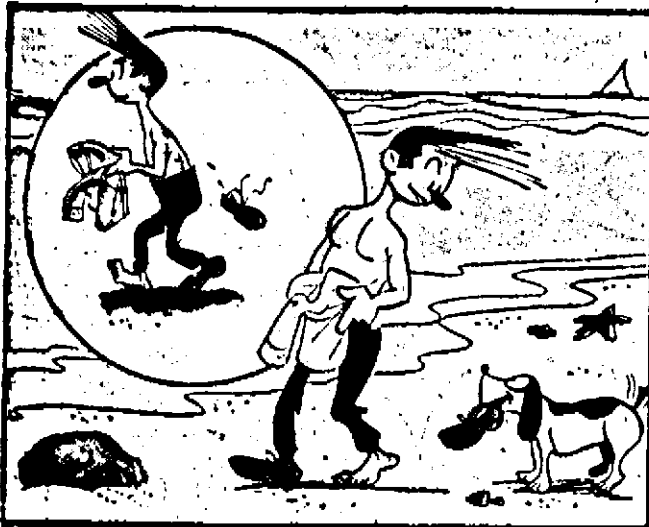

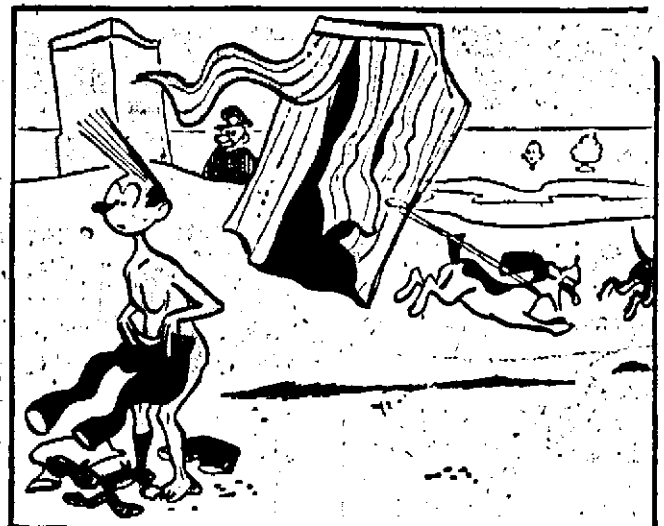

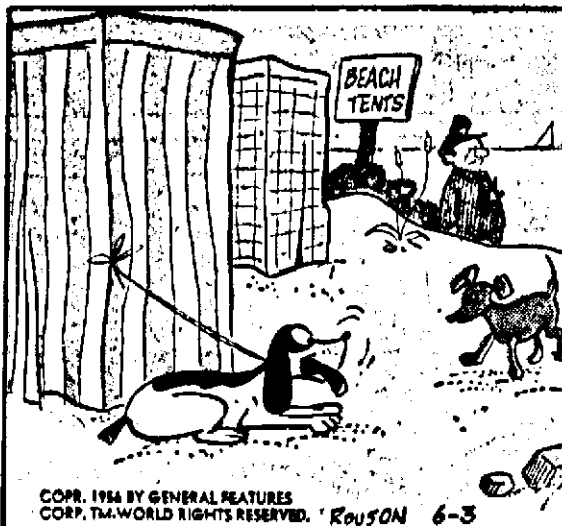

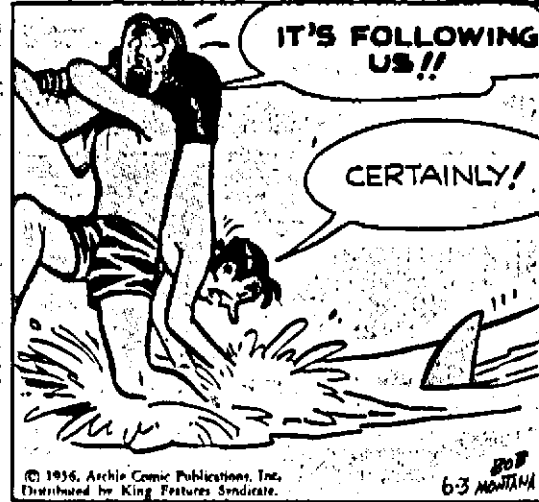

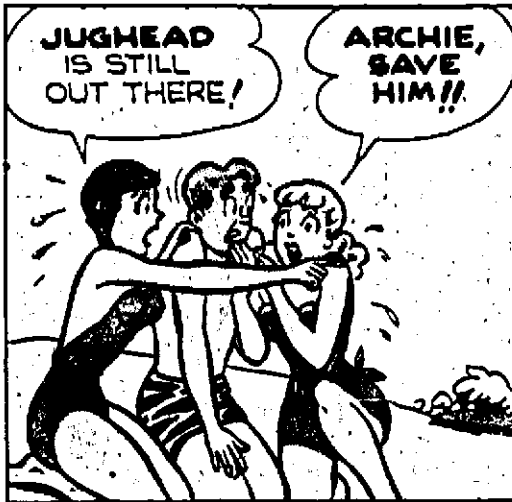

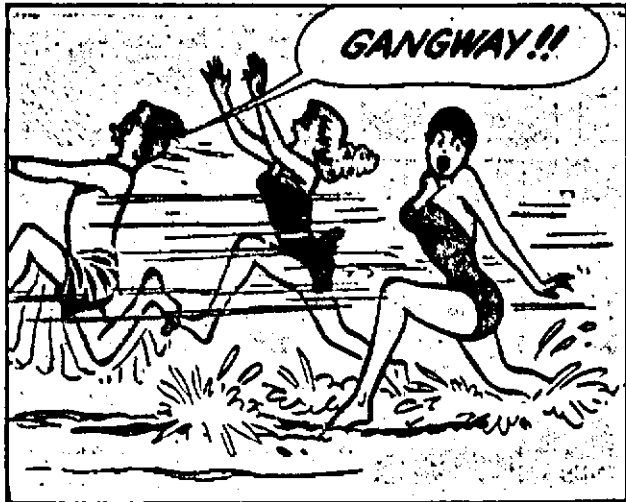

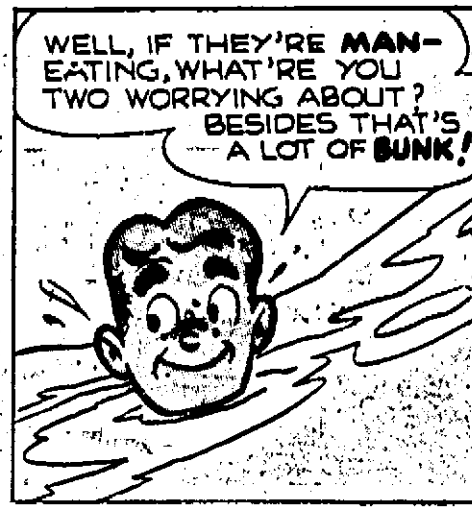

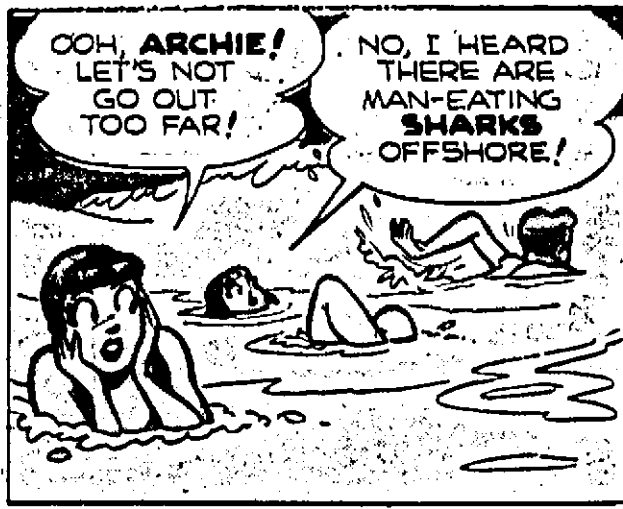

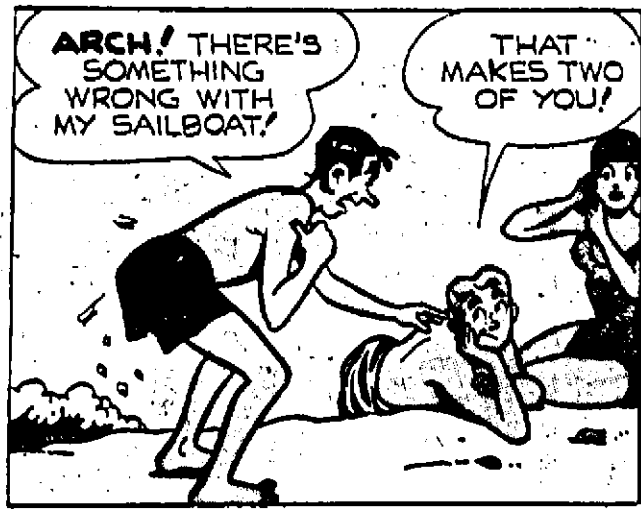

HEAD OVER HEELS HE HURTLES, TOWARD ALMOST CERTAIN DOOM, BELLOWING AND CURSING ALL THE WAY.....

...BUT DOOM SHOULD KNOW BETTER THAN TO SIT DOWN AT A POKER TABLE WITH BIG FALLON, BECAUSE HE CHEATS.

SINGING THE PRAISES OF THE GOOD EARTH AND THE JOYS OF PLANTING BUT KILLING TIME DOESN'T KILL WEEDS.

DR. GUY BENNETT

by DR. B.C. DOUGLAS

I'LL BE WORKING ON A STEEL FRAMEWORK, RUTH, BUT IT'S A JOB AND WE'LL BE ABLE TO PAY OUR BILLS.

AFTER BEING REFUSED EVERY JOB BECAUSE OF HIS EPILEPSY, FRANK PARKER CONCEALS IT ON HIS LAST APPLICATION AND IS GIVEN A JOB...

NO! NO, FRANK! YOU CAN'T! SUPPOSE YOU HAVE A CONVULSION UP ON THAT FRAMEWORK, YOU'LL FALL AND BE KILLED!

DARLING, I WISH I DIDN'T HAVE TO LIE ABOUT MYSELF AND TAKE CHANCES, BUT I'VE BEEN FORCED INTO THIS SITUATION. I'VE GOT TO HAVE WORK!

DR. BENNETT, YOU'VE GOT TO DO SOMETHING. HE'S GONE TO WORK AND I'M AFRAID HE'LL FALL.

LET ME HAVE THAT ADDRESS AGAIN AND I'LL GO RIGHT OUT THERE.

MEANWHILE...

GOOD MORNING, FRANK. ARE YOU READY TO START?

AS READY AS I'LL EVER BE.

LET ME TAKE YOU UP TO THE SPOT WHERE YOU'LL BE WORKING.

COME RIGHT THIS... WH... WHAT'S THE MATTER? WHAT'S WRONG?

FRANK THORNE 6-7-56

WHAT'S GOING ON HERE?

IT'S THE NEW MAN... HE'S HAVING A FIT!

MUST BE ANOTHER EPILEPTIC! HOW DID HE GET HIRED?

HE MUST HAVE LIED ABOUT IT... THERE, HE'S COMING OUT OF IT NOW.

WHEN HE GETS UP, KEEP HIM GOING. HE'S THROUGH!

RUSTY AND DUSTY

SHE'S GOING TO FALL!

THE CIRCUS CASTING DIRECTOR, MR. ZIGELNER, HAS INVITED RUSTY AND DUSTY TO SEE HIGH-WIRE CYCLISTS AMANDA AND ELLIOT REHEARSE WHEN SUDDENLY...

TIGHTEN THE NET!

SHE'S FAINTED. GET A DOCTOR!

SHE DIDN'T FAINT, SOMEONE ALMOST POISONED HER WITH ARSENIC!

IT'S ELLIOT, HER PARTNER! HE'S PUT ARSENIC IN HER MILK. I CAN SMELL IT!

WHY WOULD I TRY TO KILL AMANDA? I LOVE HER!

YOU AREN'T GUILTY. HE IS! AFTER HIM!

DON'T BE GUILTY OF LETTING WATER ROB YOUR HAIR OF OILS. USE CLEAR, CLEAN 'VASELINE' HAIR TONIC TO PUT OIL BACK IN HAIR!

POOR MAN. HE WAS INSANELY JEALOUS. BUT HOW DID YOU KNOW?

HE SAID HE SMELLED ARSENIC. ARSENIC HAS NO SMELL!

NOW I'M JEALOUS! BUT I CAN'T BLAME AMANDA FOR LIKING YOUR HANDSOME FRIEND

'VASELINE' HAIR TONIC DOES THE TRICK EVERY TIME!

WHEN WATER WASHES OILS FROM YOUR HAIR, USE CLEAR, CLEAN 'VASELINE' HAIR TONIC TO PUT OIL BACK. KEEPS HAIR HEALTHY... KEEPS YOU LOOKING WELL-GROOMED ALL DAY LONG. BUY A BOTTLE TODAY AND SEE FOR YOURSELF!
